Many of our Republican friends are outspoken in their preference for the election of a Democrat to the United States Senate to Mitchell. Respectable decent Republicans say that Mitchell has divided, debauched, and disgraced the party and hundreds of them de c are they will not further affilia'e with t at party if it is now to be burdened w th Mitchell as a leader. der a general air of disgust hangs like a cloud over the countenance of nearly every decent Republican which we meet, The disrepute into which the party has been brought by the foul practice of its leaders in New York, the olium brought upon it by its unholy alliance with Mabaneism in Virginia, the hame heaped upon it in consequence of star route disclosures, the disgust and disatisfaction brought about by the attempt to force such men as Conkling, Platt, Cameron, Logan, Mitchell and men of like ilk upon the party as its leaders, all conspire to drive res rec'able citizens and Republicans far away from she party.
