

Correspondents writing over assumed signatures or anonymously, must make known their proper names to the Editor, or no attention will be given to their communications.

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. A. CROWLEY, I. N. SMITH, Corvallis, Linn Co.

CHENOWETH & SMITH, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Corvallis, Oregon.

W. S. ELKINS, NOTARY PUBLIC

LEBANON, OREGON. DEEDS, MORTGAGES, and all legal instruments Drafted and Attested with dispatch.

TOMPSON & BELLINGER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, No 89 First Street, PORTLAND, - OREGON.

Special attention given to matters in Bankruptcy and all business in United States Courts.

A. C. MENDENHALL, NOTARY PUBLIC, REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENT, ALBANY, OREGON.

Rents Collected and Taxes Paid for Non-Residents and others. Making Real Estate papers, etc.

J. QUINN THORNTON, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, Office No. 111 First Street, between Morrison and Alder, opposite the Occidental Hotel.

PORTLAND - OREGON. Will practice in the superior and inferior Courts of the State, and in the District and Circuit Court of the United States, giving special attention to the collection of debts in all parts of Oregon, and to obtaining discharges in bankruptcy, which, since the last amendment to the law, may be obtained in all debts contracted prior to January 1st, 1899, without regard to the per centage which the assets may be.

GEORGE R. HELM, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, Will practice in all the Courts of the State.

OFFICE: ALBANY, OREGON. Nov. 11, 1898.

W. S. KELSA, JOSEPH HANSON, KELSAY & HANSON, ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS AT LAW, ALBANY, OREGON.

Partners for Linn County. Office up stairs in Post Office Building.

OFFICE OF SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT LINN COUNTY, AT HARRISBURG.

G. F. SETTLEMIER, Druggist and Apothecary!

DEALER IN DRUGS, MEDICINES, OILS, Paints, Window Glass, Dye-stuffs, Liquors, Fancy Soaps, Brushes, Perfumery, etc.

Prescriptions Carefully Compounded. All art and drug in our line warranted of the best quality.

N. S. DU BOIS, CONSTANTLY ON HAND AND RECEIVING a large stock of Groceries and Provisions, Wood and Willow Ware, Tobacco, Cigars, Confectionery, Tanks, Kettles, etc., etc.

Wholesale and Retail. 355 Opposite B. C. Hill & Son's Drug Store, Albany, Oregon.

D. B. RICE, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, ALBANY, OREGON.

Office: On South side of Main Street. Residence: On Second street, opposite Pearce's Ferry.

N. H. CHANOR, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, Office: In Xerxes' Brick Building, up stairs Albany, Oregon.

JOHN J. WHITNEY, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW and Notary Public.

Special attention given to collections. Office: In the Court House, Albany, Oregon.

G. POWELL, F. FLINN, ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS AT LAW AND SOLICITORS IN CHANCERY, (In Flinn, Notary Public.)

ALBANY, Oregon. Collections and conveyances promptly attended to.

H. H. HARRIS, DEALER IN GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS, Wood and Willow Ware, Confectionery, Tobacco, Cigars, Pipes, Kettles, etc. Store on Main street, adjoining the Bank building, Albany, Oregon.

NOT COUNTY CLERK!

CLERK OF THE DRUG STORE!

G. A. HILL, R. C. Hill & Son.

Will take pleasure in waiting on the needy with Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oil, Dye-stuffs, Glass, Varnishes, Putty, Perfumery, Fancy Soaps, Combs, Brushes, etc.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully compounded. Orders from the Interior promptly attended to.

Wool! Wool! BEST MARKET PRICE, IN CASH, FOR WOOL.

SACKS AND TWINE FURNISHED. COX & BARNETT, Commercial St., Salem.

State Rights Democrat.

VOL. VI.

ALBANY, OREGON, FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1871.

NO. 37

ADVERTISEMENTS.

DANIEL GABY, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, SCIO, OREGON.

JOHN S. GABY, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, SCIO, OREGON.

Real Estate Dealers LAND, IMPROVED OR UNIMPROVED.

E. W. PIKE, BOOKSELLER AND STATIONER!

FANCY GOODS! ALBANY, OREGON.

BOOK LINE, ELEGANT GIFT ANNUALS.

PARIAN MARBLE VASES, STATUARY.

BOHEMIAN WARE, WRITING DESKS, POPULOUS, WORK BOXES, BIRD CAGES, PIANOS, ORGANS, VIOLINS, GUITARS, FLUTES.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS! ATTRACTIVE TOYS!!

RATES OF TOLL, WILLAMETTE VALLEY AND CASCADE MOUNTAIN WAGON ROAD.

Table with 2 columns: Item description and Price. Includes items like Decherter River, 4-horse or mule team, and various toll rates.

STORE AT LEBANON! A. COWAN & CO., Prop's.

Fresh Stock Just Received! DRY GOODS!

GROCERIES! CLOTHING, HATS AND CAPS!

GLASS AND QUEENSWARE! Iron, Hardware, &c.

PRODUCE TAKEN FOR GOODS! JOHN CONNER'S

BANKING AND EXCHANGE OFFICE, ALBANY, OREGON.

