Rights State Democrat.

SUPPLEMENT.

LATEST NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH TO DATE.

The president attends the races daily Helen M. Slocum, the well known public speaker and woman's suffrage leader is dead.

Among the subscriptions received by Treasurer Gilfillan for the Garfield me- City, ten at Glendive, and several at tion, nor tell anything about it, nor window. morial hospital are $3,352 contributed in | Bismarck. London and Paris,

The Mansion house Jewish relief fund has reached £52,000. The committee kin, Pa., on the 20th, causing instant dispatch 600 refugees to America weekly | death to three men and fatal injury to at a cost of £1500.

Business statistics gathered from all caused in part by a backward spring. The postmaster general has left Washington for a brief visit to Wisconsin.

While west he will arrange for putting on a fast mail train from Chicago west. It is said that a syndicate has been formed by Jay Gould, Biaine and others to build a new road from Baltimore and Cincinnati on the south side, to cost without serious trouble.

A Washington special says: The largest contribution through the American association of the Red Cross for Missisnext largest from Chas. S. Neal secretary of the San Francisco stock and exchange board.

An Inter Ocean Sandwich, Ill., special says: Mrs. J. A. Lay died there on the 19th, having fasted four weeks. She lalored under the delusion she was enciente, and that if she fasted till the child's birth, which she believed would occur in a few days, her offspring would be a second prophet Elijah. A post complete illusion.

The tanners' strike continues in Chicago and is assuming the form of a lockout. Employers threaten to put in machinery and dispense with manual labor altogether. It is now stated that on the 13th employers met and agreed to stand by each other and all stop work in case of a strike in some of the houses and discharge all the men. About 800 are

The first meeting of trustees of the John F. Slater fund for education of colored people of the south was held in New York on the 18th. Among those present were ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes, Chief Justice Waite and Gov. Colquit of Georgia. The charter granted by the state was read and adopted. The board temporarily organized for its work by appointing committees.

Fort Madison special: The jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree against Polk, Wells and Cook, who murdered the jail guard, and a verdict of murder in the Second degree against Fitzgerald, who was an accomplice. The trial has been the shortest on record, lasting only two days. Wells and Cook are to be imprisoned for life, and Fitzgerald's sentence will be determined by the judge.

The damage done by the anti-Jewish movement, including houses, breadstuffs and other property destroyed, and money taken away by emigration of Jews, amounts to $110,000,000 all lost to Russia. To this must be added the losses resulting from preventing labor and profit, not only of Jews, but others during the riots and from stagnation of trade generally, which would increase the total by many more millions.

A Pittsburg dispatch of the 21st says: Some railroad coal miners of this disdistrict recently struck against a reducare not discharged by June 1st. At present the strike effects 2000 miners, but if it extends to all the mines, as threatened, 12,000 men will be thrown punishment also. There is much excite- and apparently before the old servant

The Times recently announced the incorporation in New York of the North 20th says: Littleton Younger, uncle of strong-featured woman, with iron-gray American Silk Exchange for the purpose | the notorious Younger brothers, three of | hair, in a beautifully flowered dress that | like regular trumps. How I did fool of stimulating silk culture in this country. To this end they are now negotiating for 350 acres of land on Long Island in the Northfield bank plaid. A bounct of the shape called for Dot; she'd seen the rigging up in the of stimulating silk culture in this coun- whom are now confined in the Stillwater, a bulging hoop-skirt showed to advanof mulberry trees, and for 2000 acres of for Oregon in twenty days and would dangled a thick veil. She wore gray all out. Oh, dear, its the best fun I've land in Kentucky, which they propose to take his nephew with him. For fourteen cotton gloves, and one hand firmly and produce cocoons. It is said anybody having spent $20,000, as he claims, going and common from top to toe. She can raise worms and children can realize about the country and endeavoring to peered at the group through her steel- scamp persisted in wearing his outrage- samuch from their culture as the same secure sympathy and aid in his purpose. bowed spectacles, and tucking her um- ous get-up all the rest of the evening,

East Chestnut street in Leadville on the 19th and before it was under control had destroyed the buildings on that side east of the First National bank for nearly a block, including Windsor hotel, Academy of Music and the Palace of Fashion, a of Music and the Palace of Fashion and the Pal large dry goods house. The front of the receiver. Suspension is considered due warmly, and led the lady to a chair, Worth, and who will be somewhat as. At the last moment, as Mmc. Ancelin was buildings on the opposite side of the to lack of business since resumption, as street were charred. Loss about $200,- public confidence was not great enough say that she was welcome, but he tried this sketch, for her maiden name was 000; partly covered by insurance. It is to warrant any large dealings with the to make her feel as if she were. Mrs. Jerusha Hevington. supposed to be the work of incendiarism. | concern. The immediate cause of sus One dead unidentified body was found pension of the bank was the maturing of down beside her, asked some friendly and it is supposed that other lives were $500,000 on the 20th, which the bank was questions about the journey; and the lost, as some of the occupants are miss- unable to pay, and which went to pro- girls, a little conscience-smitten, offered

The war department has the following: be paid in full, but the original stockholders will have their investment of thank yer—I've got to go and see about A Fort Leavenworth dispatch of the 18th says: The following telegram just received shows the situation at Mescaleros

JOSEPH POPE, General Com'dg.

