LOCAL MATTERS.

HAYES AND WHEELER CLERK.—The Republicans and others of this city who intend to support Hayes and Wheeler in the coming election for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States, are requested to meet at the Pacific Opera House on Saturday evening, Sept. 9th, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a political club for the campaign. There should and we think there will be a large attendance. Let Republicans and honest men turn out to the meeting.

HANDSOME PRESENTS.—At the regular monthly meeting of Linn Engine Co., No. 2, held at the hall on Monday evening, Dr. G. W. Gray, President, presented to the Company a handsome trumpet and a curiosity in the shape of a mallet—both obtained by him while on his visit East. The mallet was manufactured in Egypt, from wood peculiar to that country. The boys are not only proud of the presents, but of their President, whose thought went out to them although so far away and amid such novel and exciting scenes as were afforded by the Philadelphia Centennial.

PANORAMA.—Prof. White's panoramic views of scenery in the great and wonderful National Park, exhibited at the Opera House Tuesday evening, did not draw the crowd such an entertainment should. The lecture of Prof. White, which was a description of the country as he saw it in '72, was most vivid and entertaining. As an elocutionist the Professor has few if any equals on this coast. Mr. Glenn added to the attraction of the occasion by singing several beautiful songs.

BIG THING IN HARVESTERS.—Through the politeness of Mr. A. M. Roof, of the Grange Union Store, Tuesday afternoon last we had the pleasure of riding after a spanking pair of trotters out to the farm of Jason Wheeler, where a number of people were assembled to witness the trial of a new harvesting machine—or rather, an old and favorite machine with new attachments, to-wit: Wood's Reaper with Locke's Binder attached. The machine, all things considered, worked first rate, and if, after a thorough test, the binder comes up to the expectation of its friends, this machine will soon take precedence of all other harvesters now in use.

STRANGE.—Mr. Ridgeway, who handles the ribbons over the route from Lebanon to Sweet Home, coming down from the latter place on Saturday last, on the new road between Nye's and Ames' creek, discovered a little two-year old child right in the road, up to its armpits in the mud. The child was attended by two bound pups, and the indications were that the pups had done their best to extricate their little master from his perilous situation. Ridgeway pulled the little fellow out, and conveyed him to the nearest house, Mr. Clement's, where the little fellow was washed up, and inquiries set on foot to ascertain the parents of the child. From the point where the little babe was found, it was a mile and a half to the nearest house, going toward Sweet Home. No one in the neighborhood recognized the child. [We have learned since the above was written that the parents have been found.]

BRUISED.—On Tuesday evening, after A. N. Arnold had come in with the express from the Depot, he, as usual, drove around to the stable and un hitched his team. Opening the barn door and letting the ponies enter, he started for the wagon, when some one went for him, knocking him down and jumping on him. Arnold was taken unawares, but nevertheless he made fight, "turned" his man, drew his knife and dug a hole in his face. His assailant didn't appreciate the knife business, and drew out and away from him, in such a hurry that Mr. A. is not certain that he knows who the man was, but he is certain the man fell in his design, which was to rob him. There are plenty of thieves and vagabonds around, and citizens who are out late should go prepared for them.

WATTSBURG, W. T.—We have received a letter from Mr. W. W. Parrish, who, together with his family, left this city some weeks ago for the Walla Walla country. The letter is dated at Wattsburg, W. T., August 30th, at which place they had arrived four days previously. Bill complains of having had a nice, comfortable trip across the hills, traveling slow and resting wherever, whenever and as long as they pleased. Mr. W. says the land seems to be rich even on top of the highest hills in and around Wattsburg; the country is much more rolling than he expected to see, and the health is perfectly splendid. The cost of living is about half what it is in the Willamette valley. The corn crop is almost equal to that of Illinois, and the yield of fruit of all kinds promises to be immense. Wattsburg is a neat little village of about two hundred inhabitants, and contains a flouring mill, planing mill, three dry goods stores, stove and hardware store, drug store, two blacksmith shops, one repairing shop, one harness and one boot and shoe shop, one church (Methodist), one good, comfortable school house, hotel, livery stable and a saloon—the last named receiving a very thin support.

