CENTRAL BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Central Association held their annual meeting at McMinnville last week and transacted their business with a degree of harmony that promised great good in the labors of the ensuing year.

Suitable arrangements were made to facilitate and encourage the enterprise of endowing the McMinnville College which inspires all concerned with great hopes of success in making the College an enterprise of mutual interest to all the denomination in Oregon and Washington Territory.

The Association endorsed the labor of the agent of the school and directed and authorized him to continue the canvass until the endowment was secured. The success of the general agent has been satisfactory and he is cordially commended to the people interested in the College enterprise.

The school has been of a character to give general satisfaction under the care of Prof. Ross. When looking on a school of this character, with an experienced teacher and scores of intellectual, orderly, promising young persons, we are forced to the conclusion that the young people of Oregon are, or should be, deeply in the sympathy of every Christian heart, for none but a cold heart and a dull perception could fail to perceive much to appreciate in the youth of our country.

HORSES IN TRAINING.—Through the politeness of J. Z. Crouse, Esq., we took a spin to the Fair Grounds last Monday, for the purpose of interviewing the horses that are in training for the coming July races.

Mr. Ross, of Tehama county, California, has two running horses in training which he brought from that State a few weeks ago. One of them is "Hiram," a trim and elegant 3-year old sorrel, of the Lodi stock. The other is "Fritie," a bay, 4 years old, sired by Norfolk—a superb animal, and looks like she could beat lightning just a feed. Mr. Ross also has in training a fine trotting mare, "Mary Eva Crouse," who is claimed to be able to go in a 2-mile heat or so on time. Wm. Gird is training his own horses, "Bucksin Bill" and "Ploughboy," both of whom have good reputations among lovers of the turf throughout the State. Mr. Gird is also training "Bones," a trotting gelding belonging to J. Z. Crouse, and "Albany Boy," a 4-year old trotter owned by Chas. M. Cartwright. Frank Parion is training a roan trotter which he expects to get away with everything; and S. Montgomery has three trotters in training, named respectively "Minnie," "Dolly Varden," and "Nameless." The horses seem to all be in excellent condition and will doubtless be able to make the contest for the various purses very exciting. The track is in the best condition we have ever seen it, and Mr. Crouse has taken special pains to place the grounds in excellent order for the accommodation of those who will attend during the races.—Huge sport may be anticipated, and we advise all to come and take a hand in the festivities and enjoyments of the occasion.

COTSWOLD SHEEP.—We direct the attention of the wool-growers of Oregon to the advertisement of J. S. Tolton, Esq., who has just arrived from Ontario, Canada, with a fine lot of thoroughbred Cotswold bucks which he offers for sale on the most reasonable terms. The sheep may be seen at the depot in this city. Mr. Tolton started from Canada with fifty head, but disposed of several on the way.—They are all yearlings save three who are 2-year olds and the most magnificent animals of the kind we have ever seen. They beat the famous "Darby Ram" of song notoriety all to smash. We have examined a specimen of the wool which is over a foot in length and of the finest texture. The sheep will probably yield from 15 to 20 pounds of wool to the head. It is worth the time and trouble of any one to make a visit to the corral of these sheep, whether they desire to purchase or not. We would like very much to see the whole band purchased by wool-growers of Linn, as we are satisfied the investment would be a good one, and the propagation of the stock would be creditable to our county.

ALBANY COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE closes Friday, June 28th. Examination of classes commences Tuesday morning. Lecture before the Literary Union, by Rev. Dr. Linsley, of Portland, on Thursday evening. Literary exercises by the students on Friday evening.

TREASURE-TROVE.

Richness on Soap Creek.

A FORTUNE FOUND BY THE AID OF SPIRITS.

The good people of the classic regions of Soap Creek, Benton county, are greatly excited over a singular phenomenon in spiritualism which has been developed within the past week, and by which a trio of individuals have been suddenly elevated from indigence and penury to comfort and even affluence on a modest scale. The circumstance, as rapped off all useless verbiage and sententious rhetoric, is as follows:

