King of the Blood
Cures all Scrofulous affections and disorders resulting from impurity of the blood. It is needless to specify all, as the sufferer can usually perceive their cause; but Sole, Rheum, Pimples, Ulcers, Tumors, Sores, Scaldings, &c. are the most common, as well as many other affections of the Heart, Liver and Stomach.

SCROFULA.
Wonderful Cure of Blindness.

D. HANSON, Son & Co.: For the benefit of all troubled with Scrofula or Impure Blood in their systems, I hereby recommend King of the Blood. I have been troubled with Scrofula for the past ten years, which so affected my eyes that I was completely blind for six months. I was recommended to try King of the Blood, which has proved a great blessing to me, as it has completely cured me, and I cheerfully recommend it to all troubled as I have been.

Mrs. S. WETHERLOW, Gardiner, N. Y.

will be paid to any Public Hospital to be mutually agreed upon, for every certificate of this medicine published by us which is not genuine.

Its Ingredients.

Republican Club Organized.

The Republicans of this city met at the Opera House on Saturday evening last pursuant to adjournment.
After reading and approving the minutes of last meeting, the report of the committee on Permanent Organization was read and adopted, organizing the Club as follows:
President—W. O. Palmer.
Vice Presidents—J. C. Powell, D. G. Clark, Thomas Monteith, C. E. Wolverton and A. B. McCallum.
Secretary—W. S. Peters.
Assistant Secretary—John Hanson.
Treasurer—E. D. Haven.
The committee also recommended the appointment of an Executive Committee, to consist of the President, Secretary, and five members of the Club, and a Committee on Music, to consist of three members.
On motion, the President appointed a committee of three on Constitution, consisting of Messrs. Walter Ketchum, P. H. Raymond and Mr. Roberts, who reported a Constitution which, after some debate, was adopted.
The President appointed the following gentlemen as the committee on Music: Messrs. Charles Haffenden, P. H. Raymond and Geo. W. Hill.
On motion, the following gentlemen were appointed a Finance Committee: S. E. Young, Jas. W. Foster, Jr., Geo. W. Gray, N. Baum and Frank Wood.
Messrs. Walter Ketchum, J. H. Foster, S. Froman, C. E. Wolverton and E. F. Sox were appointed members of the Executive Committee.
On motion of Judge Powell, the Club unanimously selected the Court House as the place for holding its meetings.
On motion, it was ordered that the Club hold its meetings every two weeks, on Wednesday evening.
The following resolution was read and unanimously adopted:
Resolved—That a vote of thanks be and hereby is extended to the Mechanics' Brass Band for their martial music so kindly furnished us during the session of the Club, which we trust has started the Republican waves to roll, and that they may not stop until Gen. Garfield takes his seat in the White House at Washington.
The Club adjourned to meet at the Court House next Wednesday evening, September 22d.

As we Expected.

Messrs. Mont. Monteith and J. B. Scott returned from a short hunt in the mountains, the first of the week, loaded down with venison. They killed twenty-one deer. Mont. Killing eleven and Scott ten. They are the boss hunters, and don't you forget it. We are indebted to Mont. for a fine lam, and we are living mighty high this week.

Larceny.

Frank Conger was arrested for larceny committed Monday night at the Bevere House, and brought before Recorder Halter on Tuesday. After due examination into the facts presented, the Recorder held Conger in $400 to answer. The ball not being presented, Conger was incarcerated in the brick jail.

Fire!

On Monday the dry grass around the Albany Collegiate Institute caught fire in some manner, and created some alarm for a while. It made smoke enough for a young furnace. No material damage was done.

Hon. J. H. Mitchell at Court House Wednesday night. Let every Republican attend.

Handsome Places.

