Albany Register.

UBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY, BY COLL. VANCLEVE, N THE REGISTER BUILDING.

Corner Forry and First Streets.

TERMS IN ADVANCE.

One copy, one year.....

Agents for the Register.

P. Smith.... Hals Harrisburg Wheeler & Co. Wheeler & Co. Junetion City Sears, Smith & Brasfield.....Junetion City Sci

FRIDAY MARCH 16, 1877.

LODGE NEGHT.

It was lodge night, and there had been an unusual press of very important basiness, which had kept Mr. Joskins out much inter than he had anticipated. He came home, however, in apparent good order and well conditioned. Mrs. Joskins, knowing his reliable character, and trustworthy habits, had not waited up tor him, and when he crept into bed he was met with a very sleep into bed in regard to the hour, and the reproach conveyed in the inquiry was so slight that Mr. Joskins instantly repeated of the lie he had intended to tell, and only told a little one, only an hour and a quarter long, saying, with an off-hand correlessness, that he guessed it must be protty near 11, when he knew it was 12:15. And sleepy Mrs. Joskins, with her weather-eye on the sitting-room clock, which she could see through the open bed-room door, just before Joskins turned out the light, knew it also, but she didn't say anything. Mr. Joskins, although he breathed very heavily, did not go to sleep immediately. He soon began to fidget. His breath appeared to come with difficulty; he actually gasped,

"Good land !" he exclaimed, "isn't this room awful close ?"

Mrs. Joskins didn't know. She was awful sleepy, she said, and the air of the room felt very comfortable to her.

"By George," said Mr. Joskins, after a few minutes of restlessness, "i.'s close as a vault to me. Would it hurt if I opened one of the windows,"

His spouse drowsily replied that it wouldn't give her cold, and he might ventilate the room all he wished. And with this permission she went to sleep, and Mr. Joskins got up with great deliberation and proceeded to raise the window,

"It's a little ways up now," he said, c my And he caught a grip on it, gave a tug at it, but it didn't come. Mr. Joskins was surprised. "It never stuck so and I'll hammer Texas out of his peace before," he said. Then he got a fresh hold under it; and lifted as though he

GO WENT, YOUNG MAN.

minute to warm his hands he pulled out worn satchel at the boy's feet.

and lighted it.

home 55

to the clerk :

a dollar bill ?"

observed :

a halt-consumed cigar from his pocket

Supper for one is how much ?"

walked back to where the porter had clerk, after looking him over.

sued f. r $50,000 damages !"

An Ohio gentleman who is thinking The other day while I was seated in the Kennard House, Cleveland, waiting of coming to Oregon in the Spring, writes to a friend in this town making for supper and the train, the omnibus the following inquiries. backed up to the door, the porter ran 1st, What is land worth per aere? out and a boy about thirteen years old descended from the vehicle with an au 2d, Is it good country for stock raisof considerable importance. . He handed ing ?

3d, Have you good schools? his old satchel to the porter and walked down to the office without looking to the right or left. - His shoes were old and worn, his hair was long and uneven, and as he halted before the stove for a land ?

> in your country? 7th, Is game plenty ?

The perter came along at a slow pace, a look of disgust on his face, and as he reached the stove he dropped the way-"Here! you look out !" exclaimed the lad. "That there satchel contains wealth, and you'd better be a little harmonious in handling it. Is Kennard at The porter gasped for breath and pointed to the clerk behind the desk.

can be purchased at $1 25 per avre. The boy walked up to the register picked up a pen and laboriously wrote : "Jim rite, from New York." Wiping This is a good stock country, and, off the pen on his eyebrow he remarked one Academy in the county, which, as ed without fear. "Seventy-five cents," replied the an institution of learning, bears a good reputation, "Whew ! but that's hard pan, that is? After a tellow has been putting up Wheat, oats and barley are the prinat the Fifth Avenue for a year these Western prices knock him down. Only cipal crops raised here, but farther north in this State hops and flax are cultivated to a considerable extent. But little seventy-five cents, eh? Can you change corn is raised in Oregon, not but what it will grow, but because it is not as The clerk handed him back two shillings, and the boy relighted his stub.

profitable as other crops. Crops have never been known to fail taken a seat, and in a tone of reproach in Oregon, and farmers do not have to irrigate their fields. Our stockmen have been paying much

"There's that 'ere satchel right where attention to improving their stock, and you dropped it. You leave it there and let it get stolen if you want this house have imported thoroughbred horses, cattle, sheep and swine. Bear and deer abound in the f rests.

