

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

A Democratic State Convention for the State of Oregon, is hereby called by the Democratic State Central Committee, to be held at Portland, Oregon, on the 21st day of January, A. D. 1874, at 10 o'clock, P. M. of the City of Portland, Oregon.

The apportionment of members of said Convention among the counties, is based upon the Democratic vote cast for John Burdett for Governor in 1872, as follows:

Table listing counties and their respective number of delegates: Baker, 1; Benton, 1; Clackamas, 1; Clatsop, 1; Columbia, 1; Coos, 1; Douglas, 1; Grant, 1; Jackson, 1; Joseph, 1; Lincoln, 1; Marion, 1; Multnomah, 1; Tillamook, 1; Washington, 1; Yamhill, 1.

It is expected by the Committee that there will be a large attendance at the Convention, and that it will be a most successful one.

W. L. WHITE, Secretary, State Central Committee, 123 W. Main St., Portland, Ore.

Geo. H. WILLIAMS cannot long remain in office as Attorney-General.

THERE is some talk among the Kentucky Democrats of running John C. Breckinridge for Congress.

The total value of the precious metals produced west of the Missouri during 1873 is estimated at $72,258,593.

Samuel A. Adams was recently granted a divorce by a Vermont court on account of the "intolerable severity of Sarah, his wife."

The girls of a Wisconsin town thoughtfully agreed to do no shopping after eight o'clock, so that he could come earlier and oftener.

A Chicago paper chronicled the election of officers of the St. Louis Board of Trade under the head of "Miscellaneous cruelties."

ARKANSAS knows it has one politician who is beyond suspicion, because the proof against him is too positive to admit a doubt.

A CULPIT in a Chicago police court began an address to the Justice with "Now, jest look 'er here, old Blinky, and get ten days for contempt."

Josh Billings says: "There aint anything that will completely ruin laziness, though a second wife has been known to hurry it some."

A REM stopped a train on a Pennsylvania railroad, her body striking the trigger that put on the air brakes, but she will never stop another.

Tux City Treasurer of the new city of Holyoke, swear to his oath of office: "And I swear that if I see any more stealing going on I will expose it."

Pools, chance tables, rouge-et-noir, and real estate raffles were part of the innocent amusements of a church fair just concluded at Burlington, Iowa.

In Richmond county, S. C., last year, 20,000 acres of land were forfeited for non-payment of taxes, more than a fifth of the total area of the county.

MISS BATES of Indianapolis has left $10,000 to the poor of that city. Her will is said to be unaccompanied by any written conditions or directions as to the distribution.

It is never polite to overstate the age of a lady. George Warwick did it in Cleveland, and is now in jail. He wanted to marry a girl of sixteen, and to get a license he swore she was twenty-one.

A TROU dancing party is to include a dozen from each of the churches in the city. They think that nobody will do wrong in such company, and that dancing will be immensely elevated in tone.

A balky horse in a double team may always be started by tying his tail to the whiffletree and starting the other horse. So said George M. Pullman, of Pullman car notoriety, some twenty years ago.

Tax Rev. Mr. Drake and his wife, of Lagrange county, Indiana, who died suddenly and were buried together a short time since, were poisoned by tearing green paper from the walls of a room preparatory to re-pairing.

By the annexation of Dorchester, Roxbury, West Roxbury, Brighton, and Charlestown, the Common Council of Boston is now composed of seventy-four members, and constitutes a body nearly twice as large as the Senate of Massachusetts.

A young man in Indiana sued his father for loaned money, which the father claims was his own property. The latter's counsel, in summing up the case of his client, remarked: "Twice has the prodigal returned to his father's house; twice has he been received with open arms; twice for him has the fatted calf been killed; and now he comes back and wants the old cow."

AN UNCORRUPTIBLE FOG.

The people, who are so earnestly laboring for reform, should not forget the character of the enemy with whom they are contending. Monopolies always attach to these services who are crafty, subtle and skilled in every art of cunning villainy. Such men, alone, are useful in the councils of those who worship at no other shrine than that of Mammon.

