STITES & PUTTING, Editors and Proprietors.

FRED P. NETTING, Social Editor.

Burglars.

Last Monday evening, while Dr. Price and family were at the Christmas tree at the U. P. Church, an entrance was effected by a burglar into the residence in the Western part of the city...

Incidents Sharp.

One of the sharpest business maneuverings that has yet come to our knowledge was recently consummated by Mr. Wm. Reed, at present manager of the American Mortgage Company of Scotland...

Remission of the Old Mechanics Band.

Wednesday afternoon several of the members of the Old Mechanics Band, which made our streets so lively a few years ago, met again and played together after a separation of eighteen months.

Appointed.

Upon a verdict of "not guilty" being found in the Wachenheimer case in the U. S. District Court, an appeal was taken to the Justice Court in this city.

Freight Train Wrecked.

Last Tuesday morning the freight train going north met with quite a serious accident. It had reached Millers, and was crossing the switch at a rapid rate of speed...

Large Pigs.

W. F. Barrows brought into town last Tuesday two dressed pigs, one of which weighed 573 pounds and the other 576 pounds. These pigs were 18 months old at the time of killing.

Evangelical S. S.

At a reorganization of the Evangelical Sunday School last Sunday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. It is intended to run the school on an improved plan:

Superintendent—A. W. Herbert. Ass't Superintendent—W. J. Davis. Secretary—B. Pardon. Ass't Secretary—Miss Ada Crowder. Treasurer—W. B. Scott. Chorister—Prof W. J. Davis. Organist—Miss Fannie Shields. Dramatist—Willie Landau.

HOME AND ABROAD.

1883. 3 days. Poor traveling. A happy New Year. F. M. French, Jeweler. Look out for burglars. Wheat is 85 cents at the mill.

For a cough or cold there is no remedy equal to Amman's Cough Syrup.

Some full-blooded Barbicots pigs for sale by J. P. Gilmore at Miller's Station.

The Benton county school teachers institute met yesterday and Wednesday.

For rent—House in eastern part of the city for rent cheap.

Rev Mr Selph will preach at the Baptist church, in this city next Sabbath, morning and evening, at the usual hours.

Both the college and the city schools are now taking a rest, but on Tuesday morning next business will be again resumed.

The "hog law" only applies to special parts of the state. Albany being excluded, our citizens need not become alarmed.

First-class groceries at Hoffman & Joseph's. They keep the latest of everything and make it a point that the quality is always good.

Since Prineville has become the county seat of Crooke county it has been filling up with lawyers at a terrible rate, and now has about six.

There will be a public examination of teachers in the County School Department, at the room in the Court House to-day and to-morrow.

On the first Sunday in January a series of meetings will begin at the Evangelical church in this city under the charge of Rev J. W. Hellenbach.

Do not forget that Peter & Blain are in the Park Block, the corner of First and Ferry streets, and that this is the place to get hardware.

All persons indebted to Otto Fox are requested to call immediately at his old stand and settle their account.

In the case of the State ag. A. Wachenheimer, tried at Portland last week in the U. S. District Court for perjury the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

We understand that the Knox Butte Grange has challenged another Grange for a match hunt, which is liable to take place at any time. It will be a feather-flying affair.

Those desiring New Years cards should hurry up and send in their orders to G. W. Hata. He has a splendid selection and fills orders on short notice, as well in the city as from the country.

Those wishing bottled beer for family use should remember that the Star Brewery is the best. Wm. Faber is an expert and is getting a good reputation for the quality of the beer which he manufactures.

Skating at the rink, on the evenings of Monday, Wednesday and Saturday of each week, the second night being devoted entirely to ladies and gentlemen accompanying them. It will pay you to attend.

If you want something neat and tasty for holiday time, call on Samuel E. Young's assortment of holiday goods, cups and saucers, plated ware, glassware and other seasonable goods at reasonable prices.

There is a complaint among many that there is not enough sociability among the people here, and that married people as well as young people should have their parties and get better acquainted with each other.

H. F. Newman, at Peoria, has just received a splendid stock of goods by steamer, consisting of everything usually found in a first-class country store. His holidays goods should be inspected by the people of Peoria and vicinity.

Ladies: You will find the largest and best assortment of gentlemen's and ladies' slippers at Samuel E. Young's. Also a full line of the celebrated H. J. Holtzberg & Co., and Samuel Dunbar's ladies', misses and children's shoes. Call and examine.

Christmas morning when the worthy proprietor of the Kover House looked out of the door the omnibus lately owned by Lewis Stinson, stood in front of it, with a tag on it, reading "This is Mrs Pfeiffer to Charles Pfeiffer." This is the best present heard from, on the receipt of which we congratulate Mr Pfeiffer.

