

FOR PRESIDENT: HORACE GREELEY, OF NEW YORK. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: B. GRATZ BROWN, OF MISSOURI.

Presidential Electors: L. F. LANE, of Douglas county, GEO. H. HELM, of Lane county, N. H. GATES, of Wasco county.

THE OREGON DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

Just now it would doubtless be of interest to our readers to learn how the Democratic newspapers of Oregon receive the Baltimore nominations, and we therefore collate a few extracts from each of them relating to this subject.

The Jacksonville Times concludes its editorial upon the situation as follows: "Our duty, as free citizens, is to unite in a mass and rise and overthrow the tyrant who is fast bringing our country to a state of anarchy and ruin. This can only be done by supporting the Baltimore nominee; and when Grant shall be hurled from power, the United States can once more breathe free." It will cheerfully support Greeley and Brown.

The Roseburg Plaindealer runs up the names of Greeley and Brown, and in commenting upon their nomination, says: "Since the assembled representatives of the party, among whom were nearly all of our ablest statesmen, have in accordance with the time-honored usage and with a unanimity with out a parallel, designated them as the standard-bearers of the Democratic party, we are compelled to recognize their authority as final."

The Eugene City Guard hangs back in the traces and kicks nearly over the dash-board about the nominations. It refuses to hoist the ticket to its mast-head at present, but proposes to be guided by circumstances in its future course. We trust that circumstances may guide the Guard in the right direction and lead it to strike hands with the remainder of the Democratic press throughout Oregon, in support of the ticket put forward by our party in National Convention assembled.

The Corvallis Democrat promptly raises the Greeley and Brown ensign and publishes a leader of warm endorsement. It promises to make a vigorous fight for the honest farmer of Chappaqua.

For some unaccountable reason the Salem Mercury of last week failed to put in an appearance at our sanctum, but we learn from our other exchanges that it runs up the ticket and heartily endorses the action of the Convention.

The Oregon City Enterprise hoists the ticket and promises a free and full support and advocacy of the good cause.

We announced last week that the Portland Herald had run up to its masthead the Greeley and Brown standard. That very excellent and able champion of progress and reform is already striking telling and vigorous blows in behalf of the ticket, and predicts its triumphant election by a prodigious majority. It says that the Greeley will carry, but rather what it won't carry, as the revolution which is setting in will gather in volume until in November it will sweep the almost every State in the Union.

We haven't received the Lafayette Courier for several weeks, but from the Herald we learn that it advocates the Greeley and Brown ticket and advocates its election in earnest and glowing language.

The Baker City Democrat comes out in favor of Greeley and Brown, as also does the La Grande Sentinel. From these papers we learn that the sterling Democracy of Eastern Oregon will warmly sustain the action of the National Convention and give the ticket a hearty support. That country is settled mainly by Southern people, yet fresh from the scenes of persecution, oppression and bayonet rule, and they are willing to unite with all honest and humane people to overthrow the power which caused their sufferings and made them exiles from their own sunny land.

In view of the fact that the Democratic papers of the State, with one exception, are warmly supporting the ticket, that the Democracy are known to be almost a unit for it, and that many honest Republicans are daily pronouncing for its support, it is unreasonable to assert that Oregon will in November cast her electoral vote for the nominees of the National Democratic Convention? We honestly think that we have at least an even chance with the Granite of carrying the State, and our prospects will surely brighten as the contest nears its culmination.

THE WORLD'S POSITION.—The N. Y. World, which has all along violently opposed the endorsement of Greeley at the Baltimore Convention, now wheels into line with the following noble words: "We bow to the decision of the Democratic National Convention, and loyally accept Greeley as the Democratic candidate for President." In reference to any organized bolt, it adds that there will be none, but if hundreds of thousands of dissatisfied Democrats stay away from the polls, the re-election of Grant would be a certainty.

GREELEY'S ACCEPTANCE.