The grand jury has returned new preto defraud the United States in connec- broken musket stock. tion with the award of star route contracts. Four allegations of overt acts committed outside the statute of limita-1 tions have been omitted and twelve new overt acts been inserted, the acts being, making fraudulent claims against the government, based on fraudulent allow-government, based on fraudulent allow-government, based by Brady. A states were in the form of patent median awful drought up in their place, while an awful silence fell upon the rest. ance for increase allowed by Brady. A cines. ance for increase allowed by Brady. A number of letters and petitions are incorporated, and finally the data of the corporate being made the girls start and ferviently hope that it was not Mr. Persons on the street below have a spracy is brought forward to may 23. The court issued warrants for the arrest of defendants returnable on the 23d.

Incoman to kill him. The officer despectate dress are of vertet of such and finally. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The color dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The dark blue percale dress are of vertet of sale who have lost their vitality. The sale wh

The Northern Pacific road is about to run Pullman cars between St. Paul and Males City.

S. R. Ainslie has been appointed sup erintendent of the Yellowstone division which will be open the 1st of June. Smallpox has been introduced along the Missouri and Yellowstone by immigrants. There are six cases at Miles the Buckenridge colliery, near Shamo- only intend to relate an incident that Business statistics gathered from all parts of the country show a rather unsatisfactory condition of trade, probably books of ex-state treasurer, new Gov-little girl. erpor, Churchill for the past fourteen months filed a report on the 20th. The deficit foots up $114,829. Jerry Hartigan, a noted 4th and 6th ward gambler and politician, was stabled probably fatally, in front of his rum shop in the Bowery on the 20th. The mur-derer, who was captured, said he was out to have some fun and he had had it. The coal companies at Cumberland delphia on the 21st between Dennis Murpropose to end the strike by putting new | phy and Louis Rheal, the latter winning men in the mines. Three thousand old in thirteen rounds, which occupied miners have been idle ten months and twenty-six minutes. The defeated man they are not likely to submit to this had his nose broken and face bruised into raw meat, and was taken home in a

A Cincinnati dispatch of the 21st says: In his morning sermon Bishop Gilmour denounced the women of his congrega- Mr. Fenton. sippi valley relief work was from Newton denounced the women of his congregation for identifying themselves with the ladies' land league. The latter organization at its afterpoon meeting hotly denounced the attack made upon its mem-

> Justice James has announced the decision of court in banc upon the exceptions in the Guiteau case, denying a new trial and affirming the judgment of the court below. Justice Hagner, in a separate district. Judge Carter stated that the opinions given were the unanimous opin-booms Monday, protected by 80 of Pinkerton's force. Nevertheless a collision is feared, as the strikers have been idle so long and have become destitute and correspondingly desperate. A collision did occur yesterday and several broken heads resulted therefrom.

A Pittsburg dispatch of the 21st says: Intense excitement prevailed at the oil exchange this morning. Exaggerated reports of the capacity of the big strike at Warren were received, and fluctuations of quotations were frequent and quite large. The opening price was 65, but the market quickly jumped to 69 and then back again to 66, closing at noon at 66% bid. Sales at the morning session aggregated 750,000.

The Tribune of the 20th says: Yesterday there was received in this city a consignment of twenty-five cars of wheat from St. Louis, to be inspected here and shipped hence by lake to New York. Another consignment of the same number of cars of wheat from the same place, having the same destination, will arrive this morning. It would seem that river barges are not running, or that the water in the jetties is insufficient, or that it is at least understood at St. Louis that the natural as well as the cheapest route for wheat to market is through Chicago.

There are new and startling developments in the McMenormon fratricide. twelve miles west of Muscatine, Io. The girl Mary, who on the 20th declared she shot her father in self-defense, and her brother and elder sister are here in jail. Mabel. The Daily Journal has a full confession from the girls, showing the murder was Florence. committed by a brother in order that the tion in wages and colored men were im children might have things their own ported in their places. Miners in thirty- way at home, and that it was arranged three pits to-day resolved to continue the that the youngest sister should acknowlstrike and stop all work if the negroes edge the shooting with the idea that the plea of self-defense and her extreme youth would save her from punishment, and thus her sister and brother escape

> A dispatch from Kansas City of the "walk right into" the parlor-a tall, with: menths this uncle and a sister have been grasped a lumpy carpet bag, the other a striving to secure a pardon for the boys, fat umbrella. She looked comfortable which suspended some months ago, but ington-yer cousin, Jerusha Heving- affectionate farewell, assuring him that test. It is understood all deposits will