The porter hesitated a little and and smaller game is quite plentiful. As for raising fruit the Rogue river finally took the satchel to the cloak room and procured a check.

"That's more like bizz-te-business, valley is not surpassed by any section of the United States. Figs, plums, remarked Jim, as he pocketed the check. peaches, apricots, pears, apples, etc., flourish, while grapes and berries of all kinds grow readily.—Jacksonville Sen-"You probably thought I was some onehorse member of the Legislature from some scrub town counties, but that's where you got left. Twenty minutes to tinel. supper, eh? Well, you find me one ot the daily papers."

Jim sat down near the stove, and the keepsie Eagle tells an affecting little porter, laboring under a seeming magstory of a child between two and three netic influence, hunted up a paper and years old whom a lady found walking on the street, evidently lost and crying handed it to him.

I happened to sit next to the boy at supper. He gave his napkin a critical lady asked her where she was going. examination, scanned the tablespread, "I am going to find papa," was the and when the waiter came along to him reply of the child, between sobs. James remarked : "What is your papa's name ?" asked "Oysters fried in crumbs, milk toast, the lady.

green tea, a biled egg, hot biscuit, and "His name is papa," replied the innoyou want to jump as if codfish was forty cents a pound and the market cent little thing.

The waiter didn't jump. He moved call him ?"

off at a slow pace. "Pill fix him !" whispered the boy in baby. a confidential way. "He probably

A FEW QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

A properly conducted printing office, as an exchange remarks, is as much a principally raise? Can you raise corn? printing office who willingly disregards by a second, who survived him. There because it sometimes happens that a was in the hands of a son and son-in-law communication appears in a newspaper of the older branch; and the widow and As we are constantly in receipt of under an assumed signature which ex. her children began the war upon them letters of a like character, we shall an- cites comments, and various parties try to secure their share. The estate has swer these questions in the order in to find out who is the author. Let all been in law eighteen years. The first which they come, for the benefit of the be saved the trouble of questioning em- question as to where the will should be persons wishing to come to this State. | ployes of the printing office. They are probated-in Maine or New York. It Farms can be purchased in this valley know-nothings on such points as these, was finally carried to New York, where at from $3 to $20 per acre. There is On such matters they have no eyes, no the parties above referred to were in also vacant Government land here- ears, no mouth, and if anyone fails to business. Since that time there has mostly hill and timbered land-that observe this rule let them be put down been nearly every sort of a suit and as dishonored members of the craft. It cross suit that the ingenuity of lawyers is the same with job printing. It any- could devise. Two years since the final as much of the land is hilly and not thing is to be printed and kept secret, account of the executors was filed, and easily cultivated, affords good pastur- let proper notice be given for the desire the case sent to a referee, who has been schools in Jackson county, and there is so that even the secret books are print- is somewhere between $100,000 and

THE BURNING OF RICHMOND.

Ever since the burning of Richmond 1865 there have been numerous suits at law between the people whose property was destroyed and the manrance companies, the latter making a defense that the burning was an act of the war, under which insurance can not be collected. An effort has many times been made to obtain the evidence of Confederate General Ewell, who commanded the city at the time of the evacuation, but he has successfully avoided the witness-stand. Not only has this question been a matter of importance to the insurance companies and property-owners, but also to historians, who differ in regard to the origin of the fire, some hol 1ng that it was accidental, others that it was the work of the Federal troops, Within the last few days documents have been filed in the courts at Richmond which proves that the city was fired before the evacuation on the 4th of April, 1865, by order of General A LITTLE ONE'S LOVE .- The Pongh-Eweil, acting under telegraphic instructions from General Lee, who was at Petersburg at the time, in pursuance of a statute of the Confederate Congress that all cities wherein cotton or tobacco was stored, or which would afford comtort to the enemy, he destroyed by fire when evacuated by Confederate troops. KINDNESS TO HORSES .- Strangers in Paris are surprised at the beauty and size of the omnibus horses, which are invariably kept in splendid condition. "But what is his other name ?" quer- They are well fed, carefully treated, ied the lady ; "what does your mamma and never over-worked. Each omnibus has ten horses belonging to it. These "She calls him papa," persisted the ten horses go out every day; thus, during the tourteen hours' service, the The lady then took the little one by horses are changed five times. Being

An Estate Frittered Away.

