The Democrat.

FRIDAY.....FEBRUARY 13, 1885

The most striking thing about roller-skating is the floor.

The Sun is now shining brilliantly for Cleveland.

Honest labor is always noble. It is dishonest loafing that brings disgrace.

The commercial horizon looks a streak or two brighter. Business is slowly picking up.

Davy Crockett's favorite rifle—the one that brought down the coon—is on exhibition at New Orleans.

"Kill all the doctors," exclaims a southern editor. The only trouble about this is that you can't persuade doctors to take their own medicine.

Whenever a bank man defaults and disappears now, his home postmaster sends his mail to Canada.

Dr. Mary Walker said a few days ago to a Washington interviewer that she would wear pantaloons or nothing. This is dangerous. The doctor must be left alone. We cannot bear the alternative.

The iron trade is now looking up, cotton mills are resuming, and there are indications all around that the business situation has taken a turn for the better.

The Boys who have been conspicuously partisan while drawing salaries from the United States are getting into soft places outside of Presidential jurisdiction as fast as possible. They have level heads themselves and level headed backers.

Texas must be an enterprising State but with a million dollars in cash lying undisturbed in the State Treasury month after month, the inference is irresistible that the State Treasurers there are a spiritless set.

A discouraged Indiana Republican committed suicide the other day because of his party's defeat. No doubt he is worse discouraged now than before he committed the act.

As about nine-tenths of the Republican officials on the Pacific Coast do not come up to the Cleveland standard, they may just as well prepare to vacate. There is not likely to be much foolishness in a Democratic Administration.

But what do you really think of the minister of the gospel who would refuse to give out from his own pulpit the announcement of a temperance lecture simply because he was going to have service in his own church in the same city and at the same hour?

A firm in Rochester has made a contract with a large glass works, of Philadelphia, for 7,250,000 bottles, which will weigh 10,000,000 pounds and fill 500 cars. This is said to be the largest contract for bottles ever made.

Miss Cleveland, who will preside over her brother's domestic establishment in the White House, is described as a lady of rare attainments, whom every one who has the good fortune to know regards with the higest esteem.

The DEMOCRAT is conceded to be the best paper for local news in the central Willamette Valley. It has the largest circulation of any of the valley papers, and hence the best advertising medium. Subscribe for it now. We furnish it and Health and Home for the price of one—$2.50.

A life prisoner in the Albany Penitentiary, during his leasure moments, found the Old Testament to contain 2,728,100 letters, 592,493 words, 23,214 verses, 929 chapters and 39 books. The New Testament contains 838,380 letters, 181,253 words, 7,954 verses, 260 chapters, 27 books.

It makes no difference what our industrial depression is attributed to, whether to the prohibitory features of the tariff or over-production, so long as it exists. But there is a general belief without proper outlets, the depression must continue, and, as markets at home cannot be artificially propagated, the only resource left is to look up markets abroad.

There is a little impatience manifested even among some democrats, to learn what Mr. Cleveland's policy is to be, and it is urged in some quarters that he take the people into his confidence. The 4th of March is not a long time ahead, and we presume he will be candid and explict enough to satisfy every body on that occasion.

NOW IS YOUR TIME.

We have just completed arrangements with President-elect Cleveland under which we are enabled to make the following very liberal offer to our subscribers: To every new subscriber who will pay for the DEMOCRAT, and to every old subscriber who will pay up his arrearages and one year in advance, before the 4th of March, we will guarantee a federal appointment at a salary of not less than $20 per year. Step right up now, ladies and gentlemen, and secure your office. First come, first served. Post offices like Pine, Jordon, Rock Creek, Sweet Home and Mt. Pleasant in great numbers to be distributed before March 4th.

ONLY RICH MEN FOR OFFICE.

It has been stated in the puble press that Mr. Bayard will decline to accept a position in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, the ground of the declination being, that the position calls for a greater outlay of money than Mr. Bayard's exchequer will justify. In fact it is stated that Mr. Bayard has given this as a reason why he could not accept. Of course, men who have any knowledge of Mr. Bayard's dislike to parade a matter personal to himself before the public, will not credit the statement, yet it may be true that men have correctly divined this to be the reason. But in this statement the great body of the people will find much food for reflection. Here we have the statement that Mr. Bayard is comparatively a poor man, worth about $100,000. The salary of a cabinet officer is $8,000 per year, and yet we are told he is too poor to accept an office with a salary which by nine-tenths of the voters of the country would be regarded as almost a fortune.

