Dear Sirs:—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher's Buggy three years, and three of them two years in my live-in house, and they have given me perfect satisfaction and are in constant use. OSCAR S. SALLEY, Newberry, S. C., July 17, 1879.

Dear Sirs:—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher's Buggy I bought from you so long, I cannot say any one could. I had a fast horse, drove him at full speed, sometimes with two in the buggy, and it is a day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do. A. M. TRAGUE, Farmer.

The favorable reputation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by farmers, physicians, and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increased demand for these localities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of their manufacturing establishment have been extended, enabling them now to turn out in good style.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The Ladies' Industrial Society.

The members of the Ladies' Industrial Society are requested to meet at the store of Mrs. G. Parrish, at 2 o'clock of Tuesday afternoon next—May 11th. Business of importance to be transacted, and therefore a full attendance is requested.

Fire Nominations.

At the regular monthly meeting of Linn Engine Company No. 2, held on Monday evening, W. B. Scott was nominated as a candidate for Chief of the Fire Department at the coming election, and Fred Graf, member of the Hooks, as First Assistant. The gentlemen named are good firemen, and it elected will do their duty.

Returns Your Caps.

By a motion at the last regular meeting of Linn Engine Co., the members who have not yet returned their caps to the Finance Committee, were allowed until the next regular meeting, the first Monday in June, to do so, have a valuation put upon them and have the same placed to their credit. This is positively the "last call," and those who fail to present their caps within the next thirty days, will have the pleasure of keeping them.

Dr. G. Willis Price.

Dr. Price arrived at his old home in this city last week from the East, where he has been engaged for several months in perfecting himself in all the latest improvements in the line of dentistry. He returns bringing with him the latest improved instruments and methods for the painless extraction of teeth and the execution of first class dental work. He has elegantly refitted the office in Odd Fellows' temple, lately occupied by Dr. E. O. Smith, and invites the general public who need anything in his line to call and see him. See card in this issue.

A Gay and Festive Occasion.

We speak of the silver wedding at Lewis Miller's Thursday night of last week. The large residence was filled with friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, and a happier or more agreeable lot of people never got together. About nine o'clock a new surprise awaited the guests. Mr. Jas. Ellison and Mrs. E. Boegele, attended by Mr. Robert Foster and Miss Minnie Miller, marched into the parlor, and without a word of explanation, Rev. J. Bowers stepped to the front and proceeded to "tie" the two first named for life. The ceremony finished, he turned to Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who had stepped to the center of the parlor, and in a few well chosen words congratulated them on having so long and happily traveled life's thorny way together. Then came the "and-shaking, wishes and kind expressions of those present to the "twenty-five year-olds." The supper which followed was just magnificent—piles upon piles of good things appeared to tempt the appetite, with delicious tea and coffee to wash them down with. There was no stint here, and although there was a large number of people to partake of the viands, there was enough for double the number present, and to spare. The fun increased as the night advanced, and although most of the guests departed before midnight, a number remained until broad daylight, enjoying, as they expressed themselves to us, the best time they ever had in their lives. With all those present on the evening in question, we unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Miller continued happiness and prosperity, and long and useful lives.

Brownsville Dates.

BROWNVILLE, Or., May 5th, 1880.—

ED. REGISTER:—The prospects for a splendid grain crop in this section never looked brighter than at present.

Last week Mr. Arthur's son, Warren, came very near drowning, by falling out of a boat into the slough near the new saw mill.

Rev. C. Sperry and family left us this week for Heppner. The best wishes of this whole community goes with them.

The new saw mill of Messrs. Kendig & Klafke started up last week, and the scream of the steam whistle morning, noon and night sounds like business.

Railroad prospects are brighter than ever before, and we now confidently look for the road to be completed to this place in time to move the coming grain crop this fall. Give us this road to tide-water, and the future of this city will be brighter than that of any other town in this county—Albany not excepted.

The woolen mills are still idle, but the ditch is fast approaching completion. Mr. Kay has just returned from California, where he purchased a large supply of wool, and work will soon begin again.

The Blue Ribbon Club had a very interesting program last night.

John and James Willson came home from Southern Oregon last week.

