ELOPEMENT.—On last Sabbath the primitive little village of Lebanon, in this county, was startled, from its lethargy by a first class sensation in the shape of an elopement of two fond lovers—the lady being a daughter of "Squire Bell, of Lebanon, only 16 years old, and her ardent "lover" and companion in flight being Donald Byland, of the Forks of the Santiam, hard by Lebanon. Young Byland had previously asked his lady love's hand of her parents, but they bade him wait until she was of proper age to assume the duties of a wife. The stern but perhaps reasonable request was not much for the patience of the lovers, and they speedily, by buggy to Marion station, thence by cars to Portland, and at last accounts they were speeding as fleetly as steam and tide could carry them for the new Gretna Green of the Pacific—Victoria—where they are doubtless as well as "one flesh" and reveling in the sweets of new found connubial bliss.

We are informed that the young girl's friends related after her "new departure" and telegraphed the couple to return home and no impediment should be thrown in the way of their union, but as no reply has been received it is surmised that the magnetic telegraph wasn't sufficiently fast to catch them until it was too late to come back for the purpose named. As "All's well that ends well," we hope this affair will prove "Much Ado About Nothing," and that it may end as sweetly as "Midsummer Night's Dream."—[Shakspeare.]

LAST DAY OF A COUNTRY SCHOOL.—On last Saturday, by invitation, we attended the exercises of the close of school at the Boggs school house, of which Miss Gussie Halbrook has been the successful and popular teacher for the past quarter. When we arrive, in company with other ladies and gentlemen—we found the road in front of the school house literally jammed full of teams of all descriptions, and the grounds and house filled with folks who had come for miles around to witness the exercises. The school room was tastefully decorated with evergreens and pictures, and a splendid organ occupied a prominent position on the stage which had been erected for the purpose. The exercises lasted about three hours, and consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, declamations, reading of a paper, etc., all of which reflected ample credit upon both teacher and pupils. About noon the multitude assembled around a long table which had been erected under an evergreen arbor, and partook of a bountiful dinner, which was grand enough for a king. In fact those roasted spring chickens and that fresh ground butter, and those splendidly prepared cakes would have to be eaten as one party partook of them to be properly appreciated. A croquet party was improvised for the occasion, and that fascinating game absorbed the attention of a goodly number of the "youngsters" for the afternoon; and when the day's pleasure's closed all felt that the "Last Day of the Country School" was a feature in their lives long to be remembered with pleasurable emotions.

FIREMEN'S CELEBRATION.—The members of the Albany Fire Company will to-day engage in the ceremonies of housing their engine, and a rare time is anticipated. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the Company will march to the depot, headed by the Albany Brass Band, and receive the delegation of Salem Firemen, after which the procession will parade some of the principal streets on foot. The new engine house, where the building will be formally turned over to the Company by His Honor, Mayor Cranor, on behalf of the Common Council, and will be received by the President of the Company on behalf of the "Onesters." Then the collation will be partaken of, and the affair will end with a grand ball at Parish's Hall in the evening.

THAT FESTIVAL.—Too much praise cannot be awarded to the ladies and managers of the late Baptist Festival in this city. The hall was beautifully and appropriately decorated, the tables bountifully spread, and the waiters obliging and attentive to a remarkable degree, and the large crowd present fully testified their appreciation of the affair by exhibiting the best of humor and applause during the entire evening. The gross receipts amounted to $185.25, and after defraying all expenses the affair netted $113.35. We congratulate the worthy society of Baptists on their unparalleled success.

A SUSPICIOUS SUBJECT.—The Salem Statesman has spotted a delusion of wars long held, that it was Caesar's wife who was supposed to be "above suspicion." That paper says that Salem is like "Lo's" wife, "above suspicion." Mrs. Lot may not have been above suspicion, but she was so badly spoiled as to require salting down, and the subsequent actions of the rest of the Lot's can hardly entitle them to an eminent degree of respectability. If Salem occupies the same pedestal of morality with Lot's wife we are under the impression that it is a "salty old town," that's all.

