FRIDAY, DEC. 10, 1880.

South American Warfare.

The war between Chile and Peru, if the savage fight between these two nations may be dignified by such a name, grows more relentless every day.

The Peruvians, on the other hand have shown a diabolical ingenuity in preparing internal machines to blow up their enemies.

The siege of Calao is still carried on by the Chileans, who have demonstrated the effectiveness of long-range bombardment.

The prisoner would steal horses, and I consider you no better! And the lawyer said he flattered himself that he did know better, and wished he could return the compliment, with justice.

A correspondent from Perrydale to the Dallas Itemiser says: Our bridge builder on the narrow gauge, Mr. S. Marston, informed us that on Monday last work was begun at Dayton, having for its object the extension of the railroad through to Portland.

thought he was being fooled. "As if you did not know!" he said with a grin. The Queen laughed, and assured him they were lost.

"Give him twenty francs for his trouble," said the Queen to one of her escort, who going after the countryman said:

"Here, my man, is a present from the Queen of Italy, who thanks you." "The Queen!" cried the countryman, returning to the carriage.

Now the countryman who had once seen the Queen wanted to see her pretty face again, and the following day he presented himself at the palace.

"I know her, you know," he added mysteriously. "I spoke to her yesterday, and I want to speak to her again."

Thinking he had to do with a madman, the porter was about to have the poor fellow arrested, when the very gentleman who had given him the twenty francs appeared and recognizing him, told him to wait.

"Bring him here by all means," was the answer.

When the man was for the second time before the Queen he said: "Yes, 'tis thou. I thought I had seen a fairy. Thou art just an angel. I did not tell thee yesterday that I have two little ones without a mother. Wilt thou be their mother?"

"Then there's the twenty francs thou gavest me yesterday. I thank thee, but I want no money." And he went away, crying and smiling like a child.

"My boy," said a father to his young son, "treat every one with politeness; even those who are rude to you. For remember that you show courtesy to others, not because they are gentlemen, but because you are one."

They were walking by the seaside, and he sighed, and she sighed, and she was by his side, and he was by her side, and they were both beside themselves, besides being at the seaside, where she sighed and he sighed.

"What," exclaimed Demosthenes, as he looked around upon his hearers, "can be more valuable to a great people than a free ballot, a full vote, and a fair count?"

Many forms of sick excuses have been handed to the faculty, but a recent one completely paralyzed it.

The astonishing thing about Professor or Swift's new comet is that it is "throwing off an extended tail." If it persists in this ruinous course it will amount to no more than an ordinary bottled star.

Chicago girls are wonderfully full of resources. Their new device for hurrying up bashful suitors is to secretly procure the marriage license themselves and the publication of the fact in the papers gets the timid youths up to the required pitch of desperation.

Said the angry Judge to the lawyer: "The prisoner would steal horses, and I consider you no better!"

"I tell you our new pastor will be a power in the pulpit. I had a long talk with him yesterday, and we discussed most of the disputed questions of our church, and we agreed on every point. He is a thoroughly sensible man."

The "Bug" Bible was printed in London in 1551, and received its name from the fact that Psalm 91: v. was translated: "Thou shalt not be afraid for any Bugges by night."
