Official County and City Paper.

Our Offer.

For several weeks previous to election we offered to send the DEMOCRAT a year free to new Republican subscribers if Blaine should be elected, if not the regular price would be charged, which certainly was a very liberal offer, and from the large number who took advantage of it, seems to have been appreciated. In order still further to meet the approbation of the public, on the strength of Cleveland's election, we continue to offer to send the DEMOCRAT for $2 50 a year, not only to Republicans, but to Democrats, Prohibitionists, Butlerites, Belva A's, foreigners and natives, regardless of present condition of servitude. You all want it, and now is the time to subscribe.

Fatal Accident Near Prineville.

From the Prineville News we clip the following account of a fatal accident to a man well known in Linn county, one of the leading men of Crook county:

Mr. J B. LaFollette, who resides on McKay creek, this county, left home on the day mentioned with a load of hay, which he intended to take to his horse ranch on the Deschutes river, distant about twenty five miles. When he had arrived within a short distance of the ferry perhaps two hundred or three hundred yards, in descending a small rocky slope, it is supposed the wagon struck a bolder the jolt throwing him off the load in front of the wagon, one of the wheels passing lengthwise over his body, producing death in a few minutes. The team, which, it seems, did not become frightened, went leisurly down to the house, when it was observed they were without a driver. Suspecting something something wrong, no time was lost in making search for him. When found, the old gentlhman was alive but unconscious and unable to speak, and lived but a few minutes. The terribly sad news was quickly conveyed to his family and friends, who were, of course, shocked and grieved beyond expression.

Sanitary Winter Advice.

Now that cool, bleak, wet, sloppy, sneezing, snapping, coughing winter is practically upon us, we have poked our noses around into other people's thoughts and our own, and gleaned the following items for the occasion:

Keep your No. 10's dry.

Thin garments breed colds.

Autumnal catarrh which rattleth the bronchiæ of so many, is best treated by a light diet. Do not partake of drinks and food that increase the catarrhal virus.

Do not hang over front gates after 12 o'clock. Morning air in Linn County is bad during the winter.

Good nature is an antidote to Webfoot mud.

And good thoughts will vanquish a moaning south wind full of water.

Burn rotting leaves.

Ventilate your houses and pay your debts.

Do not sit on dry goods boxes on First Street in rain storms.

A Terrible Kick.

Last Sunday evening just as it was getting dark Will Coulter, a son of F. M. Coulter, living about eight miles from Albany, received a kick in the face which will disfigure it for life. He was driving a horse from the farm orchard towards the barn, being behind it, when it suddenly lowered its head and gave a tremendous kick, the cork of one of the shoes striking the upper part of the nose, tearing it almost completely from the face, and disfiguring it in a very shocking manner. Dr. Maston, of this city, was called and dressed it in a skilful manner, removing the loose portions of bone and putting it in the best shape possible. Though bad it was a close call for something much worse. The horse was an old one, and had always been considered gentle, its sudden action taking young Coulter completely by surprise.

Returned from Virginia.

Mr John Isom returned from an extended business trip through the East on Thursday evening of last week. He left Virginia on election day, and says there were more $20 pieces than shot guns flying about, in fact they are the only shot guns used there. On his way home he stopped at Chattanooga, Tenn., and St. Louis, and has handed us a peculiar bloody-shirt ticket which he obtained at the former place, and the St. Louis "Republican," of the 6th instant, containing an immense rooster with a fine Cleveland head on it, which he picked up in the latter city. He found great excitement all along the line, from the father of states to Webfoot.

Quite a Circus.

Last Saturday a man on Broadalbin street with three or four sheets to the wind was trying to ride one horse and lead another, when he slid off into the mud, with which he washed himself for a moment, in the mean time losing one of his horses. In his muddled up condition he was unable to retain either of them and they were soon going towards the Court House at a Jim Renwick pace. Having offered a large reward of fifty cents for the capture of the most fractious, he was soon in possession of them. The affair was quite a circus and attracted considerable attention.

