THE PIOUS BEAR. The Russian bear looked out one day-- A saintly soul was he-- His little bright, sagacious eyes Half shut with piety; And seeing Euzup looking on, Kneel down and said his prayers, Because he felt devoutly And not a bit for airs.

But all the while he saw, my dear, One who had long been ill, Who momentarily my dear, Seemed to grow sicker still. An invalid whose habits were In questionable taste, Who lay on the floor, The neighborhood disgraced.

The pious bear was exercised To an intense degree Because of all the sick man's tricks Of immorality. And to himself he put the case, 'This evening when I sup 'Twill serve the cause of piety To eat the sick man up.

But lest the other animals Should worry at the news, And hint with tooth and claw that he Was worldly in his views, He went about and told them all How very saintly The sick man lived and how he still Abused his family.

And so he played his little game 'Till every animal In virtuous indignation said, 'The sick man's ways were vile, And that he ought to be suppressed. And of his harem shorn, So then the wise bear ate him up And cribbed his golden horn.

LOCAL MATTERS. SECOND ADVENT.--One of the most interesting and entertaining sermons we have heard for some time was delivered by Judge Brough, of Portland, on Sunday evening last at the M. E. Church. The sermon was on the second coming of Christ, and was bristling with facts and figures that seemed to carry conviction to every thoughtful mind that the final summing up of all things will occur sometime between the present year and 1882. We are sorry that we haven't space for a full report of the sermon, as it could hardly fail to be of interest to all our readers. It is the belief of a large number of our most eminent theologians, if not of all, that the second coming of Christ is almost here; and while no man knoweth the day nor the hour when the Son of man shall come in the clouds with power and great glory, to purge the world of sin and all ungodliness, yet the time can be so nearly approximated that it is the belief of a large number of the great intellects of the world, who have thought and studied deeply on this point, that we are now living in the "latter days" or "last days," spoken of by the prophets, apostles and our divine Lord when upon earth. The speaker asserted his earnest belief in the nearness of the second coming of Christ, and that his belief was founded on facts as demonstrable as any problem in mathematics.

PROSPECTORS RETURNED.--Messrs. Fred. Banty, Richardson and others returned from a prospecting tour on the headwaters of the Callpoca last week. They found quartz ledges that look well enough, but it will take an assay to tell their value. They struck what may turn out to be good placer diggings. Prospectors are making their way up into the mountains along the various streams that permeate the valley, and if there is good placers or rich ledges in the region round about they will scarcely overlook the keen eyes of so many well versed and experienced miners. Success attend them.

BROKE JAIL.--Frank Wyman, incarcerated in the county jail on the charge of arson, made his escape from that institution on Monday about eleven o'clock. About that time he was out in the hall, with shackles on his ankles, and was given a paper with which to while away the hours. He left a notice saying he was obliged to take the iron with him much against his will; and if not taken before, he would return in October and stand his trial. The Deputy Sheriff, as soon as his absence was discovered, started in pursuit of Wyman. It's hardly probable that the prisoner will get very far away unless he can get rid of his shackles.

"BORROWED."--One night last week a new saddle disappeared from Mr. John Foster's stable. It was a saddle manufactured but a short time before by Fred. McCoy to Mr. Foster's order, and had some peculiarities, was built somewhat different from other saddles, and will therefore be recognized with greater ease than otherwise. The party who "borrowed" that saddle is requested to return it at once, provided he doesn't want the weather to get tropical at his place. Mr. Foster has immediate use for that saddle and desires you to return it at once. Feb. sep.

Hou. D. G. Clark, of this city, while out at Salt Springs last week, killed two fine elk, with two successive shots from his double-barrel. Having more fresh meat in camp than they could get away with, he "jerked" a few bushels of elk and brought in home, to give his friends a taste of elk who can't get out into the mountains, and in passing we got our share, for which we make our thanks. Elk is coarse but sweet meat, and when dried is most excellent for lunch.

John C. Cartwright, of Dallas, was in the city on Friday last, looking hearty and in good spirits.

THE GOLDMINE RANGE--Sold by John Briggs, is the most economical, heats up the room less and is the equal to heat up any other stove or range as a baker or for any other purpose for which a stove or range is used. A full complement of tinware goes with each range. Call at John Briggs' store and see for yourself. 37

A fire at Astoria on the 2d instant, destroying every building on the north side of Concomely street, from Kinney's cannery to Silson, Hamilton & Co.'s store on the west side of the Parker House block. Estimated loss, $20,000.

RETURNED.--Mr C. H. Manly returned from a visit to Illinois last Friday. He reports times exceedingly hard in that State and crops backward. Was glad to get back to Oregon.

Remember the services at Y.P.C.A. rooms Sunday afternoon, commencing at four o'clock. All are invited.

POND'S EXTRACT. Nature and science are combined in the manufacture. Disease originates from disorder of the system. So a medicine acts on the cause. Experience has heralded the virtue of Pond's Extract. Xternal application of inwardly taken with safety.

The cities of Pond's Extract are marvelous. Relief from pain obtained by use of Pond's Extract. A bottle for $50., $1.00 and $1.75 largest and cheapest. Can be obtained from Druggists everywhere. Try it once, and you will never be without it.

The Gospel of Health. Where there is so much rivalry as in the manufacture of family medicines, he who would succeed must give positive and convincing proof of merit. This is an age of inquiry. People take nothing for granted. They must know the "whys" and "wherefores" before acknowledging the superiority of one article over another. Among the few preparations that have stood the test, those manufactured by R. V. Pierce, M. D., of the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y., have for many years been foremost. The truth of any statement made concerning them can be easily ascertained, for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are now prescribed by many physicians in curing obstinate cases of Catarrh and Incontinent Consumption. The Discovery has no equal in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Nervous Affections. It attacks all irritation of the mucous membrane, aids digestion