THE GRAIN CROP.—Being below the average both in quantity and price makes the exercise of rigid economy a necessity to those who would make both ends meet. One of the most effectual means of doing this, is to buy your goods at the one-price, low-price, ready-pay store of WHEELER, in Siedd. New and complete fall and winter stock soon.

AT HOME.—Dr. G. W. Gray has returned from his Centennial trip, and can now be found at his office, in the Farish brick, up stairs, by all who desire dental work of any kind.

LETTER FROM REV. I. WILSON.

BROOKSIDE, N. J., Aug. 23d, 1876.
ED. REGISTER:—Many friends in Albany requested us to write as soon as we reached home, and with your permission I will do so through the REGISTER. Our trip on the steamer to San Francisco was exceedingly pleasant. Old ocean was unusually quiet, and we were always ready for our meals when the appropriate hour arrived. By request of the Captain, I preached twice on Sabbath to an attentive congregation. Mr. Bucler, well known in your city, was among the passengers, and requested me to say to the Albany people that "the old man got through all right; that he never expected to see Albany again, and bids them all farewell."

After a few days repose and enjoyment among our friends in San Francisco and Oakland, we started on our way rejoicing, and in a short time found ourselves up in the mountains, breathing the fresh, cool air, and astonished at the beautiful and grand scenery around us. But I need not tell the readers of your paper about the wonderful mountains, beautiful plains, and all the interesting scenery along the way, as most of them are more familiar with those things than I am. Suffice it to say we all enjoyed the journey very much, and reached our friends and relatives in Michigan safe and well.

Coru looks good in Michigan, but the wheat crop was not as large as usual. In New Jersey the weather has been exceedingly hot and dry. There is an unusually large crop of peaches, and they are very cheap, selling for 25 cents per basket—about 50 cents per bushel.

I will say for the encouragement of the friends of Hayes and Wheeler, that a vote was taken for the two candidates on the cars near Elmira, New York, resulting as follows: For Hayes, 91; for Tilden, 42. Times are dull here, and money seems to be just as scarce here as in Oregon. Thousands of men are out of employment, and the coming winter, it is feared, will be one of great suffering among the poor.

We have been enjoying ourselves at the campmeeting near Dewitt, N. J. What a wonderful change in these meetings! How different from what they were thirty or forty years ago! The old-fashioned campmeeting, so memorial in the history of thousands throughout the country, is rapidly giving way to modern improvements. Instead of the plain tents, neat and tasteful cottages have been erected, and in many places stores and hotels have been built to accommodate the thousands who gather annually for worship in the woods, as usual. Yet in many respects the campmeetings remain the same. The glorious hymns our fathers and mothers loved to sing, thrill our hearts, and the same blessed Gospel which inspired their souls and made them happy, fills and comforts our hearts. It is to be hoped that these pleasant gatherings will multiply and spread everywhere, and continue to be what they have been in the past, a great blessing to the Church and the world.

In about three weeks we expect to start for Philadelphia, en route to Michigan, where we will remain, and do what we can to persuade men to become reconciled to God.

Respectfully,
I. WILSON.

SHED ITEMS.

George Alexander, the man who was arrested at Boston Mills for supposed participation in the burglary at Independence, has returned to his home, having been discharged. There appears to have been not a particle of evidence against him.

Wheat handling has been pretty lively since the damp weather set in. A horse on which Mr. John Barton was riding at a rapid pace, a few days since, stumbled and fell. John was not quick enough to keep on top, and was consequently severely bruised. He is, however, able to be about, and will probably be well as usual again soon.

Some young gentlemen were exercising their musical gifts by moonlight at a late hour the other night. The population of our town is so dense, and the number of bells and musical instruments so great, that we are unable to learn for whose special benefit it was designed. Our whole population enjoyed it, and in their name we return thanks for the pleasure afforded.