Less than a mile south of the city are several neat suburban residences, that seem to be built with special reference to the comfort of their owners and families. The grounds surrounding them are tastefully arranged, and filled not only with flowers and shrubbery to attract the eye, but fruit trees mingle their fragrance with the flowering shrub and ornamental shade trees. As you drive southward from the city you gradually ascend until reaching a point less than a mile from the Court House, you are many feet above the city, and can actually "look down" upon its spires, its stately buildings, its dusty streets and long miles of wooden sidewalks. Among the several farms that dot the prairie, our old friend Mr. Mill. Hale owns one of the best kept and most productive. His neat and comfortable dwelling stands out boldly in the foreground, and is enveloped by flowers, shade, ornamental fruit and nut bearing trees, among the latter some noble white and black walnuts, among the finest and hand-somest appearing trees that adorn our Eastern homes. Mr. Hale has a large and well cultivated garden south of the residence, his watermelons and cantelopes being especially nice, as we know for a fact. We noticed some noble animals of the horse kind, two to five year olds, all of them, to use a common expression, as "fat as butter;" and what was more peculiar about all of Mr. Hale's stock, all seemed to be pets. He told us "breaks" his horses himself, and in training them to ride, uses neither bridle or saddle. The law of kindness, in his experience, is better and cheaper in training domestic animals than mere brute force. Mr. Hale's is a happy household, and we here return thanks for kind hospitality extended to us on a recent visit.

Immediately south of Mr. Hale's residence and garden, is the pasture; and here we noticed something that struck us as remarkable: The pasture is a level piece of ground of some acres, and scattered here and there over it are several huge stones of different varieties, varying in size from a wash-tub to almost a hoghead. The query was, where did those rocks come from? These are isolated rocks, there being no others in the vicinity that we could see in the prairie. Mr. Hale's theory was, that the Willamette valley in the remote ages was an arm of the mighty ocean; that vast accumulations of ice, formed in the frozen North, had by some force broken loose from the land, taking with them portions of the rock and earth upon which they were formed, and as icebergs, they had been carried by wind and waves and currents into this arm of the ocean, and gradually breaking up and melting, had left these clinging rocks as mementoes of their presence. However they may have gained their present residence, they at least give room for much speculation for the curious thinker.

South and east of Mr. Hale's is the farm-home of Mr. Andrew Hale, one of the best tilled market-gardens in the prairie. As Mr. Hale did not take charge of the place until late in the spring, the crop was not as full and multitudinous as he intended, but the yield of the several varieties of "garden truck" would astonish some of the Yanks. In the way of water-melons he has no less than three patches, hundreds and hundreds in each—enough to supply the whole valley, apparently, of large, red-colored, luscious melons, that make one's mouth water to look at. He is building a fine addition to his residence, and when finished he will have more room than many of the hotels in Oregon. The cozy residence is on the apex of the high ridge running across the prairie, and gives a fine view of Albany and the heights beyond. The Santiam Canal that runs but a short distance south of his place, affords a splendid opportunity for irrigation, and will enable him to raise the best of vegetables, and especially small fruits. In the driest season. The Canal is a "big thing" indeed to those owning land along its borders. Mr. Hale is a genial, well informed gentleman, and therefore has been and will continue to be successful in his chosen pursuit. We shall remember our visit to his pleasant place, a few days "later" with pleasure.

Issue.

Messrs. Ross Humphrey and Ike Banyly last Friday brought to this city Miss Rosanna Williams, aged 26, from Hamilton creek beyond Lebanon, a large and powerful young woman, who had been exhibiting symptoms of insanity for some time. She was adjudged insane on Saturday, and taken to East Portland. It is stated that "when turned over to the deputy sheriff, she turned him out and locked the door of the office on him, and he had to climb in at the window, secure aid and put on the bracers to enable him to manage her at all.

New Styles.

Mrs. Powell received new goods in the front of the week—very fashionable and late, which the ladies want to see. She will receive her large invoice of full millinery, bonnets, etc., in about ten days, and will hold her grand opening on Friday, October 1st.

Medical Lake.

Much is being said in the papers just now about Medical Lake in Washington Territory, which seems to be a sort of modern Bethesda, to which the lame, the halt, and the blind move, hoping to get relief. The waters of this lake, however, cannot begin to cure backache and a'l diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs as does the Oregon Kidney Tea. Sold everywhere.

Children's Monthly Service.

Next Sunday at 11 A. M. will be held the children's monthly service, at the Evangelical Church. A cordial invitation to all children. Preaching at 7:30 P. M. by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Kantner.

