WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, JUNE, 16th, 1885. The new Cabinet officers and the Chiefs of Bureau under them are very much embarrassed by their inheritance of asylums for the aged, blind and deaf. The Government offices are these asylums, and there are in them hundreds of superanuated men and women who do actually for energy and efficiency ever in their prime. Now they are sans eyes, sans ears, sans everything but pocket lars yearly for rent of offices, and the overcrowded with desks. It would be in the interest of economy to pay these old and helpless people to stay away from the Departments so that competent men might be placed at the desks which they only encumto be discharged. The Departments were filled with pretty women by a system festered and practiced by the Republican party. There is not a Republican Senator or ex-Senator who has not lovely proteges, and some have dozens, in the Government offices here. They were not appointed under civil service rules, but in direct contravention of civil service principles-because they were pretty and helpless, or because they were sisters, cousins, aunts, mothers-in-law. To say that they are not efficient is putting it very mildiy. Ten good clerks, such are found in the business bouses of the city can do more and better work than one hundred of these women, and will be glad to do it for less pay than the women receive. The fact is that the civil service has been most shamefully run down at the heels as well as at the head during the long ascendency of the party of moral ideas and loose practices.

During the last three and a ha months great progress has been made in the neglected and belated work mary Government offices, but the best results cannot be hoped for until radical changes have been made in both the men, women and methods of the worst demoralized Civil Service under the sua.

Proof that a new era has opened in National affairs is seen every day here. The last Republican Senate succeded in passing a subsidy bill of $400,000 in favor of the Pacific Mail Steamship Com. Mr. Vilas has been looking into the subject, and he finds that the present rates paid for the mails are amfle. As the act of Con-"millions in it" saved to the coun-

Gail Hamilton, a niece of Blaine's, is out in an article in the July number of the North American Review entitled, "Prohibition in Politics." There are two significant features in this article. One is the actual "turn about" on the prohibition question over to the license side of the quantion by the writer and the other is the inevitable conclusion that the article is inspired and approved by Blaine himself. The evident purpose is to call a balt among republican leaders and change the supposed tendency of that party to prohibition back to the license system. There are many inlications that point to a combined effort on the part of the most astute leaders of the party to make license the emphatic and pronounced policy of the party. The plan adopted is believed to be to have Hamilton write the article spoken of as a feeler of the pulse of the party on this subject, and, if the effect is favorable, then a bold strike will be made to place the party squarly on the platform of restriction and in antagonism to prohibition. If this is easily accomplished, (and indications lead to believe that it will be,) then Blaine will come forward as the leader of the rejavenated party and place himself in line for the presidency in 1888. This, or something like it, is in the air. It is apparent that enough disturbing elements now exist in the g. o. p. to kill it.