Immediately opposite this city, on the Benton county side of the river, resides a family whose members are well known believers in spiritualism—two or three of the young men of the family being what are commonly known as "mediums," possessors of the blessed privilege of being in frequent intercourse with the spirits of departed mortals, and from time to time receiving communications of more or less importance from these invisible, but remarkably watchful and observing "superhumanitarians." Among the many spirits which have recently intervened, one of the mediums named was that of a half-breed who claims the honor of having been hanged about fourteen years ago for the murder of a miner whose plectroic bags of gold dust the murderer much did covet. The spirit told the medium that after he had committed the bloody deed, and before he was apprehended by the relentless minions of the law, he had deposited the bag of gold-dust (amounting to the magnificent sum of fourteen thousand dollars) in an old boat and had buried it on the margin of a certain little brook, at the foot of a mammoth tree, beside an Indian trail, on the farm now owned by M. C. Calloway, located about six miles west of this city, near the meandering waters of the detergent stream known and recorded upon the maps as Soap Creek.

Having implicit faith in the information thus imparted by the communicating spirit of the defunct half-breed, our medium took a couple of friends into his confidence, secured their companionship and assistance in the enterprise, and on last Friday night, when all the inhabitants of Soap Creek were wrapped in slumberous repose, the trio of nocturnal "gold hunters," with picks and shovels silently wended their moon-lit way to the spot so accurately described by the "half-and-half" spirit, and after assuring themselves, by the closest scrutiny of the landmarks, that they had not mistook the spot, they silently and prayerfully invoked the continued aid of the galloway-spirited spirit in their search, and delved into the bowels of the earth.—They had given but a few strokes with the pick and cast up but a few shovelfuls of earth, when their straining and watchful eyes caught a glimpse of the shining ore, particles of which had broken through the partially decayed bag and boot and were attempting to again assimilate with their mother earth. Although the leathery detritus of the gold was almost entirely decayed, it had still kept the gold in such a compact mass that our treasure seekers had but little difficulty in securing the entire amount which had been deposited, and were shortly on their way home, rejoicing in the possession of a snug little fortune!

Of course many of our readers will vehemently assert that the foregoing statement is a "copperhead lie," a "put up job" on the editor, etc., etc.; but we positively assert that we have conversed with several parties who have talked with other parties who have seen the miraculously discovered gold dust and even gazed wistfully into the hole where it lay buried for those long forgotten years. We have related the curious incident just as it was related to us, and while we cannot confidently vouch for its truth, we can safely assert that our informants are persons of unimpeachable integrity and truthfulness of character, and appear to believe implicitly in the actual truth of the circumstance narrated. We can only say that if the phenomenon is an actual occurrence we shall always have a deep and abiding disgust for the spirit of that murderous half-breed for not giving us an equal show for that buried treasure with those other fellows who were no nearer related to him by the ties of consanguinity and with whom he was not even on imbibing terms while his spirit still inhabited his Dolly Varden corpse. That spirit can only receive the endorsement and support of these columns by giving the treasure finders a revelation to divide with us, or by revealing to us another hole where a like sum may be unearthed. If that spirit doesn't want to be shown up in his true light he had better "come down" with something better than a valuable revelation to the shover of this quill. Suddenly in what we want to say we will ruin that half-breed spirit's business if it takes all summer.

A FAILURE.—The Corvallis and Albany Base Ball Clubs did not play their third tournament last Saturday, as was announced. The reason was, that the Corvallis club would not agree to play on the Monmouth grounds, but insisted on playing the game on their own grounds. Our Albany club, being the challenged party, had a right to the choice of grounds, and chose the Monmouth grounds because they were entirely neutral. We presume this will end the match between these clubs.

DENTISTRY.—See the card of Dr. E. O. Smith elsewhere. The Doctor is a careful and a skillful operator in his profession, and has his office supplied with all the modern facilities for allaying pain in extracting refractory "grinders." He has the new invention for making plate work, which is said to be much superior to anything extant in that line. Read his card.

KILLED BY THE CARS.—We are informed that last Saturday a section boss named Sullivan was run over by the cars, near Eugene, and killed.—Two cars passed over his body, and the third one stopped with a wheel resting upon his abdomen. Of course he was almost instantly killed.

BRICK FOR SALE.—See advertisement of L. C. Burkhardt. He has a large quantity of the very best of brick for sale.

HOME AND ABROAD.

Rain greatly needed. Items dolefully scarce. Cherries plentiful, at 37c. per gal. Thursday is the 4th of July this year. The third warehouse is going up at Halsley.

Blackberries and raspberries ripening fast. The chicken pox is raging among the children of this latitude. Green vegetables and the stomach-ache is what all our citizens now.