Those who aid the monopolist to carry out his designs in a frank, bold manner are simply dupes. The enemies of the reform the people are striving to inaugurate, therefore, be classed in three groups, viz: First, the monopolists, or to distinguish them by a more comprehensive title, the licensed, public marauders. Second—their satellites, the knaves; and third, the fools. Let us illustrate: Mr. Holladay, with his subsidized railroads, built with other people's money, personates the successful financial buccaner. Mr. John Hipple and the ring of brokers in Portland represent the sleek, foxey knaves, and every loud mouthed advocate and defender of these two classes, met with any where, may safely be ranked at the tail of the column as wanting both self respect and common sense.

This is the material of which the army opposing reform is composed. Like the hosts of Pharaoh they swarm on the people's track, and unless their progress is soon checked it will require an interposition as miraculous as the Red Sea deluge to preserve a single vestige of Republican freedom as it was understood when the government was under purer political rule.

We have cited the Ring of corruptors in Oregon as an example because our readers are acquainted with their disgraceful acts. The same class of men control every Department of the National Government. The fountain of public virtue is poisoned and the deadly virus permeates every channel of the National service. Those who should be the servants of the people have become their masters. Witness the refreshing boldness with which members of Congress declare the popular indignation, caused by the salary steal, only "the clamor of an irresponsible rabble." It is true that Congress has responded to that "clamor" by repealing the obnoxious law, but they made a clear profit of sixteen hundred thousand dollars in the transaction.

The boldness of Grant and his supporters in Washington has inspired the leaders of the Republican party everywhere with an audacity that was startling to the friends of free government were it not that their faith is still strong in the purpose and power of the people to redeem the honor of the nation, now tarnished by its highest representative.

CUT OFF HIS CONTINGENTS.

Since Congress has repealed the book pay steel, so far as it relates to themselves, it is surely only justice that the salary of the President should likewise be reduced to what it was before the grab; but if the loyalty of the Republicans in Congress will not permit them to do this, then let them, at least, go to work at the reduction of the President's "Contingent Fund," which Mr. Daves estimates to be $70,000 a year, and which is generally conceded to be as much as $50,000, thus making the President's actual pay nearly half a million for a term of four years. Let the other more remote perquisites of the Executive, not included in regular Contingent Fund, be subjected to an inspection, and when found unnecessary or excessive, let them be wiped out or cut down.

For instance, one of the President's military secretaries some months ago accepted a position in private life, and it was supposed that he had retired from public office. Now the statement is made that his resignation has never been accepted. It is the duty of Congress to ascertain whether he has drawn his pay as an army officer and military secretary. Another instance: Mr. Fred. Grant, a son of the President, held the rank of Lieutenant in the army. He is a recent graduate of the Military School and has never done any real service in the army. Yet he was given the rank and pay of Lieutenant Colonel on the pretence that Gen. Sheridan wanted him on his staff. Young Grant having been recalled to Washington on recruiting service, he is permitted to hold the rank and pay of Lieutenant Colonel. Let the work of reduction begin at the top by cutting off the useless and extravagant perquisites of the President's personal and official families. If the President is henceforth to receive $50,000 a year instead of $25,000, it is proper for Congress to inquire whether he cannot dispense with a large portion of the $70,000 a year appropriated for his "contingent" expenses.

HOW THE GRANGERS WORK.—An excellent illustration of the good effects of the Grangers' system, or organization is afforded by their reported action in Wisconsin, in foiling the plan of a ring of wheat operators. It appears that the ring, buying wheat to store in railroad elevators, determined to give no more than seventy-eight cents per bushel. Thereupon the Grangers promptly appointed men to travel through the county where this game was being played, in the vicinity of St. Croix, and whenever necessary compelled a farmer to sell, to pay him ninety cents per bushel. At once the speculators offered ninety-five cents, and their nefarious attempt to swindle the farmers out of about twenty per cent. of the value of their grain fell through hopelessly. No such corrupt practices can succeed where the combined strength of the Grangers can be brought to bear for the protection of the farmers.

