THE ENEMY OF DISEASE!

THE FOE OF PAIN To Man and Beast

IN THE GRAND OLD

There is no sore it will not heal, no lameness it will not cure, no ache, no pain, that afflict the human body, or the body of a horse or other domestic animal, that does not rield to its magic touch. A bottle costing 25c, 50c, or $1 00, has often saved the life of a human being, and restored to life and usefulness many a valuable borse.

> STATE FAIR.-As per advertisement in this issue it will be seen that the next Aunual meeting of the Oregon State Agricultural Society will open on Monday. Oct. 9th, 1876. The present indications are that the exhibition generally will be much larger than ever before, and the number of visitors in attendance will far outstrip anything heretofore seen in Oregon. New buildings have been erected on the grounds for the better exhibition and care of articles and stock; better and more complete arrangements for the water supply have been secured, and everything that will tend to the comfort of exhibitors and visitors that could be thought of, has been carefully and efficiently attended to by the officers of the Society. The Centennial Exhibition certainly bids fair to outstrip all its make up a successful and profitable Fair. IMPORTANT CHANGES .- For the convenience of primary pupils the School District has been divided into three wards. All the primary pupils east of Montgomere street will attend the East Ward School; all west of Washington street will attend the West Ward School, and all others the Central Ward School. The books used in the primary schools will be the Primer.1st. 2d and 3d Readers, Mental and Rudiments of Arithmetic, 1st and 2d Geography, Speller and slate and pencil. This arangement will prove convenient to scholars and teachers, and will prevent the crowding of one room while others may be comparatively thinly attended. The schools have been graded somewhat similar to the Portband schools, and, we think, after the first quarter, will work admirably,
