

CHAMBERLAIN & STITES, Editors and Proprietors.

O. & C. R. TIME TABLE. Albany Station.

Table with columns for DEPARTURE OF TRAINS and ARRIVAL OF TRAINS, listing various routes and times.

ALL Trains daily, except Sunday.

Notice.—On and after this date regular tickets will be sold at our ticket office for following points on Columbia river: Upper Cascades, Dalles, Umatilla, Wallula, Walla Walla and Aberdeen.

WILL B. RICE, Freight and Ticket Agent, O. & C. R. Co., Albany, June 18th, 1882.

About a Plow.

About ten days ago Homer Collins, a German, living across the river in Benton county, bought a plow in this city, paying about twenty-three dollars for it.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

HOME AND ABROAD.

F M French, jeweler, Go to the skating rink. Look out for dead ducks. Some marriages are heading.

The Republican city convention meets Saturday night. A new stock of oiled goods just received at L. E. Blain's.

Look out for a fine display of holiday goods at F. M. French's. The Wyman's Wednesday and Thursday evening of next week.

Send your orders to S. Dooty, at Independence for shingles. Arrangements are being made for a big hunt on Thanksgiving.

Ammon's Cough Syrup cures colds, coughs, bronchitis and consumption. Silk handkerchiefs in splendid varieties for the holidays, at Blain's.

Articles for fancy work in great variety at Monteith & Seitschbach's. We are liable to have a little wet weather for awhile now—say six months.

Have you noticed the "wabegone," pitiful look on the faces of the turkeys. A new line of shoes cloths received this week at Monteith & Seitschbach's.

Everybody tells me of the improvement of the Democrat. This is encouraging. Fred Davis is conducting a successful singing class at the Episcopal church.

A new stock of plants in all colors received this week at Monteith & Seitschbach's. Mrs. J. D. Simons was brought to the city yesterday to be examined as to her sanity.

Dr. G. Willis Price, dentist, office in Odd Fellow's Temple, over Langdon's Drug Store. Officer Jones at the Dalles shot an Haux-hunt last week, on his refuting him' assistant to serve a warrant of arrest.

Democratic City Convention next Wednesday. Be on hand and help make good nominations. Holiday goods in abundance now gladden the eyes of our boys and girls, old and young.

On account of Thanksgiving the meeting of the Blue Ribbon Club has been postponed to Dec. 8. Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue.

Several excellent correspondents are unavoidably left out, but will appear in next week's issue. Tobacco, tobacco, tobacco, largest and cheapest stock in town at the Farmers' & Mechanics Store.

Call at French's and ask to see one of those genuine "dust proof" Waltham watches. They are the "boss." Quite a number of our citizens will be present at the dedication of the new Old Town Hall, Harrisburg, on Friday.

Mellwin is paying the highest market price for dried apples and dried fruits of all kinds—either for cash or in trade. A fine stock of Swiss embroideries and laces, black, ecru and white, at Monteith & Seitschbach's. They excel in these lines.

The new Court House of Douglas county will cost $32,000. The contract to build it has been let to L. S. P. Marsh, of Ashland. Portland, Walla Walla and Dayton are now united by a line of railroads, the first train having passed over the road last Sunday.

The skating rink has been quite a show, the feaks of some of the tumbler being quite fine. Don't miss going and seeing how it is yourself. 100 cases of canned tomatoes, Winlow corn, peas and beans, at Redfield & Irving's, the only exclusive grocery and provision store in Albany.

Hon. A. Bush has resigned as superintendent of the Penitentiary at Salem. It is to be hoped that his successor will fill the position as well as he can. Frank Kenton has the agency for all leading eastern publications, numbering over five hundred, this is quite a convenience to persons sending for papers.

Go to the supper to be given by the ladies of the Congregational church next Thursday, Thanksgiving evening. A good time as well as a good supper is assured. Dress goods in new styles, Mattress and Armchairs just received at Monteith & Seitschbach's. Their invaluable check is fine. Call and see for yourself.