The Rebekah Degree lodge here was re-organized last Wednesday evening.

We had a very pleasant time last Saturday night. The many friends here of Mr. N. Baum had learned that he was to be here on Saturday on business, so they planned a little surprise, and as the Odd Fellows lodge adjourned, a splendid supper was waiting at the Willson House, and Mr. B. was serenaded by the Brownsville Brass Band. After several airs had been played, Mr. B. appeared and gave the band and citizens a neat little speech, thanking them for this unexpected honor, etc., after which all partook of a nice supper. After several toasts and plenty of music by the band, three cheers were given for Mr. Baum, and the meeting broke up at a late hour. So quietly was this whole affair managed, that it was a complete surprise to nearly every one here, and will be long remembered by all who attended.

Dr. I. W. Starr is quite sick with fever, but is a little better at last accounts.

NARROW GAUGE.

Grand Steamboat Excursion.

A grand steamboat excursion from this city to Salem, under the auspices of the M. E. Sunday School, is to take place on Saturday the 15th of this month. The Steamboat, A. A. McCully, has been chartered for the occasion. She will leave here on the day named at 7 A. M.; and reach Salem at 10 A. M., start from there at 4 P. M., and reach this city in the evening at 10 o'clock. On reaching Salem, the excursionists will form a procession, and led by the band, proceed to the city park, and after partaking of refreshments, enjoy themselves as they may severally feel inclined. A responsible committee will be at the boat early on the morning of leaving, to take charge of baskets and boxes containing refreshments; and upon the arrival of the boat at Salem, the boxes and baskets will be placed on a dory and carried to the park. Fare for the round trip has been placed at fifty cents for adults, and twenty-five cents for children. Tickets will be on sale at the drug store of Dr. Plummer, R. Saltmarsh, and Messrs. Fryal & Mason; also, at the Millinery establishment of Mrs. L. J. Powell, and the store of L. E. Blain. Everybody will go on the excursion of course, as the price is made very low so that all may avail themselves of the opportunity.

Ed. REGISTER:—I see that Mr. Finlayson wants no more discussion. That suits me. He infers that it is on account of my ignorance of the Bible. Let that be as it may, I was not at a loss for testimony to present to sustain, from the Bible, my propositions. I did not have to go to newspapers and tracts to sustain myself as he did, thus violating all rules of debate. And then for him to talk about ignorance! He says he has met me twice in debate on the immortality of the soul. I have no recollection of ever meeting him but once. It may have been a visionary meeting of that inner man of his that he talks of. I don't blame him for wanting to make some one believe that there is two Finlayson's in one, for the inner may be an improvement on the outer one; it not, then his case is a hopeless one, if I am any doctor, and he says I am.

Paragons.

Dave Horlacher returned on Thursday from several weeks' sight-seeing in Washington Territory. While saying nothing to the disparagement of that country, Dave is satisfied with Linn county.

Harry Godley and family leave us to-day for Independence, Polk county, where they will reside in future. Harry has secured a splendid lay out in the tanning business in that flourishing place. Hosts of friends here wish them success and fortune in their new home.

Dr. G. W. Price returned from the Eastern States last week, and has established himself in his office in Odd Fellows' Temple, which he has refitted and made one of the handsomest dental offices in the State.

Mrs. Dave Thompson and son Ed. returned last week from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they spent the winter.

Mr. Benzell, of Yaquina Bay, the next State Senator from Depton and Polk was in the city on Monday.

A locomotive and installment of railroad iron for the Yaquina Bay railway, passed up the river in the front of the week.

The Tacoma Ledger has reached us. It is a handsome eight column paper published by Radebaugh & Co. at $3 per annum. Independent in politics. It is a live paper.

All our old friends bring us new ones, and both old and new are using that celebrated vegetable compound, Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier. Certainly a flattering testimonial as to the virtue and ameliorating qualities of this Botanical Remedy. Use it now; delay is dangerous and may prove fatal.

Slight rainfalls on Saturday, Sunday and Monday—May showers.

Don't forget the Sunday School excursion on the 15th, from this city to Salem. A splendid line of Summer hats at L. E. Blain's.