We are under obligations to Mr Hiram Kenton for a photograph of his gold separator, a full description of which appeared in the Democrat a few weeks ago. We have placed it in a neat frame, and those desiring to see a picture of one of the most ingenious contrivances of the present day can do so by calling at our sanctum.

In several places in the city the lateral ditches have caved in so that travel over them has become unsafe. One team was thrown, and the wagon was only gotten out of a big hole by the assistance of another team. These places need attending to or some one will have several damage suits on hand.

Quite a number of our young men are making preparations to make New Year calls, so that if no card baskets are hanging on the outside a visit will to all probability be made on most of the houses in the city. They will not be foraging expedition, but for the purpose of attending the good will which everybody feels towards everybody else.

An embarrassing scene occurred at one of the churches last Monday evening when a young man and lady received a large envelope, which, when opened, they found to contain a marriage license, completely unopened, signed and sealed by the County Clerk. The marriage has not yet taken place, but will be duly announced when it transpires.

Considerable interest was manifested last Monday over the arrest of a young man accused of assault and battery. It is said that, after the old English fashion, he took refuge in one of our churches, but it proved to be no protection under our law, and he was dragged forth and taken into Court. One side of the story is that he was attacked by several ferocious boys, who, in pure self defense, he thrashed the ground with one of them, but the case was settled, so that nothing can be stated authoritatively.

Last Saturday a lively shooting match occurred at Peoria, which excited considable interest. Mr Jas Garrott put up a fat beef cow, valued at $30, and no trouble was experienced in getting men to shoot. The result was that Wm Shepard got the first choice, George Shepard the second, Newton Savage the third, Riley Garret the fourth and George Cox the fifth. Another match for turkeys and a beef will occur at the same place to-morrow, when a big time is expected.

Last Saturday night at 12 o'clock a lodging house at Iman's Mills, 12 miles from Monroe, in Benton county, was destroyed by fire, and two of the inmates Frank Leonard and George Blake were burned to a crisp, and Joseph Shepherd so badly that his recovery is doubtful. All three had been drinking hard the night previous, and it is claimed were too drunk to help themselves. Shepherd was taken from the building by a sober young man named Holquet.

They were a love sick looking quartet as they wended their way to the Post Office, the two young men were so full that they staggered and the two young women clasped themselves by keeping their company, and seemed to think it fun, for they allowed them to walk arm in arm with them with the innocent light of the sun shining on them. From there they wended their way to the art gallery, but we doubt if they were enough head reeds there to keep them straight, and it would take a Prometheus to paint the staggering, sickly looks, on their faces. How they succeeded we have not yet learned.

Amman's Cough Syrup is not a patent medicine. No patent has been asked for or obtained upon it. To protect the public from counterfeiters and imitations the manufacturer has had the label registered in Washington. The Syrup is made from pure and costly drugs, and cannot be sold at cheap prices to the dealer as the common patent medicines that are simply made to sell, which explains why dishonest druggists or dealers try to sell you something else when asked for Amman's Cough Syrup. It is upon the market upon its own merits. You can buy a sample bottle for 15 cents, upon which, at the wholesale price, the manufacturer makes nothing. Ask to see a large bottle, and read the label.

The January number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly is remarkable for excellence, and is in all respects, what a magazine ought to be; the articles are exceedingly interesting and instructive; the stories, sketches, etc., highly entertaining; the poems possess much merit, and miscellany is most comprehensive, short stories, sketches, adventures, etc. Each number of this popular periodical contains 128 pages and over 100 illustrations, together with a beautiful colored plate frontispiece. The price of a single copy is 25 cents; yearly subscription $3. Postpaid. Address Mrs. FRANK LESLIE, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

The North American Review for January opens with a symposium in which three of the most prominent advocates in this country of the "Revision of Church Creeds," namely Rev Dr Newman Smyth, Rev Henry Ward Beecher and Rev Dr Lyman Abbott, set forth the grounds upon which such revision is deemed necessary. "University Education for Women," is discussed by Prof W. L. G. C. Stevens. Prof Isaac L. Rice gives a "Definition of Liberty." "American English," by Gilbert M. Tucker, is a spirited defense of our idiosyncratic fashion of English speech against the aspersions of sundry British critics. "Bigotry in the Medical Profession" by Dr David Hunt, is good. Finally, Charles T. Congdon, under the singularly apt title of "Adaptation of Intelligence," exposes some of the grave evils to be apprehended from the monopolization of telegraph lines, press associations and influential public journals. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

S. E. Gray is back from Prineville. Adran Comely has been in the city lately.

Mr. Wm. Graves, of Salem, was in Albany Monday.

