Albany, June 18th, 1883.

OUR AGENTS.

Following are the Democrat's duly authorized agents to receive subscriptions or money for the same:

Lebanon, T. L. Wallace; Harriburg, Sam May; Coquille, O. P. Coburn; Halsey, T. L. Porter; Seaside, F. A. Watts; Seaside, W. E. Kelly; Jefferson, S. A. DeVaney.

DO NOT WAIT.

Our next issue will contain about 15 columns of reading matter descriptive of the material, geological and other resources of Linn county.

Seven copies 50 cents, fifteen copies $1.00, twenty-five copies $1.50. Order now, as we will issue only a sufficient number to fill the orders received before going to press.

Sunshine and Clouds.

In another column we publish the meteorological report kindly furnished us by John Briggs, Esq., for the year 1883.

It should be clipped out and preserved, and as well sent to friends in the East for its speaks for Oregon climate.

The highest barometer was 30.37, the lowest 29.09, the average being about 29.50. The highest thermometer was 90, the lowest 10, average, 50. The greatest velocity of force was 4. The total rainfall was 39.44 inches, which entitles us to have the name of Webster dropped.

The total number of rainy days was 98, the most in any month, April, being 19, there being only one month in which there was none, July. The number of cloudy days was 125, and there were only 38 frosty days.

Tide of Immigration.

Reports from the East announce the preparation of thousands to start for Oregon in the spring, all eyes are this way, and we must get ready for them.

Let our farmers all through the county prepare to cut up their farms into 150 and 200 acre farms and sell them off, keeping only one themselves. This is the way to populate the county, and now is the time to consider these facts, and as well Albany business men should strike now to obtain manufacturers here. These are what we MUST have to make Albany grow. The time to fix the roof of a house is before it rains, and in this respect this winter is the golden period.

Match Hunt.

A match hunt takes place to-day. (Friday) in and near many, when the track and yellow hammer will be likely to suffer either from too much attention or neglect. It will be a big affair, all except the score, followed by a big supper. The following Nimrods form the twosides:

W B Scott, Captain. D D Hackleman, J J Duburville, Geo Burkhardt, Barr Sloan, E W Langdon, F S Ingram.

C W Watts, Captain. D B Monteith, Nick Springer, Geo C Willis, O Roberts, C Pfeiffer, Jas Foster, Jr.

Last Saturday night, a First street business man got on a spree, and in the middle of the night made things echo, and behaved himself so that one of his daughters called in the police.

"Who ordered my arrest," said the man.

"I did," came in tones of electricity from the girls as she tapped him or the back.

He was duly judged, and had to face the Recorder like any one else, to his shame and cost.

Chandeler Falls.

Last Friday evening about 7:30 o'clock the chandeler in the boat and shoe room of S. F. Young's store, 60 1/2 to the rear part of the lamp burning and burning some shoes as well as the floor. Quick work on the part of Mr Young and his clerks extinguished the flames. The total loss as adjusted was $34.31, which was paid by eight insurance companies.

Congregational S. S.

The following officers have been elected by the Congregational S. S. for the ensuing year:

W R Blain, Superintendent, C L Brust, Assistant Superintendent, Ed Thompson, Fin. Secretary, Frank Tenney, Secretary, W H Hirt, Treasurer.

On last Friday evening a reception was tendered Rev J F Floyd and wife by the members and friends of the Christian denomination, at the residence of Mr I Hayes, in this city. About fifty persons were present, and the occasion was a most enjoyable one.

The Supreme Court has held that the $500 license in Portland was valid, which puts a great many thousands of dollars into our coffers.

HOME AND ABROAD.

F M French, jeweler, Fresh salmon are plenty now—a days, 115 sholons are enrolled at the College.

Masked balls are reported everywhere but in Albany.

The first leap year party in Albany is to be heard from.

Postal cards are not to be made any longer, says an exchange.

There can be no complaint now about the amount of rain which we are having.

A series of meetings will begin at the Evangelical church on Monday Jan. 21st.

Ammon's Cough Syrup never fails to cure if used in time and according to directions.

Albano Oester is now agent at Warm Springs, Capt John Smith having been relieved.

In Pendleton when a jury is wanted every body is a freeman, and when a fire occurs, nobody is.

A man got on a spree at Grants Pass recently and soon afterwards died. He took some morphine.

We are assured that it is not true that Henry Villard will edit the Portland News, He might do worse.

A dollar a bushel was offered last week for wheat in Oakland. It was brought about by a corner on that cereal.

Overeaters you must avoid and the best you should have. By calling on Hoffman & Joseph you can get them.

The next regular meeting of the Y. P. T. U. will be held on Friday, Jan. 18, at 3:30 o'clock, at the Y. P. C. A. Hall.