$2,000,000 wiped out. Two tribes of Alaskan Indians, the agency to be much the same only worse Auks and Stickeens, had a difficulty I told him I was one of your folks—he than it was with Chevennes. The Mes- some time ago, and the Stickeens got the caleros must be fed or they will starve, best of the fight, and last week the Auks The Indian bureau, it appears, cannot thought it was a good time to get even, feed them and the army must, therefore and they were all camped close to town feed them. A heavy military force must on the west side, and some few Stickeens be placed around them to make them camped on the east side of the town. The starve peacefully. There is time yet to Auks captured a woman belonging to the provide for them, but it cannot safely be Stickeens, and were going to burn her at postponed. It should be attended to at a stake, but she made her escape and came to town to secure protection from the miners. The Auks came and made a demand for the woman, but the miners would not give her up. The Auks consentments against Gen. Thomas Brady, cluded to take her by force, but three John W. Dorsey, Stephen W. Dorsey, Mountfort C. Keredell, Henry M. Turney, J. R. Minor, J. M. Peck and Harry out of town. The only damage done was the dislocation of an Indian's jaw and a

Lancet to have said that "two-thirds of ton looked annoyed; but Miss Jerusha, the price of land."

THE KIR IT AND THE LAST OF BER.

They were all enjoying the breeze that Philadelphia, and -I am almost afraid to say this-it was the Centennial time. But don't be alarmed, my reader; I am not going to describe the Great Exposishall I give any information concerning An explosion of sulphur occurred in | 76 of either this or the last century.

happened to take place then and there. group. The people enjoying the breeze were a family by the name of Fenton, and con-

Mrs. Fenton had just been saying that she supposed they would soon be overrun with visitors coming to spend a few days and see the Centennial.

'Well, let them come!" said Mr. Fenton, heartily, as he turned his paper inside out. "I don't know one that I wouldn't be glad to see." "Nor I," returned Mrs. Fenton. "I am always so thankful that we needn't be ashamed of any of our relations. There's sister Kate!-who could be more delightful than she is?" "Oh, Aunt Kate is perfectly splended!"

chorused the young people.
"And there's Uncle Phil and Aunt Emily," said Mabel, the eldest girl. "And Cousin Joe and his wife," added Florence, the second daughter. "And John and his family." put

"Oh! if you go counting up, you'll never get through," said Tom, the son and heir. "But I say! haven't we any objectionable connections at all? Isn't there some old duffer who will turn up knew the meaning of purgatory now. at the wrong moment?"

"I haven't any," said Mr. Fenton.
"No-o-o," said Mrs. Fenton, rubbing her forehead thoughtfully. "Stop! I think I remember one. Of course opinion, discussed the bearing of the old | Cousin Jerusha! I wonder I didn't Maryland act of 1875, an indictment un- think before. But I don't know that she der which would have been good in this is objectionable; the fact is, I don't know niece of grandfather's, and is an old war in the back parlor. A dispatch of the 21st says: One hun- maid; at least she ought to be if she isn't dred and ten Canadians arrived at Mus- married or dead. Her name is Hevingthought it such a pity to spoil such a fine name as Hevington with Jerusha. I ing at their mother in blank silence ever since she had mentioned this unpleasant relation; Tom had gone off in a fit of laughter; so that Mr. Fenton was the who'd go to prayer-meetin' with him. only one who spoke:

Well, if she comes, all we can do is well as we know how."

"Oh, of course," said Mrs. Fenton. Tom here looked at his watch, and started up, exclaiming that he should be late, be had an appointment, and bolted off, promising to be home early. Then Mr. Fenton settled down for a nap; Mrs. Fenton buried herself in Lorna Doone; and the girls yawned over their Japanese canvas, fearing a dull evening. The air gently fluttered the lace curthe many-globed chandalier upon the fresh white matting, the linen-draped furniture, the pictures and statuettes. the three ladies in their pretty evening dresses, and the old gentleman snoring away behind his newspaper; all was as quiet as quiet could be, when a violent jump out of their skins.

'Who on earth is that?" asked Mr. Fenton, bouncing up. Mrs. Fenton dropped her book and gave a scared look into the hall. "I suppose it's Mr. Vanderpool," said

"Oh no, he never rings like that," said Their old colored waiter had opened the door by this time, and a loud voice was heard inquiring, "Does Mr. Fenton -Mr. Samuel Fenton-live here?"

"Yes, m'am, he does," old James answered respectfully. "Wa'al, hen, I guess I'll walk right in; I seen the folks through the winder;" a wondrous difference.

Fenton then came forward, and sitting to take her things.

"Wa'al, I guess I won't just now, my trunk in a minute; I hed it left in a grocery store jest around the corner. The young man was awful pleasant when seemed to set heap by you."
"Good gracious!" thought Florence, with a shudder. "I wonder if she has been going all through the city.advertising her relationship to us!"

"Wa'al, Samuel," said Mrs. Jerusha, "yer've two fine likely gals; they'd oughter help their mar a sight in doin' house-work and sich. It must take a of bills in his hand, said: powerful heap o' work to keep all them fussin's clean"-with an admiring, rather awe-struck glance about the room. Then she went on, "Is them all the children yer've got, Maria?"

