BREACHY CATTLE .- Dr. L., a friend of ours, living less than an hundred miles from Albany, has a cow that is much addicted to jumping into his neighbor's enclosures; which ugly habit annoys the good Doctor exneighbors. We recollect that his cow once gonian. jumped into the garden of a certain editor ; friend, the Doctor, recently read in a newspaper-and you know editors never tell stories or play tricks on their readers-that "Eureka !" exclaimed the Doctor, and forth- powers. with he provided himself with a sharp pair of seissors, a good feed of bran, potatoes, inquired what was the matter? "Matter!" said he, "I am going to perform a surgical operation on the old cow, and cure her of jumping !" 'Twas in vain Mrs. L. protes'ed-the cow's eyelashes had to come offyou bet. The cow was fastened-the Doctor seized her horns—the bright shears gleamed in the sunlight-scientifically the Doctor at . Oregon. proached her peepers, when for the first time he found his cow bad no eyelashes!

"Sold !" said the Doctor ; "badly sold !" and retired.

JUDGE DRUMMOND .- The Salem Record in a recent number, makes some remarks about this gentleman, which may, in some respects, leave a false impression on the publie mind.

Judge Drummond, from 1849 to 1851, was Judge of the 16th Judicial District of Illinois. In 1852 he was sent to Utah, as Judge, by President Pierce. He retained this position until Mr. Buchanan went into office, when he resigned and came home; and it was through his representations that federal soldiers, under Gen. Johnston, were sent to Salt Lake for the purpose of preserving or der and enforcing federal laws. Judge D. subsequently removed to California; making that his home until recently. His family are there at present, but he is now in Albany; and it affords us pleasure to say that he is so well pleased with our thriving city and noble county, that he has determined to send for his family and settle here immediately. Judge D. does not need a recommendation from us; but if he should, we would say that, for the last twelve or fifteen years we have known him more or less intimately; that he stood high in the legal fraternity of Illinois; that he is a true friend and gentleman in the broadest sense; and as such he will be a valubable acquisition to our community.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS .- Since our last issue Jonas Davis, living near Peoria, presented the Democrat office with a good lot of nice free-stone peaches. Also,

Mr. Millard, a bachelor flora-culturist, presented the office with several fine cantelopes and several exquisite boquettes. Also, Mr. Burkhart, living on the Salem road, a mile from town, presented the Secretary of our Domestic Affaires a goodly quantity of choice seedling prunes.

We sometimes have serious notions not to buy any sort of truit and nice fixings; hoping and almost believing that our numer. ous friends will generously supply all our NO MORE HIGH PRICES being entirely harmless to the human family. fruit and vegetable gastronomic demands. Surely no Establishment ever had more numerous evidences of kindly regards than has ours from its multitudinous friends throughout the county.

THE CIRCUS.—Lee & Ryland's "New York Circus and Animal Show" will perform at the Fair Grounds on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. Since their last exhibition here, Mr. Ryland, junior member of the firm, has made a trip to San Francisco and returned with several important accessions to their troupe, such as an equistrian, a gymnast, and a clown-the latter said to be equal, if not superior, to the popular Boots and Shoes. tang Liniment. OREGON TOBACCO. - A gentleman from Detroit, Michigan,-Julius Joseph by name, a relative of Mr. Gradwohl of this city-has just arrived here with his family. He intends to settle here and engrge in the manufactore of cigars; and he desires that all farmers who have raised tobacco will leave a sample of it with Mr. Gradwohl immediately, so that he can determine its relative merits and offer then such figures as the facts may warrant.

We welcome Mr. Joseph and his friends to Albany, and have no doubt they will succeed in this new undertaking.