The freight on the new hook and ladder truck for Roseburg from Rochester, N. Y., was $387, a perfect outrage.

Villard has failed, and now, come to think about it, Villard is about as honest a man as you often run across.

Harry Loraine has left the stage and has located at Ashland, where he will tune pianos, etc., at which he is quite skillful.

Remember Nolan's stock of dry goods, clothing, etc., is all new and will be sold at under cost until the first of March.

Henry B Payne has been nominated by the legislative Democratic caucus of Ohio to succeed Pendleton in the U. S. Senate.

The Walla Walla Statesman has begun its twenty-third year, with a splendid record. It is a live, enterprising paper and is liberal-ly supported.

The first of the week, a son of Mr Hunter on the old Finlayson place stepped on an ax and cut his knee quite severely. Dr Hill attended him.

Mr Girard, of the firm of Duffey & Girard, has sold his interest in the match factory to Mr Jas Murray, and the business is now run by Duffey & Murray.

Wm Hamilton, mentioned last week as having been arrested at Harriburg charged with passing gilded V cent pieces for V dollar pieces was released on bail.

Conty Clerk Stewart stuck a tack in his foot, and this is why he limps around with a slipper on his left foot. Other reasons assigned are not well founded.

In the courts in Portland a Chinese interpreter has to be hired. They are to be relied upon so little that interpreters on one or both sides are hired to watch him.

$54,350 was spent in new buildings last week on the right and make it a period, and you will not come far from hitting Albany.

Last Wednesday Matt Scott brought a Jersey heifer to this city, for which he received five twenties. It is a beautiful cow and gives cream. Mr Ans. Marshall is now the owner.

We have been invited by Governor Stoneman, of California, to a meeting at the Grand Hotel in San Francisco, on Jan. 3rd, to see about holding the world fair at San Francisco in 1887.

The Halsey Bayle first tooted its horn on January 6th, and it was a loud heard all over the county. Mr A. L. Miller is its editor.

The first train contains many interesting facts. Size 12-18.

Mr J H Townsend living just south of the city informs us that, if nothing happens to prevent, there will be an abundance of strawberries next season. He says the prospect is now most excellent.

About as ridiculous as anything we see in for some local newspapers to attempt to run an illustrated department by giving the rate of great men. It is hard to tell Carlisle from the Mayor of Poduc.

On next week we shall present our article on Linn county, and as the issue of that week will reach a much larger number of people than usual, it will pay our business men to advertise at that time.

The grounds on which the Dundee Mortgage Company are fighting the collection of taxes is that the law affects contracts already made, most of their money having been loaned before the law was made.

Monday night, Mr John Hoffman, the new Chief Engineer of the fire department, resigned as foreman of No. 2, and Mr H Lampman was elected. W B Scott was elected 1st Assistant foreman in place of Mr Lampman.

The Ashland woolen mills recently made a pair of stockings six feet long from toe to top. Like the boy who was always wishing, we wish we had a woolen mill in Albany that could do that; about two feet is the capacity of ours.

On last Saturday Geo Patterson, of this city received a telegram from his daughter Mrs Viola Miller announcing the death of her husband, Rev. Miller. Rev. Miller has been in ill-health for a long time, and his death was not unexpected.

The Last Overland Monthly is a fine production, and an honor to the Coast. It should be supported liberally by every literary person on the Coast. Send $4 for a year's subscription, or 35 cents for a single number, to San Francisco, 120 Sutter St.

An Astoria citizen wishes to know why it is a fact in that city that when an outsider gets drunk he is arrested and fined, but when a member of the common council gets full he is carried home. That certainly deserves an answer.

A writer to the Lake county Examiner, says of Albany and other places in the county: "Albany contains a population of about 3000. A large canal taken out of the Santiam river twelve miles southeast of the town of Lebanon, furnishes the town with an excellent water power. Several flouring mills and other industries seem to be doing a thriving business. The Albany prairie lying east of the town is of considerable size and one of the finest tracts of land in the state. It is some fifteen miles in width and fifty or sixty miles in length and well improved. Lebanon, thirteen miles east of Albany, has a population of some seven or eight hundred. It boasts of having one of the finest academies in the state. Davisville, four miles southeast of Lebanon, is a place of some note as a watering place, there being a spring of soda water there."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

O F Paxton spent last Sunday in Albany. Henry J Clark, of Portland is visiting in Albany.

Mr Walter Huston, of Harriburg, called on us Tuesday. He is one of the Democrat's old standbys.

Mr L C Marshall returned from Blaylock last Friday night, after an absence of several weeks.

Geo W. Hill, as natural as a ten cent piece, dropped down on his Albany friends last Wednesday night.