DEPOSITES RECEIVED, SUBJECT TO CHECK AT SIGHT.

ALBANY BROOM MANUFACTORY! THE EXPANSION IS NOW MAKING

BROOMS OF THE BEST QUALITY! AT PORTLAND PRICES!!!

Wool! Wool! BEST MARKET PRICE, IN CASH, FOR WOOL.

SACKS AND TWINE FURNISHED. COX & BARNETT, Commercial St., Salem.

LOVE WINS.

BY JUSTIN MCCARTHY.

Paul and Virginia, in their palm groves and glades of tropic Arcadia, were not happier, simpler, more truthful and tender lovers than Josephine Ascot and Walter Hexton, up to a certain hour when Josephine met with a piece of unexpected good fortune.

Josephine was an extremely pretty girl, tall, slender and fair. Walter was a robust, rather angular and awkward young man, with a big broad brow, and heavy jaws and gray eyes. They were near neighbors, and they lived in a small town in the north of England.

She had only one daughter, the pretty Josephine, and she was rather glad than otherwise when Josephine fell in love with so steady, promising a young man as Walter Hexton.

For Walter was a steadfast, high-minded young fellow, with strong aspirations of his own, and no taste however, for dissipation, idleness or frivolity. Josephine and he walked together every fine evening—took long walks over quiet roads and breezy downs, returning often in the tender light of the moon, dear and sacred to all lovers, though Virgil may call it "light margin, and Panarch Oenobaschek allow his Aladdin to denounce it as a "pale angel of destruction."

Walter was a steady, high-minded young fellow, with strong aspirations of his own, and no taste however, for dissipation, idleness or frivolity. Josephine and he walked together every fine evening—took long walks over quiet roads and breezy downs, returning often in the tender light of the moon, dear and sacred to all lovers, though Virgil may call it "light margin, and Panarch Oenobaschek allow his Aladdin to denounce it as a "pale angel of destruction."

Walter was a steady, high-minded young fellow, with strong aspirations of his own, and no taste however, for dissipation, idleness or frivolity. Josephine and he walked together every fine evening—took long walks over quiet roads and breezy downs, returning often in the tender light of the moon, dear and sacred to all lovers, though Virgil may call it "light margin, and Panarch Oenobaschek allow his Aladdin to denounce it as a "pale angel of destruction."

Walter was a steady, high-minded young fellow, with strong aspirations of his own, and no taste however, for dissipation, idleness or frivolity. Josephine and he walked together every fine evening—took long walks over quiet roads and breezy downs, returning often in the tender light of the moon, dear and sacred to all lovers, though Virgil may call it "light margin, and Panarch Oenobaschek allow his Aladdin to denounce it as a "pale angel of destruction."

It did not appear to him that a proficiency in chemistry would be quite enough to make up for the lack of money and social position in the circles where Josephine had so suddenly found admission, and wherein even already she seemed to be so much at home.

The two who had been lovers met no more that time. Josephine returned home to her parents during the winter, but Walter did not even then see much of her. He was indeed a good deal in London and he avoided her. Nothing was said of their old engagement. It had apparently passed so entirely out of the world of realities that poor Walter thought it would be a piece of presumption on his part if he were even to offer to release Josephine Ascot from her promise.

Mrs. Selby Clare had evidently taken quite a fancy to Josephine. She sent for her in the winter, and in the summer, to her home in the country. Her father and mother had not the spirit to refuse. They said it would only stand in the way of the child's advancement. They were very good people in the negative, harmless, sense; but they utterly failed to understand that their child might have high interests and high aims, and high aims which she would not give up for a rich old woman could make or mar.

Josephine had many admirers, but as yet not many suitors. There was, indeed, something too uncertain about the basis of her future to satisfy the prudent young men of the West. When they came to consider the matter seriously and closely, they were struck by the high intelligence and industrial man—a leading partner in a banking-house, and member of parliament, who could probably be in high office if he liked, and who had lately been made a baronet.

Walter Hexton went home with a mind more troubled, certainly, than his, for she had a perplexing, painful knot to undo, and a manly, honorable gentleman to die and leave behind him a name to be proud of, and a name which she would not give up for a rich old woman could make or mar.

She kept her purpose to herself as Mrs. Selby Clare and she drove home together in the carriage. But when they reached the house and were alone she broke out at once with her confession, and told her patroness she never would marry Sir John Riddell; and what a delightful sensation it would be to drive in her carriage through the streets of her native town, and be known as Lady Riddell!

Walter Hexton thought so, too, and he was not a man who would be easily won. He was a man of high intelligence and high aims, and he was not a man who would give up his principles for a rich old woman could make or mar.

Walter Hexton thought so, too, and he was not a man who would be easily won. He was a man of high intelligence and high aims, and he was not a man who would give up his principles for a rich old woman could make or mar.

ALICE CARTY'S SWEETEST POEM.