COMMON SENSE.—An editorial article in the Oregonian of last Monday contained the following sentence: "We believe in addition to every war, peace on the subject of the civil war, for we have an army of men who are not to be despised by what they respectably demand to be noticed, and that our side was about as conscientious as the other's."

Now, we want to give the Oregonian credit for all the sincerity which it claims, but we can't help wondering why its editor wasn't thrust into Fort Alcazar or some other Federal battle during the war for entertaining secession sympathies, if the above were his sentiments then.—Well, the Oregonian takes a common sense view of this matter now, and it is a good indication of returning reason to the followers of Radicalism when one of their oldest journals dare acknowledge that the Southern people were conscientious in their rebellion.

GRANGE NEWS.

The Grangers' chorus: "Try-trial, Try-rund." Farmers' Granges are springing up all over Kentucky. Granges are being organized in Indiana at the rate of about twenty five a week. It is announced that the National Grange has $300,000 on deposit in New York. Tennessee has 215 Granges. Oregon and Washington now have about 90 Granges. The Iowa State Grange has $10,000 in its treasury, and an honest straggler at the door.

Granges composed wholly of colored persons are to be formed in Arkansas and Mississippi. The first lodge of Grangers was organized in Dakota Territory, at Bismarck, a short time since. John H. Smith, County Deputy, last Saturday week organized a Grange of 44 members, at Contra Grande House, six miles northeast of Harrisburg, with F. M. Kizer as Master and J. B. Wygle, Secretary. Judge Haley, Master of Peoria Grange, writes us that last Saturday his Grange conferred the fourth degree on a class of ten candidates, and partook of a "harvest feast," and had a good time generally. The Grange accepts of the agency of A. J. Dufur.

On the 29th ultimo Deputy Wm. Cyrus, assisted by R. A. Irvine, organized a Grange at the residence of Z. B. Moss, in Sweet Home Precinct, with Wm. Philpot as Master and Z. B. Moss as Secretary. This "Old Linn" has a Grange in almost every nook and corner of the county. The State Grange of Indiana has endeavored to fix the standard of just how much farming a man must do to be entitled to membership, and have finally decided that he should rely more upon the products of the farm for his income than any other occupation. It appears that this will be a difficult measure to determine, but the necessity for some rule seems so imperative that it is likely this will be generally approved.

The recent State Convention of the Farmers' Association of Illinois adopted the following preamble and resolution: Whereas, President Grant was guilty of using his official position to secure the passage of the infamous salary-grab law, and did, at the close of his first term, affix his signature to the same, thereby making it the law of the land; therefore, Resolved, That this convention of the farmers of Illinois, with sorrow, but in all candor, as in duty bound, do hereby express such degradation of the exalted position of president of these United States.

The following very important resolution explains itself: Whereas, Certain plow manufacturers in the State of Illinois have combined and resolved not to sell plows to farmers' clubs, Granges, or other Agricultural Societies, at less than retail prices, therefore, Resolved, That the Central Council of Patrons of Husbandry, for Linn county recommend to the Patrons of the State that they purchase no plow or other Agricultural Implement manufactured by these companies. Resolved, That the Williams Ferry and other papers friendly to the farmers' movement be requested to publish this resolution.

PACIFIC COASTERS.

A shipyard is being started at Astoria. Boise City now has a great religious revival. The Stockton mines excitement is increasing. Snow is a foot deep in the Klamath basin, and stock is dying. Counterfeit quarters and half-dollars are circulating in San Jose. Seventy-nine men are employed at the Gilroy Tobacco Factory. "My Mary Ann" is sunk in Clear Lake, Cal. She was a yacht. "Oriental Order of Humility" is the name of a new order at Denver. One Mrs. Wilkes is the pastora of a Unitarian Church in Colorado. The She-roosters hold a Convention at Portland to-day and to-morrow. The Astorian has been changed into a weekly paper with a patent outside.

