

T. J. STITES, Editor.

Who deserves the most thanks for electing Garfield and Arthur? Dorse, Brady and Grant.

Work all over the country will now rise up and with united voices call the Tariff Commission blessed, because they have placed corsets upon the free list.

The "infant" industry, remarks the Savannah News, that can out-bawl the pig iron interests in crying for more protection, is entitled to the finest chromo that can be procured.

If Foster precipitates a temperance campaign in Ohio, says the Enquirer, it is safe to say that John Sherman will not be one of his stampers. And here is a Sherman gradually getting the edge on Foster in that State.

MARSHALL JEWELL, who was at one time a member of Grant's Cabinet, Governor of Connecticut, and Chairman of the National Republican Committee during the last Presidential campaign, died on the 11th inst., at Hartford, Connecticut, of pneumonia.

The authorities of Davis county, Mo., have made representations to Judge White of Kansas City, that they have evidence that will likely convict Frank James of murder. Judge White has issued an order granting the immediate delivery of the prisoner to the custody of the officials of that county. He was accordingly taken to Gallatin.

The following amendment has been proposed to the constitution of Illinois, by a member of the Legislature of that State:

"No person shall manufacture, or keep or sell in this State, any alcohol, whisky, high wines, wine, ale, beer, or other intoxicating liquors whatever, except for medical, scientific and mechanical purposes."

Verily prohibition will not down at any one's bidding, and yet the great question is, will prohibition prohibit!

Wiggins the weather wisecracker who predicted such a fearful storm to pass over this country on the 9th of March, now appears before the public and withdraws the prophecy by saying that he made a mistake in his astronomical calculations, and that the failure of the storm removes a world of responsibility from his mind on account of the terror his prediction struck in the public throughout the world. We are happy to be able to inform the wily Wiggins that, although his prediction reached the people of Oregon some time since, the terror has not come yet.

The Governor of New York, says the Sun, is the most industrious official the State has had for many years. He is in his office at half past eight in the forenoon. He stays in his office until 6 o'clock p. m., when he goes to the Executive Mansion to dinner. Eight o'clock, as a rule, finds him back to his desk where he often remains until 10 and 12 o'clock at night. Verily the tidal wave Governor's appreciate one fact that seems to have been lost sight of in the scramble for office under Republican rule, namely, that Governors are mere servants of the people.

We know not whether the News owes the Albany Herald "a good big one," or any other kind of "one," for that matter we have not information sufficient to form a belief. We have sufficient knowledge however to enable us to aver that the DEMOCRAT does not owe the News "two or three" or any other number of "ones." But it is a common saying among newspaper folks and the reading public generally, that the News owes the general public a score of "ones" for the discrepancies and mistakes that have appeared in its columns since it began its career.

"Chickens," says the old proverb, "will come home to roost." It seems that Democrats may depend upon Republicans to make a mistake. But Democratic anticipation of the fondest kind has been more than realized during the last year. The senatorial fights in Oregon between "half breeds" and "stalwarts," as well as the same kind of fights in New York, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Nebraska, Colorado and Michigan, have left heart burnings and divisions among them that will not be healed for years to come. The election of T. M. Bowen as Senator from Colorado, insures the defeat of the Republican party in that State in their next election. The character and ability of Bowen will be more fully understood by our readers when they learn, that in the days of carpet-bag rule, he wended his way to Arkansas in search of office, where he came in opposition to another detectable carpet-bagger, Dorse, when he offered himself to the carpet-bag and reconstruction Legislature of that State, for U. S. Senator. The fact that this Legislature chose Dorse to represent Arkansas in the United States Senate instead of Bowen, is conclusive as to the utter unworthiness of Bowen to represent any honorable, intelligent people. But why should not Republican leaders make mistakes, when we consider that they have nothing to offer the people other than their insatiable desire for place, plunder, and power!

GROWING DESPERATE.

Our Republican friends are so completely dumbfounded over the hopeless divisions and internal wranglings in their party all over the country, that they are now resorting to all manner of devices to turn public attention from their own party, to trumped up dangers threatening the Democrat party.