Compromised.

Last Monday a young man at Harrisburg was arrested, charged with seduction, and brought to this place to await the action of the Grand Jury next March. During the day, though, the matter was compromised, whatever that means, and the young man was discharged. As no marriage has followed how the affair was settled we can not state.

Children's Service.

A children's service will be held in the 1st Presbyterian Church next Sabbath morning, to which both old and young are invited. The pastor will preach a sermon from 1st Kings, 8:59, designed especially for the children, a part of which however will be addressed to those who have the care of children.

At A. B. McIlwain's can be found an immense stock of A 1 tobacco, which is very popular.

Linn County.

Although Linn County is not one of the largest in the State, in fact, is but a seventh of the size of the largest, it is a large county, which fact is made more emphatic by a comparison of it with some of the Eastern States. It is 300 square miles larger than Delaware; it is about twice the size of Rhode Island, half the size of Connecticut, and about a third of the dimensions of New Hampshire, New Jersey or Massachusetts. When these facts are considered how great its possibilities are can easily be appreciated. Delaware, though smaller, has a population ten times as large; and Rhode Island, half its size, contains nearly twenty times as many people. In Delaware there are eight times as many persons engaged in agricultural pursuits, and in Rhode Island, five times as many. It is safe to say that the individual farmers of each make as good incomes, though their farms average but a fifth to a tenth as large. It may impress on the minds of some the necessity of making their farms smaller, and the fact that it will be money in their pockets to sell off part of their land, pay their debts, and do farming on a small scale square with the world.

If we can make the above comparisons between Linn County and some of the states, much more startling will be the comparison of Grant County with some of the eastern States. It is nearly the size of Massachusetts, Delaware, Rhode Island and New Jersey combined. It is about the size of Maryland and Massachusetts together, almost half as large as the wonderful states of Ohio or Virginia, and more than a third of the size of New York or Pennsylvania.

In the matter of big things Oregon will not take a back seat.

What He Would Have Done.

The "Oregonian" very cutely makes a well known Albany lawyer the hero of the following fictitious story, which it is hardly necessary to say is a complete fabrication, as the gentlemen did not make a political speech during the campaign, and what is more, understands all about the Mulligan letters as well as even the scissor-manipulator of the "Oregonian": "During the last week of the campaign, (——) a lawyer, of Albany, addressed a Democratic meeting at the forks of the Santiam. Mr. (——) is a man of very commanding presence and prides himself on his oratorical powers, the speech was delivered in the school house, which was packed. As usual, the burden of the remarks was abuse of Blaine. Mr. (——) was about to conclude, when a mossback on the rear bench squawked out, 'How about the Mulligan business?' 'Yes, I had nearly forgotten that,' responded the speaker, 'and I thank my friend in the corner for having reminded me of it.' Looking around the room and pausing for a moment, the orator continued: 'But there are ladies here and my modesty forbids me discussing the matter in their presence; but I have this to say: If I had been the father of that young girl, James G Blain would have died with his boots on!'"

Yaquina Posters.

About $50,000, duties on imports, were paid at the Yaquina custom house last month.

C C Hogue, Paymaster of the O.P., came in and paid off the first of the week. Payday comes every two weeks now. "Set 'em up again."

The track-layers passed the Yaquina House on Tuesday, and are within a short distance of Crane's to-day. A few more days of pleasant weather and the track-layers will meet. Speed the time.

There have been more long faces on the Bay since election day than we ever saw before. Barbers have doubled their price for a shave, and are getting poor even at that.

Tracklaying is pushed to the utmost limit, and will not be delayed hereafter by the bridges yet to be erected, as it will be so managed that the track will reach the place to be bridged at night, and during the night the carpenters will complete the bridge. Of course there are several small bridges yet to be erected before the Summit is reached, but a few hours only will be necessary to erect them.