RE-APPOINTED.—Rev. H. H. Spaulding, of Brownsville, this county, has returned from Washington with the appointment of Missionary and Government agent for the Nez Perces Indians. It will be remembered that Mr. S. was the first missionary to that tribe of Indians—along with Dr. Whitman—and did much for their improvement and civilization.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of Thurston Lodge No. 28, A. F. & A. M., of Harrisburg, held July 25th, A. D., 1871, the following resolutions were adopted: ANDY. It having pleased the Supreme Grand Master to call from labor to refreshment our esteemed brother, Elt B. Moore, who departed this life on July 10th, A. D., 1871. Resolved, 1st.—That by this afflictive dispensation of Providence this Lodge be invited to sympathize with the bereaved citizen, his widow a kind and affectionate husband, and his children a devoted father. 2nd.—We tender our heartfelt sympathies to his bereaved consort and his orphan children. 3rd.—That the members of the Lodge, as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, wear the usual Masonic badge of mourning for the period of thirty days. 4th.—That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Lodge—that a copy be transmitted to the widow of the deceased, and that a copy each be furnished to the STATE RIGHTS DEMOCRAT and Masonic Mirror for publication. (Attest) Secretary pro tem.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—Messrs. Wm. Reed, Miner, Alfred Tureman and Harman Bell accept our thanks for their beautiful and every truth which they caught in Clear Lake—on the summit of the Cascades—and brought all the way down to tickle our fishistial appetite; also for the roast of Bruin which they deposited upon our table. We also tender our acknowledgments to our sterling Democratic friend, G. H. Hughes, for a lot of delicious honey. 'Tis indeed sweet to be thus remembered.

Thanks to Charley Keifer, of the Albany Brewery, for a keg of his superb beer. There is no ignoring the fact that the Albany Beer has been superior, and Charley Keifer is the "bully boy" who understands how to keep it up to its exalted standard.

To Mr. Brenner, mine host of the St. Charles, we are indebted for the present of a large rock cod fish fresh from the briny deep at Yaquina.

And last, though not least, we bow our prettiest to the fair ladies of the Baptist Festival for favors richly showered upon us during the progress of that magnificent affair, and also for the present of a handsome cake to this office. The ladies, by their kind and eternal regard of the DEMOCRAT, have in fact the good things of the land roll in so fast upon us that we expect soon to have sufficient stock on hand with which to furnish a young provision and family furnishing store. All we need for a complete outfit in that line is a pair of eleven-ounce scales and a keg of water sugar.

THE OVERLAND MONTHLY for August is on our table, with a brilliant table of contents: "An Early Hero of the Pacific" is an interesting account of the trials and difficulties of David Douglas, the Botanist, written by Rev. Mr. Somerville, of Scotland; "The Disappearance of Robert Fairway," a thrilling California story, by a new author, John W. Armstrong, Jr.; "Mining on the Pacific Coast: Its Development and Dark Phases," by Dr. DeGroot; "The East at Yosemite," that by imitator writer, Prentice Mulford, whose quiet humor is brought out with telling effect. Mrs. Cooper gives us the closing installment of "Ideal Womanhood," which has attracted much favorable criticism. In poetry we have the graceful and sympathetic verses of Miss Ina D. Coultrick, the aptly styled "Poetess of the Pacific," and a poem by M. B. W., whose thoughts grow upon the reader, and whose modesty apparently does not permit the publishers to give us her name. The titles of some of the other articles are "Auctions and Auctioneers," "Vindictive Ream," the Darwinian Eden," "Hairy Meligs in Peru," "How I Got the Prince's Treasure," $4 per annum. John H. Garmany & Co., publishers, 469 Washington Street, San Francisco.