The latest effort in that direction is one made by an obscure member of Congress from New York by the name of Van Voorhis, who has sought out a reporter of the Chicago Tribune and had himself interviewed, and the reporter takes a column to say that Van Voorhis thinks Ben Butler will be the next Democratic candidate for President. Now, among Democrats, it is not necessary to say it, but for the enlightenment of Republican Journals that are forcing (or trying to) Ben Butler upon the attention of the people as a Democratic candidate for President, we will say this: That none, but Republican papers, are urging Ben Butler for the Democratic nomination for the presidency. They do this because the wish is farther to the thought. They intensely desire the Democrats to make some such mistake as nominating Ben Butler for the presidency, for their only hope of electing the next President hangs upon the Democrats making some such fatal mistake. No Democratic paper in the land is urging the nomination of Ben Butler. Once, for all, we tell our readers that it is folly to think of his being a candidate. Another silly story is started by the San Francisco Chronicle to the effect that Senator Grover has announced that Judge Fields will be a candidate again for the nomination. It is given out in such a way as to make its readers believe that Senator Grover espouses the cause of Judge Fields. We do not think it is true. We think Senator Grover has too much good sense and political sagacity to push the claims of so distasteful a man as Judge Fields. At all events we have no hesitation in saying that we have no fears whatever that Ben Butler or Judge Fields will receive the nomination of the Democratic party for President.

RE-KEXE LAWS.

Our readers have not forgotten the extraordinary measures resorted to by Republican leaders during the days of Grantism and Caesarism, in order to control elections in the South. These leaders knew full well that when the voice of the people of the South was fairly expressed at the polls, that all but one or two of the Southern States would cast their votes against the Republican party. These party leaders, seeing that their party strength and prestige were waning in the north under the just criticism of a people who love law, order and personal liberty, resorted to those extraordinary measures known as reconstruction laws under which nearly all whites were, in effect, disfranchised, in order to hold political power in the South. These laws proving ineffectual, these same leaders resorted to what was known as Ku Klux laws for the open, patent purpose of terrorizing the South and forcing them to submit to Republican political domination. These and other laws enacted for the express purpose of subjugating the white people, years after the war had ceased, were a disgrace to any people who loved personal liberty. And, one by one, they are being set aside as poisonous exorcismes upon the body politic, either by the repealing power of Congress, or the abrogating power of the Judicial department of the general government. The supreme court of the United States has had, for some time, the Ku Klux laws under consideration and have decided such laws unconstitutional. Thus are the people determined that their servants shall return to constitutional methods and administer the government within the restrictions imposed by the constitution of the United States. This is one of the healthy signs showing the happy results of the fall elections. Day by day, month by month, and year by year, must we lop off, crush out, and destroy all unwaranted assumptions of power by the federal or state governments upon any pretext or for any purpose whatever, until we shall have educated our people up to a recognition of the duties and obligations which they owe to a government, the great object of whose foundation, was, to secure, in a liberal sense, the great blessings of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF ASHLAND.

The city council of Ashland is burdened also with the prohibition question. They have prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors in less quantities than a quart, simply by refusing to grant licenses, but parties sell in greater quantities, without any license at all. The council are seeking a way whereby they may prohibit in any quantity. They are bent on making prohibition prohibit if it is possible to do so.

A LONDON DISPATCH SAYS.

The outlook of crops generally throughout the earth is gloomy in the extreme. No part of the continent, east or west, has escaped rains and inundations. The immediate destruction of property has been widespread, but it is insignificant as compared with the damaged prospects of the year.

TON OCHILTREE.

It will be remembered that this individual was in the Chicago Convention two years ago and supported Grant. He made himself famous by asking the question, "What did we come here for, if not for the office?" At the last election he was elected by the Republicans to Congress from the Galveston district in Texas, the Democrats being divided over their own candidate. It now comes to light that Ochiltree was U. S. Marshall some years ago in Texas and when he came to settle his accounts he was short about $10,000. The government brought suit and recovered judgment for that amount which with interest now amounts to about $13,000. It is now proposed to attack his salary as Congressman to secure the payment of his judgment. He is a representative, southern Republican.

THE BOARD OF INSANE ASYLUM.

The Board of Insane Asylum Commissioners have appointed Dr. Givens, of Clackamas County, as Assistant Superintendent of the Insane Asylum. The correspondent of the Oregonian tells the people that Dr. Givens is a Democrat, and Republicans are now taking unto themselves much credit because the Board is making non-partisan appointments. But a Republican now comes to the front and tells the Statesman that his understanding is that Dr. Givens is a Republican. While the Democratic party is not asking for the appointment of a Democrat to that position, yet we feel it our duty to protect against Republicans attempting to heap up unto themselves this credit by the appointment of a Democrat, they have appointed a man who is not known as a Democrat or whom a Democratic Board would never think of appointing were they in power. We have information that leads us to believe that this appointee is a Republican, and if so the public will not object to the appointment of Republicans to those positions but will object to the Board appointing some independent or Republican, and palm the appointment off on the people as a Democratic one.