AWFUL TRAGEDY.—A young man named Wm. H. Smith, a resident of Jefferson, was killed about 10 o'clock of Wednesday forenoon, by a falling tree. On the day in question, deceased, with another young man, was cutting timber within 15 miles of Jefferson. A large tree had been cut down, and after falling it rebounded, striking deceased on the side of the head, mashing him to the earth and holding him in that position until parties from some distance could get to the spot. It has been only about two weeks since the body of deceased's father, Absalom Smith, who was drowned in the Sautian last Spring, was recovered and buried.

OFFICERS EMBOD.—Following are the officers of Linn Engine Company for the next year: Dr. G. W. Gray, President; Jay Hain, Recording Secretary; Judge Miller, Treasurer; Billy Miller, Foreman; Geo. Burkhardt, and Jas. Foster, Jr., First and Second Assistants. Just about as good a set of officers as is.

On Saturday last we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. S. Reeder, Superintendent of Kingsland, Ferguson & Co.'s large farming implement manufactory, St. Louis. He is out here looking after the interests of the "Invincible Thresher," one of the many implements manufactured by his employes.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Near Jefferson on Monday last, a team driven by Mr. Jabez Terhune ran away, upsetting the wagon, throwing Mr. Terhune out and the wagon upon him. One of the hubs, it is supposed, striking him in the back. After a thorough examination Wednesday, his physician, Dr. Smith, pronounced Mr. Terhune's wounds incurable, and that he can survive but a few days.

We have since learned that Mr. Terhune passed away on Wednesday.

W. B. Carter, Esq., of the Corvallis Gazette, and his estimable wife, came down on Tuesday evening last. After a fraternal call on Western Star Lodge, I. O. G. T., the object of their visit to the city, they returned home the same night.

The intense itching caused by certain diseases of the skin is speedily allayed by Glenn's Sulphur Soap, which entirely removes every species of eruption, is perfectly safe, and far cleaner and more effective than any ointment.

MONTGOMERY QUEEN'S BIG SHOW.—The largest and most gorgeous that ever visited Oregon, will delight the people by exhibitions on Tuesday, September 19th. We are inclined to think everybody'll be there. See ad.

Miss Elva Bryman, of Salem, takes charge of the musical department of the Collegiate Institute. Miss Elva enjoys an enviable reputation as a musician, and will certainly give the patrons of the Institute the best of satisfaction.

CIDER.—The first sweet cider of the season made its appearance on Monday, and was manufactured by Uncle Geo. Hughes, the best cider-maker of the county. This office is indebted to him for a liberal supply.

At Grady's—You will find Roland, A 1 Thimble, ready to execute all kinds of work in his line, from putting on a tin roof to making a new set of furniture for stove or range, in way-up style.

Capt. Cochran has let the contract for building a light draft steamboat for the upper Willamette trade. It is to be 150 feet in length, 35 feet beam and 5 feet hold. The vessel is to be finished in two months.

Judge W. S. Newbury, of Portland, gave us a call the other day. Bro. Newbury is in the agricultural implement business, and in that business he has no superior on the Pacific coast.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Albany Collegiate Institute opened on last Monday with a good attendance and the most flattering prospects. For a splendid, large, red-cored watermelon, on Tuesday, we are indebted to E. M. Wadsworth, of Benton county. Many thanks.

Mr. Ellison and wife, who recently moved from this city to California to live, arrived back Tuesday. Oregon suits them better than it did.

One of the most eligible building lots in the city has been offered as a free gift to Linn Engine Company, provided a brick be erected upon it by the Company.

Blain, Sox & Co., at Mammoth Warehouse, having the facilities and being obliging gentlemen, are securing a good business.

Mr. George Patterson and Mrs. Grubb were united in marriage by Rev. H. W. Stratton on last Saturday evening.

Rev. J. F. DeVore, pastor of the M. E. Church, arrived on Monday evening, and takes immediate charge.

Ike Conn and wife, of Grass Ridge, were in the city Tuesday. All healthy and happy in that ballwick.