In 1859, Nathaniel Gilman died in Governor Hayes was in the city last Waterville, Mc., leaving an estate sup-posed to be worth $1,000,000, but Saturday evening, and participated in the banquet of the Cincinnati bar assosecret as a Masonic lodge. the printers are not under any oath of secrecy, but always teel themselves as truly bound 5th, Do farmers have to irrigate their this rule in relation to printing office se- was never any affection between the two loons." Governor Hayes is an old this rule is relation to printing ence se-crets would not only be scorned by his branches of the family, and the fend member of the Cincinnati bar, and it 6th, Is there any good blooded stock brethren of the craft, but would lose broke out in open war over the old his position. We make this statement man's will. The bulk of the property meet his old friends and associates at zens .- Cincinnati Inquirer.

of secrecy, and you might as well ques- holding weekly sessions ever since. It We are well supplied with district of secrecy, and you might as well ques-We are well supplied with district tion the "Sphynx" as one of the printers, is thought the amount now remaining $300,000, to be divided between ten chi dren and their heirs, whenever the heirs can agree upon the terms. The feeling is so bitter that it is probable that the entire amount will fritter away before a settlement is effected .- Boston .Journal.

such orders had been given he would The failure of the great house of Crossley in England is a' symptom that the business affairs of Great Britam are Police, severely reprimanded him in the not in a prosperous condition. The de-Prince's presence, and then bade him ression throughout the world, especisteruly begone and sin no more. Terally in those countries where the gold rified and trembling, the abashed official unit of value obtains, is nowhere more was about to make a sudden exit, when marked than in Great Britain. The tothe Czarowitz, who had been a quiet tal loss in the Turkish investments, the and, to all appearance, a perfectly unfailure of Egypt to meet the interest on moved spectator of the interview, merely her indebtedness, the shrinkage in value of her South American securities, the depression in trade, the stoppage of investments in limited liability companies. have seriously impaired the floating capital of the great capitalist nation. It hand; it was a silver ruble, twisted s curious to note that in the Latin round and tound in cork screw fashion, Union, composed of France, Belgium, as ordinary hands might twist a scrap Switzerland and Italy, there is more of paper. With this startling proof of prosperity than in any other part of the the concentrated wrath of the heir to world. In these countries the silver the throne, the luckless functionary was five-trane piece is the unit of value and suffered to depart. the two metals are used in commercial transactions. It is therefore a matter of Three hundred years ago forks were serious doubt whether there can be any unknown in England, and a man could real revival of business in this country scoop up all the green peas he could until the silver dollar resumes the place carry on the flat of his knile and shovel it held previous to 1873. We will have to decide whether to follow the example of prosperous France, with its silver currency, or panie-stricken Germany and England, where a gold unit of valhis elbow and spill the peas all over ne obtains.

is, and say in a hoarse, reproachful COLD IN ITS RELATION TO HIGHT.whisper, "Why, Edward !" According to some remarks of M. Martin of Montpellier, cited in the Belgique Horticole, the intensity of cold at night s up to a certain hight.

DEMOCRATIC OPINION OF HAYES. JOB PRINTING.

always feel themselves as truly bound chant in New York, and in that busi-to keep office secrets as though bound he had made his money. He left six and the Chicago Times does not overby triple oaths. Any employe in a children by a deccased wife, and four step the bounds more than usual when it calls him "An Archangel in Pantawas, doubtless, gratifying to him to the festive board. Throughout all the trying hours since and before the election, Governor Hayes has done nothing to forfeit the respect of his fellow citi

The Grand Duke Alexis.

The Heir-Apparent to the Throne of Russia is quite a giant, resembling in that respect his grandfather Nicholas. who was by far the most magnificent looking monarch of modern times. His strength is said to be something prodigious, and of its display, and of the great control he exercises over his naturally violent temper, a curious anecdote told. On one occasion he discovered that his private correspondence had been tampered with when passing through the post-office. He went at once to the Emperor, laid the case before him, and begged to know if it was by his orders that the letters had been opened; for in that case, as a dutiful son and subject, he would say nothing more, but unless demand redress. The Czar sent at once Posters.

Visiting Cards.

Bill Heads,

Letter Heads

Envelopes,

Horse Bills

A few more fancy Indian names have Ball Tickets, been added to the list, among which them into his mouth, without having his wife stamp on his corns, or nudge where his napkin ought to be and never twirling some little object between his fingers as the colloquy proceeded, came forward and stopped him. Without a word the Prince placed the thing where- Business Cards. with he had been toying in the official's

When you wish

PRINTING OFFICE SECRETS.

the roots, but it didn't come. "Well, I will be blowed," muttered Mr. Joskins, with a heavy accent on the "be." And then he caught hold again, and shoved his fingers as far under as they would reach, and braced himself for a lift that would have shamed a derrick.

would pull that side of the house up by

"Uh! Uh! 'mph !!' um-mpuh !!! and with a final grunt Mr. Joskins sank back exhausted.

