SKIN AND SCALP
Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

For cleansing the skin and scalp of disfiguring humors, for itching, burning and inflammation, for curing the first stages of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Boils, Head, Scrofula and other skin and blood diseases, Cuticura, the great skin cure, and Cuticura Soap, an exquisite skin beautifier, externally, and Cuticura Sensitive, the new blood purifier, internally, are infallible.

A COMPLETE CURE.
I have suffered all my life with skin disease of different kinds and have never found permanent relief, until by the advice of a lady friend, I used your valuable Cuticura Remedies. I gave them a thorough trial, using six bottles of the Cuticura Sensitive, two boxes of Cuticura and seven cakes of Cuticura Soap, and the result was just what I had been told it would be—a complete cure.

SALT RHEUM CURED.
I was troubled with Salt Rheum for a number of years, so that the skin entirely came off one of my hands from the finger tips to the wrist. I tried remedies and doctors' prescriptions to no purpose until I commenced taking Cuticura Sensitive, and now I am entirely cured.

ITCHING SCALP, PIMPLY.
For the last year I have had a species of itching, scaly and pimply humors on my face to which I have applied a great many methods of treatment without success, and which was speedily and entirely cured by Cuticura.

NO MEDICINE LIKE THEM.
We have sold your Cuticura Remedies for the last six years, and no medicines on our shelves give better satisfaction.

CUTICURA REMEDIES ARE SOLD EVERYWHERE. Price, Cuticura, 50 cents; Sensitive, $1; Soap, 25 cents. Prepared by the Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston, Mass. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

I ACHE ALL OVER.
Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Sharp and Nervous Pain, Strains and Weakness relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. New and Reliable. At Druggists, 25 cents; Free for $1. Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

HANGING WOMEN.
The New York World has had occasion to investigate the subject as to what States do with women murderers. But very few cases of hanging of women have ever occurred in New York though the law makes no distinction between male and female murderers.

No woman has been hanged in Maine or in Connecticut within the memory of those now living. But one woman has been hanged in Minnesota since the organization of the territory. There is no difference in the law as between males and females but public sentiment is decidedly against hanging women.

None have ever been hanged in Kansas. The law of that State provides that when a woman is convicted of murder she shall be sent to the penitentiary for a year, after which the Governor may issue his warrant to have her hanged but no Governor has ever done so.

No white woman within the memory of man has been hanged in Louisiana. Public sentiment is very much averse to hanging women in that State. None have been hanged in Iowa and but one in the last half century in Maryland, but in the latter State public sentiment is not averse to hanging women in case of murder. Governor Oglesby does not remember that a woman has ever been hanged in that State. The law is the same as to men and women. In Wisconsin imprisonment for life is the penalty for murder. Quite a number of women have been hanged in Georgia during the history of the State but public sentiment now forbids the hanging. Pennsylvania hangs women as freely as men. The laws of Ohio make no distinction between male and female, yet but one woman, (colored) has ever been hanged in that State. North Carolina hangs woman. No woman has ever been hanged in Delaware, though the penalty is the same as in the case of males. In Massachusetts the penalty for murder is hanging whether the murderer be male or female, but public sentiment is strongly against hanging women. In Missouri no woman has ever been hanged though quite a number have been sentenced to death, but in case the Governor or Supreme Court has commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life. In Indiana the law is the same in the case of male and female murderers. But no woman has ever been hanged in that State. Public sentiment is very much opposed to it. In Vermont the penalty is the same for females as for males and public sentiment sustains the law. The Governor never interferes with the death sentence. The law in Nebraska makes no difference in the punishment of male and female murderers but no woman has ever been hanged in that State. There has been no hanging in Michigan since 1820. Only one female has ever been hanged within the Territory of the State, an Indian woman being hanged in 1763.

In order to make sugar cheap, John Sherman proposes to remove the duty from it, and then in order to enable American sugar producers to compete with the slave labor of Cuba and the pauper labor of other sugar-producing countries, he proposes to give a bonus to our producers for the sugar produced. That is he would have congress pass a law giving each producer as many dollars per ton for every ton produced by them. Outrageous as this may seem to Pennsylvania and New England protectionists, yet it is a more candid and sensible way of extending protection than the present one. And, now, that John Sherman has committed himself to this kind of protection, we would suggest that as our farmers now find themselves unable to compete with the pauper labor of the wheat growing countries of Europe and Asia, that Congress be asked to pass a law giving each wheat grower a bonus of 50 many cents for each bushel of wheat produced. The farmer has just as much right to demand this protection as the sugar planter of the South or the rich iron, coal, salt and other protected dealers of the Middle and New England states. Come, now, what protectionist will propose this protection for the farmers of Oregon. We venture the prediction that not one will propose it.