On last Friday the Committee appointed by the Baltimore Convention to inform Horace Greeley of his nomination, called upon him in New York City. The speech of Mr. Doolittle notifying Greeley of the Baltimore nomination, was quite brief and formal, after which, he introduced the members of the Committee individually. Greeley spoke as follows:

I should need time were I to attempt to reply fully and to the point, and I need not say, gratifying communication. It may be that I should reply in writing, but as I have addressed a letter, which has been pretty widely considered, to the Liberal Republican Convention, it may not be necessary. I can only say now that I accept your nomination in the same spirit in which it is offered. [Cheers.] I am at present in a position which many doubtless regard as a proud one, but which is to me an embarrassing one, because it involves the temporary, and I trust but the temporary, annoyance of a misconception of my motives on the part of some of my valued and life-long friends. I am confident that time alone is necessary to vindicate my motives to all and to convince all, indeed, of the patriotism of the course I am pursuing and intended to pursue long before we are assured of so much co-operation and sympathy. [Cheers.] The time will come, I hope, in good opportunity, when the world will see that you are no less Democrats because you have pursued the course you have, and that I am no less a Republican because I accept your nomination. [Cheers.]

[Here Mr. Greeley's voice faltered with emotion. He recovered himself and continued.] I am not much in the habit of receiving nominations for the Presidency. [Great Laughter.] I am, in consequence, unable to reply as readily as others might. [Renewed Laughter.] I can only say that I will be happy to see all of you, or at least as many of you as can come, to my humble farmhouse, where I shall be to-morrow, and where I will be able to converse and confer more freely than here. If you come, I shall be happy to make you welcome to the best the farm can afford. [Laughter and cheers.] And so I simply bid you farewell.

MR. HELM'S POSITION.

As much speculation has been indulged in with regard to the position which Hon. Geo. R. Helm would occupy in the present political contest, he has felt constrained to publish the following card, which is sufficiently explicit to leave no doubt of his warm support of the Baltimore nominees:

"I abide by the action of the Baltimore Convention. I helped make that Convention, and recognize its binding authority upon me. Whatever I may have said or done, the fight will now be against public plunderers and a dishonest administration. I am willing to make sacrifices for the good of my country. Geo. R. Helm."

THE PACIFIC STATES.

Our neighbors over in Nevada are enthusiastic for Greeley. The Democrats and many Liberal Republicans are forming clubs and will certainly carry the State for the "Sage of Chappaqua" by a handsome majority. California will go the same way. Shall Oregon, which has heretofore been the most reliable Democratic State of the trio, be allowed to disgrace herself by giving a majority for the dog-fancier, Hiram U. Grant? We certainly think that every Democrat in the State would shrink from such a consummation.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—The Herald and Oregonian daily receive the same dispatches. On last Friday morning the Herald contained the following: "MEMPHIS, July 10.—The Appeal and Avalanche have suspended large Greeley flags across the street, and clubs are arranging for a ratification meeting."

Whereas, the Oregonian of the same date dished up the dispatch to its readers as follows: "MEMPHIS, July 10.—The Appeal and Avalanche have suspended large Greeley flags across the streets and clubs are arranging for a ratification meeting."

Now which is correct? Having for some time understood that the Appeal and Avalanche supported Greeley, we are of the opinion that the Oregonian has in this instance resorted to its old trick of garbling or changing the dispatches to suit its own purposes. "Such conduct as those" is meaner than stealing chestnuts from a blind sow.

WEeping JEREMIAH.—Captain Crandall, of the Statesman, permits his bowels to yearn with compassion for Mart Brown because he has to support Greeley, and he weeps copiously through the transparent columns of his paper. Captain, we thank thee. But permit us to suggest that if you have tears to shed it would be better to hold your watery valves intact until after the November election, when your lachrymose pheeelinks can have full sway, and you can wring your hands and fulminate your Jeremiaisms until your overcharged gizzard is fully relieved.

