tumnituous applause of the vast audience assembled in the Court House. Mr. George's ability on the rostrum is acknowledged by all, and he never fails to make an excellent speech, but on Monday night he excelled himself, making one of the best speeches, for its length, made in the canvass. It was a speech in perfect barmony and keeping with the occasion, and called out round after round of applause. At the conclusion of Mr. George's speech, the torches were re-lighted, and an immense procession proceeded to 'promenade" the city. We don't know how many were in line; we only know that the procession wasseveral blocks in length. and would have been as long again had the torches held out.

Our Democratic brethren had also advertised speaking and torchlight, Col. Efflager, of Portland, having been secured as the speaker. The torchlight procession Was very fair, some Democrats claiming that there were two hundred torches in line. They had secured the Corvallis Band, and that band played 'Marching through Georgia" with the spirit and understanding-it is a good

As to the speech of Col. Effinger, deivered at the Opera House, we can not peak, as we did not hear it and have seen to one who could give us even an idea of its excellence or poverty. But the Col. has the reputation of being a good speaker, and we are willing to give him credit for making one of the best efforts of his life, surpassing it possible all the other lights of the Democracy that had preceded him during the capyass. At least we are satisfied with the tremendous effect in had upon his hearers, as this precinci, the very next day, on a total vote nearly two hundred arger than that of June, showed a gain of eleven Republican votes over the vote of June. We are sorry the Col. could not have visited the State more generally during the canvass. During the speaking at the Court House, the Democratic torchlight procession, as it marched down Broadalbin street, balted on the east side of the Court House and gave a few velis for Huncock. Some of Oregon vs Frank R. Compton-seducthe Democrats prenounced this not in good taste. Well, as the Republicans in the Court House were so full of music and happiness that it broke out all over every minute almost in cheers and congratula tions, the little racket made by the Demoerats was not heard, and therefore was Oregon vs John F. Beard-seiling liquor not a source of annoyance. If the intention was to annoy the Republicans, it was an utter failure, and that ends it so for as Republicans are concerned.

The whoop up at the Opera House emed to be of the most Interesting character, and was adjourned early to give the Democrats a chance to see the grand success of the evening offered by the Republicans at the Court House.