"Well, you can eat my boots," he muttered, with some warmth. "If I dont lift this window up, or I'll pull the house over. You hear me." And he caught hold and tugged and lifted and strained until he was sure that every succeeding tug would either lift the side of the house or pull his feet through the floor. He paused again for breath, with his head so full of blood that his feet was cold.

"Jocks," he snarled, "I'd give ten million dollars it I had the carpenter here who put in that window. I bet I'd lift him, the wooden-headed idiot. Now then."

And he stooped down and caught a fresh hold on the window, and set his teeth and shut his eyes and held his breath and put his whole soul and body into his arms. As he began to straighten up he could hear a sound like the cracking of timbers, and it inspired him with renewed courage. "Something's coming, gospel sure,' he said, and redoubled his efforts.

At that instant he became aware of a glimmer of light in the room, He raised his closed lids and beheld Mrs. Joskins standing beside him, like a white robed ghost with a lamp in her hand. At the sight of which apparition Mr. Joshins ceased lifting, but held his grip "What's the matter ?" he asked.

His wite said nothing, but looked steadily and severely into his inquiring eyes. Mr. Joskins felt troubled under ber steady gaze. "What is it ?" he repeated. "What did you get out of bed for ?" She looked him straight in the eyes for a moment. "John Joskins," she mid, solemnly, "go back to bed: I will raise the window for you. Don't say a word to me. To-morrow we will talk about any continuation of these lodge

Speechless and confused, Mr. Joskin's eyes fell, and as they did so he beheld his hands. The window was shut

"Well, anyhow," he thought, as he crept back under the blankets, "there's one thing certain ; if she hadn't got up crept back under the blankets, "there's one thing certain; if she hadn't got up when she did, I'd a had the whole window casing, sill and all, shoved half was musing : up the side of the house in another "The quest

Which was a very poor consolation for what he knew was coming, but it burg Telegraph. was the best he had .- Burlington Hanok+ Rue.

owus a brown stone front on some hightoned street. I'll buy the next house to him; tear it down, put up a boiler shop, and harmony !"

· Jim seemed to have an affection for fried oysters. As he lifted up the tenth one and dropped it behind his teeth, he turned to me and said :

"Fair to medium, but yet I sigh for the biyalves of the St. Nichlas. It's curus, isn't it, how a tellow will get used to one race of oysters ?"

While the waiter was absent after a second cup of tea, the boy had a strugg'e with himself as to whether he had better leave a shinplaster beside his plate. I heard him saying to himself: "Of course it would look kind o' stylish and unique to put down two shillings for that fawning sychophant to pick up, but I am not on the unique just now. I'm looking for land, and land kise.

costs money." I met him again on the train. He was asking me if I knew of a lively town in the West, where a go-ahead boy about his size could commence at the foot of the ladder and grow up, when the conductor came along and called for tickets.

"Half-fare, of course," replied Jim, as he felt in his pockets.

"Full ticket," said the conductor, reaching right and left.

"Is this a bigger road than the New York Central?" demanded the boy. "They didn't charge but halt fare on that road, and it had three more tracks on than this. Don't count me out that way, Mr. Conductor."

"Tickets ! tickets !" called the official. "Pass on and come and see me later, for the cash is in my boot," replied Jim, getting ready to pull off one.

In about twenty minutes the conduc-tor returned, and the boy tendered him half fare in small change and said :

"Don't be tough on a feller. There wasn't room for Boss Tweed and me in New York, and so I'm looking for a Western town to grow up with."

"You are old enough for full fare," observed the conductor.

"That's where my looks deceive me, they do. The fact is I don't age worth a cent. I have looked to be about this old ever since I can remember."

to the subject nearest his heart by remarking :

"I'd like to find a town of about 600 my eyes, and in no time at all I'd be an alderman or somethin'. I'm bound to work up, I tell you, and if any fel- days. His body at the time of his as tight as wax, and he had a death low can best me at securing the affections of a discriminating public I won't as his head. say a word,"

"The question vividly arises, can a Scanthislineitisoltheutmostimportanc. to say't."

the hand and led her along saying : "You had better come with me ; I strength endure during long years of guess you came this way." "Yes, but I don't want to go back ; I care is taken. At the foot of each tle girl erying anew as if her heart the streets of Paris (there are thirty-one would break "What do you want of your papa ?"

inquired the lady. "I want to kiss him."

