

If nobody were making more noise than Ben Butler you could hear the snow fall.

There is a wide, unfathomable chasm between what you want and what you get.

An old lady in Rochester the other day was anxiously looking for a shop where she had bought a pair of corsets thirty-one years before.

"Skunk hunting is a popular winter amusement in Kentucky. After passing through a Blaine campaign the people find it a pleasant change and a great relief.

Vote for U. S. Senator yesterday noon was: McArthur, 36; Hirsch, 14; Johnson, 6; Kelsey, 6; Hare, 6; George, 6; Felling, 3; Boise, 3; Williams, 2; Applegate, 1; Fulton, 1; Caples, 1; Hill, 1; Blank, 1.

The New York Sun says Mr. Cleveland this high complement: "What ever may be said of Mr. Cleveland, he is not a man who disguises himself or deals in false pretenses of any sort. What he thinks he says plainly, and there is no hypocrisy about him."

Mr. Beecher maintains a very dignified and manly attitude toward those insulting Republican newspapers that are offended with him because he would not help to elect the Plumed Knight President. His straightforward course, however, has won him golden opinions from all sorts of people.

Last year the value of all the cotton products of this country was $192,000,000, and the wages paid operatives in manufacturing them was $42,000,310, or 22 per cent of value to product. And yet the duty on cotton warp is equal to 35 per cent of production; that is 13 per cent more than the whole amount of wages paid. The manufacturer thus gets his labor free and 13 per cent besides.

"Windbag Ingersoll" the Springfield Republican calls the gallant Col. Robert, of plumed knight fame. And this reminds us that it is said that Ingersoll got his "plumed knight" phrase from Gov. John A. Andrew, who applied it to Seward in 1860. Andrew borrowed it from Macaulay, but whom Macaulay stole it from is not at present revealed.

Hon. John Hailey, delegate-elect to Congress, from Idaho Territory, was presented not long since with an elegant gold-headed cane, the gift of Mr. Barret Williams, a man of 82 years old, and a faithful friend and admirer of "Honest John."

No fact is more clearly established than the one that Republicans are opposed to civil service reform, when opposition to it would help them into office, or in favor of it when support of the measure would help them to retain office.

Warren Tritt, one of the presidential electors for Oregon, has been appointed Register of the Land Office at Lakeview, Oregon. Thus the party workers in the Republican party uniformly get the spoils, while many of its leaders with hypocritical pretense talk about the evils of the spoils system and the beauties of civil service reform.

It is currently reported in Salem that the outbreak at the Penitentiary in July 1883 was the result of inexcusable negligence, carelessness, or something else. We are informed that the committee appointed to investigate the workings of the Penitentiary are not likely to investigate the matter. This culpability is talked about in Salem by those who claim to know whereof they speak. We therefore hope the legislature will not refuse or neglect to investigate this matter.

The Republican majority in the United States Senate are of opinion that it is of more immediate importance to secure two additional Republican Senators from Dakota as a state than it is to recover the millions of unsecured acres granted to railroad corporations and restore them to the public domain. It was one of the objects of the people at the last election to correct impressions of this sort. They have chosen a president who believes that he serves his party best who serves his country best. Republican Senators may not be able to comprehend just yet what a great change has taken place, but they will learn in good time.

ST. JOHN ON HIS TRAVELS.

Thirty-one individuals interested in the cause of prohibition have each subscribed $100 to a fund to enable Mr. John P. St. John to deliver a series of lectures in favor of prohibition in various parts of the country. It was at first intended that St. John should not start on his tour until the sum of $10,000 had been raised, but if the assent of those who have subscribed can be obtained the ex-candidate will begin work at once. In order that the tour may be made interesting as possible some prominent Blaine men should be invited to preside and introduce the speaker in each town or city that he visits.

THE LEGISLATURE. Salem is the happiest when the legislature is in session. That is, nearly all of Salem, for they hope for brief employment for their unemployed clerks, patronage for cheap boarding houses, and a "good healthy appropriation." There are those, however, who are not entirely at ease when the legislature is in session. If Legislative investigating committees were not as harmless and inoffensive creatures as they usually are, we suppose there would be grounds for some of this uneasiness, but generally these committees are not to be feared by the investigated.

The senatorial question overshadows all other questions, and is likely to cause as much delay, strife, and bitterness of spirit as the contest of two years ago. Quite a spirited contest will be had in both branches of the legislature over the bills now pending to repeal the usury law and the mortgage tax law. These measures are both pet schemes of Portland, and will meet with a liberal support from eastern Oregon and some support from southern Oregon. From the present outlook we would say that both bills will fall, though the battle will be bitterly waged on both sides.

