Washington.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 5th, 1886.

The Administration has shown the courage of its convictions during the week, by launching three aggressive documents upon the Senate. The first was the President's message on the right of the Senate to share the information on which he made official changes.

While Senator Beck may not agree with the Administration on the silver question, he is with it in the controversy with the Senate. Said he, in regard to the coveted appointment papers, "no one has any right to them but the persons who wrote them."

Since the President sent his message to the Senate in regard to its demand for papers, there has been no doubt as to what he is going to do. He holds that the question of removal is one for him alone, and he will not send the papers. It is not that the Senators are misunderstood and misrepresented that they complain.

All the vast western territory of the United States north of the thirty-sixth parallel of latitude, embracing an area larger than the whole of Europe, was acquired by successive Democratic Administrations, beginning with Jefferson and ending with Polk.

Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, who holds down a chair in Congress, because the chair can't help itself, came up out of the basement last week, and clubbing his jaw took the same in both hands and laid about him perfectly regardless.

It begins to look as if Michigan had made up her mind, this time, for sure, to quit the Republican line and join the Democratic procession. Division and disaster seem to beset the Michigan Republicans.

The Washington correspondence of the Boston Post intimates that the silver problem will be solved by a compromise, and that Speaker Carlisle will be the medium for adjusting the differences between the President and the silver men.

Albert Victor Edward, eldest son of the Prince of Wales, is described as a shy, pale, boyish-looking fellow, who doesn't look his twenty-two years. He is devotedly attached to his mother, whom he resembles in character and features.

The Blair Education bill has passed the Senate by a vote of 36 to 11. It distributes among the states and territories during a period of eight years in proportion to the illiteracy of each, the following sums: First year, $7,000,000; second year, $10,000,000; third year, $15,000,000; fourth year, $13,000,000; fifth year, $12,000,000; sixth year, $9,000,000; seventh year, $7,000,000; eighth year, $5,000,000.

Dr. W. D. Wright, Cincinnati, O., sends the following professional endorsement: "I have prescribed Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs in a great number of cases, and always with success."

Pinckney Street, Boston. His father, Jeremiah Everts, died when William was quite young. A gentleman of this city who was born in Myrtle street went to school with young Everts, and says of him that he was a likable, unassuming lad, who usually got the worst of it in the rough and tumble games of the roystering schoolboys.

It is said that General Terry desires to be the Republican candidate for the Presidency, and for that reason Blaine and Logan's friends will oppose his confirmation to Hancock's place. Would not Mr. Edmunds like to send an inquiry to the President for his reasons for appointing Terry?

Mr. Blaine has finished his book, and is busy overhauling his old letters. If he finds a bundle endorsed "Mulligan" he will know where to send it.

For April is an exceedingly interesting number, containing articles to please tastes. It is especially rich in engravings from paintings and drawings, and the art lover will also find congenial matter in the sketch of Leonardo Da Vinci, with its two accompanying portraits.

As well as the most effective method of dispelling headaches, colds and fevers, or cleansing the system is by taking a few doses of the pleasant California Liquid Fruit Remedy Syrup of Figs. 50c and $1 bottles for sale by Foshay & Mason, Langdon & Co.

PERSONAL.

The teacher's institute to be held in this city March 31st, April 1st and 2nd, should be attended by all the teachers in the county. Preparations are being made for an unusually interesting and profitable meeting.

Dr. W. D. Wright, Cincinnati, O., sends the following professional endorsement: "I have prescribed Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs in a great number of cases, and always with success."

A Safeguard.

The fatal rapidity with which Croup, Colds and Coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent parent to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

Is not a new remedy for pulmonary disease, but a medicine which is well known to the masses of the world, and which has been used for many years with the most successful results.