SOCIAL AND BEBOVAL.

goods are left yet, which they are anxious to dispose of. Last Sunday while a son of Phil Swank was hunting in loading his gun, he was accidentally discharged. At the time his right hand was over the muzzle. The shot tore it up in a bad manner, but will probably not destroy the use of it entirely.

J. A. Stratton has been appointed Superintendent, in place of A. Bush. His is a good appointment, and will meet the approval of the people of the State. Stratton is an able lawyer, and a good business man. He will have good care of the position.

A J. Bumsouer, who was indicted as Eugene for manslaughter in killing J. H. Brown, was tried before Judge Pean last week, and acquitted. Straha & Bilyeu, Judge Burnett and Walton, were for the defence, which they conducted in an able manner.

The job office of C. W. Watts, is obtaining a good reputation throughout the valley. Saturday Mr. Watts received an order for several hundred blanks from Yamhill and last week a large order from Eugene city. This speaks well for Watts work as a printer.

The skating rink is now being run in Pariah's Hall, where it will work during every night. The boys are running an orderly rink, and propose to make it a place which can be visited by anybody. It will pay to take a roll and see what fun it is.

The following citizens of Linn county have been drawn to serve as trial jurors in the Circuit Court of the United States at Portland on the 28th inst. Hugh Dipwiddie, John Beard, Phillip Baltimore and J. W. Compton.

We understand that the firm of Ash & Robinson, 300 Fulton St., Brooklyn, "blinks," these notices their ad in last week's Democrat are requested to take warning, and if any of our brother journalists has started their ads, they had better utilize space for something else.

Last Friday was a day long to be remembered by the printers of Albany. Two S. P. agents who wanted to sell type, etc., pounced upon us at about the same time, after shaming one off and throwing the imposing stone at the other, we obtained a little peace and quiet.

"We notice the pleasant face of G. G. Bingham in our town frequently. Of course he is always on his legs. Certainly, he is Oregon's "Red" of course it is a large business. We know all the parties, and wish them success and happiness in time to come.

Mrs. Mendonhall, the Lebanon milliner will this week move her stock of millinery from the St. Charles building just across the street into Mrs. Orpha Wheeler's dress-making room, where millinery and dress-making will be carried on second to no other establishment in the state.

S. A. Moreland, who for ten years has been in the employment of the Oregon Publishing Company, has temporarily withdrawn from the profession of journalism. His duties as police judge of Portland requiring all his time. If a newspaper man can't dish up unadulterated justice, nobody can.

Several months ago quite a number of our citizens subscribed for the Polar, published at Portland. One of the inducements was a translation of the Aeneid, which the solicitor agreed to send immediately. Nothing has been heard of it yet, and the subscribers are becoming anxious.

Bessner, of the Walla Walla Waterworks, was elected Representative in Washington Territory. He is a sharp, witty, writer, and would make a good legislator if he were not a Republican. Anyway we like to see newspaper men in office. They need something to help them along.

The corner of First and Ferry streets will be wonderfully improved when Peters & Blain move their hardware store into the Pariah block. The east part will be used for Wells Fargo & Co's express and shell hardware, while the west part will be devoted to agricultural implements.

Redfield & Irving have on hand the most complete stock of staple and fancy groceries in Albany, including canned goods of all descriptions, raisins, citron sugar, lemon peel, Zanti currants and spices of all kinds—fresh and best quality. Just what you need for your mince pie and fruit cake, now that Thanksgiving and the holidays are approaching.

Albany, Or., has an anti-care society, composed of young men, who wear a white ribbon on their vests to indicate they will never marry a young lady who wears corsets. But how will they find out? "Do you wear corsets?" "No," "Then, dear, will you marry me?" At this juncture the young lady will probably again answer "no." Weston Leader.