BALOO'S MAGAZINE for August is as good as ever, containing some thirty rare and radiant articles, as follows: Claromont and its Residents; The Schooner Hera and the Earl of Aberdeen; Dantzie, Prussia; The Long Eared Fox; You Kissed Me on the Stairs; Two Specimens of Bird Architecture; A Curious Tree; Japanese Scenes; What's the Matter with Me? The Bahama Wrecker; Count Remond's Son; In the Maelstrom; The Colonel's Rebel Tactics; The Panned Flute; Eutreaty; Two Bowls of Broth; The Witches Sabbath; Tom, Dick and Harry; Life's Changes; Sketches of Travel in California; The Baron Binng; Mrs. Deacon O'Hara; The Silver Lining; A Small Travelling Family; Alexander the Great; Guess or, the Son of a Politician; Yellowfoot; A True Story with a Fairy in it; The Housekeeper; Facts and Fancies; My Future; Gallery; (Humorous Illustrations.) This magazine is only 15 cents a copy, or $1.50 per year. Address Thomas & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston. It is clubbed with The Monthly Noveltie for $3.00.

"THREE YOU ARE"—Do you see that booming advertisement for Pills, tabloid & Co. in another column? Well, those gentlemen are taking the right course to succeed in business. They advertise liberally, and that system is bound to win. And they've got the goods that will stand blowing up, too. You just go into their store, and see the "heaps on heaps" of merchandise, and examine the superiority of their stock, and then dare to assert that it doesn't deserve a good square puff, and you will brand yourself as a poor judge or a terribly biased one.

A VALUABLE ACQUISITION.—The drug store of R. C. Hill & Son has secured the services of Mr. Guiler, a German apothecary of long experience, and hereafter that establishment will be able to compound prescriptions of either in German or English with the utmost care and precision. With Fred at the helm, and his valuable assistant, Hill's drug store cannot be discounted for reliability or promptness.

The latest case of absence of mind is that of a young fellow in this neighborhood who took his girl out for a buggy ride, then took her home, hitched the team to the fence and went in with her for a chat, and after while departed for home on foot, never once thinking of his team until next morning, when it was found by his "lady faire" standing where he had left it the night previous.

The Buckeye Sewing Machines are all the rage, and Miner & Pearson are selling "akads" of them.

Running off with another man's wife is styled larceny in St. Louis. Petty (coat) larceny, probably.

Senator Strahan, of Benton county, left his compliments in our office during our absence last Monday.

E. C. McLean and family have returned from Upper Soles, where Mrs. Mc's health visibly improved.

Experience warrants us in recommending Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer as a sure remedy for gray hair.

John Claypool and his bride have gone to their mountain home at Fish Lake to spend the golden days of the honeymoon.

A large number of invited guests witnessed the nuptial ceremonies of John Claypool and Miss Pennington last Sabbath.

We are invited to our elegant friend J. W. Croose, for a complimentary ticket to the Harrisburgh ball which came off last night.

If Marshal Weller don't tend to driving the nails down in the sidewalks we will mention his name right out in these columns.

We acknowledge an invitation from our friend, A. Z. Sears, to attend a ball at Harrisburgh last evening. We trust our neighbors of that city had a joyous and festive time.

Mrs. S. A. Johns will in a few days move her stock of millinery up stairs over Beach's store, where she will fit up one of the neatest establishments of the kind in Oregon.

Mark Twain says: "I have seen slower people than I am—and more deliberate people than I am—and lazier people than I am. But they were dead."

The remark of an exchange, "that many of our successful lawyers commenced life as preachers," is gracefully corrected by one of the legal gentlemen referred to, who begs leave to state that he began life as an infant.

J. D. Titus and wife and Nathan Baird and wife have returned from a pleasure-seeking trip to the mountains and had a gay and festive time. Titus says there are two hundred camps of excursionists between Lower and Upper Soles Springs.

Johnny was telling his ma how he was going to dress and show off when he was a man. His ma asked, "Johnny, how do you expect to get your living when you get to be a man?" "I'll get married and live with my wife's pa."

We are requested to present the thanks of the Baptist Society to the people of this city for their liberal patronage of the Festival last Friday night.

To Dr. Tate the managers of the Festival are especially grateful for the free use of his hall on that occasion.

Jason Wheeler, Aba Hackleman and Andrew Cowan, accompanied by their respective families, went to the mountains last week and gathered one hundred and fifty gallons of blackberries. Wheeler killed a buck and Hackleman a fawn. Little lamb dog—vulgarily called a fawn.

