

Journal of the Republican Party.

epublican party was not op- the "solid South" in itself, as and is opposed to the man- which that solidly was accom- and maintained. The Repub- party did not complain because stucky and Missouri were almost id for the Democracy. Not at all. "ben any State, North or South, goes gaint the Republican party, on a air vote—in other words, when fraud, force, intimidation, tissue ballots and the destruction of the ballots placed in the box by electors, are the exception and not the rule, to obtain Democratic majorities, little or no complaint is made by the Republican party. But when States, which have cast heavy Republican majorities year after year, are forced into the Democratic ranks because Republicans dare not hold political meetings, and when, in the face of threats from the bull-dozers, they exercise the right of freemen and vote, their ballots are not fairly counted, the case is entirely different. The large Republican majorities of a few years since in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina, under Democratic "tactics," have not only entirely disappeared, but vast Democratic majorities now appear in their stead; and so far from the manner of securing this change in the political status of these States being a secret, the Democrats boast of the "ways and methods" by which the change was effected, and declared during the canvass that these Democratic majorities would be maintained in the future until the negro was entirely eliminated as a factor in politics.

If the South was solidly Democratic by fair and honorable means, the Republican party would make no complaint—it would have no right to make any. The fact that the solid South has been made so by fraud, violence, force and crime, is the ground upon which the Republican party makes its complaint, and will continue to cry out until the cause is removed. Local divisions among Democrats in sections of the South have enabled the Republicans to secure a few Congressmen, but no electoral vote has been permitted for Garfield, no matter what the count. If the people of the South have courage and honor enough to kick aside the rascals that have inaugurated and carried the measures by which the Republicans of the solid South were defrauded of the electoral franchise, and all men are allowed to vote as they please, and have their ballots counted as they voted, then there will be heard no more protests from the Republican party. Let the freedom of the ballot be maintained and the Republican party is satisfied.

New Issues.

The Chinese question and the green-back craze will now drop out of American politics, and will scarcely be heard of again. The vote of the 21 of November settled the greenback matter to the entire satisfaction of the people, and the Commission now in session at Peking, China, will doubtless come to an agreement that will settle forever and take the Chinaman entirely out of all future political complications. The "solid South" issue will follow in the same train, for fifty millions of people the most intelligent and enterprising the world ever saw, "will not accept mutual hate as a regular diet," when there is such vast quantities of so much better quality to feed upon. The last national election has taught the South a lesson it will not be slow to learn and profit from. It cannot but see that it has irrevocably lost its former great Northern allies, New York, Indiana and Connecticut, and that its frontier lines are weak and wavering. It is possible that the South will take the advice of some of its own leading men, who now insist upon dropping out all old fogies and malcontents of the Jeff Davis, Bob Toombs and Wade Hampton type, as they are rapidly passing away from the sight of living things, take up new men who are now entering upon the active stage of life, bringing with them common sense and something like a conception and understanding of business principles. St. Louis is now a Republican city, and Louisville, Memphis and Richmond soon will be, or else have the mortification of seeing their trade and business taken away by more enterprising and public spirited towns. The manufacturing interests of this grand country have settled the tariff question, and in the by and by, when Northern capital, brains and intelligence can go into Virginia, Georgia and other Southern States, without fear of molestation, the demands of the Southern cotton factories will be in unison with the North and West for protection.

Among the most prominent of the new political issues soon to come to the front and crowd out slavery and States rights, may be mentioned the Mormon problem, which must be met and settled. The Isthmus Canal question, incidentally involving a footing for Americans and American institutions in Central America, must be duly considered. The question of what we can do for or with Mexico, which stands in the way of American progress southward, will demand attention at the hands of our statesmen. Then one source of great agitation and perplexity will be the proposals for dividing old States and the admission of new ones into the grand old Union. Western Pennsylvania demands to be separated from Eastern Pennsylvania; Texas will soon have at El Paso the nucleus of a new State capital, and by the terms of her admission can claim the right to be divided up into new States. These and other issues will be settled on strictly business principles, involving the interests of labor, capital, revenue, expenditure and trade. We believe that abstract politics and purely visionary agitations will have no place in future discussions. With the incoming of President Garfield new books will be opened, old issues and animosities will die out, and our grand country enter upon a new era of growth, prosperity and power.

The attempt by a lot of crazy idiots and scoundrels to tamper with the vote of New York State will prove abortive and will only afford a chance for a few idiotic editors of the Philp kind to cry fraud and continue their lying for a few days longer. General Hancock with the respectable men in the Democratic party, announce that they will have nothing whatever to do with such idiotic attempts; and they say further that Gen. Garfield is elected fairly and honestly, and will be duly inaugurated President on the 4th of March next. It looks a little as though some of the fools wanted to stretch hemp, and they will be duly gratified if they continue their uniaulawful acts much longer. The people will not stand much more of this fooliness.