WE ARE RECEIVING, WEEKLY.

We are receiving, weekly, the American Register, published at Washington City. This is a bold, outspoken exponent and defender of the principles of the Democratic party. Nothing but genuine Democratic doctrines are taught in its columns. Terms $2 per year, or $1 per copy in a club of ten.

THE SUPREME COURT OF LOUISIANA.

The Supreme Court of Louisiana, having decided that the prohibitory amendment adopted in that State is unconstitutional, the friends of temperance all over the State consider that by a mere technicality, not justified by equity or reason, their victory has been wrested from them, and are indignant at the decisions of a court whose actions are modified by public sentiment.

Both the water and gas supply were threatened at Cincinnati on the 11th, the works being submerged. It is stated the damage will amount in Covington, Cincinnati and Newport to a million dollars.

CORRESPONDENCE.

LEBANON NOTES.

LEBANON, Or., Feb. 14, 1883.
Editors Democrat:
The different Churches and Sunday schools have selected delegates to attend the State Temperance Alliance at Albany, next week. From present appearances a large delegation will be in attendance from here on that occasion.

OUR TOWNSMAN, J. W. CUSICK, WAS IN PORTLAND LAST WEEK, AND WHILE THERE SOLD HIS ENTIRE STOCK INTEREST EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS TO A GENTLEMAN OF THAT CITY.

The mountain was a large one, and will approximate $30,000 or more when all stock is delivered.

Joseph Nixon has retired from the hotel in the city of Salem. The proposed Mr. Kilex has assumed full charge. Mr. Nixon, though in the business for only a short time, made a host of friends, who will regret that he no longer serves them as landlord.

Mr. Cleaver, who lately purchased the Lebanon flouring mill, is on hand, and is in full charge of the mill.

From reliable information we learn that the owners of the Narrow Gages Railroad are thinking of changing the location of the road. They realize that a great mistake was made in putting it where they did. They are satisfied that it is almost impossible to build bridges that will stand the heavy frosts which they now are. The proposed change will bring it from Scio through the Richardson Gap direct to Lebanon, and from here to Brownville. A splendid site for a bridge can be had near the county bridge across the South fork of the Santiam. Should this change take place it will greatly add to the interests of all concerned.

A Saltmarsh has received from the Fish Commission of Washington City, some two dozen German carp, which he intends to propagate. The fish were in good condition and measured about three inches. At two years they will weigh two pounds. It is to be hoped Mr. S. may be successful in the experiment.

Miss A. R. Lane gave two entertainments while here. The first evening she had a crowded house, but the last time was only a small attendance. As an elocutionist she fails to give satisfaction. In fact, one entertainment is about all most people can stand, and many grow very tired even at that.

BROWNVILLE ITEMS.

Brownville, Or., Feb. 14, 1883.
Eds. Democrat:
The saw-mill has for some time been undergoing repairs; but it started up last Tuesday.

The woolen mills stopped during a few days, on account of lack of water.

Mr. C. P. Bishop and lady, both of Crawfordville, have been visiting relatives in this city.

O. P. Coahow, Jr., will return from the State University at the close of the Spring Term, and remain until Fall.

During the late freeze up, nearly every one anticipated; some indulged on the ice. Mr. Elmer Kerns broke through, and Mr. Geo. C. Blakely fell and bruised his chin and cut a hole through his lip.

During the high water last week, several young men upset the city ferry, and got "dunked." Not long after, one highly respected Dr. Starr, while forcing the steam boat into high water and lost his pill bag.

Mr. Miner Lewis, of The Dalles, is in this city.

Mr. A. K. Thompson is sick.

Mr. Ed. Meyer is preparing the timbers for the Brownville bridge.

Mr. Chas. Hodges and wife expect to move to Seattle soon. Mrs. Hodges has sold out.

On last Monday night, the North Brownville Literary Society gave a public meeting. The brass band favored the society with some excellent music, after some miscellaneous exercises, such as declamations, essays, select reading, instrumental and vocal music, and reading of the Society paper, came the discussion of the question, "Resolved, That Art is more pleasing to the eye, than Nature. Eight persons defended their respective sides with considerable exhibition of preparation for the occasion. The judges Messrs. Frank Verner, Farley and Prof. Moss decided in favor of the affirmative. Then Prof. Moss favored the audience with a rousing speech on "home education." The Prof. is making a good County Superintendent, and his work is appreciated.

SCIO NOTES.