Mr. Ed. Piper, of Salem, is in the city this week.

Mr. P. H. Raymond is on a trip to Portland and other places.

Capt J. J. Lansing was in Portland the first of the week.

Mr. John Nelson, of Sheldahl, was in the city last Tuesday.

Dr. El Clark, of Eugene, spent Christmas with his parents in this city.

Jim Davis, who has been attending school at Eugene, is home on a vacation.

Harry Upham and wife of Portland, are spending the holidays in Albany.

Miss Laura Goltz, of Portland, spent Christmas with her parents in this city.

Miss Lydia Rambaugh returned from a trip to Portland and other places last Monday.

Tracy Porter came up from Salem last Monday and is now foreman in the Herald office.

Mr. E. L. Bristol, business manager of the Portland Standard, was in the city last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, sister and brother-in-law of O. L. Thompson, are visiting with her in this city.

Mr. Wm Hopkins left for Salem last Sunday on the steamer Saloon, and will spend the holidays there.

Mr. Chas. Piers, formerly leader of the Mechanics and Ladies' Cornet Band, has been in the city this week.

Jason Wheeler, says the Prineville News, has been confined to his house for a week or so with the rheumatism.

John Goltz is spending his vacation at home in this city. He is now a student at Willamette University at Salem.

Mr. Walter Moffat, of Sweet Home was in the city the first of the week, and very kindly remembered the Democrat office, and very kindly remembered the Democrat office.

Dr. Lige Irvine and wife, came up from Portland last Saturday and are spending the holidays in this city among their many friends.

Rev John A. Shaw has been in the city in the interest of the American Sunday School Union, and is now stopping with Rev T. J. Wilson, at Halney.

Parley McKnight is now working on the railroad in Umattilla county, where he has charge of a gang of men. He is going first rate and likes the country.

Als Harris returned from Roseburg last Monday, and Tuesday was followed by Mack McKnight. They disposed of the entire stock of Otto Fox's goods.

C. C. Hogue came over from the Bay later and crossing the river on the steamer Saloon, arrived in this city Sunday morning, looking as if he had had quite a siege of rough traveling.

Rev R. C. Miller, of Roseburg, in company with his wife, has been in the city for several days. On account of a severe cold the former has been compelled to give up preaching for several weeks.

Bruce McKnight left for Portland last Tuesday, and will spend the winter there taking lessons on the violin. He was accompanied by his brother, and Whit Crawford, who will remain a few weeks.

Mr Hugh Diawidde who lives at Pine, in the south part of this county, called on us last Friday on his way home from Portland where he has been since Nov. 27th, in attendance upon the U. S. Dist. Court as a juror. Court adjourned until Jan. 3rd, 1883 when he will return.

Mr Alfred Holman, associate editor of the Oregonian, was in the city last Friday, in the interest of that journal, and while here favored us with a call. He is confident that it will only take the right stand toward the valley and work for our interests, we certainly had as live as it proper as the new paper to be started there.

We, last Saturday, received friendly calls from W. T. Slater, son of Senator Slater, and Milt Miller, son of R. O. Miller who lives near Lobson. Milt and W. T. have been attending school at the State University at Eugene. The former will spend the holidays with his father's family while Mr. Slater will spend his vacation with his uncle Gray some ten miles from Corvallis.

RAND RECEPTION.

Last Tuesday evening the third annual reception of the Ladies' Cornet Band, was held at the pleasant residence of Mr E. W. Langdon, on Second street. Mr Langdon, Mr J. N. Danforth, Dr E. L. Irvine and all the husbands the Band has at present, and were all present but one; but the prospects are good for more, at least sufficiently so to keep up the courage of the remaining unmarried members. Besides the husbands, and their wife there were present several young men as well as a few more lady friends, just enough to fill comfortable and at home. The evening was spent most agreeably in conversation, bass, tenor and alto, and games of various kinds, the favorite of which seemed to be "Old Maid" in two forms. An elegant repast was served at tea, emphasizing the fact that there are members of the Band who know how to cook in Delmonico style. As Levy's cornet playing is to most court playing so was this to most evening collections, and was an excellent music, in which Mr Langdon's rich voice and Charles Pierce's cornet, formed the principal part, the happy company dispersed at twelve, full of good wishes for each other husbands and everybody in general.

VERIBLÉ TRAGEDY AT PRINEVILLE.

Two Men Hung had One Shot.

Yesterday we learned by a letter from Prineville, and also by an extra to the "News" published at that place of a terrible tragedy in that city, last Saturday, in which a Linnite, a Marlonite and a Californian lost their lives. Al Swartz and several others were playing cards in a saloon when a bullet passed through the window and entered the neck of Swartz, from the effects of which he has since died.