Jack Crouse has gathered up quite a collection of stuffed animals for his saloon. With the three savagely-glaring cougars, the vicious looking wild cat, and other equally formidable and ornery looking beasts, his resort presents the appearance of a young Barnum's Museum.

An irascible old gentleman was taken with sneezing in the cars lately. After sneezing in a most spasmodic way eight or ten times, he arrested the paroxysm for a moment, and extricating his handkerchief, he thus indignantly addressed his nasal organ: "Oh! go—on—go, you! blow your infernal brains out presently!"

"Delicious! extatic! blissful! I!" The sensation which creeps over a fellow after taking a draught of Carothers' Arctic Soda. Go and do it if you want to feel like a country newspaper editor with the office full of advancing subscribers or a school-marm with her 4th of July fixins on.

We had the pleasure, a few days since, of meeting Mrs. Joseph Young, of Eagle Creek, Clackamas county, who is at present visiting her many friends in this county. She was formerly a resident of Linn county, and also occupies many improvements since her last visit here.

J. Z. Crouse and wife and S. Montgomery and wife returned from the Mountains last Friday, where they spent a week or so, to the great benefit of their health. Jack is not quite so "heavy set" as Mont, but he's a trifle taller and is fast expanding to Mont's colossal proportions.

Eugene Semple and wife, and several other ladies and gentlemen, passed through this city last Tuesday, en route for Yaquina Bay. They were equipped with guns and fishing tackle for the men and a croquet set and bathing suits for the ladies, and were anticipating a joyous time "down by the sounding sea."

The latest case of absence of mind is that of a young fellow in this neighborhood who took his girl out for a buggy ride, then took her home, hitched the team to the fence and went in with her for a chat, and after while departed for home on foot, never once thinking of his team until next morning, when it was found by his "lady faire" standing where he had left it the night previous.

APOTOGETIC.—If our paper is not up to its usual standard this week it may be attributed to the fact that our foreman is rusticking in the mountains, our pressman is not very well, our chief compositor has got something the matter with him, our devil has been having the "Missourly ager" and "we ourself" (as a certain tumbler-bug editor writes it) have been doing an unusual amount of job work. If the foregoing are not sufficient excuses for the demoralized appearance of the DEMOCRAT this week, then everybody can go to thunder, for we have no more excuses to make.

ALBANY COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.—By reference to the card elsewhere it will be seen that this educational institution will be open for the reception of students on Monday, September 4, 1871, "with a corps of teachers, capable and earnest." The name of Professor R. K. Warren, as Principal, will give character and standing to the institution second to no other in the State, and we earnestly hope that our citizens will take an especial pride in giving our College a living support.

For the good name of our city and county we ought to attend to the annual institution equal to any in Oregon.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On last Tuesday, while two little boys—sons of Mr. Laurence, of Benton county, opposite this city, were playing with an axe, one of them accidentally chopped a finger off of his little brother's hand, and severed another finger almost off.

The unfortunate little fellow was immediately brought to town and Dr. Rice dressed the wound and alleviated his sufferings as much as possible.

PAXTON'S pictures are all the rage at Brownsville, and his Rembrandt's are especially enchanting. He will only remain there a short time and consequently everybody is improving the present opportunity of securing a specimen of his superb work.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.—We desire to inform the farmers and grain growers of Linn and adjoining counties, that we are now prepared to buy or store all the wheat which may be offered. Our warehouse has advantages of shipment by railroad and river at all times. We will furnish sacks to all persons desiring to store with us. We will charge only 3 cents per bushel for storage, provided we cannot afford to pay one dollar per bushel or upwards for the wheat.

Parties who sell to others for one dollar or upwards will be charged 5 cents for storage and delivery of the grain on board the boat or cars.

By the provisions of the charter this Library is to be for the use of the citizens and the enjoyment of every citizen, and it is the purpose of the trustees to raise a fund sufficient to secure a suitable building, to place in it books enough to form the nucleus of a magnificent library, and to endeavor to do so as to enable it to buy the current publications as they come out, and to be self-sustaining. The concert and distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the trustees on the 24th of incorporation, who are as follows:
