THE DEFPRENCE.

A few years ago, not so long but that our agricultural friends remember the time very well, when the property asto be a fact, and many of them will act sessed for taxes tooted up but little more than half what it does at present, when the Republicar party was in power in this county, the tax levy was but fourteen mills. During the time the Republicans had the management of county affairs, they erected a magnificent Court House, and several splendid bridges- all of which stand to the credit and honesty of the Republican party to-day. The Democrate have been in power since then, and although the tax assessment has probably more than doubled, and outside of the "ten thousand dollar jail" speculation.no county improvements have been made of any great cost, yet the tax levy has this county. But it won't win. run up to 174 mills, and even now, when assured by Democratic authority that the county is out of debt, the tax is 17 mills on the dollar! The dif. derence between real Republican thrift. economy and honesty, and the loud promised "economy and retrenchment" of Democracy, in county affairs, is so glaring that the most simple-minded can see it. Democracy has promised "reform and retrenchment," with no attempt to keep those promises, so long. that the people have at last become aroused to the true character of such promises-they simply mean, in the months of Democratic office-seekers, ocratic "reform and retrenchment," they propose to get rid of it, and take Republican efficiency, honesty and true economy in its stead. Mark that.

We don't With the full yote of the county we know of a Democrat in Oregon whom can elect the entire ticket, and the only hope of the Democracy of Linn is that there will not be a full turn out of the Republican voters. There has not been a full vote of the Republicans of this county polled for years, but as all the local. causes operating and creating the indifference of former years have all been wiped out in this canvasa by the nomination of an unobjectioable ticket throughit could not well be devised. out, a full Republican vote will be cast in June, and the entire ticket elected, because the Republicans outnumber their opponents in the county.
