Agricultural Asptrations. I dream of a great republic Whose people shall all go west, Sow plums and reap tomatoes
In the land they love the best;
Where jobs of all dimensions Shall bloom on every hill And chickens low in the barn-yard, And gooseberries toil at the mill.

I'm tired of seeing the cabbage Handle the rake and hoe; I'm fired of waiting and watching For the gras hoper r bush to grow I long for the time when spinneh Shall cope with bread and milk, When hens shall lay benanas And horses spin raw silk.

Oh, sweet were the vanished hours,
When I wandered along the gien.
And wrestlied my brow with foundoes.
And plucked the ripened hen;
When the donky climbed on a tre'lls. And the cucumber chirp ed in the grass, And the sweet potato whistled To its mate in the mountain pass.

It would seem that the poet has become atisfied, for he further effuses, in the following strain :

O yes, I'll be a Granger. And with the Gungers stand, With a half or quarter section In the hollow of my hand, I'll rise up in the morning. And go out to dig my peas.
While the little steers are warbling.
Their song, up in the trees.
And when the sun is hortest.

My body will recline Amid the balmy fingrance Of the sprending turnip vine. And then, what sport at evening, When my work is done, you see, To chase the little rabbits

Up the spreading onion tree. Enrly Days in Nevatia.

There is a certain brick building in hevenne, not a thousand miles from the Leader office, which is almost worth its weight in gold. The bricks in its walls are at least impregnated with the precious metal to a valuable extent. The discovery was made accidentally by a gentleman who has an office near by. He frequently noticed shining yellow particles in the bricks, and imagining that the colors were gold, he took out a brick from the wall for the purpose of ascertaining the facts. This brick he first pulverized and then panced out" the colors. He could not get rid of all the dirt, and concluded to send the residum to an assayer in Denver. In a few days the assay certifi cate arrived and showed that there was thirty-eight cents' worth of gold in the brick. The gentleman then took out two other bricks in different parts of the building and palverized and panned them as he did the first. The same THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE GROCERY IN assayer pave his certificate as follows : Sample No. 1, gold, forty seven cents; sample No 2, gold twenty-four. With remarkable scerecy the gentleman proceeded to learn whence came the bricks. After considerable inquiry it was learn ed that the bricks were made in a yard that was formerly situated on Crow creek, near Cheyenne, but which is now obliterated, Farther investigation among the oldest residents divelged the fact that placer mining was at one time carried on along Crow creek, but the miners thought that the pay wasn't big enough, and tirey therefore abandoned their claims. It was near these claims that the brick yard mentioned above was started, and that explains how gold-flust got into the bricks - Cheyenne Leader.

I have used one of your Top Buggies three years, and three of them two years in my liver table, and they have given me perfect satisfaction and are in constant use. Oscar Smalley.

Messrs. Copper & Johns N:

Dear Sirs—1 have been using the Emerson & Fisher Buggy I bought from you as roughly. I suppose, as any one could. I had a fast hoise, drove him at full speed, sometimes with two isdues and myself in the buggy, and it is re-day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do.

A. M. Trague, Farmer. The favorable repulation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by Liverymen. Physicians, and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increase them and from those localities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of their mammoth establishment have been extended, enabling them now to turn out in good style.
