On last Saturday there was launched from the wagon factory of Fred Willert as fine a carriage as was ever built in the Willamette Valley. It is half phase tor, two seated and covered, showing very superior workmanship. Mr. A. B McIlwain is now the owner, and may well feel pround of his entire outfit. This is the way to patronize home industry, and consequently the way to build up a city, and at the same time in the long run it puts meney in your pocket. At the same factory is an express wagon for Mr. Virgil Parker, a substantial, reliable affair, built like his present new one made by Mr. Willert.