It has been the continuing boast of Americans that our government was one of simplicity of character, liberality of spirit, and cheapness of administration. That all men are equal. That public position was open to all alike. But if all men worth only $100,000 are to be deprived of the privilege of holding an official position because they are too poor, how many men in the United States are eligible to such a position? Under a government of whose freedom and liberality we have always been so proud, we have allowed a custom of extravagance to grow up which is an alarming evidence of its decadence of public virtue and patriotism. The vanity of ostentatious display, of costly fetes, is as foolish as it is harmful. God grant that Cleveland may discountenence such childish and barbaric nonsense. Our truly great men need no such appeals to sensuality to hold the honor and respect of the people. One who adequately fills a high office can have little taste and no time for the costly follies by which knavish rulers amuse their people while they steal their liberties. The beautiful in art is costly, and desirable—but should come after the true and good. It has its proper place. But in the best days of our republic, our statesmen were both poor and pure. If none but the rich can be among our rulers, then are we a mere plutocracy. No, no! We are a nation of Democrats, and the time is yet far distant when men, capable of honorably filling any place cannot be found to live on $8,000 a year.

Goldsmith's great truth is borne upon the mind more sharply and vividly than ever.

Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey.
Where wealth accumulates and men decay.

BLACK'S BILL.

HON. T. J. Black, one of the members of the lower house of the legislatue from this county has secured the passage of the following bill through the lower house, the bill having been introduced early in the session by him:

Be it enacted, etc,: SEC. 1. That all contracts made and entered into by and between borrower and lender, debtor and creditor, or morrgagor and mortgagee, whereby one party shall agree to pay the taxes on the debt, credit or mortgage existing or entered into between such parties, be and the same are hereby declared legal and valid; Provided, that any excess that borrower, debtor, or mortgagee may pay or agree upon in excess of the rate of interest now allowed by law for the use of money, shall not be deemed or taken to be usurious.

SEC. 2. All contracts entered into under section 1 of this act may be enforced by the parties thereto in the courts of this state; Provided, That in making the assessments of credits, loans or morigages the same shall be assessed to the holder therof as now provided by law.

The effect of this bill will be that a contract will be entered into between borrower and lender, by which the latter, in addition to paying the lender ten per cent interest on the money borrowed, will also be required to pay the tax which may be levied upon the mortgage. This will legalize the taking of usury by the lender to the extent of the amount of taxes which may be levied upon his mortgage. As an example. A man gives a mortgage upon his farm to secure the payment of $3,000. The interest at 10 per cent would amount to $300 per anumn. Now the lender and borrower under this bill can enter into a contract by which the latter shall, in addition to the interest, pay also the taxes which may be assessed against the mortgage, which if the rate of taxes is 2 per cent, would amount to $60. This 2 per cent added to the 10 per cent interest would increase the actual rate paid by the borrower to 12 per cent.

It is a grave question whether a man can pay 12 per cent interest next year or the next, when, in many cases it has been demonstrated that he can not pay 10. It places the borrower whose debt is due very much at the mercy of the lender, and ultimately has the effect of plunging him down deeper into the swelling tide of debt by which he is already threatened to be overwhelmed. This bill is receiving very much adverse criticism and the final action of the Senate upon it will be closely watched.

Professor Carl Schurz will play the piano at the inauguration ball.

CORRESPONDENCE

N. O. Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27, 1885.

The Exposition is grand, wonderful, improving and developing every day. The Philadelphian's say that it beats the Centennial. Wish our people from the western slope could come. I understand rates are reduced. I found the Northern Pacific splendid. The management here under the leadership of that wonderful man, Major E. A. Burke, Director General, is putting forth commendable energy on a large and stupendous scale to make it the wonder of the world. A month here in studying this wonderful and diversified collection of the world's wonders is worth five years' study and observation. We wish to catch some of the teeming thousands now visiting here looking out for new homes and direct them to our fair, fertile and most desirable Oregon. Oregon, I think, stands among the foremost. We need our fruits and vegetables replenished and a pamphlet setting forth our resources. I hope our Legislature now in session can help us immediately in these things. I have written and telegraphed them in Salem as to our needs in this direction. We need people, good, honest, industrious, thrifty people for Oregon. Now is the time to get them. I visit the Exposition almost every day. To "take it in" is almost a life study. Come all who can. My health is tolerably good. My thoughts turn to Oregon, her equable climate is so much preferable to this changeable, fitful climate. Hurrah for Oregon. Let our friends as they come report at the Oregon exhibit in the Government Building.