Just then a sister of the child come along looking for her, and led her away. never separated save in case of accident From subsequent inquiries it appeared that the little one's papa, of whom she was so earnestly in search, had recently died. In her loneliness and love for him she had tired of waiting for him to come home, and had gone to find him and greet him with the accustomed words and motions. Their docility and superior intelligence fully reward their A PLEASANT KITCHEN,-Considerowners for the extra care and kindness ing that so many women of the middle shown these grateful creatures.

classes are obliged to pass a great portion of their time in the kitchen, why A Hartford paper tells how a lady of not make it an attractive apartment, that city "plays it on tramps, through rather than stow it away in the basement, or in some dark corner of the as "advertising greenbacks," and which house, as is now too frequently done? Many houses display pleasant sitting-rooms; but if we judge of the conven-iences and general pleasantness of the door, and waits the approach of the inkitchens by the rooms in the front of pocents. Up to the door comes trampy, the house, we find in many instances and his greedy eye at once alights on we utterly fail in our conjectures. To the money. In a flash it is transferred make a little show in company rooms, to his pocket, and without stopping to how many actual comforts are denied in knock and bcg, as he intended to do, he many households ! It is surely better hurries out of sight, radiant with the to begin our house furnishing at the joy of one who unexpectedly strikes kitchen, and work toward the front as good luck. When at a safe distance, we are able. Let the kitchen closet be he looks at the bill, and as the extent of well stocked, even though the parlor the terrible deception dawns upon him, suffer a little. Surely the health of the he clutches his hair, and with a wild, housel.old, and the comfort of the wo- despairing cry of "sold by Jerusalem !" men folks should be placed above all crawls into a convenient rat-hole and other considerations.

dies.

DEATH OF A BIG-HEADED BOY .-Matthew Dorn, the monster-headed Judge Swayne, of the United States him well enough. I tell you it's bound boy, is dead. He was fifteen years of supreme court, a lew days after the de- to fetch them after a while." most eight pounds. He was of Irish parentage. When six weeks old his head began growing much more rapidly than his body, and continued to grow than his body, and continued to grow Half fare was taken and after the conductor had departed Jim returned to the subject nearest his heart by re-move his head from right to left while lying on his pillow. During the Cen-tennial exhibition at Philadelphia he denizens, for instance. I could jine the church, walk around with humility in but the undertaking did not prove successful there or in Albany, where he was subsequently exhibited for a few

In the hard drinking days an old Scotch laird and his eldest son were riding home together from a hospitable riding home together from a hospitable med with beads; Miss Bellyfat, the Un-gathering. Their ride for a while was "The question vividly arises, can a silent, but at last the son said : "Fey- skin embroidered with beads, and leg-fellow with a patent right work his way ther, I wish ye was deid." The old gins of scarlet cloth ; and Miss Ante-thus carefully managed, their speed and service. To prevent this strength great want to find my papa," replied the lit- of the hills that diversity the surface of of these hills), an extra horse is always in waiting to aid in dragging the heavy reason of the greater injury inflicted on vehicle up the ascent. Nor is the morthe lower branches of shrubs, etc., is al side, so to speak, of the horse's trainthus accounted for. ing neglected. The pairs, once formed

Two men, known as the 'Austin or sickness; they occupy the same stall Brothers,' have been giving exhibitions and feed from the same manger divided of skill in rifle-shooting in Baltimore. by a partition into two compartments. One of their feats is as foliews: One They thus become almost a unit in gait, performer takes up his position at the movements and impulses, and being alstage, with a potato on his head ; the ways driven by the same coachman, they get to understand perfectly his other goes to the opposite end of the stage, turns his back to his brother, holds a looking glass in one hand, and with the other aims his rifle over his shoulder and fires, the ball splitting the potato in two.

> Good Boy .- There is a man in this town between fifty and sixty years of age wo has steadily worked for his fath-er until the present day; never had a dollar in his pocket, never went to church, wedding or funeral; never spoke to a girl except to ask where his mother was; never had a holiday; and yet had his poll-tax abated this year, on account of poverty, while his tather's estate is estimated at from thirty to fifty thous. and dollars .- Southington (Conn.) forward supplies. Sentinel.