At about the same time a party of married men went to the home of Wm Barnes near Prineville and took from there Syd Hunter, formerly of this county, and one Chas Luster, recently from California. What they did with them may be surmised from the fact that they were soon afterwards found hung to the limb of a juniper tree, about two miles from Prineville towards Ochoco. It seems as though the head above the ear and Luster was shot twice in the forehead. The shooting was probably done after they were hung. In reference to the reason for this tragedy the "News" says: "The generally accepted reason for such which is repeated attempts, many of which have been successful, at springing horses out of the slot." In other words that it was the work of the "Vigilante Committee."

It Means All.

Yes, sir, the stock of holiday goods at Giacchi's is really fast unsurpassed in Albany. His stock of children's express wagons, carriages, horses, etc., is the largest this side of Portland. His toy boxes and saws are worthy of attention, and then for toys generally, there are any number, dolls of all kinds, tin toys of ingenious make, canons, rubber tin, wooden, and all kinds of toys and enough to baffle one; how they do bug out the eyes of the youngsters.

For older people is the best French china in the city, porcelain, stone and earthen ware. His stock of silver plated ware is being greatly admired and deservedly so, for it is uncommonly fine. The handsomest kinds of vases are found here of the latest designs. Take Mr. Gradwell's stock altogether and there is not a better selected one, with a view to the useful and ornamental, for holiday gifts, in Linn county, nor to purchase before calling on him.

NOTICE.

To whom it may concern: The co-partnership existing between O. T. Porter and James Pottinger, under the firm name of Porter & Pottinger, publishers of the Albany Herald, at Albany, Or., has not been dissolved, all reports and statements to the contrary notwithstanding. I have not signed any notice of dissolution of co-partnership, and if my name should appear in this week's Herald attached to any such notice, it will be without my consent, and such notice will, therefore, be worthless. JAMES POTTINGER. Albany, Or., Dec. 28, 1882.

Oregon State Normal School.

This State Institute has been fully organized at Monmouth under the law by which it was created as passed by the last Legislature. The enrollment has already run to over 100 students, and those preparing to teach, we are informed, are coming from all parts of the state so that enrollment is rapidly increasing. The faculty consists of seven regular professors and teachers, besides assistants. The graduates receive a State Diploma from the State Board of Education that authorizes them to teach in any public school in the State. For circulars or further information, address D. T. Stanley, A. M., President, Monmouth, Oregon.—Ex.

CHRISTMAS.

Daily Observed in Albany by Big and Little.

A more beautiful day never blessed this welcome holiday. It was appreciated by most of our citizens, who put on their best "bliss and ticklers," stopped work and had good times, most in a quiet, peaceable way, others in tanglet, bob actings manners. Christmas is popularly a day of giving. As this is a free country everybody can give as he pleases. One young man gave several dollars into the City Treasury for the privilege of defending himself (?) when attacked by several boys. Some gave to Santa and some to their friends, some for policy's sake and some for love, some for fun, some for spite, but nearly all gave something, and many was the young heart that was made happy, and some we expect and by neglect. We would rather be a hermit at the North pole than a boy "left out in the cold" on Christmas day. Most of the giving was done at the churches, on trees, which seemed to be well filled with sensible presents. The members of the

EVANGELICAL S. S.

held their Christmas tree Saturday night. The church was filled to the front steps, with booming countenances. Interesting exercises preceded the giving of presents, the distribution of which, was, as is always the case, the principal feature. On Monday night trees were unloaded at four different places. At the two well shaped trees held the many substantial and other presents, arranged so as to attract the eyes of the young ones, and make them eager to hear their names called. In the background round a handsome evergreen cross which showed off to advantage, and combining all a very pretty picture was formed. The giving of presents took place after some appropriate exercises by the children. The single tree at the

was particularly pretty, and contained just enough presents to show that they were being put on more to remember the children than to make a show. The exercises were of an attractive nature. The simplicity of the arrangements here deserve the best commendation. At the two trees held a large number of presents, which were noticeable for their variety, more than their great value, and ranging from a marriage license to a quart of snipe, from a lead pencil to some beautiful silver ware. The exercises went off well, as did also three alarm clocks, which some mischievous boys had set to strike at 3 o'clock.

Current Topics.

"Will my house be burglarized?" Considerable good sense was displayed Christmas night by giving presents of fair value, without too much display. Raffles are exhibiting the caprices of the diad.