Chickens Stolen.

The other morning a citizen of Washington Street missed eighteen chickens from his hen house. Any one who has ever lost even one poor old worn out hen may imagine that it did not put him in a very good humor—towards chicken thiefs—and so he began to try and find the depredators, acting as his own detective. Making inquiries of every one liable to buy such things, he soon found the identical eighteen chickens in the hands of a First Street merchant, who had purchased them a short time before of two boys, whose names, of course, were known. It is sufficient to say that but a short period of time elapsed before two youths were seen going through the streets wellleaded with chickens, and that the next morning the usual amount of spring wheat was thrown out on the premises of the Washington Street gentleman, who very kindly refused to have any arrests made, believing the boys would profit by the lesson and cut short such low lived practices, small even in a Chinamen.

State Firemen's Association.

We have just received the proceedings of the Third Annual Tournament of the Firemen's Association of Oregon. It is the finest and most complete yet issued, and confers great credit on Mr F L Hodgkin, Secretary of the Association. Besides the proceedings it gives a directory of all the companies belonging to the Association, which give lists of the members of each company, their officers and other interesting facts. At the present time there are fifteen companies belonging, three from Albany, three from Astoria, four from Salem, one from Gervais, one from Independence, one from McMinnville and two from Eugene, representing a membership of 704, divided as follows: Astoria, 193; Salem, 186; Albany, 146, Eugene, 99; Independence, 43; Gervais, 13; McMinnvill, 24.

The next tournament will be held in Astoria, beginning on the second Wednesday of June, 1885.

Attend the Charter Meeting.

On to-morrow (Saturday) evening, at 7:30 p. m., a meeting of the citizens of Albany for the purpose of considering the amendments to the city charter will be held at the Court House in this city. This is an important matter to the people of Albany, and not one to be slighted. Under its present form our charter is almost a dead letter and certainly needs amending. Anyone wishing to examine either the new or old charter can do so by calling on N J Henton at the Recorder's office.

A little bit of politics would crop out in some of the sermons last Sunday; but it was in a very mild form and did not cause much excitement.

All the money won in the late election did not go into Democratic pockets, considerable changing hands on the result in Oregon. Out of $9,000 held by one stake holder in Portland, $2 500 was on Oregon.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon and through the blood, and is a safe, reliable and absolute cure for the various diseases, complaints, and disorders, due to debility, or to any constitutional taint or infection.

The soothing and restorative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral are realized at once in all cases of colds, coughs, throat or lung troubles, while its far reaching and powerful healing qualities are always demonstrated in the most serious pulmonary disorders.

If you want a good political paper, agricultural paper, story paper, scientific paper, funny paper or any other kind of a paper or magazine for young or old, leave your order with F L Kenton. He makes a specialty of receiving subscriptions for the all leading periodicals.

Last Monday Mr A W Gordon brought to our office a bag of magnificent apples, large and luscious, known as the King of Tompkins County (N. Y.) They were a sort of offering on account of Cleveland's election, and as Tompkins county showed a gain of over 500 for Cleveland are appropriate for the occasion.

Last Tuesday noon a gentleman jumped from the train, rushed into the hotel bar, bought a small glass of whisky, which he took to the cars, drank half of it and gave his wife the other half, displaying much economy, and causing some amusement among the spectators.

We suppose the proprietors of the Oregon Sentinel, Republican, published at Jacksonville is furnishing a number of Democrats with that paper free as before the election they promised to send it a year free to all new Democratic subscribers if Cleveland should be elected.

They have women barbers at Baily, Idaho, who are well patronized. We would pity them were they to tackle the beards of a hunter after a month's absence in the mountains, or the long face of a man who had bet on the election and lost.

Yamhill county went for Blaine 148, and the Reporter in order to have something to crow over puts out its cannon. It should immediately be telegraphed Blaine that Yamhill county was solid for him, and then defeat will be a pleasure.