Mighty Hunters.

George Humphrey is a mighty hunter—nobody will dispute this statement. George and Judge Strahn returned from a bear and deer hunt in the mountains a few days since. George says they would not have returned so soon if they could have found enough level ground out there for the Judge to lay down on with any comfort. Be this as it may, George claims to have killed two deer and a bear; but he did not kill the bear in the orthodox manner, and as it may be of interest to others, we give his version of the way it was done—and George is a reliable man. He says: The bear was about 200 yards away, when I shot and missed him; then the bear turned and came at me, with mouth open. I stood still until the bear came up to within reaching distance, when I rammed my right hand and arm into his mouth and down his throat, caught hold of his tail, and pulling back turned the bear inside out and then killed him. He says Bill Brown is out there, and Bill is the boss bear hunter. As Bill and his partner, who live in a little cabin in the mountains, were getting their meal one day, he heard a noise, and looking out of the cabin door, described a huge bear quietly eating a deer he had recently killed and left lying on a table outside. Bill didn't stop to take down his massive needle bear gun, but seized his pard's rifle and fired. This only infuriated his bearship, and he went for Bill, who hustled into the cabin; but Bruin was so close he didn't take time to shut the door, but skinned right up the side of the cabin, while his partner ran up his back, both arriving at the roof at one and the same time, and tearing a hole in the roof, both were soon safe on the comb. The bear, meantime, smelling the savory meat, etc., cooking on the fire for their intended meal, waltzed in and commenced getting away with the grub. This enraged Bill, and noting the position where his trusty needle-gun hung on the wall, he tore another hole in the roof over it, reached in, obtained it and, firing, killed the bear and saved a portion of his supper. Bears and such have no business fooling around in the vicinity of our hunters.

Paragranites.

Mrs. Joseph Webber has returned from Corvallis.
Mrs. Dr. Freeland has gone to Southern Oregon, on a short visit.
The city is full of grass widowers—and they look sorrowful enough.
At Mr. Andrew Hale's we saw growing the hullless oat, just the Joker for making oatmeal.
It is the intention of the narrow gauge to build three warehouses in Albany prairie this season.
The Celebrated Standard White Shirts, from $1 up, at Blain's.
The contract for building the narrow gauge railroad bridge across the Santiam calls for its completion on the 5th of next month.
It is contemplated to use the room on the west side of the Court House, between the Clerk and Sheriff's offices, for the new vault—to be fire-proof—in which to keep the papers and county records.
New millinery at Mrs. Powell's—too handsome for anything.
It is understood that the Farmers' Company has let out one hundred and fifty thousand sacks, and hundreds, if not thousands, of them have been filled twice.
There has been the greatest difficulty experienced in getting sacks fast enough to supply the demand of our farmers, in which to bring their wheat to the warehouses.
The Oregon Legislature convened on Monday. All of Linn county's delegates were on hand.
Overcoats and ulsters, for the largest men and smallest boys, at Blain's.
The surprise party at Mr. Flindt's Saturday night was largely attended by the ladies, among whom Mr. F. is a great favorite.
Owing to the liberality of Messrs. Scott and Monteith, a large number of our people lived luxuriously on venison in the front of the week.
The display of clothing at I. E. Blain's is the largest ever made in his place, and the selection and variety is unusually attractive.
The Governor's message covers nearly twelve columns, set in Brevier type, and is a very exhaustive document.
The glove-fitting patterns can be obtained at Mrs. Powell's.
John Mendenhall and wife were in the city on Tuesday, on their way home to Portland, from the mountains. Mr. Mendenhall, Ike Conn and Mr. Riley killed seventeen deer, and Mr. M. killed one bear during their three weeks' hunt.
The Garfield Club organized with one hundred and fifty-two members.
No money in the county treasury at present.
Suits for men, youths' and boys, and all prices, at L. E. Blain's.
The docket for the October term of the Circuit Court promises to be allm.
Harvest is pretty generally finished. Another week will probably make a clean finish.
Mr. William Gird come down from Long Tom on Tuesday, and gave us a call. Mr. Gird has one of the best farms in that rich district, and had just finished harvesting four thousand three hundred bushels of wheat, off of about one hundred and fifty acres, stored at Well's warehouse on Long Tom.
Capt. Shields has had mechanics employed for some weeks in remodeling his dwelling on the corner of Baker and Fourth streets. G. W. Young has bossed the carpenter work, and when finished it will be one of the most convenient and handsome residences in that part of the city.
Our public schools are largely attended and the Directors have secured a splendid corps of teachers.
Wednesday night was the warmest night we have had for some time—it was warm clear through.