Mrs. Fenton answered that she had two more, a son and a daughter. Mabel offered to send for her little sister, thinking that a child might make converse The President of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Society is stated by the Language to have said that "two thirds of father belonged to the oldest of Knickerbocker families, and whose mother was an F. F. V.; who was so fastidious and swept through the wide parlors that refined himself! It took only a few secsummer evening, it had been so hot of late. The month of May, the place was brains, when in Mr. Vanderpool walked. He was greeted in a rather embarrassed manner by them all, and inveigled into a

> But Miss Jerusha didn't mean to be left in the background-she got up from her chair and stalked over to the seat as far as possible from Miss Jerusha, inquired, indicating Mr. Vanderpool with her cotton forefinger. Mabel, with a very red face, introduced "Miss Hevington," mentally grateful that the name wasn't Mulkins or

Mr. Vanderpool made an astonished bow, but Miss Jerusha held out her hand, and gave his an unmerciful grip, exclaiming heartily, "I'm real glad to see yer, mister. But see here, sis"—to Mabel-"I ain't ashamed o'bein' your cousin-yer might hev interdooced me

Then ordering Mr. Vanderpool "to set down on the sofy," she took her place beside him when he had obeyed. "Wa'al, now, I didn't spect to see sich a fine young feller the fust night I come -a bean o' yourn, I s'pose?" she said to Mabel in a loud voice

Mabel wished that the earth would open and swallow some one of the party. "Wa'l, yer needn't get so all-fired red; yer ain't got no call to be ashamed o' him; he seems a nice nuff kind o' young Miss Jerusha, quite blissful, turned to Mr. Vanderpool and put some searching questions with regard to his "trade. Mr. Vanderpool politely answered that he was studying for the bar.

"Hum! bar-tender: I shouldn't hev thought it!"was Miss Jerusha's comment. anything about her. She's lived 'way | ing what was coming next. Mr. and up in Vermont all her life. She is a Mrs. Fenton were holding a council of Miss Jerusha was silent for the space of three minutes, gazing upon Mr. Vankegon, Mich., and will go to work on the ton-Jerusha Hevington. I always derpool with such ardent admiration that he began to fell nervous. "You're awful like Linus Swinefield!"

The two young ladies had been look- went to the deestrict school. They useter call him Piggy then and none of the gals could bear the sight o' him, and when he growed up, I was the only one My stars! but he was powerful like you. He'd jest the same kind tow colored hair to make the best of it, and treat her as and kinder whity-blue eyes. I was awful fond o' him." She sighed and edged a little nearer the now thoroughly uncomfortable Mr. Vanderpool; then sighed again and edged a little nearer. "You're dreadful like him," she said, and buried her face in a big red handkerchief, and groaning, moved nearer still; another groan, another sigh, made the girls rise in a fright. Was the woman crazy? Still another sigh and groan ing all her former brilliancy. Then one evewedged Mr. Vanderpool against a sharp tains, the mellow light shone down from corner of the sofa. He, somewhat alarmed, tried to get up when Miss Jerusha, with spasmodic twitches all over her face, threw her arms around have liked to have the ceremony performed his neck, exclaiming convulsively, "My that very moment in the conservatory. dear, dear boy!"

Mr. Vanderpool indignantly struggled to release himself, but the clinging arms peal at the door-bell made them all nearly refused to be unhooked. Mabel and Florence stood wringing their hands in despair. Mr. and Mrs. Fenton rushed to the rescue, and in the scuffle that ensued, off came the poke-bonnet and green veil, carrying with them the specshe was lamenting, whereas her lamentations the bandits had mothers, wives and Many and many a time was I reduced curly brown head confessed. "Oh, Tom, you dreadful boy!" cried the girls, as Tom sat down on the sofa, shouting and shaking with laughter. It took about the space of a lightning flash for them to grasp the situation, and such peals of laughter rang through the rooms that it is a wonder the neighbor-

Tom, with many chokes and roars, stopped her, the owner of the voice did told how he had managed, winding up "Nurse and cook and old Tim acted had since I left the academy. When I called father. 'Samuel,' I thought I would explode on the spot. Oh dear!" And, would you believe it? the young "he was powerful like Linus Swinefield." with the same power.

begging her to be seated. He could not | tonished should she chance to read

Real Estate Improvements.

Not far from Chicago are two communities, separated by a river, one settled with intelligent Christian people, and the other with those that are quite the opposite. A farmer of the latter place said to Deacon Good:

"Why is it that you always get better prices and readier sales for your lands than we can, when our farms are just as The deacon explained as best he could creased the price of land wherever they A few days after the same man called again on the deacon, and, placing a roll a preacher."

Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Christians.

A TURTLE-DOVE WIDOWHOOD.

