HARRIAGE UNDER DIFFICULTIES. Impecanious Speciers - An obdurate Jus-tice - A plusky lover - Remantic Denous-

We have just heard of the sternest and most obdurate country 'Squire extant. He lives and moves and has his being and office in a certain Prehis being and office in a certain Pre-cinct of this county; and last week there appeared before him a blushing couple on matrimony intent and ask-ed him to tile the knot—the expectant.

She threw to the roses a rise. ed him to the the knot-the expectant bridegroom producing the requisite Clerk. But the 'Squire, who says he has been bilked several times by impecunious candidates for matrimonyasked the impatient lover to first de-posit some metallic substance in his alm as a guaranty that the spondulicks would be forthcoming after the ceremony; when, lo and behold, the younker confessed that he didn't have a blarsted red—having paid his last ducat for the license. Mr. 'Squire,' without more ado, told him to go to work and earn the money to pay for the ceremony and then come back and he would splice them! The young man demurred, saying he didn't know where to go for work, when the sturdy him a lob of cutting wood until suffipy couple are in the midst of their