Last week a German girl advertised for a position. Since then there have been about a dozen applications for her. Just what you could not accept all, so all but one were disappointed. Any number of good girls could get good wages here, and it would not take long to drive out all of our Chinese coolies, if the girls would only roll up their sleeves and go to work.

The other day a gentleman stepped up to a grocer, and pointing to a big pumpkin, said, "I'll bet you the cigars that I can guess as near the weight of that pumpkin as you can." The grocer, who knew the exact weight, took him up, and then said he would put the weight at 35 pounds. "I'll guess 35 too, said the other, had over your cigars." He had guessed as near, and taking his cigars left, just dodging a big squab.

We suggest the establishment of a genuine bonfida local course this winter, in which our local as well as state talent will be employed. The admission should be put down and season tickets sold. Let the lectures be scientific, historical or poetic, and of a nature, even if like Sir Percival's, which will attract good houses. There is nothing like high sounding names. If anyone shakes hands with you now you may know he is running for some city office. And when he asks you if you will support him when he "yes" and then when his competitor puts the same question, tell him "yes" also. This is the way him out of ten, so that when a man goes into a convention and only gets five or ten votes out of a hundred and fifty, he feels cheap enough. There are always some to be served this way.

TOOK REFUGE.

Among Two Hundred Bright Children. Coming down Broadbaldin street last Tuesday a representative of the Democrat took refuge from a Wolfest storm in an old building opposite the Court House. On entering it the continual buzzing on every hand conveyed to him the fact that he was in a school house instead of a barn.

Lighting matters he soon found himself in a room of nearly seventy bright faces, intelligent pupils, with the genial countenance of Prof. Robb before him. It did not look tough to see well developed forms pitched in and together, low, narrow, fough broad seats, and together still to think of breathing the close, sultry air, although all possible attention seemed to be paid to ventilation. We almost forgot these things by the good order and studious appearance of those present.

A class in physical geography was reciting, and after they had gone to their seats, the maps of California, which they had drawn were shown us, testifying in strong terms to the thorough work they were doing. Stepping into the room of the efficient assistant, Miss Kane, we found another class in geography, taking up a review lesson, their manner and written answers, idling very plainly how well they understood what they had gone over. Here a fifteen minutes recess occurred, the rain keeping many of the pupils in their radiant showing an entire absence of any hoodlumism. After recess we called on Miss Sparks, teacher of the smallest grades in the Central School. Think of about 80 children being huddled together in one small room. This enrollment shows about 83. Some of the narrow roads that the school is on, for pupils actually have to find a place on the floor. But Miss Sparks, by excellent judgment and good government is able to keep all these future Presidents and Senators wives in fair order. Next we stumbled into Miss Turrell's room, over crowded as the rest were. How she could do anything with the mischievous ones before us, was a wonder to us, but their promptness in giving answers in their different classes, showed that they were alive to the importance of at least moderate study.

Then we left the building in a penive mood, saying to ourselves, "This is a shame." In Prof. Robb's room are enrolled 90 pupils. In Miss Turrell's 70; in Miss Sparks' 83. By actual computation, the first room the air is breathed up in 21 minutes, in the second in 15; in the third in 13. The corps of teachers cannot be excelled. Live, accomplished, thorough, assisted by grading every pupil, with their own disadvantages, they are doing splendid work, the average in the whole school being over 90, and in some classes as high as 98. They deserve better accommodations, and it is time for our citizens to think pretty seriously, whether it would not be money in our pockets to do something in this direction.

A Notice. On the southeast corner of Fifth and Barlow streets there is a new room called "The British Room." Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine themselves to base ball, hop-sotch and the like, all would be "merry as a marriage bell" with the neighbors. Such is not the case however, and the good people of the neighborhood, are compelled to submit to all kinds of indignities at the hands of the noisy youths. Miss ladies and gentlemen as they pass must either put their fingers in their ears, or listen to a foreign and unknown language that would grate the conscience of a British king. Not only that but stay shops are being done there, for the business element during their few leisure hours delight to congregate and engage in their numerous pastimes. If they would confine