The grief of the princess of Sora at the loss of her flusband is still remembered throughout Paris. Within her doors, draped in black, in the Parisian mourning emblazoned with ciphers, there reigned the terrible despair of a panish woman. The princess cut off her hair, and secluded herself from every one.

In her mourning robes, with her youthful head shorn of its locks, she had the appearance of a nun; it made her hotel resemble a convent. She passed her days before the portrait of her husband, and dined alone in the large diningremarked in the ante-room in their accustomed places, as if the master, though he had left home forever, had just come in. His presence being thus recalled rendered the despair of the poor wife more intense, and the void of his absence

But of all that round of calls, balls, recepleved, and which set, as it were, their happiness in a fashionable society frame, she re-tained only one friend, the Baroness Ancelin, a drawing room prima donna, who was indebted to her beautiful voice for having remained the intimate friend of the princess, whose great, nconsolable and noisy grief made all conversation jar upon her mood, but who loved to hear singing around her, as it helped to give

Two years passed thus, and the widow was still sorrowful, still austere. Her hair, however, was allowed to grow, tippling over her head with rebellious life in luxuriant curls and waves. Her mourning was thus lightened and made more cheerful, and seemed now to be worn only as a caprice of fashion. It was at this period that the nephew of Mme. Ancelin. meeting the princess at his aunt's house, fell desperately in love and began to dream of marrying her. At the first word of love he

To her the prince still lived, and this offer seemed an insult, tempting her to be unfaithful. For some time she did not see her friend. so much love and despair that Mme. Ancelin took pity on him and resolved to overcome the scruples of the princess. Bu how could she persuade a woman with so peculiar a nature, who never reasoned, and who was led only by impulse and enthusiasm?

She believed that a passion so exclusive must necessarily be jealous, and tried to obtain some him from behind, Conductor Westfall, itself, and now chews tobacco with all cessary gab." That's getting off pretty old letters of the prince. This was not very because he was trying, as an honest, the grace and efficiency of a man-of-war's cheap, judge. difficult, M. de Sora having written very many hidden one from the other, that each might as he was not a thief and an outlaw, there He wished very much to smoke, but he talked like a burly pirate for five boast of being the sole possessor of the per- was no gush in the papers about his hardly had he puffed at a cigarette five minutes. fumed coat-of-arms of the great lord.

In order to bring a few sheets of some common-place romance in letters without date to courage to present herself again at that hotel hope she won't come; I'm sure she must she exclaimed at length—"the fust beau which was like a tomb of the dead, a silent be perfectly awful!"

I ever hed. I knowed him when he flower-decked tomb, where all day long wept a

It was not grief, but the falling of her idol that now became her pain. Poor little Princess! Her years of happiness, and period of widowhood, alike rolled down and vanished into the same abyas of scorn and anger. Nothherself. The portrait was banished from her room. The second plate at table by which empty, sacredly guarded seat; and in the crowded antercom which was henceforth to be and offered a reward for him dead or James from himself. | Boston Tranopen to callers and passers to and fro, the last alive. This is precisely what is done script. balls and suppers. As a changeful sky shakes off the night that lingered long, the princess emerged in gray, lilac pink and blue, recoverning, while walking in her small conservatory, of procuring wealth, gives him a dose she said to Mme. Ancelin's nephew, who had of his own medicine. What is there in be your wife whenever you wish." She would ing to analyze it too closely. In society the marriage was much talked about. The Baroness Ancelist, remembering similar phrases in her romances, had ready a charming little speech upon the subject: "Do you see the crimes for the last ten or fifteen years. turtle dove widowhood." Six months elapsed. The newly married couple were living in the country, in a chateau in the suburbs of Paris, where the friend made them a visit. Seeing them quietly manifesting their happiness as they walked among the smooth lawns and silent paths, the charming baroness, who was never far-sighted, having her eyes open only to the present moment, sudhood was not aroused; but then it was | donly said to them: "It was I who made you so happy. Well, I do not regret my falsehood." The princess gave a sudden start. "What do 'Yes, dear, I can tell you everything now. The poor prince was not so black as I painted

Those famous letters were dated five years back. You were not married then." "Is this what you have done?" said the princess, looking at her husband and her friend with an expression of madness in her eyes. The dead, forgotten prince, whose name she no for the purpose of establishing a nursery robbery, stated that he intended starting poke was on her head, and from it nursery, you know, and she'd have let it in her affections, as her husband plainly saw by a shrinking motion as she drew back from explanation. The princess shut berself up at home, and in an agony that lasted long she gave way to all the remorse that tortured her. He now claims to have matters arranged brella under the carpet-bag arm, she ex-so that a speedy pardon will be secured. brella under the carpet-bag arm, she ex-tended her hand. "Wa'al, now, I s'pose his leave, insisted upon escorting him ward him and ashamed of herself. With what The Pacific National bank of Boston, yer don't know me. I'm Jerusha Hev- to the door, where he bade him an pity and sorrow she recalled his memory that morse, although, hardly understanding her fault, the princess leaned over toward the thoughtless creature who had fluttered like a butterfly across her straight and serious path, and said in a voice too feeble for the complaint to resemble a reproach, "You see I am not cooing; I am dying."

