OFFICIAL CITY PAPER. ALBANY, OREGON, APRIL 27, 1877. DRUNK-FIRE.-On Monday afternoon Marshal Westfall arrested a fellow named Frank Weyman, for disturbing the peace.

Weyman fought like a fury, and the Marshall experienced no little trouble in getting him into the calaboose, as various scratches on hands and face attested. About half past seven o'clock in the evening the alarm of "fire," "fire," brought out the Fire Department in a hurry. 'The fire was found to proceed from the calaboose, in the same lot with the City Hall and One's house, and the fellow Weyman who had been incarcerated but a few minutes before was yelling most lustily. The smoke came pouring out of the grated windows of the prison in dense masses, indicating from the smell the burning of old straw. The Marshal not being handy to unlock the door, it was forced open, when out came the prisoner fighting and yelling. After considerable difficulty he was secured, when it was found that both of his hands were burned, one of them badly. Fighting as he went he was carried to Dr. Plummer's drug store, where he had to be chloroformed to enable them, to bind; up his burned hands. Still under the influence of chloroform, he was placed in a blanket, taken to the county jail and placed in one of the cells for the night. The prisoner seemed to be in a terrible state of excitement threatening to kill himself and measures had to be taken to keep him from attempting suicide. When placed in the calaboose we believe he had been searched, but he succeeded in obtaining matches which he used in setting fire to his bed. When the cell commenced filling with smoke and he begun to fear he would smother before ald would arrive, he was diligent in his efforts to extinguish the fire he had started. in this endeavor burning his right hand severely and his left hand somewhat. He was examined on Tuesday before the Recorder, found guilty of assaulting an officer and fined $10 and costs, and further was held to ball in $300 to answer the charge of arson preterred against him.

A GENUINE SURPRISE .- On Tuesday evening last Rev. H. W. Stratton and wite, who had been making pastoral visits, returned to their residence to find it filled to overflowing with acquaintances and friends, who had thus unexpectedly called to make Bro. Stratton a farewell visit. Soon every available space in the house was crowded and the yard pretty well filled. It was a praise of the Peruvian Syrup. I had tried the most noted physicians in this State, and also in Canada, without relief. At your recommendation she commenced the use of the syrup, the first four bottles made but little impression, but while tak-ing the fifth she began to improve rapidly. and now, after using six of the dollar botties, she has regained her strength, and is able to do most of the workabout the house; and I feel that I cannot speak too highly in scribed it to several of my parlents, and have produced the sale of several of it here.
