P. H. RAYMOND, P. M.

From the EVENING DEMOCRAT, Jan. 13.
HOME AND ABROAD.

Weather too good to talk about.

Peace between Portland and Astoria has been raised to $2.

If friendship is illus, why shouldn't neutrality be better?

Anybody can do it—especially weather of anything we're not used to.

First thing I did was to get the season arrived yesterday morning.

Hon. R. B. Hinman, ex-Congressman, arrived in the city from California today.

An awful wicked man! Third street has just named his baby daughter Helen g-direc.

Twenty-three dollars in coin was stolen from Wells, Fargo & Co's office, Rosenberg, yesterday.

J. K. Morrison, who passed last Sabbath in Portland, reports the Y. M. C. A. of that city in a flourishing condition.

One of the boys in this office had his washing returned on Saturday with his stockings snatched. And now he wants to interview a Chapman.

The 17 young men that "swore off" positive New Year's day, are now industriously engaged in learning the mysteries of "up" with a "ben" padre in it.

"I stoop to conquer!" exclaimed a Gospel Ridge damsel. "Look at them! are pin-back, and then talk to us about stooping, you North American galoot!"

A beautiful poem, an answer to Sam's "Game of Life" appears in the December number of the Pen and Plow, from the pen of Mrs. S. A. Clark, of Salem.

Mr. S. L. Woss, late assistant Light House Keeper of the Light Cape Disappointment has been appointed keeper of the light at Cape Foulweather via F. L. Crosby perempted.

A corpulent German lady got on the train at Salem last evening, and accused the conductor thusly: "Master Shantz, I want to get out, foolish Albany. Mind the door."

"Cussed if the thing ain't a goin'," was the "quid" remark of a slighter stranger from the country who had caused the teeth of a circular saw in one of our planing mills.

This is the kind of weather that makes the average pedo sharp; with that he had bought a pair of wooden drawers with that he spent last summer playing his favorite game.

We said last week Johnny Morris, of Seilo, was the happy parent of twins, but have since been informed that they are only one of it. But that is close enough for an editor to come at the facts in such a case.

FROM THE EVENING DEMOCRAT, Jan. 13.
HOME AND ABROAD.

The Dixie school numbers 67 scholars. Buyers are paying $25 cents for wheat today.

Arrangements for the masquerade ball progress.

The roads in Benton county are "delightfully horrid."

Let me say of a "gall-edged" man escape, is the latest way to say it.

Parties intending to build this season are speaking for the lumber.

Gads, don't forget that this is leap year. Take out your man and lay for him.

Take a little wine for the stomach's sake. Major George Weller keeps all kinds.

It is suicide in the third degree to get up such mornings as these in a cold room.

Now is the time to have your pictures taken, and A. R. Paxton is the man to take them.

The top articles in the "commissary" directory kept at the Oriental Wine rooms.

W. R. Paxton & Co. are preparing to keep Eastern port-wine, picnics and literary papers.

The thermometer at Dr. Plummer's stood Jan. 11, at 7 A. M., 37°, at 72 m., 40°, at 6 p. m., 39°.

Oysters in every style with coffee or clams, also accompaniments at Schaefer & Miller's, First street.

All the stylized hats you see on First street came from Mrs. S. A. Johns' establishment on Broadalbin street.

"Go away, as I'll break your wing," is the very first. Received by telegram at a late hour last night.

The first poem Joaquin Miller ever published was printed in the Star Rights DEMOCRAT in this city.

The consumers of the Palace Oyster Rooms were regaled this morning with a nice lay out of Rock Oysters.

Young men should begin to stand in tubs of water two hours each day, to stretch their boots for the masquerade.

The roads in Benton county for teams.

"Are not passable, and hardly passable."

Farmers are reminded that they are subject to a penalty for letting their animals to any shade tree or awning post with the city limits.

The Salem Statesman cautions its readers against burglars, and a Polk County man cautions burglars against Salem. He says that the place don't pay it cents to a man.

The most puzzling thing about a Portland editor's scissors is the antipathy existing between that useful article and the halos usually found at the bottom of a paragraph.

THE NEW ORDINANCE.

A petition signed by $2,450 residents of the EVENING DEMOCRAT was received at this office at a late hour last night, praying us to insert a copy of the "New Ordinance" that passed the first and second reading at the meeting of the Common Council last Tuesday night. Being of an obliging turn of mind and being always ready to gratify the wish of even a few of our readers, we proceed to publish. The document reads as follows:

BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ALBANY, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1st. That it is, and hereafter shall be unlawful for the owners of any such domestic fowls as chickens or turkeys to allow the same to run at large or to enter the garden or enclosure of another within the city limits of the City of Albany.

Section 2d. That if the owner or keeper of any such domestic fowls named in Section 1st above, fails to provide for the same, or provides and keeps in repair a safe enclosure for such fowls and keep them safe, or to enter the premises of the contractor, who paid the amount for rent, to whom the owner or keeper of such domestic fowls shall have no right of action against the person or persons so responsible upon recovery of such fowls as are captured or killed, nor for damages for the capture, killing or conversion of such fowls so taken, captured or killed.

Section 3d.—That this Ordinance shall affect and be in force from and after the 1st day of February, A. D. 1876.

