Home Interests.

DIED.—Last Friday night, June 2d, Mr. Isaac Young, in the 65th year of his age. Mr. Young was born in Pennsylvania; removed to Ohio when a small boy; from there to Iowa in 1844, and from thence to this State in 1852. He had been a resident of this city since 1858. Deceased was the father of Sam'l E. Young, Esq., and Mrs. E. F. Sox, of this city. Funeral services transpired at the late residence of deceased, on Ferry between Third and Fourth streets, on Sunday morning last. Rev. S. G. Irvine officiating. A large concourse of friends and relatives attended the funeral. One by one the pioneers of Oregon are being taken from us. Peace to his ashes.

ALUMNI EXERCISES.—The annual exercises of the Alumni Association of Albany College will be held at the College Chapel on this (Friday) evening, June 9th, at 8:30 o'clock, with following programme: 1. Music. 2. Invocation. 3. Music. 4. Recitation—"Tamerlane," by Cora J. Irvine. 5. Music—Alumni song. 6. Essay—"Husks," by Mary J. Hannon. 7. Music. 8. Oration—"Individual Responsibility," by J. T. Tate. 9. Music. 10. Annals—by Jane J. Conner. 11. Music. 12. Address—by President Warren. 13. Music. 14. Benediction. All friends cordially invited to attend.

CHRIS. RALSTON.—Oldest son of W. H. Ralston, of this city, was drowned at the Crabtree ford on the Santiam about 3 o'clock P. M. Monday. He was helping Jake Norcross drive a band of cattle across the river, when they got into deep, swift water. Jake Norcross barely saved his life, but lost his horse, saddle and $300 in money. Mrs. Ralston is thoroughly prostrated at the sudden loss of her handsome boy, and in her great grief has the sympathy of the entire community.

STRAWBERRY, ICE CREAM AND FLORAL FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church are perfecting arrangements to hold a strawberry, ice cream and floral festival, at the Opera House, on Tuesday evening, June 13, 1876. Everybody is invited to be present. This promises to be one of the most interesting and pleasant occasions of the season, and doubtless the Opera House will be crowded on next Tuesday evening.

The fire alarm Thursday night was caused by the burning of the old slaughter house in the eastern suburbs of the city—supposed to have been set on fire by some evil disposed persons. The fire engines couldn't get there for the brush and general roughness of the country.

MARRIED.—June 7th, by Rev. T. B. White. Mr. Oscar J. Daniels and Miss Alice McCully, all of Linn county.

The frame for Jason Wheeler's new stable is up. Conrad Myer's new residence is being plastered. The brick foundation for A. Carothers & Co.'s new drug store is laid. Dr. Lister has commenced to erect a new dwelling on the site occupied by the old one, burned a few weeks since. A. T. Arnell's building, opposite county jail, is about finished. It is rumored that work will be commenced on Mr. Comstock's new hotel building at depot next week. Chas. Bourgardes' handsome new dwelling will soon be ready for occupation. Judge Strahan expects to move into his new building soon.

Tuesday evening as Judge John Kelsay and W. S. McFadden were journeying toward this city from Corvallis, and when in the vicinity of Oak Creek, one of the tugs of the off horse became detached from the single-tree, which demoralized the team, which ran away. The Judge leaped out and was somewhat bruised; he stuck to the vehicle until it was overturned and broken to pieces, when he was taken from the wreck somewhat bruised and shook up.

At the regular meeting of Linn Engine Co. No. 2, Monday evening, the Company resolved to go to Portland on Monday, July 3d. A committee was appointed to look after the erection of a new house for the use of the Company. Joseph G. Evans resigned as Secretary, and George Furry was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Evans proposes going east of the mountains to reside, therefore his resignation.

RESOLUTIONS.—Passed by the Linn County Woman Suffrage Association, June 6th, 1876:

Resolved, That we regret that the publishers of newspapers, for the sake of making money, publish advertisements of intoxicating liquors, thereby calling the attention of the public to that which ruins both soul and body.

Resolved, That all the friends of temperance should refuse to take papers containing such advertisements.

CONCERT.—The Concert at College Chapel last Friday night was one of the most delightful entertainments ever given in the city, meeting the universal approbation of all in attendance. We are sorry that space does not permit us to give a detailed report of it.

EVERYTHING.—From ladies kid gloves and fancy hats, to tin plates and Salmon, exchanged for anything that is good to sell or to keep, at the most favorable rates, at the model country store in Shedd.

A. WHEELER.

On Monday, Mr. A. Miller's team, a handsome span of sorrels, ran away, making the best time made by any team this season, from S. E. Young's store on First street to the foundry on Montgomery and First. Very little damage other than breaking the seat.

Mr. Myers has tendered White Prince and mate, two of the largest and finest animals in the State, to haul No. 2's steamer at the Portland Centennial. The tender will doubtless be accepted.

Mr. Reid has built a line of telegraph to Scio from Marion. He now proposes to extend the line to Lebanon for $750 cash, or a loan of $1,200 for three years. Lebanon will probably accept.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. James Houston's team ran away. The upper works of the hack (a new one, having been in use but four days) was entirely used up, while the running gear stood the test pretty well.

NEW MILLINERY.—The new, late style millinery at Mrs. Stevens is meeting with rapid sale; in fact Mrs. S. is doing about all the business in the millinery line in the city. All who wish the latest and most stylish, go there.

A great deal of cool, cloudy weather during the week.
