SALOON GUTTED.

Last Saturday night the saloon at Halsey, belonging to Wm. K. Neal, the murderer of S. W. Hayes, was entered, and every drop of liquor in the establishment spilled upon the floor. Nothing, we believe, was broken, excepting a few tumblers. Cigars were emptied from the boxes among the spilled liquor on the floor. Our informant says there are three theories in regard to who did the deed. One is that the ladies did it. Another is that 'twas the Good Templars, and a third is, that it was the friends of Neal, who hoped thereby to create sympathy for him. "You pays your money and you takes your choice."