In Thursday's Oregonian Wallace Nash, Esq. of Corvallis, answers the assault of "Examiner" on the interests of the Central Willamette Valley. It is a stinger, and Mr. Nash, in a gentlemanly manner, skins "Examiner" and hangs his hide on the palings. The people of this valley have a long score to settle with parties of the "Examiner" stripe, who have exerted themselves to the utmost in past years to defeat all enterprises calculated to give us a harbor at Yaquina Bay, and cheap and rapid transportation facilities for our products, and we believe the day is not far distant when they will be enabled to pay up in full.

Since the announcement made by General Hancock, that Gen. Garfield has been duly elected, and honestly as he believes, and that he has no sympathy with the blackguards who were guilty of procuring the forgery of the Chinese letter and the other villainies of the Democratic campaign, and that if necessary will aid in placing Garfield in the seat he has been legally and lawfully elected to fill, we are beginning to think Hancock is not a Democrat at heart—at least not a Philp Democrat.

The Chinese letter, a forgery paid for by the Democratic National Committee; the perjury of Morey and Lindsay, taught, procured and paid for by this same committee! These are the proven rascalities of the Barnum committee. After such black and contemptible villainy, can any honest man remain in a party that is managed by such villainy? Political history furnishes us with nothing so criminally degrading as the acts of this Barnum committee. Even a life in the penitentiary would be much too lenient for the scoundrels.

The North contributes 82.88 per cent. of the total receipts of the postal department, and the South 17.12 per cent. The service of the South costs nearly 50 per cent. of the whole amount expended, and since the Brigadiers have had control of Congress they have gradually swelled the expense by adding Star routes in the Southwest.

"Is swinging healthy?" asks a young lady. It is, under some circumstances. But if the gate-hinge breaks, the pastime is not only unhealthy but dangerous. We are always glad to extend to the young and inexperienced the knowledge attained by years of experience.

We intended to give a tabulated statement of the vote of Linu county at the election on the 21st inst., in this issue, but unfortunately are compelled to defer it until next week. It is valuable except for future reference.

Editorial Notes.

Garfield's majority in Indiana is 6,320, about 400 less than Porter's in October. Those fraudulent negroes, no doubt.

John Sherman is a candidate for the Ohio Senatorship.

The alumni of Williams College have tendered Gen. Garfield a dinner in honor of his election to the Presidency, at any time he may elect.

Democracy seems to be on the wane everywhere. Four years ago Virginia was carried by the Democracy by 50,000—on the 21st inst. the State barely gave 10,000 Democratic majority. Influential Democratic papers advise the abandonment of the party organization. Vale, Democratic praty.

The quarrel among the Democratic leaders in New York seems to gather force since the election, and may end in a general smash.

A telegram stating that Johnson, a colored barber, had been elected to Congress from the 1st Arkansas district by 1,000 majority over Poindexter, Democrat, Inter-Ocean's special from Little Rock, says there is not much probability of Arkansas Congressional districts going Republican. Certainly not; at least as long as the elections in the South are in the hands of the bragadurs.

The prohibition amendment to the constitution of Kansas has about 10,000 majority.

John Kelly, having become alarmed at the charge that he is endeavoring to keep the Presidential question open, telegraphs a denial of the charge.

The Madison, Wisconsin, Democrat, a strong Hancock journal, since the election comes out in an editorial arguing for the disbanding of the Democratic party. It says: "The Democracy has elected only 35 out of 180 Congressmen in the North, and only carry New Jersey for Hancock by 1500 majority and Nevada by 300, and that out of 10 Northern States they have not elected a single representative. The North is solidly Republican and the South Democratic, and the Northern Democracy has performed its duty to the country and has nothing more to offer, no other party duty to perform.

The cheekiest check is exhibited by Hancock leaders in New York in charging fraud upon the part of Republicans in New York. A party that had a Boss Tweed—a party that has carried New York city elections by fraud and corruption for years—attempt to make fraud stick at the door of the Republican party in the rural districts of New York, is an evidence of such total depravity as we never expected to see even at the hands of the brazen faced leaders of the New York Democracy.

Brents is re-elected Delegate to Congress from Washington Territory.

Small pox is troubling San Francisco, and Virginia City, Nevada.

It is believed that the improvement on Tillamook rock will be completed so that the light may be used this winter.

The wife of Gen. J. H. Turner, of Pendleton, died on the 5th inst., aged 44 years.

Edward Murphy, for the murder of F. D. Fremont, near Jefferson last spring, was tried at Pendleton a few days ago, and found guilty in the first degree. The proof was plain and pointed, the only defense set up for the prisoner being that he was insane from liquor at the time, and consequently incapable of malice or premeditation. The jury deliberated only about an hour.

The Democratic cry of great frauds in New York, seems to have some force in it as the Democratic majority in New York city is still enormous, amounting to 42,000. Such an immense majority is beyond all reason, and no sensible man will claim that it is an honest one. If this dishonest and fraudulent vote is thrown out, then New York will stand where it actually and rightly belongs—one of the solid Republican States. This fraud business on the part of the Democratic leaders in New York must be discontinued or a large number of the lights of Democracy must get behind prison bars.