ILLINOIS.—The Democracy and Liberals have nominated a joint ticket in Illinois, and are confident of success. The Liberal movement in that State is headed by such distinguished Republicans as Senator Trumbull, Hon. Jno. Wentworth, Gov. Palmer and ex-Gov. Bross. That very able Republican paper, the Tribune, is striking sledghammer blows for Greeley, and predicts that he will carry Illinois by 40,000 majority.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Springfield, Vermont, has a club of 100 Greeley Republicans. The President accepted the nomination. When did the President ever decline anything?

The Oshkosh Times is confident Greeley will carry Wisconsin by a sweeping majority. A Scandinavian Greeley club is formed at St. Paul, and Minnesota is on fire for Greeley.

Five hundred Democrats dined with Horace Greeley at his Chappaque farm last Saturday. And now what are we coming to? George Francis Train was at the Baltimore Convention and will support Horace.

A correspondent of the Herald positively asserts that every Catholic paper in the Union except one supports Greeley. One-third of the Republicans of Orleans county, N. Y., are for Greeley. The same is said of Madison county, in that State.

Hon. M. H. Weir, of Indiana, claims that State for the Democracy in October by 20,000 majority. He was formerly a Radical. Wm. Eggleston, of Gibbs county, Va., writes that there will be no contest in Virginia, as the Liberal ticket will win by 30,000 majority or more. Greeley has a dead sure thing on election now, as he is getting a start in Yamhill, where several prominent Republicans have pronounced for him.

Several old line Republicans addressed a Greeley ratification meeting at San Jose, California, last Friday night. The wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The Quincy, (Ills) Herald says there is a club of 200 Greeley Republicans in that city; also 150 in Mt. Sterling, 200 in Jacksonville, 200 in Joliet, etc. etc.

The Oregonian sails into Forney because he won't support the Radical ticket in Pennsylvania. This looks a good deal like a saddle-bug bucking up to a camel. Henry Wilson, the nominee of the Grant office-holders party, is the same Henry Wilson that originated the know nothing party in New England, and was its chief head-center.

D. T. Wright, of Lewiston, Maine, says that all of the prominent Republicans of the extreme northern part of the United States will be sure to vote for Greeley and Brown. Gov. Bross, of Illinois, and Sam. Bowls, of the Springfield (Mass) Republicans—both of whom traveled over this coast in company with Colfax two years ago—are vigorous supporters of Greeley.

A South Carolina paper says: "If Raphael Semmes and Braxton Bragg can vote for Mr. Greeley, we cannot well perceive how any Southern man can see any insuperable objection to doing the same thing." The St. Louis Republican thinks that as far as Greeley's abuse of the Democracy in the past is concerned, our side has little to complain of; we have certainly abused him enough to fully balance the account.

J. F. Brown, of Washington, Iowa, writes that he is sure Greeley and Brown will carry that State. If this should come to pass in Radical Iowa we believe Grant won't carry a single State in the Union. How's that for high?

The Radicals are now patting Bragg Pomeroy affectionately on the back because he tried to get up a bolt at Baltimore. A few months ago these same Radicals called him the devil incarnate. "Politics make strange bedfellows."

Grant's emissaries sent large sums of money to Baltimore to secure a bolt in the National Democratic Convention, and the result was it was the most harmonious and unanimous National Convention ever held by the Democratic party.

The Examiner says General Joe Hooker had during "the late unpleasantness," a fine rate opportunity of forming a coalition of the great fighting-taker, and his estimation of that individual is not very flattering. He declares "Grant has no more moral sense than a dog."

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "There is not a single principle in the Cincinnati platform that has not been enunciated in every Democratic platform since its organization. The slavery question has been abandoned, and any old Democratic platform might readily be substituted for the Cincinnati platform."

Mrs. Flint, of Atchinson, Kansas, exclaims: "My country! oh, my beautiful country! Would I were a million of men, Horace Greeley should have every one of my votes!" There's a woman for you as is a woman.—The soul of a million of men vibrating in the body of a lovely jayhawker, and not to count. Something wrong somewhere.

Gov. Palmer, of Illinois, recently delivered a speech which contains many strong points. Among them the following: "Presidents and Governors are but the servants of the law. We have no master in this country, thank God, and I trust the time will never come when a Governor of Illinois will not say as a President, 'obey the law,' and as I am Governor of Illinois, whether any of its laws are violated by a President or anybody else, I will invoke the power of the State to punish them."