Chas. Keifer returned Tuesday after a long visit to the Centennial and the Eastern slope. Judge Montague was in the city one or two days last week, making arrangements for a big law suit. The Georgians took their horns to-night—said to be the way-uppest minstrel troupe that ever visited Oregon.

M. Westfall, to do the work, charging the same against the property. The Marshal desires property-holders to do the work themselves, if they will, otherwise he will be compelled to do his duty in the premises.

MEDICAL.—See card in this issue of Dr. J. S. Callaway, who lately purchased the new residence of Chas. Bourgardes, and has set out among us for the practice of his profession; Dr. Callaway has a professional experience of over twenty-eight years to recommend him, and is a gentleman who deserves the fullest confidence of our people.

PASSED AWAY.—On Thursday morning old Father Houston, one of the old pioneers of Linn county, died at his residence, three miles east of this city, after a few days illness, aged 82 years, six months and seventeen days. The funeral takes place at one o'clock P. M. to-day, from his residence to the family burying place.

PERFECTLY SPLENDID.—Our folks are under a thousand obligations to Mrs. J. E. Buckenroth, for one of the loveliest bouquets we have ever seen, presented on Tuesday, Mrs. B. takes great delight in her flower garden, one of the largest in the State.

HURT.—Bessie Cranor, one day last week, in some way fell over or on to a chair in such a manner as to injure her spine severely, from the effects of which she has been confined to her bed ever since.

Fences and the sides of houses are gorgeously with "pictures" of lions and elephants and tigers and hyenas, etc., representations of the flesh and blood fellows belonging to Queen's circus, advertised to be here in a few days.

Prof. Campbell, of Monmouth College, lectured at the Court House on Tuesday evening, to a fair audience. He is on a lecturing tour for the benefit of his College, and will go as far south as Douglas county.

Ans. Marshall's contract for feeding the animals with Queen's circus, calls for 3,000 pounds of hay and 60 bushels of oats. In addition to this, the ring horses, 27 in number, are fed at Ans' stable.

Mrs. Allison has received information that her mother, sister-in-law and four children, living near Eugene City, are ill with what is supposed to be smallpox in a light form.

Mr. Settlemeir's huge barn, 80x100, is rapidly approaching completion. It will be one of the land-marks on Albany Prairie.

Clyde Pennington, of Umatilla county, is at present visiting relatives and friends hereabouts.

Tyler & Tate always have a good supply of fresh vegetables, fruits, groceries, etc., on hand at their place on First street.

Quite a number of Odd Fellows went to Jefferson yesterday, to attend the funeral of the late Jabez Terhune.

Charley Perkins, of Portland, formerly mine host of the St. Charles of that city, smiled on us Wednesday.

Don't forget the meeting Saturday night, at the Opera House, to organize a Hayes and Wheeler club.

Ans. Marshall now keeps an organ at his livery stable, so that his horses may be thoroughly educated in music.

NEW ADS.—See the several new ads. in this issue, and if they concern you, give them proper attention.

Will B. Rice is acting Supt. Telegraph and Train Dispatcher, with headquarters at Portland.

Mart. Angel has gone to the Sound to sight see.

DAILY GANNETT.—Is the title of a little three column daily issued at Roseburg. Bully for Roseburg and her lady.

Crill Burkhardt is very ill indeed, we are sorry to say. Two or more of his children are also very sick.

VERY ILL.—Mrs. Tyler is very low with bilious fever, with slight hopes of recovery.
Mrs. Harris and little Clyde are both reported improving, after their severe illness.
Ex-Sicilia Rice's son is reported improving after a rather severe attack of diphtheria.
How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor.
If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often worried into monomania by these conflicting manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Disease of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the above named invulnerable corrective. [Sept.]
Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.
The great remedy for Consumption. This wonderful remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years; and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of coughs, colds, bronchitis, influenza, whooping cough, hoarseness, palis or soreness in the chest or side, bleeding at lungs, liver complaint, etc. Beware of imitations. Remember that the genuine Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has the outside wrapper the signature of "I. B. WISTAR," and the printed name of the proprietors, "LEWIS W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing. [Sept.]