The bill of Senator Hoyt of Linn to make 3 cents per mile the maximum rate of passenger fares on railroads came up on its second reading in the Senate Tuesday evening when the Senator moved that it be considered engrossed and read a third time now. This at once divided the Senate on the question of the right and policy of regulating and controlling freights and fares on railroads. The friends of the measure were led in the discussion by Senators Hare, Voorbees, Weatherford and Myers while those opposed were led by Senators Simon, Miller, Haines and Dorris. Several test votes on amendments and motions were taken which discovered seventeen in favor of the measure and ten opposed. Present appearances indicate the measure will pass both houses.

THE DEPUTY MARSHALS. An eastern exchange, in treating of the manner in which the election was conducted in Cincinnati, Ohio, in Oct. last, says that Danville and Copiah, if not Sodom and Gomorrah, pale their infernal fires before Cincinnati and her crimes and shame. It matters not whether more votes were thrown for the Republican ticket in November when no deputy marshals interfered, than in October when they were there by thousands armed with bull-dog revolvers and responsible to nobody. The testimony of sworn witnesses shows that there was intimidation and danger, violence and bloodshed because of the authorized presence of a number of political thugs and thieves at the polls.

We cannot recall another instance of such a shocking crime against popular liberty in any city north or south at a time of profound peace as was the employment of that army of armed intimidators about the voting places of Cincinnati in October. It was the high water mark of abuse of a most outrageous statute—a statute at once humiliating, degrading and dangerous; a statute that was made to give desperation its innings after honest choice seemed likely to go against the Republican party. They who are responsible for that attack, not only upon individual rights, but on civil liberty as well, should be taught that they have been guilty of a criminal offense, if there is any way in which they can be reached with a criminal penalty. In the face of this demonstration of outrages committed in Cincinnati, we would again call upon the Democratic party to relegate to oblivion the disreputable statute that makes such crimes possible, as soon as the subject can be fairly reached. The Democratic party ought, and we believe will, seek to establish justice, not affect retaliation. We do not have any tenderness of feeling for the Republican party, but it should be punished for its bad deeds with other weapons than those which it has itself forged, for otherwise we permit to remain what is a disgrace to the American name in order to minister to our own vengeance. This is too much the philosophy of the lyncher who assumes that it is a right for him to kill a man when that man has killed some one else. We should be governed by higher motives than that, and try to conform to higher standards. Therefore it is a Democratic duty to abolish at once and entirely the whole phrenic system of employing deputy marshals at the polls.

The worst disappointed people in the country are the newspaper reporters. They are angry at missing the chance to write up "the end of the world," which was to have come off on the 4th of this month.

If Mr. Garland should go into President Cleveland's cabinet, there will be two senators to be elected next spring at Little Rock.

The old, old story. Why do we hear so much about dyspepsia? Simply because so many people have it. Why are so many people talking about their cure from this dreadful disease? Simply because they have been taking Brown's Iron Bitters. Thus it is with Mrs. Taylor of Lynchburg, Sumter Co., S. C., who says, "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia with most favorable results. I believe this medicine is all that is represented. Dyspepsia and suffers from neuralgia, my knees, etc., should try it."

BILLS INTRODUCED. By Blyen, extending the franchise of the Oregon Pacific R. R. to seven instead of six years, and waiving right of forfeiture; also exempting the road from taxation on condition of carrying free of charge troops and munitions of war for a period of twenty years.

By Haines, appropriating $2500 to secure the breeding and distribution of pheasants recently imported by Hon. O. N. Denny.

By Sign, extending right of suffrage to women.

By Cyrus, increasing the fees of the Sheriffs and Clerks of Jackson, Lake, Umatilla, Wasco, Crook, Cole, Thurston and Klamath counties, and of Sheriff of Linn county.

By Blyen, empowering Secretary of State and State Treasurer to declare the amount of State tax, and levy and apportion the same among the several counties.

By Watts, to prevent the carrying of concealed weapons.

By Montany, prohibiting the issuance of marriage license to minors without parents or guardians consent.

By Montany, declaring 21 years to be the legal age of both males and females.

By Rogers, providing that the electors of every precinct and ward shall vote at every general election upon the question as to whether or not liquor shall be sold in such precinct for the two years following.

By Jolly, requiring the Chief Justice and Secretary of State to count the money in the state treasury once a month.

By Prim, compelling Sheriffs to render an account to County Treasurers every month.

By Voorbees, granting Geo. K. Shell $300 for services as territorial auditor.

By Black, to incorporate Halsey.

CORRESPONDENCE

N. O. Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Jan. 20, 1885. The different States exhibit are all located together under one roof, which covers sixteen acres, and while each state has her separate exhibit the varied production indigenous to the United States combined, forcibly impresses upon the unlimited resources of our fair land.