J W Grimes, of Harriburg, was in the city Wednesday setting with the County Court as road supervisor.

Miss Nellie Riley, of Salem, spent last Sunday in Albany, with her sister Mrs Thomas Hopkins. Miss Riley is a type, but did not cut us on.

S. Cannon, for several years a resident of this city, but now a citizen of Linn county, Oregon, came up on last Friday night's train, to spend a few days among his old friends. Yes, as he is familiarly called, has more friends in and around Wallburg, than any other man who ever lived here, and he deserves them too.—Waldberg Times.

How the Indians Race Horses.

The Indian's mode of horse racing and betting is exceedingly interesting, and as we have not seen it described, we give it for the benefit of those who have never seen such a race, as narrated to us by Mr Jason Wessler, of this city, who has been present at several of them in "Bunch Grass." They will only race on the open prairie, where if it is against a white man's horse they have the advantage. They always run their horses to win, and never hippo-cratic. Every Indian who bets on a horse has the right to whip that horse to hurry him on and only with a three pronged whip. If it happens to be a five mile race, it is two and a half straight out, around some bush and return. The sight is a curious one, when on the home stretch, perhaps a hundred Indians who have bet rush at their favorite horse and urge him on with their whips, and by the firing of their revolvers in the air. In betting they spread a blanket, when an Indian throws down two or five dollars, whatever it may be, and says:

"Me bet on Columbia Chief," or whatever it happens to be, when another one throws down two or five dollars, as the cases and bets on the other horse, and says all the bets are made, all the money being thrown into one pile, until perhaps five or six hundred dollars in silver is heaped up. When the race is decided the ones who win go to the blanket and take their winnings, and, strange to say, it always comes out right for they either are very honorable in the matter or are afraid of being caught if they cheat, it being a rule that anyone who has done that can never be bet again.

Willamette Association.

The Willamette association of Congregational churches will be held in this city on Jan 15 and 16, 1884. Following is the program:

TUESDAY, Jan 15, 1884. 7 P. M. Devotional Exercises. 7:30 P. M. Sermon by Rev Geo W Hookwood.

WEDNESDAY, Jan 16. 9 A. M. Devotional Meeting. 10 A. M. Discussion, Subject, "Spiritual Quickening in the Churches," led by Rev ER Loomis.

P. M. 2 P. M. Discussion, Subject, "Expository Preaching," led by Rev D B Gray and Dr Atkinson.

3 P. M. Bible Reading, Subject, "Divine Promises to a Faithful Church," by Rev A W Bower.

4 P. M. Social. 7:30 P. M. Sermon, Subject, "The Joy of Saving Souls," by Rev H S Mills.

At the meeting is for mutual spiritual improvement, and to strengthen the fellowship of the churches, the church at Albany sends a cordial invitation to all brethren who can attend. On their arrival, they will please go to the church, where friends will be in waiting to receive them.

ALL AT COST.

Owing to the ill-health of M. Sternburg who desires to retire from business, we now offer our entire stock of goods at Albany at cost, for the purpose of settling up our business. The stock of goods is complete and first-class in every particular, and never before was such an immense stock offered for sale in Albany at such a sacrifice in price.

We therefore invite our customers, friends and the public generally to call and examine our goods and learn our prices, for we know you will purchase if you do.

SENDERS & STRAYERS.

N. J. HENTON, City Recorder.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF MAYOR HILL.

Gentlemen of the Council.—In assuming the responsibilities of the office of Mayor of this city for the coming year, I think it fitting to briefly address you.

As we are, with few exceptions, novitiates in administering to and governing the welfare of incorporated cities of such magnitude, it behooves us to consult freely with those who have, by their votes, signified a desire for our circumstances, allow our actions to be controlled by selfish motives. Many improvements are necessary, but before making any expensive order we should remember the stringency of the times, and the effect that such improvements would have on those who have to pay for. As a matter of comfort, benefit and safety to the city, the Marshal should be strictly required to see that all sidewalks be constructed, and kept, as prescribed by the ordinance. The past experience before the Courts for negligence, in having unsafe sidewalks, should prompt us to greater caution. The city has had two lawsuits on account of the condition of the sidewalks, and one fifteen hundred dollar

COMPROMISE FOR LEAVING A PUBLIC STREET IN A DANGEROUS CONDITION.