The largest county in the United States is Custer county, Montana, being 36,500 square miles in size, making, it about the size of Kentucky, Indiana, Maine, Ohio, South Carolina or Virginia, larger than any one of nine states, and as large as Connecticut, Deleware Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Rhode Island combined.

One of the best conducted Commercial institutions on the Coast is the Portland Business College, A P Armstrong, Principal. It is meeting with great success, and deservedly so. Having done business with it we can testify to its systematic and business manner of attending to things. Young men or women desiring to attend a first-class commercial school should go to this one.

E T T Fisher, County Surveyor of Linn county, is prepared with field notes and township plats of this county to correctly locate corners of land where the same has been lost or destroyed, and will replace the same with permanent monuments. Persons wishing surveying done will please address em at Miller's, Linn county, Oregon.

Some miserable wretch of a boy (evidently) entered the DEMOCRAT'S composing room last Wednesday noon, and had things his own way for a few moments, using our brier freely over standing type, and making enough pi for a regiment of harvest hands. Any other youngster who will come and "tell on him" will receive colenders, diarees, note books, etc., enough to last him a year.

In connection with the State Firemen's Tournament held at Albany we would like to ask the compiler of the proceedings of the same, what the reception given by the Salem Department to the Astoria firemen had to do with the State tournament, and as Secretary why he should elate over his home company's victory in the hose race. These things hardly indicate an unbiased mind to be looked for in such matters, and which all the firemen of the State have a right to expect.

An Eastern genius has figured out the fact that all the ballots actually voted in the United States on election day if placed end to end would reach from Cape Flattery in Washington Territory to Kansas City in Missouri. He estimates that the total number of ballots peddled was twenty-six times as many as put in the ballot box, or about 260,000,000. They would weigh 1,716,000 pounds, and would require eighty-five freight cars to move them. End to end there would be enough to go around the globe, and leave 19,000 miles to spare.

A Mean Old General Routed.

Old "General Debility" has been put to flight in Arkansas, with happy results. From Brinkley, from Webb City, and from Walnut Ridge, Messrs. P R Anderson, E M Taylor and F S Pinchbeck respectively, write that they were all afflicted with general debility, and received solid benefit from Brown's Iron Bitters. This is pleasant to know, not only for Arkansas people, but for all sections of the country where General Debility has counted victims by the thousand. For sale everywhere.

Another Match Hunt.

There is to be a match hunt sometime in the future when game becomes anxious to be killed. It will be the continuation of a serious began last year between two teams Leaded by C W Watts and W B Scott. Two hunts were held resulting in a tie. This will decide the superority of the teams. Some of the vermillion left over from Cleveland ratifications will be borrowed, and the rivers will be painted red, whether any ducks are found or not. Look out for a feather flying time.

Success.

The sale of Syrup of Figs is simply immense. Everyone is taking it, and all admit that it is the best medicine ever used. Children cry for it on account of its pleasant taste, and grown people who have used it once never take anything else. Unlike other remedies for biliousness and constipation it never loses its power to act, and it always leaves the organs on which it acts stronger than before. Besides, one feels fresh and bright and realizes that it is Nature's own true laxative. Langdon & Co. is agent for Albany.

Its Ticket for 1888.

The Oregon "Vidette" has already put out its ticket for 1888. It reads as follows: "Our choice for 1888: For President, General Benj F Butler, of Massachusetts, [the only representative of Andrew Jackson among living American statesmen.] For Vice President, General A M West, of Mississippi." Ah, lets see, Butler, seems as if we had heard that name mentioned somewhere before. Same chap, perhaps, who got snowed under away back in the election of 1884.

Strange Death of Gamaliel Parrish.