Virginia, the mother of states, has for Commissioner, Hon. W. W. Finney. The old state is up to the average in display, and with even a few of the staples common to her soil gives evidence that she improves by age. Her two principle productions are peanut and yellow leaf tobacco. The peanut has its birth in this state and almost the entire crop is grown on her coast. Richmond the capital, Danville and Lynchburg the rural tobacco cities, send many creditable specimens.

Montana is yet a territory with hopes of early admission to statehood. Col. Harris is the commissioner, and he brings a splendid display of her natural productions. Although, Montana is noted for growing cattle and sheep, her principal interests are mining and the display of ores is superb and attracts universal attention. The arrangement of these exhibits was done by John Nye, an old pioneer of the mining country, who knows rock when he sees or handles it. Some ornaments of Indian origin attract much attention. In this display there are some fine taxidermy specimens shown.

South Carolina, with A. P. Butler as commissioner, has gotten up its exhibits in good shape. The gunpowder factory of Wilcox, Gibbs & Co., who show a pyramid of some twenty feet from the base constructed of phosphate rock, is an enterprise that has done much to enrich Charleston. The agricultural productions and fruits displayed, keep the little Carolina to the front in this line. Though it does not claim to be an extensive manufacturing state, it has some very creditable displays of home productions. In cotton it produces a fine staple notably the Sea Island, which always commands a good price. Specimens are on exhibition.

Many of the relics of the Greely relief party have been placed on exhibition in the States department. Dummiess are dressed up in the clothing worn by the men, and the old tent they used is erected, while the entire camping outfit is on view. The small boats reached the Greely sufferers have been placed with these much-visited curiosities. It is hard to realize in a land where snow is unknown what suffering and death the Greely Relief exhibit represents.

On Sundays the Exposition is largely attended, the entrance fee being there reduced to 25 cents. On a fine day there are liable to be fifty thousand present. There is everything to see as on any weekday except the working of the machinery, which is always shut down Saturday night till Monday morning.

The Commissioners and members of the press are unanimous in urging their respective legislatures to make extra appropriations to carry out the successful exhibit of each state and territory. The necessity for money is evident to keep the exhibit up to its present standing as many articles are perishable, consequently the pride one has in his state or territory should encourage each and all to advocate the contribution.

When you take into consideration the fact that the different buildings cover 92 acres, or one third more than the Centennial and that the Park in which they are located and which is now enclosed compasses about 500 acres, you can see how hard it is to estimate the daily attendance, and the management refuses to make public the daily receipts, for what reason your correspondent is unable to say.

you can go the whole distance for one fare—5 cents—while by other lines it costs two fares—or you can by round trip ticket over the different "Rapid Transit" lines on the river for 15 cents, and extra boats and cars will be added as the travel demands.

Found No Poison. Dr. Samuel K. Cox, D. B., Practices Analytical Chemistry, Washington, D. C. who made thorough and careful analyses, reports that there is neither morphia, opium, emetics nor poisons in the Red Star Cough Cure; that it must prove a boon to those whose systems shrink from the use of such compounds, and especially to mothers, who justly dread the evil, and at times, fatal effects of these dangerous drugs. His further statement is not only free from all opiates, poisons and emetics, (a thing which not one cough preparation in ten can boast) but it is altogether an original and most happy combination of the best remedial agents, and is as harmless as its effect.

Syrup of Figgs. Nature's own true laxative. Pleasant to the palate, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painful in its action. Cures habitual constipation, biliousness, indigestion and kindred ills. Cleanses the system, purifies the blood, regulates the liver and acts on the bowels. Breaks up colds, chills and fevers, etc., strengthens the organs which it acts on. Beware of cheap imitations which it expels all impurities from the system, at the same time giving tone to the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, places it ahead of its better remedies, to say nothing of its being taken. It is selling very rapidly. E. W. Langdon & Co., agents for Albany.

Easy to See Through. How can a watch—no matter how costly—be expected to go when the mainpring work operates? How can anyone be well when his stomach, liver or kidneys are out of order? Of course you say, "No cannot." Yet thousands of people drag along miserably in that condition; not sick abed, but not able to work with comfort and energy. How foolish, when a bottle or two of Parker's Tonic would set them all right. Try it, and get back your health and spirits.

Sci. January 27th, 1885. The general health of the city and surrounding community is good with few exceptions.

Born to the wife of Frank Taylor, Jan 22nd, a daughter.

R. F. Ashby has sold out his interest in the Hardware business to H. A. Johnson, Jr. The Reading Room Society gave an entertainment on last Thursday evening, Jan 22, for the benefit of their library.
