Fenriul Disaster at L. I. Sound.

The steamboats Stonington and Narrag msett collided in Long Island Sound on the night of the 11th, near the mouth of the Connecticut river, the latter vessel taking fire and sinking. There were between 500 and 600 passengers on the lost vessel, the majority of whom were rescued. The scene is described as most fearful and mrtrending. It is charged that the capin and officers of the last vessel seemed nly anxious to saye themselves, and lett e boat and passengers to look out for enselves. Both vessels belonged to the me line. The lost vessel was valued at

The lesson of the late election is that the spublicans have a large majority in the ite of Oregon, and with a thorough ganization it can always win. Let the son be heeded. Democrats are already ganizing for the November election; the Republican party be up and doing, id we shall again sweep the State in evember by an increased majority over at In June. Garfield and Arthur should rry this State in November by at lest 200 majority, and we have only to ganize thoroughly in each county to ure this majority, or even a greater. vigorous prosecution of the campaign an overwhelming victory will be ours.

What About the Bridge?

Every succeeding day shows the great necessity for a bridge across the Willamette at this city, and every day that goes by without it is a loss to the trade and Importance of our city. Something must be done soon or we will be left out in the cold. Lines of railway are stretching Dawson getting 86 majority over the high- their arms out all around us, and soon we will be bottled up, as it were; we will see Mr. Paul obtained 77 majority over the the trade that formerly fed and built on our city, going right by our doors to build up some other community. It is not well enough to say Albany is all right, you can't get the trade away from her, because such an assertion is untrue. Our merchants have already felt the effects of the Corvallis line on the opposite side of the river, and pletion of a cheap road, such as the narrow gauge will be, from Crawfordsville through Brownsville, Lebanon and Scio on to Portland, on the trade of this city. The bulk of the grain and produce of this county will find some other market than ours, and the stagnation at present felt in business circles will be as nothing to what we will then see if we do not bestir ourselves to meet the emergency before it is too late. If railroads are to be built, we should make it to their interest to center here, if possible-and nothing is impossible with an active, liberal, enterprising people. If we sit down and wait for the 'good times" to come to us, failing to offer any inducements to enterprises that require the outlay of capital and the use of brains, we shall be wofully left. "Eternal vigilance is the price" of advancement and prosperity, as well as "liberty." If we continue to hum and haw and hold back, taking a firmer grip on our pursestrings when any enterprise is offered calculated to build up our city, simply because such enterprise will draw the coin from our pockets, and may not return for a time the regular one per cent., we will soon be left so far behind in the race for wealth and power that all our little hoarded coin will be of no avail whatever in the most earnest attempts to catch up. If we wish to maintain the place we now hold as a commercial center, we must act; we must liberally ald every interprise of utility. Every avenue leading to this city as a common center must be improved, and these matters must be attended to note-t -morrow may be too late. Bridge the Willamette and railroads will come; and population will soon follow and make the rich soll opposite this city blossom like the rose-and this will be their market. Our county will fill up, and other roadsperhaps not railroads, but plank roads, macadam roads, to accommodate the farmers, avenues of trade, commerce, that can be used Winter and Summer, leading ont, like arteries, into the country wherever demanded, will be built.

Once fully awakened, our citizens will advance with the demands of the times. Let us shake off this suplneness, this lethargy, which is betogging our minds Nevada, John W. Mackey; New Hamp. and dimming our visions, and then we will realize that we have much to do to hold our own with the moving world

Farmers, Take Notice.

PORTLAND, Or., May 23, 1880. MESSRS. ROOP & SIMPSON, ALBANY. OREGON-Gents: Having noticed an advertisement gotten up by the firm of D. M. Osborne & Co., wherein they agree to furnish their old and new customers with a twine binder attachment, at a cost not exceeding twenty dollars, next year, we would say that the whole thing is gotten up as an advertising dodge to sell their parvesters and binders, which they have not been able to do with great success. We, as agents of the well known Walter A. Woods machine, do not care to humbug the farmers by agreeing to farmish a twine binder at a cost not to exceed "the small sum of twenty dollars," or at any price, but will agree to furnish one as cheap as any first-class binder can be furnished. The Walter A. Woods Mowing and Reaping Machine Company are now in the field with a successful twine binder, and have been for the past two years, but the demand has been so great in the eastern states that none could be obtained for the Pacific coast trade. The D. M. Osborne & Pacific coast trade. The D. M. Osborne & Co. twine binder attachment, as they call it, is an experiment of only a few days. Farmers, do not be humbinged into buying an Osborne harvester and wire binder, on a promise that you shall receive a twine binder attachment another year, so that you can use either wire or twine. The Deaf Hear through the Teeth. An editorial in the Western Christian Advocate of January 21, 1880, has this to say of the Dentaphone :