Will we forget to write it? As Ballou's motto has something to offset the big profits made from their monopolistic habits, accidents and freshets, are instituted, for the purpose of putting part of the money in the pockets of laborers and mechanics.

About two hundred marriages are consummated in Linn County each year. Whether it is pronounced Albany or Albany is causing considerable feeling, and may result in the changing of the name.

It is said that Chinaman do not appreciate our Christmas, but handsome silk handkerchiefs just received from "Pretty" testify to the falsity of this.

FINE HOLIDAY GOODS.

Presents for Ladies.

Fine cloaks and cashmires. Celluloid sets, plush and leather. Albums, Morocco and plush. Picture frames, plush and velvet. Card cases, Russia leather and pearl. Bohemian vases, new styles. Coin, silver and rolled plated jewelry. Fine hair and dolls brushes. Ladies' stambles, plush, seal and Morocco. Handkerchiefs and glove boxes. Elegant fans and silk umbrellas. Celluloid, hand mirrors and combs. Fine corsets and kid shoes. Fine sets, muffs and bags. Also a large assortment of fancy, desirable goods, suitable for the approaching holiday trade, every article marked in plain figures at lowest cash prices. J. M. NOLAN, Ladies' Emporium.

Election of Officers.

At its last regular meeting, Bayley Chapter No. 8, elected the following officers to serve the ensuing Masonic year: J. K. Weatherford, H. P. R. W. Langdon, E. K. R. A. Foster, E. S. Geo Humphrey, G. of H. Geo Chamberlain, P. S. L. Sanders, R. A. C. John Brush, Treas. D. R. N. Blackburn, Sec. A. B. Paxton, G. M. 3rd V. G. E. Wolvorton, G. M. 2nd V. W. R. Blyden, G. M. 2nd V. R. "Euchopasia."

Quick, complete cure, all annoying Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases. $1. Druggists.

Blue Ribbon Club.

An interesting meeting of this club was held last Friday evening, there being only a fair attendance. The music was furnished from some temperance books, and was very commendable. A reading by Miss Lib Irvine and a recitation by Miss Ina Robertson were both good. The address by Rev. T. J. Wilson of Halney, elicited the closest attention and received the approval of all. The following committees were appointed by the President for the State Alliance which meets here in February, the first.

ON ENTERTAINMENT.

Obituary Notice.

Mr. Isham Walker, the subject of this obituary was born in the State of Tennessee, he professed religion while quite young and united with the Baptist Church. He united in marriage with Miss M. C. Howell of that State, with whom he lived in undisturbed harmony and raised a respectable family, who have followed his example in usefulness. He resided in Oregon in an early day and became an honored citizen of Linn county, where, after the death of his companion, he married Mrs E. M. Thompson, of the same county, in the year 1874, with whom he lived happily until death severed their union. During his sickness his faithful companion like an angel of mercy was ever ready to render any services he needed.

Brother Walker filled the measure of a noble citizen, loved his country as a true patriot, a kind husband and devoted father, a faithful and energetic christian, possessing a warm heart, prompting a liberal contribution for the cause of Christ. During his protracted illness he enjoyed the religious conversation of the committee on the part of the Society. In view of death he had no fears realising an assurance of a home in heaven. He passed quietly to the rest that remains for the faithful on the 12th of October, 1882, aged 88 years 6 months and 2 days. Peace to his departed spirit. The Baptist Church in Albany mourns the loss of a beloved member. R. C. HILL.

Its Equal is Unknown.

A Lowell (Mass.) paper, so we observe, cites the case of Mr P. H. Short, proprietor of the Belmont Hotel, of that city, who suffered with rheumatism for seventeen years without finding relief from any of the numerous remedies applied, until he applied St. Jacobs Oil. "I never found any medicine that produced such remarkable and instantaneous effect as it did," says Mr Short.—"Lyons (Ist) Mirror."

DEED.

HUTSINPILLER.—On Dec. 1st, ELEANOR MARIE HUTSINPILLER aged 10 years, 3 months and 29 days. Also Dec. 1st, MORTON ANDREW HUTSINPILLER aged 4 years, 11 months and 6 days. Children of Mr and Mrs Alois Hutsinpiller, residing near Oak Creek 5 miles east of Albany.

[They were victims of that dread disease—scarlet fever, and were sick but little more than two days each. Thus in the bloom of promising childhood these dear ones were taken from loving parents. Ella was especially loved by all her school mates—ever present in her classes and making rapid progress in all her studies. She was very thoughtful and kind to her younger brothers and sisters, giving them almost a mother's care and little Morton was a bright playful fellow just ready to begin life's work. But they are gone to a brighter life—a better home above; there to complete what was so well begun on earth.]

"Not to be patient
