It is informed that three children of Jack Allphin of this city, are sick with the Statesman that there is not a particle of truth in this rumor. We called personally at Mr. Allphin's residence yesterday morning and saw all three of the children spoken of, and they were scudding about, perfectly well and hearty and as full of devilment generally as all bright, healthy children are supposed to be. There is not now a single case of small-pox in Albany, and never has been. We say this with the utmost confidence, because neither the city authorities, the resident physicians, nor common rumor know of any such cases.