Of all the beautiful pictures That hang on Memory's wall, Is one of a dim old forest, Not for its garlanded oaks, Nor for its mistletoe, Nor for the violet glades, That sprinkle the vale below;

I once had a little brother, With eyes that were dark and deep— In the lap of that olden forest, His little in peace asleep; Light as the dove on the thistle, Free as the winds that blow, We roved there the beautiful Summer, The Summer of long ago, But his feet on the little grass weary, And one of the Autumn eves, That hang on Memory's wall, A bed of the yellow leaves, Sweetly his pale arms folded, My neck in a weak embrace, As the light of immortal beauty Shines around his face.

Hard to beat—A boiled egg. "It moves in the best society"—Castor oil. A lawsuit over a hog in Illinois cost $15,000. August Belmont won $31,000 last year on horse races. Josh Billings almanac netted him nine thousand dollars.

May the smiles of conjugal felicity compensate the frowns of fortune. Modesty is a woman is like color in her cheek—decidedly pretty if not put on. A father in Vermont offers his farm to any man who will marry his daughter.

Pride is increased by ignorance; those who assume the most know the least. The Crown Prince is at the head of the Woman Suffrage movement in Germany. The London Gazette is the oldest newspaper printed in English in the world.

"The Fire Great Powers"—Love, money, ambition, revenge and a good dinner. Not to inquire after each other's "chills" is the height of discourtesy in Indiana. Lewis Kimball of Kentucky is put forward as the "homeliest man on the face of the earth."

Miss Nye, of Bellevue, Nebraska, is one of the graduates of the New England Medical School. It is true wisdom to speak but little of injuries you have received or the good deeds you have done. Mrs. A. C. Bowles, of Cambridge, is lecturing on "Meddling Women." This is a comprehensive subject.

A shrewman has made an offer of marriage to the two-headed girl, but he is in mortal fear of a suit for bigamy. Sentimental youth—"My dear Maria, will you share my lot for life?" Practical girl—"How many acres in your lot's sir?" A maiden lady here, living alone, hangs an old plug hat in her hall, to frighten burglars by indicating male occupants.

Waterbury, Wisconsin, has a rival to Tom Thumb in the person of a boy 15 years old, who is 28 inches high and weighs 19 pounds. A colony of negroes are coming to Kansas from Mobile, Alabama, to get free farms, and live in obedience the balance of their days. An eighty-acre farm in Iowa is carried on by twin sisters, twenty-three years of age. A boy sixteen years old is all the male help they have.

RATES OF ADVERTISING: PER YEAR: One Column, $100; Half Column, $50; Quarter Column, $25.

Transient Advertisements per Square of ten lines or less of this sized type, first insertion, $3; each subsequent insertion, $1.

A square is one inch in space down the column, counting cuts, display lines, blanks, etc., as solid matter. No advertisement to be considered less than a square, and all fractions counted a full square. All advertisements inserted as a transient for less than three months to be regarded as long term.

TRUMBULL AND THE KU-KLUX BILL.

Senator Trumbull, (Radical) of Illinois, thus urged his objection to the Ku Klux Bill, which it was before the Senate.

Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois, expressed his regret that while so important a bill was under consideration, the Senate should be so divided, and so little attention be paid to the principles involved in this bill. When this Government was formed the protection of the life and liberty of individuals was left to the States for the purpose of punishing individual offenses of one citizen against another.

The question was whether the amendments which had been made to the Constitution changed the principle on which the Government was founded. In his opinion, the Fourteenth Amendment conferred no new rights, and no new powers on the Federal Government, and no new powers on the States for the purpose of punishing individual offenses of one citizen against another.

Josh Billings is a post-posit as well as a philosopher. Following is his description of his country seat on the Hudson, which he offers for sale: I can sell eight acres, a hundred and thirty-nine dollars, a palatial, neat and pure retirement, located on the virgin banks of the Hudson, containing 85 acres. The land is luxuriously divided by the hand of nature and art into pasture and tillage, into plain and declivity, into stern abruptness and the dalliance of most tamed meadows.

Miss Nye, of Bellevue, Nebraska, is one of the graduates of the New England Medical School. It is true wisdom to speak but little of injuries you have received or the good deeds you have done. Mrs. A. C. Bowles, of Cambridge, is lecturing on "Meddling Women." This is a comprehensive subject.

A shrewman has made an offer of marriage to the two-headed girl, but he is in mortal fear of a suit for bigamy. Sentimental youth—"My dear Maria, will you share my lot for life?" Practical girl—"How many acres in your lot's sir?" A maiden lady here, living alone, hangs an old plug hat in her hall, to frighten burglars by indicating male occupants.

Waterbury, Wisconsin, has a rival to Tom Thumb in the person of a boy 15 years old, who is 28 inches high and weighs 19 pounds. A colony of negroes are coming to Kansas from Mobile, Alabama, to get free farms, and live in obedience the balance of their days. An eighty-acre farm in Iowa is carried on by twin sisters, twenty-three years of age. A boy sixteen years old is all the male help they have.

Waterbury, Wisconsin, has a rival to Tom Thumb in the person of a boy 15 years old, who is 28 inches high and weighs 19 pounds. A colony of negroes are coming to Kansas from Mobile, Alabama, to get free farms, and live in obedience the balance of their days. An eighty-acre farm in Iowa is carried on by twin sisters, twenty-three years of age. A boy sixteen years old is all the male help they have.