See notice of appointment of Peter Hume, administrator of estate of O. A. Williams. All persons interested in said estate will please take notice.

Large lines of woolen and cotton hosiery, silk and linen handkerchiefs, collars and cuffs, and all the little fancy articles that go to complete a gentleman's toilet, at Blain's.
Mr. Penn, of Corvallis, is at present engaged in helping Mr. John Briggs place the tin roof on Senda's & Sternberg's new brick.
Mr. Had. M. Crane, Assistant Secretary of the Portland Transfer Co., was in the city on Tuesday. He struck out for Roseburg on Wednesday.
The sociable at the residence of Mr. G. Parrish, on Wednesday evening, was a brilliant success. A large number were present, and all enjoyed themselves to the very top round.
Hats, hats, hats, enough for all the men and boys in Linn county, and all prices from the cheapest to the best at L. E. Blain's.
State Senator Wid Bilyen came home the first of the week and remained a day or two, being detained by sickness.
Billy Morgan dropped the agricultural implements and came into the city on Tuesday, and has gone to sticking type.
Thursday—he proposes after several years rest to go to the case again.
The narrow gauge depot building at Selo is thirty feet wide by ninety in length.
The narrow gauge will have at least three depots in the prairie, with as many grain warehouses.
L. E. Blain has the largest stock of gentlemen's furnishing goods ever brought to Albany, and no use in talking, he can and does sell them cheaper than any other. He is perfectly willing for you to compare prices.
It is announced that the narrow gauge will be continued on across the hills to Eastern connections. There is an immense amount of do in these Scotchmen, once get them started. They are backed by the necessary coin.
Mr. H. B. Kinston, of Halsey, late with Thompson & Co., has embarked in the general merchandise business in that town on his own account. On Wednesday he purchased a large stock of stationery and notions at Plummer's.
L. E. Blain is receiving, and has on the way, an immense assortment of men's and boys' boots and shoes. He will hereafter make a specialty of that line of goods.
Dr. Boughton talks of leaving us soon, to take up his residence in Portland. This will be sad news to the Doctor's many warm friends.
Crill Burkhardt who has been very sick for two weeks past with erysipelas, was reported better yesterday.
The threatening look overhead yesterday sent wheat in with a rush, and all day long the streets about the mills and warehouses were crowded with teams loaded with wheat.
The children are delighted and the parents pleased with the quality and prices of school supplies purchased at Plummer's.
We hear of one choice lot of wheat selling at 75c a bushel.
Several full lines of all-wool underwear, in red, white and blue; also full lines of Canton flannel and merino goods, in both plain white and fancy figured—all to be sold very low, at Blain's.
Full assortment of California goods at French's.
Rev. Mr. Stevens returned to this city in the front of the week, with health fully recovered by his residence at Yaguna Bay. He will reside either here or at Corvallis. His little daughter has also greatly improved in health, and hopes are now entertained of her entire recovery.
Mr. Propst and family and Dr. Cole and family, started for Yaguna Bay yesterday.
We are informed by Rev. Mr. Stevens that the new channel discovered at the Bay by the U. S. engineers gives 14 1/2 feet at low tide, instead of 17 feet as we got it last week.
Spectacles at French's of all kinds.
Six far millers are offering 66 1/2 cents per bushel for wheat, which is about five cents above Portland quotations.
Gus. Wheeler, Assistant State Treasurer, was in the city yesterday.
The mills and warehouses are paying 70c per bushel for wheat, which includes the storage. In other words, they pay 66 1/2c cash, balance in bran and shorts.
We are glad to learn that Councilman Rice is convalescing and we hope to see his pleasant face upon our streets at an early day.