On Wednesday evening of last week, Mr. Gamaliel Parrish, one of Linn County's oldest pioneers, died on his farm near Brownsville, and was buried in the cemetery at that place on the afternoon of the next day. The manner of his death is causing considerable comment, and certainly was of a nature to demand investigation. As told us it seems that Mr Parrish had been to Lebanon, and while there got a prescription filled at one of the drug stores, for some local ailment. On getting home in the evening he took the dose prescribed just before supper. After eating he took another dose, and soon after began frothing at the mouth, dying about twenty minutes after taking the medicine. A young man, we understand, was the only one present at the time. Whether it was the medicine that did it or not is a matter of conjecture, and whether, if the medicine, it was the druggist's fault, might still further be a matter of conjecture. Any way it is a case that merits investigation, and it is to be hoped that there are those in the county who take enough interest in the public welfare to give the cause of Mr. Parrish's death a thorough examination. The medicine has been kept; but the body was buried without a post mortem examination. Of course it is not too late to make one now.

Gamaliel Parrish was one of the early settlers of Linn county and at one time was a man of some wealth; but during the last few years of his life met with reverses which deprived him of most of his property, at the last Circut Court the mortgage on his farm being foreclosed. He was a member of the M. E Church, and was a man of marked character, being stern in his demeanor; but possessing traits of character commendable in any one.

New Flirtation.

Following is the new roller skating flirtation, going the rounds of the papers, which we heartily commend to the lovers of the sport in Albany:

One leg in the air means, "Catch me."

Two legs in the air means, "Mashed."

Hitting the back of your head with your heels, "I'm gone."

Lying on your back, "Assist me."

One skate in your mouth, "Too full for utterance."

Punching your neighbor in the stomach with your left foot, "Kiss me. If he don't he'll hit me"

A backward flip of the heels and a sudden cohesion of the knees to the floor indicates, "A suppliment."

Suddenly placing your legs horizontally on the floor like a letter V, indicates "I am paralyzed."

To pick your teeth with your knees has reference to the fact that you are off your proper base.

BURKHART BROS.

Current Events.

Several years ago a rich gentleman of Pittsburg left a will giving the first Democratic president $50,000. Verily Cleveland is a lucky candidate.

Cleveland's successor as Governor of New York, David B Hill, is also a bachelor. Bachelors have reason to take heart.

The furniture business is becoming very popular, cabinet makers being wonderfully numerous; but it takes a fool to be a political one.

And now lets drop politics. By the way in the coming slugging match between Grover Sullivan and Jas G Greenfield, Ben St. John seems to have all the odds in the world in his favor over Belva Butler.

Last Sunday night at Bryan, Texas, the express office was robbed of $10,850. This approaches the Ainsworth affair.

Anyway where is saltriver.

Probably the worst financial failure yet reported is that of Wm H Vanderbilt. His large fortune has dwindled down to only about $150,000,000. Poor man Spokan Falls has 265 children in its schools, all future presidents.

The wooden mills at Dayton, W. T. employ twenty hands. By the way, what has become of the projected Albany mills. Perhaps they have run for office somewhere and got left, and are now on their way up Salt River.

Two hundred and sixty car loads of wheat were shipped from Waitsburg in ten days. Not much waiting there.

Washington Territory has a population of 125,000, and it is time its citizens were allowed to vote for President.

The pauper account in the Northwest since the completion of the Northern Pacific has grown like a mushroom. In Columbia county, W. T. it was $1338 in two months.

One county in Washington Territory elected a woman School Superintendent. She will have a pedestrtennial time visiting all the rural districts through the mud.

ELECTED TO SELL.

Whoever shall be elected President one thing is certain, and that is, that A B McIlwain, at his mammoth store, is elected to sell an this fall, because he has them. No more complete line of general merchandise is to be found in the Willamette valley, and do not fail to remember this. His goods are bought to be sold, and sold they will be under the motto, "small profits and large sales." This is business. It is getting cold and damp and you need a to protect yourself with, McIlwain's is the place to get it. His stock is large and well selected, and you can get a cheap or dear cloak, just as you please, at the bottom price. Or if, for the same reason you are fortunate or unfortunate enough to be a man, then you will want or suit of clothes. Call at McIlwain's and examine his well arranged stock, and while you are there haul over his stock of furnishing goods, and now is the time. You cannot afford to shiver, which should induce you to keep your feet warm by buying a pair of

for ladies or gentlemen at this store. The stock is very large and worth selecting from. Particular attention is called to this complete branch. In the Line McIlwain has few equals. His stock is one speaking for itself, the large sales in this department being a big recommendation for it.