Mrs. KIRKINGER.—Mrs. K. stood in the door and looked long and anxiously down Fifth street, but the many and majestic form of her darling Kirby appeared not in sight. The fire burned low; the bread was running over the sides of the pan and there was no wood. Silently she glided to the wood pile; placed a stick of wood in the way she had seen her beloved Kirby do; grabbed the axe and struck a ferocious blow. Sad to relate, Mrs. K. misjudged the distance; the edge of the axe slid along the stick, and the end of the handle struck her where the skirt and waist of her dress was joined together. The axe fell from her grasp and Mrs. K. bowed her head in prayer for her darling Kirby, who at that moment was seated near the bar-room stove and had just remarked to old man Ferguson that Mrs. K. was "one woman in a thousand."

NOR COMING.—The splendid Opera Troupe that has been delighting the citizens of Portland and Salem during the past few days are not coming to our city. The reason is simply because our city has no Opera House or hall suitable for their appearance: Albany of course cannot be expected to have the pleasure of witnessing such entertainments until a comfortable and suitable hall is built to give them in. We expect to be able to announce in a few days the formation of the New Opera House Company.

FRURY TEETER.

A FACT.—A merchant had just as well expect to get rich by closing his doors and keeping his goods concealed from public view, as to hope to succeed in business without advertising while his contemporaries are continually exhibiting their stocks to the public gaze and inviting calls from purchasers. It is just as natural for the subscribers of newspapers to buy from those who advertise in it as it is for children to follow soldiers on parade. The simple fact of seeing certain goods published morning after morning, has an irresistible attraction that will fasten itself upon the mind and never fails to guide each reader to the very store at which his or her wants can be at once supplied. Every merchant of common sense knows it to be so; and yet many of them fail to resort to the very method to make sales which is used to induce them to make purchases.

EDUCATIONAL MONTHLY.—The first number of this new candidate in the newspaper field has been received. It is a 12 page paper neatly printed on book paper by W. P. Keady of Salem and edited by Professor J. T. Gregg Superintendent of the Salem City schools. The number before us is valuable as a statistical record of school matters in the State; the articles are well selected and the editorials well written.

SCHOOL DIRECTOR.—At a meeting of the Board of Education held on the 1st of January, Mr. F. L. Crosby who passed through the city yesterday informs that the apparatus for saving life is en route to the Bay and he expects by the first of February to have every thing ready in case of accident.

A QUARTER CLOTH.—The steamer Bonanza, Captain Tacklebury, left here Sunday morning with a full cargo of wheat, ran to Oregon City, discharged her load and was here on the return trip last night at 6 o'clock. She left here this morning for Monroe, where she will take on a full load and be down in time to "lie" out for Portland early to-morrow morning.

A MAN MAX.—There is a man living in the Dixie precinct (well off) that is too penurious to take the EVENING DEMOCRAT. He is constantly borrowing his neighbor's complaining of hard times and finds more fault with the paper than all the other subscribers in the city put together, who take and pay for the same.

DIRECTORS ELECTED.—The following Directors were last night elected at the meeting of the stockholders of the Albany Library Association: M. V. Brown, N. B. Humphrey, J. W. Baldwin, Frank Parson, G. E. Weller. The Directors will meet to-morrow evening at half past six at Capt. Humphrey's law office.

It took a party who arrived here yesterday, 7 days to come from Yuma Bay to this city (180 miles). Too much Oregon mud to contend with.

Lyon's handmade gloves imposed a debt from the factory for sale at Chard's at Grainger prices. He also has a large stock of ladies winter hats.

PERSONAL.—Hon. R. P. Willoughby, of the Dixie school numbers 67 scholars, organized a lodge of Good Templars on Camp Creek, Lane county, with 25 charter members. The following officers were installed: James Campbell, W. G. C.; Adam Ritchy, W. S. T. Dunton, W. W. C. T.; G. H. Hamner, Deputy Lodge.

NOTICE.—Dr. Ballard, of Lebanon, left today for San Francisco, with his usual intent, to be absent about one month. His patients and the public interest, will therefore accept this as a notification of his absence from his practice.

OXFORD FOREVER.—This beautiful bright, invigorating weather makes a finer feel as pert, sunny and wide awake as a boy peeping through a key hole to see his father kiss the school matron.

A large lot of lime and salt is now in store at E. Cheadle's Cash Store, and can be had cheap.

SHOULD'NT ALBANY HAVE A TAX?

REGULAR RACING.

PRESENT.—H. S. Hume, Mayor N. V. R. Humprey, Auditor, M. A. Baker, Marshall, F. M. Westfall, Councilman Baum, Gray, Harris, McCoy, Parish, Ralston.

A petition was received from Linn County Co. No. 3, asking for a loan of $1000 from the city, etc. An ordinance was prepared in accordance with above petition, and read first and second time and referred.

A petition from J. W. Baldwin, Geo. R. Helm, W. B. Barr and others, was presented asking for an ordinance to have brood-ies of chickens and turkeys (not especially chickens) kept their fowls in an enclosure

so as to prevent them from destroying the gardens of their neighbors, etc. An ordinance was adopted in accordance with the
