Why Hancock Will Be Beaten.

1. He will be beaten because of his recognized unfitness for the position. His whole life has been given to military maters He has not had the slightest experience or training in the direction of the duties which would demand his attention as President. He is entirely unfamiliar with those great economic questions which are now pressing for solution. If placed in the White House he would be a mere figure head from sheer inability to be anything else. * * *

2. He will be beaten for the same reason that Tray came to griet—he is caught in bad company. It is not Hancock personally or Hancock solely that the people will be asked to vote for in November, but Hancock the standard bearer of the Democratic party. * * *

3. Hancock will be beaten because his opponent is infinitely better fitted for the Presidency. Hancock is known to his countrymen simply as a soldier, but Garfield is known not only as that, but as one of the foremost statesmen of the nation. * * *

4. Hancock will be beaten because his opponent, in addition to being better fitted for the place, represents the grand old Republican party. * * *

It thus appears that whether the canvass is to be pursued on the cry, "principles, not men," or the cry, "men, not principles," victory belongs to the Republican side. If the comparison be confined to men, Garfield has nothing to fear, and everything to gain. If the result turns upon principles, what chance does the Democracy stand when its services to the country are placed side by side with the services of the Republican party?—Albany Journal.

When Lincoln was nominated he received the news while sitting in the Springfield telegraph office. His first remark was. "Thers is a little woman down the street who will be interested in this. I'll go and tell her." When Garfield had been nominated and was receiving the first congratulations, he suddenly turned to a friend, as though reminded of something to be done, and said: Sherwin, won't you telegraph my wife? She ought to know of this. There was a marked similarity between the two incidents.

Gen Hancock's blue uniform cannot conceal the regiments of gray and butternut behind him. It was an old trick of the rebels during the war to dress some of their men in loyal blue with the intention of deceiving the Federal troops that they might the easier capture some strong position they desired. It did not win then, and it will not win now. Gen. Hancock was a gallant leader when he was fighting against treason, with loyal legions at his back, but he will not recognize the yell that comes from his followers now as the same old "Johnny" yell that he used to bear in his front.—Burlington Hawk-eye.

Young man don't swear. There is no occasion for swearing outside of a printing office, where it is useful in proof reading, and indispensably necessary in getting forms to press. It has been known, also, materially to assist an editor in looking over the paper after it is printed. But otherwise it is a foolish habit.

Whenever Gen. Hancock comes over to the city to buy a segar or a bottle of Vichy the Democratic press rush into print with. "The handsome Democratic candidate paid a visit to the city today, but not upon business of any importance to the nation."—New York Mail.

The Greensboro, N. C., North State has got the thing down to a dot. It says: Hancock is either a true representative of the Democratic party, or he is not. If he is, no Union-man can support him. If he is not, no Democrat ought to vote for him.

At twenty-five we kill pleasure; at thirty-five we enjoy it; at forty we husband it; at fifty we hunt after it, but at sixty we regret it.

How to Use a Grindstone.—1. Do not waste the stone by running it in water, but if you do, don't allow it to stand in water when not in use, as this will cause a soft place. 2. Wet the stone by dropping water on it from a pot suspended above the stone, and stop off the water when not in use. 3. Don't allow the stone to get out of order, but keep it perfectly round by the use of gas-pipe or a hacker. 4. Clean off all greasy tools before sharpening as grease or oil destroys the grit.

Neuralgia.—A hint to sufferers from neuralgia is given to the Louisville Medical News by one who tried, with happy effect, a very simple anæsthetic, which we always may find at hand, more conveniently than ether or chloroform. While suffering acute neuralgic pain, he began to inflate his lungs to their utmost capacity, and then to forcibly expel the air. Almost immediately the pain began to lessen, and presently so nearly ceased that the patient fell into a refreshing sleep. This simple remedy is easly tried, and will at least be found soothing.

To Stop Bleeding.—Asa Kemper, of Ross county, Ohio, says that bleeding from a wound on man or beast may be stopped by a mixture of wheat flour and common salt, in equal parts, bound on with white cloth. If the bleeding be profuse, use a large quantity, say from one to three pints. It may be left for hours or even days, if necessary. In this manner he saved the life of a horse which was bleeding from a wounded artery; the bleeding ceased in five minutes after the application. It was left on three days, when it worked loose, and was easily removed from the wound, which very soon healed.

A Little Red School House.—There is a little old plain wooden school house, painted red, and setting back from the county road, in the Western Reserve, Ohio, which must possess the magic power of conferring greatness. That little school house is shaded in front by a couple of big buckeye trees, and back of it a sloping playground runs down to a creek whose banks are lined with hickory trees. The school house has but one room, and in the corner of that room hang the teacher's lunch basket, and hats and shawls. A modest little affair is that school house, and yet it has given to this country Elisha Whittlesey, Joshua R. Giddings, Benjamin F. Wade and James A. Garfield.—S. F. Stock Reports.

