OREGON WAR DEST.

The commission appointed to audi the Oregon and Washington war debi reported about six millions due. Afterward Congress appropriated $2,800, 000 to pay a little less than fifty cents on the dollar. About two-thirds of the owners were readily found, and their money paid them. But the remaining third were scattered from British America to Mexico, and from China to Western Europe, many of whom despaired of ever receiving their pay, (the government being so very slow), and have not up to this day. Their whereabouts is desired. Several bills have been introduced to pay the remainder of the amount awarded, and other amounts growing out of said war which are just