And it was true, -Alphonse Daudet.

Mohammedan Sensualism

No one of the Mohammedan races has carried out the license given to sensual passion given by the Koran and the adhering tradition to such an extent as have the Ottoman Turks, and no race has suffered so much from that license. how the good schoolf, churches, etc., in- | The evil consequences are far-reaching and baleful in the extreme. It is to feed Turkish sensuality that the slave trade throughout the empire and in. the interior is maintained. The beautiful, fair daughters who are purchased from the "I have been talking up this subject Georgians and Circassians also find their of churches, and we have concluded to | way at last to the harems of Constantihave preaching in our district. We nople, Brusa, Smyrna, Adrianople, want you to take this money and get us Aleppo, Bagdad, and other towns and cities of Asia Minor. One of the "I will do my best," replied the dea- direct results of this sensuality is con, well pleased that he was about to that the Turks have degenerated be the instrument of so much good. physically during the past 200 "What kind do you want? We have years. That the conquerors of Constantinople were a hardy race of great physical strength there can be no doubt; that "Oh, any that comes handy. We don't the great majority of modern Turks are care a d-n what kind it is so it raises of an effiminate type is equally certain; very many of them are persons of fine ported dresses is the use of velvet on A young man asked a Louisville policeman to kill him. The officer de-secome sunken, the cheeks sunken, and the face wrinkled; and there remains no trace of the activity and strength often seen in English women of 65, or even of Hand Us That Wash-Basin.

There is a propeness in man to admire great thieves. When, however, a thief try again. This motto was the guiding has obtained a national reputation for principle of James' life. When James be a figure of Guiteau dressed in "the robbing stages, and murdering conductors and detectives, there is no limit to turned deadly pale, and was very sick; clothes. the slobber and gush when the scoundrel but he was not the boy to weakly suc-Mabel felt the cold shivers running up the baroness. The young man went away and the slobber and gush when the scoundrel but he was not the boy to weakly sucand down her back, and she thought she tried to forget, but soon returned, and showed is finally brought to grief. It is really cumb to so trivial a thing as a cigarette. not safe for a sensible person to read He tried again and again, and some Western papers since the death of though he was repeatedly quite ill of first-class profanity in that town about Jesse James, unless the reader has a wash in consequence of his bravery, he 50 per cent. basin within reach.

gang murdered, treacherously, shooting time he conquered the legitimate cigar of a million dollars annually for unneproperty entrusted to him. He was cigarette. He lacked the persistency of kiss with lips of flame," but when he quite as brave a man as Jesse James, but James. He was fickle in the extreme. found the second word printed "mules" death. Nobody seemed to care how his minutes, when he lost all interest in the Jane Johnson, of Leeds, who is rewidow and children came on, but when diversion, and proposed to dispossess ported to have been convicted 200 times a thug, who has been murdering and himself of his dinner. Frederick not for drunkenness, has now, in her 83d robbing all his life, is finally come up only failed woefully upon this initial at year, joined the Salvation Army. Some with, half the Missouri editors want to tempt, but he surrendered uncondition- folks know when they've had enough. reverse their column rules and put crape | ally to his internal remonstrances, and on their hats. For Heaven's sake, hand gave up the battle forever. James had us that wash-basin, quick ! resume. Governor Crittenden, finding the street, and in decorating the sidethat whole neighborhoods were screen- walks with fluid tobacco; while Fredering the highwaymen, and furnishing ick, besides losing all this pleasure, is them information and aid, and as the burdened with small change which officers of the law were continually being might have been so profitably expended betraved and murdered by these cut- upon nicotine had he possessed the true throats, declared Jesse James an outlaw, manly courage which distinguished and depraved condition of society exists There were fetes at the Hotel de Sora now, that it is impossible to arrest a professional murderer. One of the gang, having imbibed Jesse James' notion that murder was the only approved method Ford the reverse? The late Mr. James tives to get the drop on him, and he and They were married very soon after and were his pals were not particular where they happy, she, through a kind of rage, and he shot those they robbed, if the latter were erty. A world of sympathy is extended ple seem to forget that these women have sibly), out would go my hard earningsaided and abetted the outlaws in their

Bah! Hand us that wash-basin again, quick!- Texas Siftings.

Pres'dent Tyler and the Schoolboys. A correspondent of the Louisville

When John Tyler was President, the Whig party was displeased with him, and made a short stay in a small country village. The school teacher of the district school invited his Excellency to witness the culture which she imparted to her pupils. She drew them up in a line and propounded the following questions: "Who was the first President?" "George Washington," the boys sang out in chorus.

"Was he a good man?" "He was," the boys emphatically "Who was the second President?" "John Adams."

"Was she a good man?" "He was." So she kept on through the list unti she got to Tyler. Then she asked: "Who is the present President?" "John Tyler.