Commodore Nutt, the dwarf, is about to open a saloon in New York. It would be a terrible temperance lecture if while drawing beer he should fall into the glass and be drowned.

"Brother," said the dean of Eastminster to the dean of Westminster. "What does the prayer-book mean by 'whirled without end?" "Eternally gyrated, I suppose," was the response

"Cæsar," said a good-natured gentleman to his colored man, "I did not know till to-day that you had been whipped last week." "Didn't you, Masse?" replied Cæsar, "I knowed it at the time."

It was Pellham who said it was eminently respectable to be arrested for debt, because it shows that you once had credit.

The Omaha Herald says that a drink of Council Bluff's whisky will make a man go off to some secluded spot and rob himself.

"How does painting agree with my daughter?" asked an anxious parent. "It makes her too red in the face," replied the teacher.

Deadwood obituaries state that "the deceased was of an unobtrusive nature," when he didn't poke into more than three fights a week.

A Michigan, widow who jumped off a load of hay and knocked down a tramp who made fun of her sunbonnet, had three offers of marriage within a week.

A drunken man at Fort Worth, Texas, entered the circus and patted the big lion on the head. The arm he has left will do to turn the organ.

A rumor was current at Washington on the 24th that an insurrection has broken out in Mexico in connection with the recent election. Assistant Secretary of State Hay said that he had heard nothing of it.

The Government of Capetown telegraphed to London that the natives in one district of Basutland are quarreling with each other. No Europeans have interfered and no troops have been ordered to enter Basutland.

Uncle Dan. Waldo, who has been suffering some time with cancer, is reported as much worse lately, rarely leaving his house.

The flouring mills at Drain's have shut down for repairs. They will be ready for operation for the new crop.

If the census of St. Louis be taken over again the young men about town who can see double will be employed to take it.

A lady of Vallejo painted a plate of cakes so naturally on the tablecloth that a visitor poured molasses over it.

Each one of the four Presidential candidates is over six feet high and weighs over 180 pounds, and each man is in the best of health.

It is strange how much better a photographer can take a picture to hang in a show case than he can for a customer.

Grandmamma—Now, Nellie, spell ice. Nellie—I-c-e. Grandmamma—Do you know what ice is? Nellie—Yes, grandmamma, it's water fast asleep.

It is cheering to learn that young men who ride the bicycle become permanently round shouldered, and walk with bent knees and and a crab-like movement.

The haying season is upon us, when the astute farmer gets his work done for nothing by the city fellows, who think country life is so delightful, you know.

Love is a nightmare with one foot,
Two children with one bun,
Two turnips with a single root,
Two cabbage heads as one.

It must have been an exceptionally dull boy who was persuaded to work a wheelbarrow under the impression, as stated by his father, that it was a new kind of bicycle.

When you call a Connecticut man a liar he may hit you on the nose or he may wait and poison your cow. It is this uncertainty which makes the Nutmegers civil to each other.

"I must do more for my mother," says a sentimental writer. Yes, sonny, so you must. You must get right away from home and support yourself. You can do more for your mother in that way than in any other.

A lawyer once rushed up to Jerrold in the street and said, with a flushed face: "Mr. Jerrold, I've just met a scoundrelly barrister" Jerrold looked at him with a bland smile and simply answered: "What a coincidence!"

Play-actors are a very popular class in Japan. When it was reported that Ichikawa Udaji had cut his hair short, a person of Kokura who is one of his admirers presented him with a suit of clothes in foreign style, made of Sukiyaori, which costs about yen 3 50 per foot, the buttons being said to be made of pure gold.

There had been a heavy thunderstorm, and the parched earth and wilted vegetation drank in the refreshing showers. "I should think the plants would whisper to each other how delicious it was," he exclaimed, enthusiastically. "Yes," she said, "all but the onions; they wouldn't be likely to whisper, with such a breath."

"Many pupils" says Wolfsohme "are as good piano-teachers as their masters. Many can read music as well. What American amateurs need is the innate idea of the composer, who should be first, while the player is hardly visible as second." This is undoubtedly true. What the public needs, however, is a large brick building where all the piano-players can be locked up.

Reports from Los Vegas report heavy rains through the northeast portion of New Mexico. There has been a drough in New Mexico and a rain will greatly benefit growing crops and insure plenty of grass for stock.

Pacific Slopers.

Catfish eight inches long have been caught in Klamath lake lately.

Hon. J. C. Drain is the boss wool buyer of Drain's station, having paid 30c per pound and shipped over 30,000 pounds.