The Watsonian murder case is again on trial at Fairfield, Solano county. No cattle have died this winter in Eastern Oregon from severity of weather. The Sacramento river, on the 20th, was nearly twenty feet above low-water mark. A Nevada editor wants "a new hell." Hadn't he better wait till he gets through with the old one? Clement Zeres, of Cal., fooled with a loaded gun. Only about half of his head was buried with the body. Salem is to have two more daily papers, one right away and the other by and by—just before the election. Eureka, Nevada, employs her convicted thieves and vagrants on the streets shoveling mud and snow. It took forty buses and two workmen to get a dry-horse out of the mud in Sacramento, the other day. Twenty-seven vessels have left Portland, Oregon, since the ice blockade's severance of which were for Europe. A Portland youth played with a can of powder. His mother only recognized him by a mole on his left knee.

Just as the steamer arrived at Portland last Tuesday a passenger named Moses B. Almy died suddenly of apoplexy. There are one hundred and twenty men residing in six counties in California who own over 3,140,000 acres of land. Tom Merry has recovered his health and come back to the editorial rudder of the Coos Bay News, whereto we are tickled. Storey county, Nevada, now has thirty-nine boarders—twenty-five in the County Hospital and fourteen in the County Jail. George A. Hinsdale, formerly Governor of Colorado, died recently in Pueblo, Col., and the People mourns all over for him. The winter term of the Baker City Academy closed on Friday, Jan. 30, having more scholars in attendance than ever before. Miss Corle Anderson is under arrest in Virginia City for biting a chunk out of a man's nose. She has queer taste, anyhow. Thos. Hart, aged 93 years, died in Polk county last week. He was an Oregon pioneer of '45, and was a soldier in the war of 1812. From Mount Lincoln, Colorado Territory, 200 peaks can be counted of 15,000 feet and over. The highest has an elevation of 14,200 feet. Gov. Grover delivered a lecture at Trinity Church, in Salem, last Tuesday evening. Subject: "Land and Labor in England"—Joseph Arch.

The population of Colorado is 100,000, half of whom would be willing to serve as Senators, if the Territory could be raised to the rank of a State. Hon A. J. Dufur, who has been appointed Grange Agent for the State, is opening his office at Portland and will be ready for business by March 1st. Steamers can at present navigate the San Joaquin without detention or interruption from shallow water, sand-bars or the roof of one-story houses. The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad has the grading of its road completed to the Huerfano river, and cars will probably be running to Trinidad by next May. Los Angeles county owes for gopher and squirrel traps the sum of $10,364, and yet the varmints are as thick as ever; 206,287 have been captured and scalped. The prospects for reaming work on an early day on the Salt Lake, Sevier Valley and Pioche Railroad are favorable, arrangement having been made for a supply of iron. James Hendricks has had two dwellings on Kiekkitt Prairie, W. T., with all the contents, burned within a few days past. It is pretty well ascertained that the incendiaries were Indians.

The Sioux Indians in Dakota, under Sitting Bull, lately received from their agent several hundred sacks of flour, which they threw in the river. They were angry because they didn't get more. A man in Idaho fed a fine blooded pig wheat milk last week, and in two hours afterwards it died. Hereafter, he will feed his root milk to pigs, and the sweet to sewing machine and book agents. The Santa Cruz Narrow Gauge Company made a great deal of old pans about its not employing, or allowing contractors with it to employ moon-eyed innocents. But they have arrived—only sixty in one batch—that's all. And what is more astonishing, they were landed in Santa Cruz by daylight. Hon. J. L. Pennington, the present Governor of Dakota, was an office boy in the old Raleigh Star office thirty-three years ago. Ex-Governor Holden was foreman in the office at the time. An old man named Martin, while being hanged for murder, at Martinez, Cal., last week, had his head jerked from his body by the fall of the "drop." The head rolled several yards from the lifeless body. Placerville, El Dorado county, has a water-power sausage machine, capable of grinding out these conundrums at the rate of 56 pounds in twenty minutes. That town is surely a sickly place for dogs. A petition is being circulated in Eastern Oregon for the establishment of a tri-weekly mail route between Baker City and Canyon City, via Auburn and Prairie City. It will supply a large scope of country. A truckee man tried to pass off a number of copper for gold slugs. The first man he tried the dodge on larnped him so badly that he won't be able to do any more business in his peculiar line for some time.