The money that was so expensively expended in these instances would have been sufficient to put a second hand engine in the hands of our firemen—a part of your mission in the election of a night police force, to serve for twelve months, or till your successors are elected. They will doubtless be many candidates offering their services, and while each applicant will be treated with the courtesy due every citizen, you will please pardon me for suggesting, that in making the selection, if you are not already acquainted with the qualifications of the different candidates, you should take time sufficient to acquaint yourselves, and in addition to the usually required qualifications of policemen, you should elect one that the merchants and other business men of the city, would refuse credit to—for while prey never deters a man, in general, from Oregon, from the lousiness necessary for present want, when known honestly presents itself as his security; either penny or affluence, when encumbered with dishonesty, is below par. And it would be passively strange if those who elected this council would be satisfied should you put men to guard their property at midnight, while the owner sleeps, that he would be unwilling to trust in their hands at mid-day, while he is awake. It is not right for us to require more of our own citizens than we do of those who come to dwell with us, and who demand our protection; and that end we should require more of our Chinese population than we do. If any citizen should think, for a moment, of allowing his business house to emit a fume that would stifle the passerby, his house would be closed as a public nuisance. It is sometimes almost impossible to pass the Chinese stores and wash-rooms without being suffocated with the fumes of opium and the exhalations from their peculiar edibles. While they live in our country and our city we should require them to conform to our rules of decency. Their mode of living is sufficient to breed a contagious pestilence to sweep the town; and we have been placed in power, not to erect a monument of blood and wealth, but to look to the health, as well as wealth, of our citizens.

It looks bad, indeed, to see the front of many business houses defaced with lawyer's and doctor's signs, but such must be the case in any city that is neglected with its streets and walks, and that tolerates the seed of disease to be planted and fostered in its center. We were not elected to do that; hence, we must move; and in doing so we must remember that we are moving on the domain of others, and conducting our brokerage on other men's capital. During our official career we cannot avoid impinging upon the feelings of some, but by respectful reasoning we need not materially infringe upon their rights. As they have produced such confidence in us, we should not fail to honor their judgment.

Our fire department, in drill, discipline and activity, is second to none in the state, and Albany should, and does, feel justly proud of her boys who volunteer their labor and skill to save the city from the flames. We must not forget that each and every fireman, no difference how humble, is a special police agent incendiarism, and his only reward for his labors and sometimes dangerous services, is the polite bow and hearty shake of the hand we are pleased to offer. More than passing notice should be extended to those ladies who thoughtfully organized themselves into a band of workers,—on the convenience of fire,—to furnish hot coffee and good cheer to those who are toiling at the engine. No night since their organization, has been too dark or stormy to deter them from their purpose, and no act of ours, as city officials, should be such that these ladies will not be proud of.

By an oversight, the city consented to the laying of water pipes through her streets, without exacting in return the use of the water for city purposes. By this lesson we should profit, and in the future, ask the city's forbearance, we should only consider whether we should be liberal and give, or thrifty and sell. There is probably no other city of equal population in the state that has fewer drunk men on its streets, which speaks well for our outgoing officers, and well for those who conduct drinking places. We must remember that we are too diminutive and weak a body to crush the liquor traffic, while those in higher power endorse it; and for this reason it behooves us to survey well the situation, compare the present with the past of our city's morals. A few years ago Albany was over-run with rattle one-horse whisky shops, midnight brawls, and thieves, both behind and in front of the bar. All that was necessary for the migratory pick-pocket to do was to rent a stall and get a jug of whisky, and he forthwith announced himself one of Albany's business men. To-day the saloon-keepers of Albany, without exception, are responsible for their contracts and straight in their dealings. Some of them are owners of realty, and their interest in the cities welfare are equal with our own; hence, as we are compelled to accept of this traffic I think it stands us in hand to retain the present keepers, for in my judgment, should we trade them for others the city would be badly checked.

With the present and prospective educational advantages, and high social, moral, and religious privileges, there is no reason why Albany should not be sought by the ambitious immigration as a desirable place for their future abode. And if we look well to the sanitary condition, and keep the walks in order, and the streets clean and properly graded, par invitations to farmers to visit our city with their produce, will be accepted, and our desire realized. No city in the Willamette Valley outside of the metropolis, can boast of larger or better streets of goods; and our merchants are stacking, and receiving, custom from far and near, by offering their efforts at the minimum price. Our mills and foundries are substantial advertisements abroad, and the Santiam canal announces the future prosperity of Albany to all beholders. With the many advantages, both natural and acquired, that Albany possesses, we should prepare ourselves to enjoy these privileges in their fullness.

Teachers' Meeting.

The teachers in and around Shedd will hold a meeting at that place on the 19th inst, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of promoting school interests. On the evening of Friday the 18th Prof E B McCleary will lecture at that place. All teachers and friends of education are cordially invited to attend of leisure and meeting. We understand arrangements are being made to take care of those from a distance.

NOTICE.

All accounts due the undersigned have been placed in the hands of T J Sittes for collection who is authorized to receipt for the same. If not paid in a reasonable time the name of those neglecting or refusing will be given to the public