AN ABLE FINANCIER.
"Mary," said an economical Philadelphia husband, "I want to make you a Christmas present this year, but I really don't know what to get. I guess I'll postpone it until next year and then get something nice."
"John, you said that last year."
"Really now, did I? Well, that proves that I never forgot you."
"But, John, you may be dead by next year."
"Why, that's true, and if I don't waste any money for Christmas presents, you'll be so much the better off. Really, Mary, I'm glad to see you look at matters in such a sensible light."

THE LADY OF THE BARREL.
The only interesting thing about Miss Sadie Allen, except that she went through Niagara Rapids in a barrel, is the question why she did it. The wonder grows when she talks with her in the museum in the Bowers, where she is on exhibition, for she is a gentle and evidently modest country girl of the farmer's daughter type. She is 19 years old, very fully developed, short and so healthy that her cheeks are ruddy and her lips like coral. Her short, thick neck suggests great muscular strength. "I have no parents," she said, "but boarded with a Mrs. Souly and worked in a laundry in Buffalo. Before I undertook this feat with Mr. Haslett I went over to my brother-in-law's, and he joked with me about going through the rapids. He said that a man who had been through them was looking for a girl to make the trip with him. He said, 'would I dare to go,' and I said 'Yes.' It was all in jest, but it was kept up until Mr. Haslett came along, and I engaged to try it with him." The probability is that if this Hazlett, who had made one journey of this sort, had not been a family connection she would never have heard or dreamed of the project. She never did anything daring or extraordinary in any respect before in her life and does not expect to do anything of the sort in the future.

TROTTERING HER OUT.
A lady correspondent of an Eastern paper says: Some women have an idea that a man enjoys being pranced about and held on to as if he were portable property, like spoons or button-hooks. Now, this is what I think: If you want to make a man have a good time, and thank you for it, take him first of all to a pleasant house. See that he is presented to the brightest women, the prettiest ones, and those who are likely to interest him most, then let him alone. A steward your turn will come. When the mushrooms and champagne are under discussion later on, there will not be a courteous set of yours that he will not remember, there will not be a single person to whom you have presented him that he will count as more agreeable than yourself, and he will confess in his heart of hearts that your power is strongest and that you are a afraid to try it. The mistakes made by young women in this respect are very many, and only with age and experience does the requisite knowledge come. Few young women are willing to, even for a little, make themselves secondary, and yet social success positively demands it.

THE RIGHT TO REMAIN SINGLE.
There is a phase of "woman's rights" which seems to escape the consideration it deserves, says the Pittsburg Chronicle-Tribune, and that is the right of a young woman to remain single if she desires to do so. The men do not object to this right. It is her own sex which, urged by a variety of very subtle reasons, conspires to put a sort of stigma on women who have no inclination to matrimony, and by the opprobrious epithet of "old maid" force discerning and fastidious women into undesirable and unhappy marriages. A man is not ashamed for not taking a partner in business, nor does he suffer reproach because he fails to marry. A woman ought not by social pressure be urged into marriage when she has no desire that way, or has at least found no man to whom her judgment and affections alike incline.

DIVERSIFY YOUR INVESTMENTS.
It becomes more and more evident that a change is needed in the methods of our farmers. However it may have been in the past, it is only now too clear that Sox Island cotton is no longer a paying crop. The money realized for this product is not now enough to pay the expense of producing it, to say nothing of a profit, and it is the part of wisdom to drop it and plant other crops. And right here we would emphasize the advice to diversify. Plant peas, pinders, vegetables, fruits, and especially peaches, raise more potatoes, hay, corn, oats and hogs. Cease to import those things you can raise at home, and you will need less money to meet the bills at the end of the year. Chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks and eggs are all good money products and requires but small outlay of capital or labor. Give the labor heretofore so lavishly bestowed on cotton, to these other industries, and see if the end of the year does not demonstrate the wisdom of the change.—Gulf View.