Mrs. DUNWAY got mad because Horace Greeley snubbed her and told her to "go West and settle," when she attempted to interview him a short time ago, and now she turns over to Grant, whom she only a few moons ago charged with being a beastial drunkard and a former promiscuous cohabiter with Indian squaws. If she can endorse a man who from her own testimony is guilty of these foul practices, we confess that the "woman movement" which she professes to champion has certainly fallen into questionable repute—to draw it very mild.

AND now the bolter's Convention which was threatened is busted for want of a head, Senator Bayard, the prime mover in it, having published a letter stating that he has concluded to support Greeley and Brown. Thus is our grand old party being cemented and crystallized for this new deal which is to relieve our country from its present ruinous managers, and inaugurate a system of political economy which will once more make America the glory and admiration of the world.

The Oregonian and Bulletin are spitting spitefully at each other, and calling hard names. Their fight seems to be over the question as to which of them contributed most to the late Republican victory in this State. This is the first time we have ever known any pretending ordinary intelligence to claim that it was anything other than Holladay's money which carried the State last year.

OUR Radical contemporaries gloat over the fact that the Mountaineer supports Grant and Wilson. As its editor has always been a Radical and supported every measure of his party by his vote and influence, this looks a good deal like the triumph of "the Dutch taking Holland." We would like to know what in blazes there is to blow about in the fact that a Radical supports Grant.

REPUBLICANS all at once pretend to be very solicitous for the time-honored principles of the Democratic party. All their real solicitude on this subject is occasioned by the certainty of Grant's defeat. Of course no Democrat is deceived by the shedding of so many crocodile tears on the part of these hypocritically lachrymose Republicans.

DAN VOORHEES, some time ago, in asserting that he would not support Greeley, said: "I would rather of a dark night risk the perilous edge of some Alpine precipice on top of a drunken mule." As the contest is now really between Greeley and a drunken mule we await patiently to see which of the two Daniel will straddle.

The Democratic party, to support Mr. Greeley for President, is not asked to give up any of its opinions which distinguished it as a party and which may be necessary to maintain its organization and principles. It is a portion of the Republican party that has come to them; not that they have given to the Republican party.—E. A. Pollard.

It is a good rule for Democrats to remember, in these days, "Find out what your antagonist wants you to do, and then don't do it." We observe that they are very anxious to have Democrats swear they won't go for Greeley. Of course Democrats will not gratify them by making any such assertions.

We predicted before the election that the great hue and cry about May's stealing was utterly false, and gotten up by the Democrats for political capital.—Jacksonville Sentinel.

And yet the Oregonian says it has no doubt of May's guilt. Quite a conflict of Republican authority here.

Now that Sam. May is acquitted by a "put up job," the Oregonian says there is no doubt of his guilt, but thinks that his acts ought to be regarded with great charity and lenity because it is natural for the poor fellow to do such "leedle dings!"

THE Democracy of Oregon would imprison Christ to carry an election.—Jacksonville Sentinel.

No, sir! We would be content with imprisoning the man who would try to subsidize Him, which the same it is Holladay.

NORTH CAROLINA holds her State election on the 1st of August. The Republicans carried by 9,845 last year, but it is confidently believed that the "Old North State" will wheel it to line for Democracy at the approaching election.

PACIFIC COASTERS.

Burgler's heaven.—Salem. Salem jail has a bridal chamber. California penches in Portland market.

Mrs. Danway is jawing in Frisco. Los Angeles revels in Spanish bull fights. Cuban insurrectionists have won a battle.

Washington Territory has 50 miles of railroad. Eastern Oregon claims a lake full of gold fish. Portland had a fresh case of small-pox last week.

Polk county has a female life insurance agent. Walls Walls is to have a young ladies' seminary. Ex. Gov. Stanley, of California, died last week.

The Veixtemp's Brothers are concertizing at Seattle. A patent bug buster is the latest Portland invention. Brazil has declared war against the Argentine Republic.