"Is she a good man?" "We are commanded by the Scriptures not to speak evil of our rulers," rolled out the little band of embryo politicians. Pinching the Wrong Leg.

he was seated, the one on his right hand side was an intimate acquaintance, and noticing that her distinguished neighbor was silent and preoccupied, said to him, 'sotto voce":

"I am afraid you are not very well this evening, you do not seem in your usual "Well," said the dignitary, "I am in rather a nervous state of mind about my that a serious illness is hanging over me. I am conscious of a peculiar numbness all down my right side, which seems to forbode an attack of paralysis." His fair companion expressed her hope that such fears were ill-founded. "Ah, no," he replied, "I'm afraid there's no doubt of it, for I have been pinching my right leg all dinner time, health, and have a sort of presentment ever. The limb seems quite dead to all feeling. ."Oh," exclaimed the lady briskly, and with a look of intense relief on her face, "if that is all that troubles you, I think I can at once relieve your mind from all anxiety, for the leg you have been pinching all the evening is mine." One of the new caprices among im-

Storles Without Mora's. ion from whatever he reads. He is not 70 years of age. Another immediate re- like some boys, who read merely for graphs to every day. sult of the prevailing sensuality is the mental excitement, and who know no mental imbecility of multitudes of the more about the great lessons intended to Ottoman Turks; great numbers among be inculcated by a book after they have them are intellectually stupid. Many laid it down than they did before taking even of the young men have the vacant it up. Once upon a time Henry read of look which borders close on the a great man who died from overwork. idiotic state. Severe mental application "This is very sad," mused Henry; and room, where every evening the table was spread is for them almost a physical impossi-for two. The cane and the hat of the prince bility. It is well known that in all ever might be the temptation, he would branches of business where consider- never so far forget his duty to himself able mental activity is required the and to mankind as to die of overwork. Turks employ Christians to work for He began to act upon this resolution them. This is owing, not so much to a the very next morning. Everything lack of education, or to a general want he was bidden to do he set about of energy, as in many cases to a mental so slowly that his mother lost all incapacity which often amounts to real patience and said she would rather do it imbecility. Obvious illustrations of the herself. It pained her to see him so special topic now discussed is furnished awkward. Henry was not a lad that by the royal family itself. Sultan Abdul | would willingify give pain to his mother; Mejid, Sultan Abdul Azz, and the dis- so he very soon neglected his work altoposed Sultan Murad were all men of de gether. It was the same at school. He prayed minds, vicious habits, intemper- copied his mathematical problems from ate and sensual in the extreme, and were | Charley Jones' slate (Charley was a stualike devoid of moral character and men- dious boy; Henry characterized him as a tal character. Mental incapacity, how- "muß," whatever that may mean) he ever, from the causes alleged, is not con- wrote all history dates on his finger fined by any means to the wealthy and | mails, for convenient reference, during aristocratic classes; it is found in all recitation, and, by divers other ingenious truthfully be said. - [Boston Post. grades of society .-- | British Quarterly devices, most nobly kept his resolve.

Henry is now the rich owner of a faro bank. Charles is bookkeeper upon the

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, princely salary of $500 per annum.

persisted until he could smoke any Not long since, Jesse James and his number of cigarettes with impunity. In the lawyers: "This State pays a quarter no end of amusement in puffing his There! we feel better, now. But to smoke into the faces of young ladies on Unlucky Men.

When a young man, I was a staunch believer in the integrity of human nature; consequently I was always ready to lend been following her about like a gloomy shadow this to make Jesse James a saint, and "unfortunate" ones gravitated to me as though I had been their legitimate prey. was not in the habit of allowing detec- When I would find myself swindled-as I did in ninety-nine cases in a hundred-I would declare that I would never trust another thing in human shape; and the very next time an "unlucky" wretch came along (always telling a story of snfto the outlaw's wife and mother, but peo- fering and promising so sweetly and plauoften my last dollar-to be swindled to the verge of pauperism, and a great deal worse than this (if anything can be worse to a man who is industrious and frugal). These "unlucky" wretches, if they ever found me helpless or exposed to their mercy in the least, after I had Courier Journal relates the following shared my scanty hoard with them freely, would take, as it were, the dollar, the next to my last dollar I had on earth, that I had offered to them cheerfully, and use it as a wedge or lever to said many grievous things to his disad-vantage. The Presiden, took a trip and pry open my pocket and get my last cent, and add insult to injury. And, seemingly, without shame, they would come back again and again, until even my patience became finally exhausted. Wherever I found the "chronic" bortotally and completely destitute of hu-

Eternal Paulshment.

conversion; if it be from darkness to at all, and cannot be A dignitary of the church was dining this story, as the superstition referred to ulty of a remarkably quick mind. There out. Of the two ladies between whom it is exploded, if not everywhere, cer- is no particular advantage in all this as country walk with a friend, a clergyman, riosity, and a rare one, and if anybody when the latter suddenly wheeled thinks it isn't hard to do let him try to around, his face toward home with the acquire it. remark:

"Let us go back, I'm tired; was called up in the middle of the night to baptize a child that was dving."

