SALEM CORRESPONDENCE.

The grand feature of the forty days n this political wilderness was the reception of Gov. Moody Wednesday evening. It reminded us of Gov. Grover's reception in the same house years age. As our members have increased since then, the reception of Gov. Moody may be put down in nummers only as the leading reception of Salem, We should tlink there were three to four hundred ladies and gentlemen present first and last and the elegant attire of the ladies showed great preparation for this feast. The gentlemen were out in their best "beav er and tucker" and really the occasion was one of which all parties should be proud. We found many simon-pure Democrats there mingling their coffee with that of the dumfounded radical. All the Senatorial candidates were there during the whole of the evening, or nearly so, except Mr. Mitchell. He did not remain. Among these dark herats we noticed Hons. Richard Williams, Geo. H. Williams, M. C. George, J. N. Dolph. and W. Lair Hill. There were a large number of ladies and gentlemen from Portland, The Dalles, and Oregon City. Gav. Don't do it. It is like having a mill stone tied around your neck. If you begin it while young you will keep it up for life, and if you keep it up you will die with an obligation hanging over you of a very heavy weight. A man with a twenty thousand dollar farm mortgaged for $18,000 is worse off than if he owned no farm at all. One had better wear blue jean than a suit of clothes with a chattel mortgage on them, and it would be mortifying enough for me to drive a home in my name, but really owned by some one else. Food would not taste sweet to me if I owed for it with no prospect of paying the lebt. I cannot imagine a worse life than one in which I would be hounded fer a just debt en every corner, I would rather te a mouse with a cat after me than a debtor with a creditor at my heels at all hours of the day and night.