Respectfully,
T. B. WHITE.

The delight and surprise, of Mrs. N. Olin could not be expressed when on returning from the Grange a few days since, she found her brother, Mr. Wm. Withroe of Mo. whom she had not seen for several years, awaiting her return. He comes here to visit his brother and sisters and take a look at our beautiful valley.

Last Saturday night, while returning home from singing-school. John Fry had the misfortune of throwing his back over. Also Will Foster broke the tongue out of his hack, and the doubletree broke, preventing no doubt a serious accident, no one was seriously hurt, but all badly scared. Whether the accident was caused by a dark night or a bad road (which are numerous) is not known.

GARDEZ.

Oakville.

This community was startled upon hearing of the sad accident that had befallen Herman Walker Friday evening last. The facts as we glean them are that while out gunning where it was dark—he discharged one barrel of his gun at a passing flock of ducks—and while loading the empty barrel the other was discharged, the recoil probably having thrown the hammer back. The contents passing about angle across his face tearing away almost half of his lower jaw, part of the tongue and a portion of the uper jaw reversing his right eye and across his skull (but did not injure the brain,) and in this condition he walked nearly a mile to the home of a friend. Dr. Graff of Shedd and Dr. Maston of Albany were called. They pronounced the wound mortal; and that is was not adviseable to dress it. Mr. Walker is a promising young man. His parents have the sympathy of the entire community.

Mrs. Sanders caught a marauder among her potatoes and cabbages the other morning, and dealt out shot so effectually that one of her neighbors has six orphaned pigs to care for.

A swarm of bees came out the 31st of January while the mercury stood at 58. They submitted to being hived twice and then vanished. The question is did they intend it for an April fool trick or were they trying to play ground hog? Anyway it was a good joke on—somebody.

Lebanon.

February 10th, 1885.

Our city received $32 from fines last week.

Mrs. Dr. Ballard returned home on Saturday night from Salem, where she has been visiting friends for the past 8 or 10 days.

Rev. Sharp delivered a lecture on Saturday evening before the literary society. We understand that it was an able effort.

Last Friday evening the ladies gave a supper for the benefit of the Firemen, which was a successful affair, netting them $25. They had a cake with a ring in it that sold for 10c a number that went off with a rush. Tom Wallace, of Albany, was the lucky one. We noticed quite a number of Albany boys out, besides the Brass Band. What a treat it was to hear a horn once more, our band being one of the things of the past. Being told it was just a new band we were much surprised to hear such excellent music. Among them was our old townsman, I. F. Conn. After the supper all those who wished to dance went over to the Masonic Hall and tripped the light fantastic until train time.

When we think of the furore that was made when "Leb.," a former correspondent of this place, criticised Miss Luse about her readings, we wonder if the same element will "rise to explain" if we should venture on a criticism of Mrs. Bridge. She lectured here two nights. Some parts of her lecture was good, and would perhaps have been better appreciated if she had not been so egotistical. In speaking to one of our ladies of her lecture on "Human Freedom," she said in Salem they pronounced it far superior to Beecher's, Ingersoll's or Cook's. We were sorry not to have heard it if it was so good. Probably she did not do her best here. Do you think Salem will ever hear of it? Will she give us the lesture on "Florida" for a paltry sum that Salem was to pay her, $75.

The wife of Mr. Heiner, living on the farm of A. Butts, two miles east of here, died last week and was taken to Albany for burial, they having come from that neighborhood last fall.

I have just seen a copy of the New Orleans Times-Democrat of 24th January, in which is a very flattering notice of the Oregon exhibit at the World's Exposition at New Orleans, from which I make the following extract: "A very interesting feature in this connection is the display of blankets, etc., of the Brownsville Woolen Mills. They are of very fine texture and beautiful finish, and deserve the encomiums continually bestowed upon them by the admiring public." This is a very gratifying notice of an Oregon industry, a long ways from home.