The Supreme Court, in the case of the State of Oregon vs. C. G. Glass, has affirmed the verdict of the Circuit Court, and consequently the defendant is compelled to serve out his sentence, unless relieved by the Governor. A large number of cattle in Honey Lake and Big Valleys, Nevada, are dying from starvation. Cold weather and the deep snow in those valleys is the cause of it. Many of the ranchers are killing their cattle to save their hides. The people of Pleasanton, California, have plenty of water but no bread to eat on it. They are on short allowance of bread, high water in the creeks and bad roads cutting them off from communication with the outside world. Eugene Barrett, the Atlantic and Pacific telegraph operator at Astoria, shot himself through the heart Wednesday night. It is supposed that it was done accidentally, as no one was in the room at the time and the pistol was found lying by his side. At Auburn, Placer county, on the 13th instant, George Tracy was tried for burglary. The jury failed to agree, eleven standing for conviction and one for acquittal, and were discharged, after which the attorney for the defendant withdrew the plea of not guilty as a concession in the indictment. F. F. Gallardo, formerly of Inyo county, has preferred charges before the Supreme Court against Patrick Reddy, for conduct unbecoming a member of the bar, in having attempted to bribe a Justice of the Peace, and also charged complaint to fight a duel. The Court took Gallardo's application under advisement. M. Jos. Dohly, of Rye Valley, informs the Baker City Democrat that Franks & Co. are taking out mighty rich quartz rock from their ledge. The snow in the valley is from twelve to eighteen inches deep, and on the surrounding mountains from two to four feet deep. Present appearances indicate plenty of water and a good mining season in Rye Valley and surrounding mining camps. The health of the valley is good.

M. Buffett has been re-elected President of the French Assembly. It is reported that Mr. Gladstone has sent his resignation to the Queen. Dispatches from Peking report that the cholera is decreasing in Achen. Edw. Booth, the actor, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Among the secured liabilities is a claim on Oakes Ames' estate for $100,000. By a collision on the Great Western Railroad, near West Drayton Station (England), on the evening of the 6th, several persons were killed and many wounded. John W. Davis was hanged at Westminster (Md.), and Wm. H. McCotter, at Cambridge in the same State, on the 6th; the former for the murder of Abraham Linn, and the latter for the murder of Robert Insley. According to the latest dispatch, 484 members of Parliament were returned, of whom 225 are Conservatives and 259 Liberals. The Conservatives replace 71 Liberals, and the latter have ousted 27 Conservatives. A Philadelphia dispatch of the 6th says: Wool is advancing, with a direct tendency. Stockmarkets. Col. on 1/2 washed, 27@30; unwashed, 23@25; extra and medium pulled, 45@50; No 1 and superfine pulled, 45@50; Texas fine and medium, 27@30; Texas coarse, 23@25; per pound. A Washington special says that members of the Senate Judiciary Committee are disinclined to give out for publication a letter which Attorney General Williams has written to the committee complaining about the inquisitive nature of the investigation made into his character and acts while his nomination for Chief Justice was pending. Mr. Williams is understood to be willing to let his letter get into print, but the committee, whom it pretty sharply criticises, deem it a confidential communication and prefer to keep its exact contents secret. The House Committee on Appropriations have been confirmed in their conclusion that the present force of the army is larger than accor-