Hon. J. D. Fay has gone to Frisco. He is for Greeley. Portland is to have another school house at a cost of $14,148. Los Angeles is to have a Jewish synagogue costing $15,000.

Rev. Thos. Condon, of the Dalles, will orate at next State Fair. The political campaign has already opened up lively in California. Attorney General Williams has promised 1,000 offices in Oregon.

The Sound country is choking with smoke from fires in the mountains. Harry Pulley, of Utah, got tired of living with a courtesan and shot her. A Roseburg girl got her name in the paper by letting a cow run over her.

Fleas and bedbugs are the pestiferous nuisances of Jacksonvilleians now. A colored boy found a watery grave while bathing at Portland, last Tuesday. A young lady named Phillips, of Eugene, died with small-pox last week.

Boat riding by moonlight is what ails the Salem youngsters of all genders. Olympians saluted Greeley's nomination with 37 guns and wildest cheers. Breaking a blood vessel is what caused the instant death of Jas. Morris, of Salem.

Washington Pearce, a vagabond miner of Idaho, has fallen heir to $100,000,000. A Seattle man this year produced a strawberry measuring 7 inches in circumference.

Rev. H. H. Spaulding has in the past six years converted 526 Nez Perces Indians. Cold blueberry pie and a consequent stomach-ache is what ails the Oregonian local.

T. Patterson has resigned the office of State Printer and Eugene Semple is his successor. Multnomah county has a wedding every day this month. Whew! Go away, heatstroke!

The Roseburgers had a Greeley and Brown ratify, with anvils, last Saturday evening. Lane county received $500 for licenses last year. Linn received $600 from a similar source.

Two men were rendered toothless by a bomb bursting at Seattle on the 4th. They "gum it up." A new gold mine, estimated to be worth $5,000,000, has just been discovered near Echo, Utah.

The two Salem fire companies have bet $500 that each one of their engines is the biggest squirt. Gov. Grover, Judge Bonham, Dr. Belt, and Wm. Thompson, of Salem, are recreating at Fish Lake.

Three urchins of tender years are in the Portland jail for cutting off the eue of a heathen chinee. A party of Salomites have gone prospecting to Mt. Jefferson, where a rich placer mine is supposed to exist. Several hundred persons are now imitating Grant by loitering by the seaside on the Salmon River Beach.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Blended From the Telegraph. Friday, July 12. An anti-Greeley Convention is called to meet at Louisville, Ky., Sept. 3. Senator Bayard, of Delaware, is at the head of the movement. It will doubtless be weak affair.

Hon. Augustus Schell, has been chosen Secretary and Treasurer of the National Democratic Convention. The Chicago Times editorially announced its abhorrence of its former position, and declares that it will support Greeley, though it will work for the Liberal State ticket, and use similar expressions for Congressional representation.

The Chicago Tribune hails the result as a proud triumph of love of country over partisan prejudices and personal preferences, and declares it a final blow to the opposition. The nomination of Greeley and Brown is received at Louisville, Ky., by Democrats with general satisfaction.

The Democrats of St. Louis had an immense ratification to-night, and a vote of 100 guns was fired. Frank Blair said the Democrats had dignified themselves by the noblest sacrifice ever made. The acts of Grant had justified predictions made by the speaker in 1868. He was followed by Colonel H. W. Hatch, a Confederate officer.

A national salute was fired at Springfield, Ill., in honor of the nomination, and an impromptu ratification meeting here to-night, and was addressed by Senator Trumbull and others. An enthusiastic meeting was held in New Orleans, with a torchlight procession, music and addresses.

One hundred guns were fired at Leavenworth in honor of the nomination. A large ratification is in progress. The N. Y. Times of to-day says by the action at Baltimore, Greeley becomes the Democratic candidate, and that as such he should receive no Republican votes.

According to a Washington special dispatch Mr. Sumner yesterday promised the Committee of Liberal Republicans to give active aid to the Greeley ticket during the campaign. Ex-Vice President Breckinridge, who was in town yesterday, expressed himself in favor of Greeley.

