TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT.

EDITED BY THE
Women's Christian Temperance Union

CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE.

Christian women engaged in the great work of temperance, while they regard the liquor evil as one of the chief works of the Devil, remember that the "Son of God was manifested that he might destroy the works of the Devil. Christianity proposes a war of extermination against all sin, whether in the individual or nation. When introduced into heathen lands, it makes no compromise with idolatry, superstition or tyranny. God must be worshiped, truth have influence, and love prevail. So in all christendom every form of evil is combatted by bible principles which sooner or later must triumph gloriously.

Within the memory of those now living the practice of duelling was regarded as mental to the maintainance of human honor. Presidents, Governors, Senators and representatives all gave it countenance. But when the pulpit and press united to throw on this dreadful sin the full light of christian truth, all its hatefulness and wickedness were revealed, and the nobler sentiment of the nation abolished it forever.

Human slavery was once so interwoven with the government, its laws, customs and interests that it seemed impossible to exterpate it. But before the advancing light of christianity the "conflict was irrepressible," and the sin had to go down.

Towering now above all other evils of our land is that of intemperance. Supported by law, appetite, custom and greed, some think it an impossible task to remove it. We have only to remember that "truth is mighty and must prevail" that christianity proposes no toleration of any iniquity; and that God is on the side of right, to be assured that the great day of deliverance is drawing nigh. The women's christian temperance movement vests its hopes on the everlasting truths of the Bible, and is sure of final victory. An iniquity which carries with it the sacrifice of every earthly interest, destroying body, soul spirit of the unhappy victim, and spreading wreck, ruin and death over all the land, must go down before the blessed light of Gospel temperance. Already the signal notes of victory come up from various States of our country, and others are catching the glorious inspiration and the impending crisis is again at hand. Oregon is destined at no distant day to take the common sense, just and righteous position of entire prohibition of a traffic so unstatesmanlike, unpatriotic and wicked as is that involved in intemperance. We depend much on the pulpit and the press to "cry aloud and spare not," showing the people their sin in this respect, till signal victory comes.

CHINESE NATURALIZATION.

It is remarkable,considered how general has been the debate over the proposition to grant privileges of citizenship to Chinese persons, that some of the courts have illegally attempted to naturalize Chinamen. Two Chinamen were alleged to have been admitted to citizenship yesterday by a Philadelphia court. The original naturalization laws extended only to free white persons. In 1870, it was proposed to strike out the word "white." This was opposed by congressmen, who were not in favor of admitting Chinese to citizenship, and after some debate, naturalization laws were, by express terms, extended to aliens of African nativity, or persons of African descent. In 1875, some further question having arisen, the statute was amended to read as follows: "The provision of this bill shall apply to aliens being free white persons and to aliens of African descent." Thus the law stands to-day, and as Chinese are not free white persons of African nativity or descent,it is clear that all so-called naturalizations issued to them are null and void.—N. Y. Times.

A HINT FOR COFFEE DRINKERS.

While "dining out" one day recently the coffee, which, though the last was by no means the least of the good things furnished, was so unusually excellent that it was the subject of general remark, and a word in the ear of the charming hostess after retiring to the drawing-room, called forth the following explanation of how the good result was obtained: The coffee furnished was a clear amber in color, rich in flavor and deliciously aromatic. To give the hostess' method a fair test, it will be no more than just to don one's apron and adjourn to the kitchen The coffee to be used is Maracaibo and Java, equal parts of each, finely ground. One large cup of coffee, one cup of cold water, one well-beaten egg, mix thoroughly; add four cups of cold water and place it over the fire. After it reaches the boiling point allow five minutes to finish the process; strain and serve immediately. This seems a very simple process, but in the hands of a servant, if allowed to boil too long, it would be simply spoiled.

THE room in the Franklyn Cottage, Elberon, in which President Garfield died, is closed and draped heavily in mourning. In this condition it is stated it will always remain.

MEN OF GENIUS BEFORE AND AFTER MARRIAGE.

The love-makings of men of genius, before and after marriage, with or without it, are tempting subjects of inquiry, and all the information of this sort we can get, if it sometimes does no more than amuse an idle curiosity, may be, and generally is, as instructive as it is entertaining. With fuller information than we have along the private relationships between Socrates and Xantippe we should understand better than we do the public work of the great father of Greek philosophy. A flood of light, which would otherwise be wanting, is thrown on the mystic scholasticism of Abelard by the extant records of his dealings with Eloise. If as much were known from their points of view of Beartice and Laura as we know of Dante's and Petarch's written praises of them, perhaps our estimate of the men's manhood would be somewhat different from what it is, though our admiration for the poet's poetry might remain the same; and for and authentic biography of Anne Hathaway all but the more pedantic Shakespearans would be willing to surrender two or three of his less memorable plays. Coming down to our own century, it will suffice to hint at the scientific value of the little that has been disclosed respecting Clothilde de Vaux in elucidating the position of Auguste Comte as a great teacher. Everywhere and always a man's worth must be gaged to some extent, though only in part, by his domesticity. Some of the best work done by men of small private worth. A man of genius is not to be judged by ordinary standards. Genius is eccentricity. The duties it imposes on its possessors may make it their duty to neglect duties imposed by custom, or something more authoritive than custom, on common folk; and their highest virtue may consist of or not be inharmonious with disregard of conventional virtues. But for all that men are men before they are anything else, whether poets or philosophers, warriors or statesmen; and among the fundamental conditions of human life the instincts that lead to love-making and marrying are hardly less fundamental than those that oblige statesmen, warriors, philosophers poets and all such prodigies to eat and sleep pretty much as plowboys do. If the common laws of human life are varied from, there must be reason for the variation, and—reverting to men of genius—it is useful to know, not merely what variation at all, but yet more how it affects their standing and influence in the world.

NOTES ON EDUCATION.

None of the Yale graduates of this year are of "enter journalism."

The graduation of a Japanese young woman at Vassar is an event of unusual significance.

An effort is about to be made to establish a technical school with working shops in Baltimore.

The average expense of the members of the Yale class of 1882, during the entire course, was $3,901.

There are about 1,500 industrial schools in England, which are maintained at an aggregate expense of $1,580.000.

The Baltimore School Board has resolved to consider in September the question of appointing teachers for life or during good behavior. At present they are elected yearly.

A gift of $25,000 in real estate, left by Mrs. R. B. Bowler, of Clifton, Ohio, to Kenyon College in 1865, has been so well administered as to more than double in value in seventeen years.

1500 per year can be easily made at home working for E. G. Rideout & Co., 10 Barclay St., New York. Send for their catalogue and full particular

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of sexual vigor the ignorant may asperse my motive but the desire to inform those who are suffering through ignorance, and who by carelessness or want of knowledge that a cure can be had, are not only hurrying themselves to an untimely grave, but giving sexual weakness as an inheritance to future generations, is too great an incentive to permit me to be silent.