SCIO, Feb. 12, 1883.
Eds. Democrat:
We are to-day enjoying the pleasure of a gentle Oregon mist, which is very acceptable to all. Stock are suffering considerably on account of severe weather and little feed, but as yet, few have died. Messrs. McDonald & Hugbet and Jesse Beard, are the principal owners in this vicinity.

Work has commenced on the North Santiam bridge, repairing the damage done by the late high water. It is the intention of the R. R. Co., to construct a break-water just above this bridge. This is a good move.

Uncle Bob Pentland has just completed repairing his dam, which was damaged considerably by the late rains.

The mail comes to Scio very irregularly, at present it reaches us (via) Jefferson.

A petition is being circulated asking for an appropriation to construct a bridge across the North Santiam river at the point known as Davis Ferry. But we do not believe there is sufficient interest manifested to accomplish such. Our influential citizens should take this matter in hand and push it to the farthest extent. Unless some one takes the lead, nothing will be accomplished in that direction.

Mr. Dannels, an organ dealer, has been doing our city for the past few days. We believe he hangs up at Charley Johnson's, at least most of his spare moments are spent in that part of the city. We gleaned the above intelligence from George H.

Mr. A. J. Houston has been confined to his room for the past week.

Mr. G. W. Johnson, formerly one of Scio's leading merchants, has located

IN SALEM. Success to you, George.

We noticed Tom Barnes, our noted hunter, meandering down the street last week, with one little, forlorn looking duck in his game bag. Of course it was not a good day for ducks.

St. Valentine's day is close at hand, and we are expecting a whole arm-full, and we don't want our lady friends to forget it.

This has assumed such lengthy proportions it is sure to be assigned to the waste basket, so we will close.

LANG STATION ITEMS.

LANG STATION, Feb. 13th, 1883.
Eds. Democrat:
The farmers in this community all have the "blues," owing to the fact that the recent cold weather played havoc with their grain. Large fields of grain that looked nice and green before the freeze now look as yellow as the old sage fields of North Carolina. It will nearly all have to be sown.

The Reverend Bachelor assisted by J. Surly, has been holding religious services at the Burkhardt school house during the past week.

Mr. Oscar Blount, of your city, paid us a visit last Sunday. Oscar has many warm friends in this community and you may tell him to come again.

Bruce Wallace says he had 60 acres of wheat, almost as large as the Democratic majority in New York, yet the freeze killed it and he will have to re-sow.

Every body in this vicinity has been trying to learn who "The Mermaid" is, but as yet they have been unable to identify him.

Mr. George Taylor has an onion patch some distance from his house, and he made the discovery that some one had been stealing them, yet he was unable to identify the thief, finally the whole mystery was explained. Joe Keebler came home from town one evening rather late. He threw himself down on the carpet and commenced groaning, and some one asked him, what was the matter, and he exclaimed, Oh! Lordy! Lordy! I'm sick! I'm sick! well what is the matter with you? Oh! Oh! Oh! I came through George Taylor's onion patch as I came home and ate one little onion and it made me so sick I thought I would never get home. Oh! Oh! Oh!!!

HARRISBURG ITEMS.

Harrisburg, Or., Feb. 14, 1883.
Eds. Democrat:
The young people in this locality continued to make good use of the ice until the rain set in, and the hunters made good use of the freeze also in slaying the greatest objects of our last Legislature, viz, ducks.

Grandpa Kitchen is recovering very rapidly from his sickness.

A son of ex-County Commissioner, Levi Douglas, aged about sixteen, is lying sick with something like the fever. He was first taken with a chill or two perhaps from exposure to cold, and over exertion in skating on one evening last week.

Except what is stated above, the health of the community is remarkably good considering the severity of the weather for some time past.

Last Monday morning, W. N. Lawrence's dwelling house was observed to be on fire from a spark from the chimney at about twenty minutes past seven; but by some active work on the part of Mr. Jerry Hay, some water was placed on the fire which held it until it gave up entirely. It would have been a very bad time for a fire to have got a good start, on account of the strong wind which was blowing at that time.

Our City Council still fails to acquiesce in the wishes of the people in regard to the city marshal matter spoken of last week. Wonder if the City Council are servants of the people, or the people subjects of the City Council?

CENTREVILLE ITEMS.

CENTREVILLE, Or., Feb. 12th, 1883.
Eds. Democrat:
Snow 15 inches deep and a terrible blizzard blowing. We have had sleigh-riding for the last two weeks. Last week the thermometer dropped down to 35° below zero and remained there several nights. The ground is not frozen and the farmers say the wheat is doing well. We are counting upon a big crop and extra good times this year.