Should Not Be Slighted.

So completely have matters been buried in the Presidental contest that the coming city election is hardly mentioned. This is not right. It is important that it be fully ventilated. We need first-class city officers as well as first-class presidents, and we can only get them by an effort. It is to be hoped party feeling will not run so high as to lose sight of this fact. Three Aldermen, a Mayor, a Marshal and a Recorder are to be elected, and it is not a case where a cent can be flipped for a choice. It might fall on a Robeson or Tweed, and then the city would have a fleet of scows navigating the Santiam Ditch to pay for. There are good men in Albany who can be induced to fill these positions, but they need to be asked, they are not electioneering for them. Shall we hunt for them.

Celebrated Corsets Received.

PLAIN TALK.

On Plain Subjects

BY A PLAIN CHAP.

Of all things intolerance is one of the worst. A political contest brings it out in its worst light, and shows "what fools we mortals be." One person say "I don't see how any one can lower himself to vote for So-and-So." and another says "any person who will vote for Such-and-Such (So-and-So's opponent) must lose all self-respect." And it is curious, for So-and-So, it is said, is the same man who murdered Sir Thos. Moore, and Such-and-Such robbed several trains in Missouri in the middle of the sixteenth century, in the days of President Cromwell. These facts can all be proved, for, on the one hand, does not the Daily Mud Slinger say so, and arent there the signatures in black and white in the Rev. Bloodsucker's "own hand write," and, on the other hand, just peruse the columns of the Squirt Gun, which says so and gives all the proofs. And everybody believes it all and get mad, and one says he would like to shoot every last Hottentot, and another won't buy a ticket to hear Mr. Demosthenes lecture because the chairs in the rooms of the society which hired him are made of the same wood as those sat in by Mr. Well Bucket, who was the real cause (?) of the defeat of his candidate. Pooh, pooh!

Did you ever see anything on a Chinaman that fitted even so well as a gambler fits a church pew? The principal feature about his costume is the fact that everything hangs on him, even his stockings. He wears numerous shirts, according to the condition of the weather, and if you will only put on your specs and squint like a pick pocket you will observe the fact that all of them have five buttons, a sacred number, which keeps him on good terms with Joss. It is also a noteworthy fact that every celestial has his little tub, into which he puts his feet every night.

This is a terribly careless world and no mistake. Some men seem to have no thought for those around them until it is too late for anything but remorse to gnaw at their hearts. Several days ago a young man and his uncle were hunting in Southern Oregon, when they became separated. The young man saw something move on the mountain side and raising his gun as headlessly as a cat jumps in the dark, fired, thinking on the spur of the moment to kill a deer, but instead his own uncle was the victim, the ball striking him in the thigh. The leg had to be amputated, and the man died in a short time afterwards. In our own county a gentleman bought some medicine, took it and in twenty minutes died; it was thought a mistake had been made in the prescription and that poison killed him. If it were carelessness it was a sad case, and could not be too severely condemned. That fact though is yet a matter of speculation.

Not True.

The story circulated last week that Maggie, a daughter of Mr Si Flinn, living a few miles from Albany, was thrown from a horse and injured, was not true. She was not even on a horse.

BEFORE YOU KILL YOUR HOGS

Come to our store at Albany and see a new fangled sausage mill just received from the East. It doesn't tear the meat but cuts it like a pair of scissors. Gristles and sinews cannot get through it without being cut and you only have to run your meat through it once, Peters & Stewart.