We receive many inquiries from ou readers in regard to the Dentaphone, a new invention, extensively advertised, as enabling the deaf to hear through their teeth. After a thorough investigation, for which ample facilities were afforded us. we have come to the conclusion that the Dentaphone is a most valuable inventions and, in fact, does what is claimed for it in enabling the deaf and partially deaf to hear sounds and conversations otherwise beyond their range. The principle on which the Dentaphone is constructed is, that a receiving disphragm or plate which is susceptible to the sound vibrations that constitute spoken language, is made to receive and communicate these vibrations to they are conveyed through the bones of the head to the auditory nerves, and se enable the person to hear without difficulty. Several of our citizens, who have been deat for years, are using the Dentaphone with most satisfactory results. Rev. D. J. Starr, pastor of the York Street Methodist Episcopal Church, of this city, visited the office of the company a few days ago, for the purpose of testing the Dentaphone in the case of his wife's mother, whose hearing is quite defective. The result was remarkably convincing. the lady being enabled to hear distinctly everything said in the room in an ordipary tone of voice. Indeed, so much was her hearing improved that Mrs. Starr remarked that a stranger who did not know the use of the Deutaphone would not suspect her of being deat.

The Dentaphone has been tested in the National Deaf Mute College at Washington City, and we have seen a private letter from one of the professors of that institution which speaks in the highest terms of the invention as a means of teaching the deaf and dumb to hear.

. . . . The question is often asked, i the Dentaphone can be used with artificial teeth. As the sounds are not conveyed by the nerves of the teeth, but are transmitted through the bony framework of the head, artificial teeth, when properly placed, conduct the sounds just as well as the natural teeth. When not in use, the Dentaphone can easily be carried in the pocket. Belleving that our readers would like to know more about this valuable invention, for their accommodation, arrangements have been made whereby the Dentaphone Company's free pamphlet, giving description and prices of the instrument. will be furnished to all who write for it to the "Advertising Department of the Methodist Book Concern," 191 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, O.

The Western Christian Advocate is the principal organ of the Methodist Church west of New York and is published by the Methodist Book Concern. Its high standing is well known, and its editorial endorsement of the Dentaphone as given above is of I self alone sufficient evidence that this remarkable invention does all that is claimed for it

A chess duel is now being longht in London between Zukertort and Rosenthal, the best chess players in Europe. The tormer won the prize medal at the Paris exhibition, while the latter came out a good second. The contest takes place three times a week at the St. George Club, and attracts a large number of experts in the game. The French are backing Rosenthal and the English and Germans put their money on Zukertort. The match is in seven games and promises to be prolonged as the special skill of Zukertort lies in saying himself from detent by converting a losing game into a draw.

They have peculiar methods of enforceing discipline in the State prison of Massachusetts. One of these is to persuade unruly convicts to come out of their cells by prodding them with red-hot pokers. All unseemly violence is thus avoided, and a malcontent seldom needs to be reasoned with in this manner more than once.

The present Khedive of Egypt needs money about as badly as the most ordinary "mud-ill of society." The easiest way for him to get it is to wink at the reopening of the slave trade which his father well-nigh suppressed. There is conter's brick block, up stairs, at large bay siderable danger that he will yield to the temptation.

The foreign trade of the country is taking long strides this year, and the result is that all the large Eastern ports are crowded with the merchant fleets of the world. One day last neek there were ly? ing in New York bay 920 vessels actively employed in trace, the number in ordina times being only 700. The majority of these craft were sailing ressels, but Eng-land was represented by forty-four large steamships, Germany by right, and France by two. Gen. Lane, who was a candidate for the State Senate in Douglas county, got badly