In the contested seat in the city council between S. W. Dodd and W. E. Kelley, the latter takes it, being best in drawing at Lottery.

The city is now engaged in an investigation of selling intoxicating liquors to minors. There will be an appeal taken from the Recorder's court. We forbear to mention names.

Hanging cats seems to be the highest ambition of some of the Scio dead beats, and the lowest and vilest of dirty tricks may be indulged in with impunity. Beware! the way of the transgressor is hard.

The mail goes by the way of Jefferson these rainy times on account of there being a drift in the Slough on the road to Marion. We think it would be well to have the mail route changed anyway.

City officers for the present year are J. C. Johnson, Mayor, H. A. Johnson, Recorder, W. N. Bayliss, Marshal, Councilmen, M. C. Gill, R. Pentland, Riley Shelton, Peter Bilyeu, Jas. Coffey, J. A. Bilyeu, W. E. Kelly.

Dr. Jennings, Dentist of Salem, is in town repairing, remodeling and making Masticators. He is well up to the profession and guarantees satisfaction in every particular.

Our young married couple were out to Sabbath School Sunday namely Mr. and Mrs. Lonsway. The Scio band gave them a serenade on Thursday eve. They have the well wishes of many friends and kinsfolk.

St. Valentine's day is nearing its approach as will be observed by looking at the windows of D. Morris Drug Store, there to see the old and young standing and reading and looking at those hideous pictures—well it all goes for fun and we expect to receive more than our usual number of them.—All right.

J. J. Kelly received a letter from his son written Jan. 30th, at Prineville, stating that out of the band of horses of about 500 head, in which, he is partner, they had as yet found but 4 dead. The weather has been so rough that the farmers cannot do much, although the most of them had the most of their ground plowed last fall, so it puts them ahead in the spring. We think the farmers in the valley will be very late with their crop.

A Clear Head Head and a Strong Heart.

If you muddle your brains with any of the whiskey compounds which are sold under the name of "bitters," at which topers delight in for stimulants, you do your system irreproachable mischief. Brown's Iron Bitters is not one of these. It promotes healthy action of the heart, liver and stomach. It cleanses and enriches the blood, and fits the brain for the best mental work. The best physicians prescribe it, and it is well woethy of trial

Robert Browning is now seventy years old and a widower; yet it is said he will soon marry a young woman of twenty. This lets us out on his poems. We always knew his part of them were love sick.

Highly Recommended.

ALBANY, OREGON, Dec. 2nd, 1884.

Russell & Co.,

The New Massillon 33 inch separator and Russell engine purchased of you last summer is all you recommended it to be. It has given satisfaction in every respect. I threshed this season in 34 days run 43862 bushels of grain which is the bigest run of any machine in this part of the country. I threshed for some of the oldest farmers in this county and they all say that I did them the best job, saying and cleaning their grain that ever had been done. Our expense for repairs for the season did not exceed one dollar.

Yours Respectfully,
D. D. HACKLEMAN.

In Time of Peace Prepare for War.

Scarcely any doubt exists in the minds of scientific men about the appearance of cholera in this country another season The extent and virulence of the disease will depend entirely upon the sanitary condition of the country and the physical condition of the people. Persons in a perfectly healthy condition have little to fear from its approach. Dr Koch, of Berlin, in his recent writings upon the subject, says: "Under ordinary circumstances the bacilli, introduced by the mouth, are destroyed in the sto mach, bu given a derangement of this organ due to errors of diet or other causes, and the bacillus is enabled to escape the action of the acid gastric juice and to reach the alkaline intestinal fluid, where it poliferates, sets up irritation, diarrhoea and all the typical symptoms of choleraic seizure." Dr. Haven's Dyspepsia Cure is a remedy that supplies the acid that is wanting in the digestive juices of a deranged stomach Sample bottles free at Foshay & Masons Drug Store.

Its Wonderful Efficacy.

No remedy ever discovered possesses the wonderful efficacy of Syrup of Figs. The certainty with which it expels all impurities from the system, at the same time giving tone to the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, places it ahead of all other remedies, to say nothing of its being taken. It is selling very rapidly. E W Langdon & Druggists Agents.