The Republicans get several Congressmen in the South. These were elected in districts so overwhelmingly Republican that the "usual methods" of the Democracy were powerless to keep them from voting. Others were elected but through Democratic "methods" were counted out. These latter will doubtless be awarded their seats if proof is made that they were fairly elected. It is said that Hancock denounced Barnum for his general incapacity and failure, and his attempt to cry fraud in New York, and says he will have nothing to do with any more of his rascality. He says Garfield is elected, and that's the end of it. Flattery is like cologne water; to be spelled off, not swallowed.

A Tragedy in Two Acts.

ACT I.

ACT II.
Gun,
Bust;
Boy,

In a recent speech in San Antonio, Texas, Governor Roberts, the Democratic candidate for re-election, said in explaining the difficulties which he found in his way toward reaching a cash basis for the State finances: "The task was rendered more difficult, and in a great measure experimental, from the fact that no person knew, or from reports furnished from year to year of the receipts of revenue and of expenditures could tell, exactly or approximately what was the net revenue, the product of each former year, or the net expenses of each previous year." This is a sweeping charge of the most serious nature against two high Democratic State officials, the Treasurer and controller.

A Horrible Deed.

BATESVILLE, O., Nov. 8.—A horrible tragedy became known here yesterday morning. Frank M. Beidenbaugh, a young German and wealthy, who three years ago married the daughter of a neighboring farmer, came home late Saturday night intoxicated, and entering the room where his wife and child slept, assaulted them with an ax. His wife's skull was crushed by a single blow and then his son's throat was cut by the edge of the ax. He then went to a room where Mrs. Stephens, a visitor, and her child and servant girl were sleeping and killed Mrs. Stephens and child. The servant girl awakened, sprang toward the door, but was knocked senseless and left for dead. Upon recovering consciousness she gave the alarm and neighbors camp. It was not until morning the murderer was found hidden in a tobacco house with his throat cut, but not fatally. Jealousy, insanity and drunkenness are the theories advanced to account for the horrible crime.

Home and Country.

The other night soon after a ward meeting had opened one of the electors present began edging for the door as if he meant to leave the place. He was soon stopped by a friend, who said: "Don't leave us now. I want you to hear what the speaker is saying. Hear that? He says we must triumph or the country is doomed."

"Yes I know; but I've got to edge along toward home," was the reply. "Home! Great heavens, how can you talk of going home until he has finished that speech? There he goes again! He asks you if you want to see grass growing in the streets of our cities—our fertile farms returned to the wilderness—our families crowding the poor-houses until there is no longer room to receive another."

"No, I don't know as I would; but I guess I'll sort of work my way out." "Wait fifteen minutes—ten—five—wait until he finishes. There it is again. He asks whether you are a freeman or a slave. He wants to know if you have forgotten the patriotic principles defended by the blood of your grandfathers—if you have forgotten the sound of the liberty bell."

"I don't know as I have, but I must go—really I must."

"Hear that! Hear that! He says your country will bless you."

"I can't say as to that," replied the man, as he crawled along, "but I'm dead sure the old woman will if I don't get home in time to put this codfish to soak for breakfast."

"Great guns! do you prefer codfish to liberty?" exclaimed the other.

"I don't know as I do; but I git more of it."

"And you will see this country ruined—see her go to destruction?"

"I'd be kinder sorry to see her go down hill," slowly observed the delinquent as he reached the door, "but if you had a wife who could begin jawing at 10 o'clock and not lose a moment until daylight, and then end up with a grand smash of crockery and a fit of hysterics, you'd kinder stand off as I do and let this glorious old Republic squeeze through some mighty fine knot holes."

The boy was still through the long day. He made no harsh, discordant outcries; he tore not around the rooms; he jumped over no tables nor tipped over no chairs; he stood not on his head nor turned summersaults against the door. No, he was perfectly quiet, still. He was dead.

There are two cases of small pox in Seattle. Both came from San Francisco, and in both cases the disease broke out three or four days after arrival there. One is that of a young man, who with wife and children arrived on the Victoria a month ago. A neat house was furnished, and the whole family put in it. The man is now about recovered. One of his children was taken with the disease and died and was buried last week. The others will come out all right. Outside of the man's family no contagion whatever has resulted. The second case is that of a prostitute who came on the last steamer. The disease made itself apparent on her last Friday, and precautionary measures were taken at once. She was taken to the pest house, while her associates (five other women and several men) have been quarantined to wait the result.

The work of laying track of the N. P. R. R. Wallula to Ainsworth, has been commenced. Several thousand ties were brought down from Harkness & Co's mill last Monday. The track between Wallula and Ainsworth will be laid as a narrow gauge road for the present. As soon as the O. R. & N. Co's track is widened this road will be made standard gauge also.

Two years ago the total vote cast in Walla Walla county was 1223. This year the vote of Walla Walla city alone is 1322, or nearly 100 more than the total in the county two years ago. The total vote of the county this year is about 1800, an increase of 600 in two years.