Two of the "old boys," comfortably circumstanced and accustomed to indulge in from ten to twenty drinks per day, were a day or two ago watching a man who was squeezing lime-juice into a glass, when one of them remarked: "I hear that Smith died yesterday. You remember him-great temperance man ; couldn't get him to drink anything."

"PARTISAN JUDGES." - Meeting "()h, yes," was the answer; "I knew age, and was certainly a curiosity, if not a monstrosity, so far as his head was concerned. It is said that it was four feet in circumference, and weighed al-isn't it painful to note the fact that the the dectoral commission in the Florida case, Representative Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, said: "Judge, isn't it painful to note the fact that the the dectoral commission in the Florida case, Representative Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, said: "Judge, isn't it painful to note the fact that the the dectoral commission in the florida case, Representative Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, said: "Judge, isn't it painful to note the fact that the the dectoral commission in the florida case, Representative Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, said: "Judge, kiss the first scholar who made his ap-clothes in the spring.

tenance, but with a merry twinkle in his fence all night in order to be at school eye, replied : "Why, yes, my dear sir, the first in the morning. This became He was not Washington's body-servant, it was a subject of mortification to me, monotonous and the teacher gave the but body-servant of Washington's fathand I have seriously thought of remon-strating with Brother Clifford and Field on that subject; but you know it would be rather a delicate matter for me to do,

There wes a grand ball at Indian course of true love runs smooth. There Rock, D. T., a short time ago. Among are occasions when a young man who is people of the South. * the lovely girls who danced were Miss in love feels liberal enough to give a Three Bears, dressed in a beautiful now big brother $1,500 to secure his absence to the hearts of the masses?"-Pitts-burg Telegraph. good thing; the often thought that of my ter, dressed in a beautiful blue blanket good thing. But restless. to say't." and black cloth leggings, with her hair closely oiled to her head.

henomenon was tested by M. Martin are the following : Bird-that-sits-in by placing thermometers in the Botanic sight, High-whirlwind, Mule, No-usegarden and at various hights on the of himself, Warm-his-cars, Rider-thecathedral tower. In clear nights the increased warmth at a higher elevation bear, Crying-dogs, Driving-down-hill, s the most perceptible; in dull nights Blown-away, Walking-water, Tallthere is little or no difference. The wild-cats, White-cow walking, None. et-anything, and Pretty-voteed-bull. The farmers of Nebraska have commenced the domestication of the buffalo.

Wild animals, while young, are introduced among herds of the tame stock of course one or two at a time. Hall and quarter breeds are found to be very hardy; and in the yield of milk the cows raised of mixed stock give even more than the average yield of rich milk. The experiment promises well. Electoral commission cocktails are the latest thing in the beverage line. They are composed of 7 parts water, bitters and lemon peel, and 8 parts whis ky, and 15 of them, taken in quick sucnot excepted. Let Turks delight to howl and fight, for 'tis their nature to; let Bear and, Lion growl and bite, for madness made them so. But Yankees, you should never let your angry passions rise; don't quarrel; trade, work hard, lie low, and

A young and good looking bachelor minister, who recently took charge of an up-country church, rather astorished the flock the first Sunday by announcing that he proposed getting up a girls' bible class right off, and he wanted to embrace every young woman within the sound of his voice.

The news from Europe is so depress ing and uncertain that a Barlington man has felt compelled to reduce his Kemper county, Miss., raises all other centenarians out of their boots with an Indian, John Von, otherwise Istamola, who has just died at the age of 133.

and perhaps you had better speak to her four evenings a week, her sixteen. islature to suggest some plan upon which year-old brother can get all the cigars | Congress could be memorialized to set he wants free of cost as long as the apart a territory west of the Missouri

> An exchange remarks: This is the time to go out wolf-hunting. Nothing there till the dog had gone away.

time and money than chasing the wolf worry themselves insane; they worry from your poorer neighbor's door. Spriggins says he once prevented a severe case of hydrophobia by simply

Circular,

Programmes

Labels,

cession, will count out and lay out the Pamphlets, strongest-stomached Democrat-Cronin or in fact anything in the Printing Line

call at the

ALBANY

REGISTER

PRINTING HOUSE

CORNER FERRY & FIRST-STS.

river for the colonization of the colored will give you higher percentage on your

When a society young man talls in love with a young lady and calls to see

People worry themselves ill; they them yourself."

calico worth 124 cents a yard and trim- from the parlor.

gins of scarlet cloth ; and Miss Ante-