Isabella Beecher Hooker, Susan B. Anthony and Laura De Force Gordon, in attendance on the Convention, hoping to obtain from the Democratic party a broader recognition of their right to vote than was given by the Republican Convention at Philadelphia, are very much disappointed by the utter rejection of their claims, and declare their intention of working for the Philadelphia platform and nominees.

Saturday, July 13. Patrick Morrison of Buffalo will be hanged for killing his mother. Six men killed by a railroad accident in New York. The cotton caterpillars are devastating the south.

A dispatch from Aden announces the arrival there of Stanley, the New York Herald correspondent, and says he starts for London to day in company with a son of Dr. Livingstone, bearing letters for the great explorer to the English government, as well as for the family and friend of Livingstone. Stanley says when he left the interior of Africa the Doctor was well, but had determined to proceed with his explorations, and will not return until he discovers the sources of the Nile.

Sunday, July 14. A crazy man killed his stepmother with a knife at Rochester, N. Y. Ex-Senator Doolittle this morning attended a Democratic meeting at Raleigh, North Carolina. Carl Schurz will speak at several points in North Carolina, before August.

Senator Bayard sails for Europe to-day for his health. In a letter, July 11th, he expresses his intention of supporting the Greeley ticket. The National Liberal Republican Committee met yesterday in New York and elected Ethan Allen as permanent Chairman and Jasper W. Johnson, of Oregon, as one of the Secretaries. A resolution passed recommending a union of Liberal Republican and Democratic in selecting State candidates. Carl Schurz and B. Gratz Brown were present. Some of the Committee will visit Chappaqua to-day.

Local politicians are very busy organizing campaign clubs in the different wards of New York City. Henry Wilson has gone to Long Branch on a visit to the President. By the explosion of the steam boiler of a thrashing machine at Freeburg, Illinois, on Friday, three men were killed and nine wounded. A boy was last night shot dead by a Memphis policeman for bathing in the river within the city limits. Gen. Sherman and Lieut. Freddy Grant were most egregiously snubbed by the people and nobility throughout Germany.

A man was hanged at Newcastle, Delaware, yesterday, for rape. The public schools of Patterson, New Jersey, have been closed on account of the prevalence of smallpox in the city. Monday, July 15. The President has pardoned S. F. Sherman, convicted of causing the death of Henrietta Potter, in Washington, by producing abortion. The Democratic Executive Committee and others, visited Horace Greeley, at his farm, to-day. A dinner was served at 1 P. M., after which Greeley addressed a few friendly words to the people assembled—about 500 in number. It was simply a social gathering. Short speeches were made by several Baltimore delegates. The affair was quiet; neither Doolittle nor Schell were present.

Four persons were burned to death at a destructive fire in Alpina, Michigan, yesterday. Tuesday, July 16. The Stokes jury could not agree, and were discharged. It is said that the first degree, and fine for acquittal, a move will be made to day to have Stokes hanged. The Herald's letters from Stanley give a history of the meeting with Dr. Livingstone, and letters on his account of his explorations. He says that Chamberle is on the headwaters of the Nile's sources. The Doctor tells of two countries through which the great river runs, and tells of ivory being so cheap and plentiful as to be used for door posts, and of skillful manufacturers of grass cloth, rivaling India. The people are nearly white, and extremely handsome, whom he supposes to be descendants of the ancient Egyptians. He also speaks of copper mines being worked for ages at Katang, and docile and friendly people. Dr. Livingstone and Stanley explored the head of Lake Tongoujika, and returned to Ujiji, where they spent Christmas. Stanley says they found Livingstone in a very destitute condition, having been robbed and deserted by his men. He looks to be only fifty, and is quite hearty. In March, 1872, he began to organize an expedition to explore a few doubtful points, which he thinks will take eighteen months, when he will return to England.