"Were you in time?" "Just," was the reply; "another half "And if you had been, what then?"
"Why, then, I suppose, the poor little thing would have been lost."

"I would have been lost."

"And if you had been, what then?"

"Why, then, I suppose, the poor little thing would have been lost."

"The same a barrel of apples, which he was endeavoring to get up the cellar stairs and calling at the top of his lungs for one of the boys to lend a helping hand, but in rain

"Eternally?"

friend and said:

"Well, yes, according to our belief." "May I ask what sort of boots you the task, and just when they were not "Boots? Elastic side, always."

"Now suppose you wore laced, and and can elicit no responsive feeling what they had taken two minutes to put on, the child would have been dead, andeternally lost, ay?" "That's a peculiar view of the ques tion; I must think over my position." Two days after the clergyman met my

"I have thought that matter over and must alter my view. The boots did it."

-- London Spectator.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

A Vermont man wants to know who this Lowell minister is that Blaine tele Fix upon that course of life which is the most excellent, and habit will render it the most delightful. Sitting Bull has the proud satisfaction of counting the entire United States army among his most devoted follow-

When the devil wants to train up a young man in the way he wants him to to go, he appoints idleness to boss the

Captain J. A. Sylvester, who when a private in the United States army captured Gen. Santa Anna, died recently in Jeanne Hugo, the granddaughter of the poet, is a handsome young girl with bright, dark, soft eyes, and a proud and graceful carriage. A soldier's life resembles a cigar. He passes through the fire and smoke to find his hopes in ashes, and what is left of him is a mere stump.

Some men, they say, like to be lied about. We presume this means Washington editors, of whom no good can Deep-voiced guzzler: "Hi, waiter! bring me three more schooners!" struck spectator, whispering: "That must be the new secretary of the navy." It looks now as if a prominent feature of every traveling show this season will

A parrot believed to be seventy-two years of age recently died at Napierville, Illinois, reducing the percentage

An Iowa judge says of the prolivity of "The Lord sends meat and the devil "help" lights out in the middle of the season she wishes the old gentleman in black would send 'em along a little

Hortense Kittrell was appointed a clerk in the Nevada legislature. Henry H. Welch, the chief clerk, at first objected to the presence of a women in the office. But his prejudice has been overcome during the present session. Miss Kittrell is now Mrs. Welch. Two young girls had a fight in a street in Reeding, and one of them was so badly injured that it is doubtful if she ever fully recovers. A disgraceful part of the affair was that two fellows. escorts of the combatants, let them struggle with each other till the weaker was all but killed. She was kicked about jumped upon, and finally left uncon

A Remarkable Accomplishment A young man out West, a printer by trade, has a faculty of no common order -that of spelling backward as rapidly as most people spell in the usual way. On a recent occasion the word incomprehensibility was given to him. As soon as the word was pronounced he said "Fifteen letters," and went to work at it backwards so fast that his hearers were unable to tell whether he was right or wrong. "You see," said a fellowprinter, "he can tell the number of . letters in any word without a moment's hesitation, as well as he can spell it backward, and not only that, but you can give him a whole sentence, and he will tell you at once how many letters there are in it, and go right on and spell through the whole thing backward faster than most people could spell it the other way." This thing was tried time and time again, and no word or series of words could be hit upon which were not rendered as indicated above. The strongest part of the whole thing is that the young man rower and "unlucky" man—and his has never practiced or studied spelling hame is legion—I found by being backward a day in his life. He says he credulous in trusting, a man as utterly, does not know how he ever acquired the man principles as he was of money and word or sees a word, even if he had never ability to do it, but as soon as he hears a business habits. I never found one in thought of it before, which, of course, is a thousand who was free to ask a loan the case with a large majority of words, of comparative strangers, or a "regu-lar" borrower, but was at heart a thief backward or in a regular way. It is so, who is too cowardly to rob any but his friends and the benevolent. There is something radically wrong about such sentence that may be suggested, and states the numbers promptly as soon as the words are uttered. He can also distribute type backward as fast as for-ward. In the left-hand spelling there is no theory of sound to aid him, as in very It is refreshing to hear of a genuine many instances the letters spell nothing light, especially when it is speedy and there is no accounting for his ability to complete. A few years ago, a friend of spell in that way except to conclude that mine—there is no harm now in telling it is the result of a gift—a peculiar factainly among our readers—was taking a far as can be discovered, but it is a cu-

A Hopeful Progeny.

Old Farmer Gruff was one morning tugging away with all his might and main at a barrel of apples, which he was

When he had, after an infinite amount of sweating and tugging, accomplished needed, of course, the boys made their

"Where have you been, and what have you been about, I'd like to know, that you could not hear me call?" inquired the farmer in an angry tone, and address-"Out in the shed settin' the saw." "And you, Dick?"

"Out in the barn, settin' the hen." "And you, sir?" "Up in Granny's room, settin'-the "And you, young man?