Everybody languishes around Carter's soda fountain this hot weather. "Anoin't the Possum," is the Greeley style of takin' sumthin' now-a-days. To Mr. John Luper we make our "most classical" bow for a fine lot of cherries.

There was a regular exodus from this city to the Lebanon campmeeting last Sabbath.

The material of the Albany Register is advertised for sale in the last issue of that paper.

Bro. Quilvey, of the Benton Democrat, paid us a rushing visit last Saturday. He looks salubrious.

Clerk Arnold advertises that the school taxes for the District embracing this city must be paid by July 1st.

Mr. Crouse is having very fine croquet and base ball grounds prepared at the Fair Grounds for the 4th of July. 1 peck of wheat and flour is on the 1 use in the Atlantic States, owing to the prospect of a short crop the coming season.

We have no small-pox at Albany yet. It is dying out in Portland and other localities where it was reported to exist.

The stockholders of the Albany and Santiam Canal Company will hold a meeting at the Court House on July 16th.

Our brass band plays a gorgeous new uniform, consisting of blue shirts and caps fancifully decorated with silver gilt bands.

Mrs. Godley is in receipt of a new invoice of millinery and fancy goods from San Francisco. Let our lady friends remember this.

Always twist your neck around to see who is coming into church. It saves the preacher from having to announce the new comer to you.

Messrs. C. M. Cartwright and George Humphrey will go down to Salem this morning to attend the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons.

Chas. Layton always keeps the freshest vegetables and finest fruits that the market affords. For a box of luscious strawberries we smile gushingly onto him.

Watch those fellows who don't take their home paper; spot these fellows; they are small-souled, stingy, invidious, who go through the world on other folk's money.

We hear of a Democratic mother in this county who has just named her new baby Horace Greeley, "subject to the decision of the Baltimore Convention."

A negro barber, named Graham, last Monday came within a few votes of beating our former fellow citizen, E. F. Russell, for the office of Councilman of the city of Portland.

Continual dropping out of the hair, with a disagreeable itching of the scalp, prevented, and the scalp made cool and healthy by the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

While Rice lost a telegraph operator's gold badge pin in this city the other day. The finder will be suitably rewarded if returning it either to this office or to the railroad telegraph office.

Tom B. Metzger, Esq., the able lawyer, classical writer and eminent gold-digger, floated airily into our den last Wednesday. Physically he is possessed of much fatness, and spiritually he seems to have much grace shed abroad into him.

Ladies will be delighted to learn that the latest Paris fashions to be perfectly stunning, must be worn with the mouth of the wearer, of course, slightly open. No woman likes to keep her mouth shut anyway, and this new fangled arrangement obviates the whole difficulty.

Henry States, of sufficiency, was in this city again last Saturday with 75 gallons of strawberries, and on Monday he returned again with nearly one hundred gallons—all of which he readily sold at $1 per gallon. We are indebted to him for the present of a fine lot of the delicious fruit.

A fair-haired love-sick youth of Benton county presented his "gith" with a pair of those new-fangled metallic garden shears on Christmas. He thought they were the latest thing in brackets, and he only discovered his mistake on questioning her to try them on! He does not call them any more.

THE JAYS.—Marshall's famous Tycoon Japanese Troupe performed in this city last Friday and Saturday nights to full houses. This troupe is the most remarkable of the kind we have ever seen. Their tricks are dazzling and their contortions wonderful. Human imagination cannot conceive what they are able to accomplish in the way of jugglery, etc. Their performances must be seen to be appreciated. They cannot then be comprehended.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Mr. Lovell, of the M. E. Church, South, preaches regularly in the Court House in this city on the second and fourth Sabbaths in each month.

For the very best Photographs, go to Bradley & Rufusson's Gallery without STAIRS—UP ASCEND IN THE ELEVATOR, 420 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Pitiful Condition.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands who have that condition to one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer for no positive pain; but they have no relief for anything which afflicts them, or sustains them. In some cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid state of the system, and the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs toning and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, but a permanent and a more pitiable condition than ever (as it is) is secured by the use of a medicine which is not merely a stimulant, but a tonic and a permanent.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer is, by the use of a medicine which is not merely a stimulant, but a tonic and a permanent. The unsparing experience of a quarter of a century, has clearly shown that the only way to secure the desired result is by the use of a medicine which is not merely a stimulant, but a tonic and a permanent.
