REDUCTION OF TAXES.

A well-informed Eastern journal, speaking of the state boast of the Re. change. Her progress is like the publican leaders regarding the reduction of taxes shows conclusively that rather than the rapid flutter of a pulse pockets of protected monopolists, so der the tariff system this year over last, is sixty millions of dollars, in round numbers, a sum which cover all the reduction made in internal revenue taxation, and leave a for net increase in the burden upon the people! Let us hear no more about the reduction of taxation."

A LIVELY PASS .- Last night at the close of Miss Anthony's lecture a lively little pass at arms was had between that lady, Mrs. Duniway and Mrs. J. Blakeslee Frost, who will reply to Miss Anthony to-night. Miss Anthony invited any who wished to do so, to propound to her any questions they might desire to ask in regard to the subject of her lecture .-Mrs. Frost arose and began asking questions, when a lively scene ensued. The sympathies of the audience seemed on the side of Mrs. Frost, though all three ladies manifested tact and ability in their intellectual sparring .-The scene was decidedly interesting. We thought Mrs. Duniway exhibited a little too much temper, but man, the poor weak creature, often does the same thing, much to the injury of his