Fendel Sutherlin has rented his farm near Roseburg to Hon. Jas. Chenoweth for five years for a rental of $10,300 for the period named.

One hundred and thirteen marriage licenses were issued from the county clerk's office in Douglas county from May 6, 1878, to July 14, 1880.

Mrs. Susanna Briggs, relict of Rev. Samuel Briggs and a pioneer of Douglas county, died on the 28th ult., near Canyonville. She went to that county in 1851, and endured the dangers and hardships incident to making a new home in a strange and then uncivilized land. She was 75 years old at the time of her death.

The overland stage line from the Dalles to Baker City, has reduced the fare to Canyon City from $25 to $20, and has made a like reduction to Baker City.

The steamer John Gates is now the only boat running through to Lewiston. As soon as the water recedes enough to admit of the Spokan's being hauled out upon the Celilo ways, she will be replanked and fitted for Snake river trade in low water. The Almota is running up to Tukanon and carrying way freight to relieve the Gates.

Mrs. Daniel Gates, a lady of 80 years, living on Spencer creek about 15 miles from Eugene, was severely burned while engaged in roasting coffee on Sunday of last week. The poor woman was partially blind and allowing the coffee to get too hot opened the oven door, when the flames rushed out, igniting her clothing. She lingered in intense agony until the next evening, when she died from the injuries received.

Apple tree lice have destroyed the apple crop between Foster's in Clackamas county and Pudding river. Farmers who in former years have raised as high as four thousand bushels, will not have enough this year for their own use.

Infallible Indian Remedies.

A Sure Shot For FEVER & AGUE.

DURING A LONG RESIDENCE AMONG the Indian tribes of the coast and the interior, I have had the good fortune to discover, from the "Medicine" men of the several tribes, and from other sources, a number of remedies for diseases incident to this country, consisting of roots, herbs and bark, and having been solicited by many people of this valley, who have tried and proved the efficacy of them in disease, to procure and offer the same for sale, I take this means of announcing to all that, during the past season, I have made an extended tour through the mountains and valleys, and have secured certain of these remedies which are a sure cure for Fever and Ague.

Those suffering from Ague who desire to be cured, can leave orders at Mr. Strong's store on First street, where I will furnish the remedies, warranting a radical cure or I will demand no pay.

Summons.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Linn.

Lillie J. Hasbrouck, plaintiff, vs.
M. L. Hasbrouck, G. C. Cooley and J. H. Washburn, partners under the firm name and style of Cooley & Washburn, and Albert Butts, defendants.

To M. L. Hasbrouck, one of the defendants above named:

In the name of the State of Oregon—You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled action on or before the fourth Monday of October next, it being the 25th day of October, 1880,

and the first day of the next regular term of said Court, and if you fail so to answer, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded therein, to-wit: the dissolution of the bonds of matrimony subsisting between plaintiff and yourself, for the care custody and control of the minor child, Walter J. Hasbrouck, that the interest of all parties in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:

Beginning at the southeast corner of the Samuel Johnson donation land claim, being claim Nos. 52 and 38, and notification No. 2071, running thence west 147 rods, thence north 90 rods, thence east 145 rods, thence south 90 rods to the beginning, containing 80 acres, and lying and being in Linn county, Oregon, be ascertained and determined, and if necessary, that the same be sold by decree of said Court, and such portions of the proceeds thereof be decreed to the plaintiff as she may in equity and justice be entitled to for maintaining and carrying on this suit, for counsel fees and for the future maintenance and support of plaintiff and her child, or that the undivided one-third thereof, free from encumbrance, be set apart and confirmed to her in her individual right, and that any portion of the personal property that may be on hands at the final hearing, be decreed to plaintiff or be sold for the benefit of plaintiff and child, and for the costs and disbursements of the suit to be taxed.

This summons is published by order of the Hon. R. P. Boise, Judge of said Court, made at Chambers in the city of Salem, Oregon, on the 27th day of July, 1880.

Messrs. EMERSON, FISHER & Co.:

I have used one of your Top Buggies three years, and three of them two years in my livery stable, and they have given me perfect satisfaction and are in constant use. OSCAR SMALLEY.

NEWBERRY, S. C., July 17, 1878.

Messrs. COPPOCK & JOHNS &c:

Dear Sirs—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher Buggy I bought from you as roughly, I suppose, as any one could. It is a fast horse, drove him at full speed, sometimes with two ladies and myself in the buggy, and it is to-day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do.

A. M. TRAGUE, Farmer.

The favorable reputation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by Liverymen, Physicians, and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increased demand from those localities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of their mammoth establishment have been extended, enabling them now to turn out in good style.