Wednesday, July 17. The New York papers denounce the Stokes trial as a farce. An unknown man threw himself on the railroad track before the cars and was torn to pieces. A high-toned youth of Cleveland has eloped to Europe with a "school marm," having forged his father's check for a large amount. The great race for the Saratoga cup takes place at Saratoga to-morrow. Pools there stand $700 for Longfellow to $200 on Harry Bassett; in this city, $160 to $35.

Thursday, July 18. The Herald's Boston special says there is not the slightest doubt but that Gen. Banks has determined to abandon the administration and array himself on the side of the Democracy and Liberal Republicans. The attendance at the races at Saratoga was very large, and the excitement over the Longfellow and Bassett race intense. Bassett beat Longfellow a length in 3:59. Rains have caused an overflow of the Alabama river and tributaries, tearing up the railroad track, destroying cotton, corn and crops to the value of two million dollars or more. Caterpillars are extending their ravages, and the ball worm has also appeared.

At Memphis there is much excitement over the report of the Grand Jury of the Criminal Court against William McLean, State and County Collector, charged with the defalcation of $100,000. The Sheriff is looking for McLean. Blanton Duncan, in a letter suggests holding a labor reform Convention at Louisville on the 3d of Sept., to which Horace H. Day replies he and his friends will do all they can to prepare the way for a union with all honest opponents of both Grant and Greeley.

One week ago Thos. Howland, of Henryville, Ind., was assaulted by his nephew, Samuel Howland, on account of an old grudge. Yesterday they met and Thomas shot Samuel in the abdomen. The latter emptied his revolver, killing Thomas instantly. Samuel's wounds are fatal. Both parties are well known and respected. The affair has created great excitement. The Democratic and Liberal Republican State Committees met in joint sessions at Springfield Ill. yesterday, and nominated a full electoral ticket, with ex-Gov. Bross as Republican and J. D. Cayton as Democratic electors at large.

The political campaign promises to be warm, both parties already are making appointments for great meetings in parts of the Northwest. ABOUT WOMEN. Abby Sage-Richardson is to open a bookstore in Chicago. Monsieur de Paris, the last public executioner of France, left his daughter four hundred thousand francs. The King and Queen of Saxony will celebrate their golden wedding in August. The wife of B. Gratz Brown, the Liberal candidate for Vice-President, is reported to be a handsome and winning lady. A couple of pretty and enterprising women have lately opened a fashionable tailoring establishment in Boston.

Researches in Chinese archives show that the architect who designed and the engineer who built the Great Wall were women. "Forever" in the rhetoric of a woman's affection, is a sentimental hyperbole meaning a period of exactly two months. When Tennie C. Claffin was married to James Barths, a fair banker, ten years ago, she was not more than twenty-five or thirty years of age. A colored Pennsylvania belle died last week from lead-poisoning, caused by her using a white cosmetic to tone down her complexion. A Jansenville, Ohio, woman has murdered her husband and varies from the deadly monotony of her tribe by wanting to be hung. Don't disappoint her.

A lady recently rode into the town of Consellton, Indiana, the wife of one man, and out the wife of another, being divorced, licensed and remarried all in one day. Savannah, Colorado, folks advertise that at coming entertainment, "Rebecca Spaulding, late of Boston, will dance a jig, with a glass of water on her head and one in either hand." An Iowa man couldn't see his wife die; not that he didn't enjoy the sight, but he feared she would exact a promise that he would not marry again. As it is he will re-wive.

There is a boot-black brigade in Boston made up girls. One of the rules of the association is that the young lady who shines for less than a dime does so at the penalty of losing her chignon. Madame Kibrilse Pascha, wife of the late Grand Vizier Kibrilse Mehemet Pascha, is on the point of bringing out an autobiographical work of interest to old and young. It is entitled "Thirty Years in the Harem."

Madam Oriedo, the New York belle, who, two years ago married the Cuban millionaire, who considerably died shortly after, now lives on a hundred thousand a year, and lays up seven hundred thousand dollars. "We will meet in Heaven, husband dear." Is the affectionate epitaph which an Ohio woman has had inscribed upon the tombstones of each of three departed husbands. "Trouble ahead in that family, certain."