Maple sugar at Haffenden's, with a full line of fresh groceries, at lowest cash rates. Safe and profitable is the investment of a few bottles of Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier; safe, because it is a vegetable compound; profitable, because it will diminish your doctor bill.

Hon. E. L. Applegate delivered a splendid speech at the Court House Saturday night, to a large audience. The Ladies' Cornet Band furnished good music.

Dr. Ed. Clark has returned from Philadelphia, where he graduated with high honors as a surgeon dentist.

Miss Luella Barnes went to Portland on Tuesday, where she will attend the Sisters' school.

The nicest of sweet, fresh honey at Haffenden's.

See the new ads in this issue.

Fifty cents from here to Salem and return, on a steamboat, is cheaper'n anything.

High winds on Tuesday—the most changeable weather as yet.

The sociable at Mr. Raymond's will be on Friday evening, May 14th, and everybody is invited!

Those desiring tickets for the grand steamboat excursion from this city to Astoria, spoken of in this paper last week, should call at this office and secure them at once.

Mrs. L. H. Montanye, who has been very ill for two weeks past, is reported convalescing.

Conrad Meyer's little boy has been very low with intermittent fever, but is reported some better.

Mr. David Lyons has lost two children, all he had, of scarlet fever, one on Monday and the second on Wednesday, aged two and five years. He lives near Miller's station.

Mrs. Nicoloy sold out her hotel furniture, bedding, etc., on Saturday, at auction, getting very fair prices for the entire outfit.

The stiff breeze of Tuesday evening blew down several nice shade and ornamental trees.

For nice embroidery, corsets, and ladies' furnishing goods generally, go to Mrs. G. Parrish's.

The Ladies' Industrial Society meets at Mrs. G. Parrish's next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

This world without woman—lovely woman—would be like a blank sheet of paper—not even ruled.

Linn County Counsel, P. of H., will meet with Grand Prairie Grange, No. 10, on the first Saturday in June, the 5th.

Mr. A. T. Hawley, of the S. F. Bulletin, went to Eugene City yesterday. He will write up that country in good shape.

Messrs. George and John Horlacher and two sisters, started for Eastern Washington yesterday. We wish them prosperity and happiness in their new home.

Several cases of scarlet fever in the neighborhood of Miller's station.

As James Darnalls manufactures his own furniture, he saves the money, that otherwise would go to the middleman and give the benefit thereof to his patrons. Call and see his handsome furniture.

French has some new jewelry—hand-some and cheap.

Soon every idle hand will be needed in pushing work on the several railroad lines projected in the Willamette Valley, and hard times will gradually give way to peace and plenty.

Some rain and a good deal of cloudy weather.

L. E. Blain continues to receive new and handsome suits, which he dispenses rapidly, as his prices are unusually moderate for cash.

The Skagit News, published at Seattle, W. T., has been received. It is not very large, but it is bright and lively, and indicates a paying business.

For the latest style of hats and millinery at lowest rates, go to Mrs. Parrish's.

Mrs. L. J. Powell went to Portland on Wednesday.

Haffenden's won't take a back seat when it comes to selling groceries, etc., way down for cash.

In the case of Jim Turner, East Oregonian, the grand jury failed to find a true bill.

Joe J. Charlton is a man of the people; his qualifications are undoubted; his honesty and integrity are unimpeachable, and he will be the next sheriff of Linn county, called there by the voice of the people.

The canvass in Linn county is going on quietly but effectively. The vote in June will astonish the oldest inhabitant.

Harvest.

April 21st, 1880, at the residence of James T. Smith in Halsey, by Rev. T. J. Wilson, Mr. Nathaniel Roberts and Miss Lola M. Osborn—all of Halsey, Or.

Advices from western Kansas report that drought and unfavorable weather has totally destroyed the wheat crop west of Salina, and that there will be a partial failure of the crop for 100 north and south of Topeka. Farmers in the western part of the state are suffering and appealing to the executive office at Topeka for help.

The house of representatives passed a bill appropriating $50,000 for the establishment of a new military post on Munsell Shill river for the protection of the Munsell Shill and Judith basins, where there are large stock raising interests and where rich placer mines have recently been discovered.

Six children died of diphtheria in the neighborhood of Elberton recently.