Friends of C. P. Davis, Deputy P. M., are very indignant about the mail robbing business, and someone beyond doubt is putting a job upon him. Mr. Davis has the respect, and is looked upon by all business men here as strictly honest.

Stock of all kinds has suffered by the extreme cold weather and many froze to death.

Any information about P. B. Johnson, Henry White and George Carns, who left this city in haste, will be highly received by Tom Martin, Sheriff.

Centerville is improving fast. Scarlet fever is among us.

IN REFERENCE TO THE HARRISBURG BRIDGE.

Harrisburg, Or., Feb. 14, 1883.
Eds. Democrat:
In your issue of last week, I notified a communication from "Dan," in which he says regarding the late accident at Harrisburg bridge, "That all that carried the train over after the bonis went out, was drift bolts and lateral braces." Now, the truth is, there was neither drift bolts or lateral braces in the train, but the train was carried over by the stringer bolts, cobbles and dish plates. He further says, "the fifteen hundred dollar wing, dam and ditch, which the company built last summer is gone." Now, the ditch is filled up some, but the dam is there as solid as ever, and the cost of which was over five thousand dollars.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

The Newark (N. J.) "Sunday Call" says: One of our Cincinnati exchanges cites the case of Mr. Haldeaman of the Louisville "Courier-Journal" who was cured of rheumatism by St. Jacobs Oil. His wife was cured of neuralgia by the same article and every member of his family of some pain or ache by the Great German Remedy.

FROM "THE TIMES."

Editor of the "Times"—The statements recently published in your valuable paper have created much excitement in this city among the class who own and use horses, and had been amplified by the editor published, from Dr. Bates, in regard to the remarkable success he always had with Kendall's Spavin Cure, I decided to write you my experience with it. My first knowledge of this remedy came through a visit to the office of the Massachusetts Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. This society was the first to use Kendall's Spavin Cure in Boston, and I was informed by Chas. A. Currier, a gentleman in whom I had the utmost confidence that they had never used anything that worked so well for spavin or any lameness in horses, and he stated that he gave it to poor men who had lame horses and would agree to use it, and in this way he was able to get along without procuring them, as it was sure to cure when procured with. Some time after this I received a very severe injury to the knee joint, and the high recommendation which Mr. Currier gave of Kendall's Spavin Cure, gave me so much confidence in it that I used it for my knee with the very best results, and since that time my faith has been so strong in the merits of this remedy that we will not be without it in the house. I have tried it since that time for foot-rot, sore teats and warts on my own teats, also for a general liniment for my horses and in my family and I sincerely believe, with all those who have written you letters, that there never was so good a liniment for both man and beast ever discovered before. Hoping you will continue to give us more light on this subject I am,

Yours very truly,

ROBT. C. AYER,

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1, 1881.

THE NEW YORK HERALD'S NET PROFITS LAST YEAR WERE $800,000. THIS IS MORE THAN WE CLEAR IN A MONTH.

"Osgood's" means another man's poison. Kidney-Wort expels the poisonous humors. The first thing to do in the Spring is to clean house. For internal cleansing and renovating, no other medicine is equal to Kidney-Wort. In either dry or liquid form it cures headache, bilious attacks, constipation and deranged kidneys.

THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

Every sufferer from liver complaints and constipation will doubtless avail themselves of the golden opportunity presented of testing the new remedy, Syrup of Figs, free of charge. Cases of long standing, which have only been aggravated by the harsh, griping medicines formerly used, yield promptly to the gentle yet thorough influence of Syrup of Figs. Those who have tried it praise it highly. Taste sweet, free, and large bottles for sale by Fowley, Mason, Albany, Rector & Son, Halsey.

No lady of refinement likes to resort to superficial devices to supply a becoming semblance of her former beauty. It is health alone that kindles the fire that lights the countenance and brings back the fresh tints of the apple blossom to the faded cheek. If anything on earth will do this it is Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has already brought health to multitudes with whom all other means have failed.

T. C. Anderson, the colored distributing clerk in the New Orleans post office, was recently arrested for the larceny of letters. Twenty opened ones were found on him. He was one of the infamous Louisiana returning board, and was appointed to his present position by R. B. Hayes, in return for services rendered in his behalf.

We learn that there is a well defined case of small-pox in this county, about 18 miles from this city, and that the neighborhood where the case is, are considerably excited over the matter, as quite a number of persons were exposed to the disease before it was known what was the matter. Our information we deem perfectly reliable or we would not have made this statement.—Statesman.
