LOCAL RECORD.

MORE MAD ITALIANS.—Thursday six or seven more Italians arrived from the front, and of course wanted their pay from Searle & Deane, and when it was not forthcoming took matters into their own hands and began running the city. They were about to abduct Mr. Deane, but not being very many in numbers did not succeed in doing so. This morning their checks were bought up for 20 per cent discount and they are now scarce. The Italians, of course, ought to be paid, and so had anyone else, whether Searle & Deane or John Doe; but we do not know that they are entitled to greater privileges here than other people.

BUY ITEMS.—The largest city in Oregon will eventually be built on Yaquina Bay, and in less than ten years time. [Sounds big anyway.]... Ala Harris is going to move to San Francisco, where he will locate. He will be missed from the Bay. R. F. Baker, the real estate man of Newport, last week sold to a number of Portland men 21 lots in Phelps' addition to Newport. It is said to be one of the largest real estate transactions ever made in Newport. A gentleman of means from New York expected here shortly to look over the ground for the location of a first-class hotel.—Republican.

JOE ON TOP.—Whenever a prospect of 'short copy' confronts the local scribbler, he turns his eyes toward Gervais for something to help him out. And he usually gets it. Yesterday the excitement there was a knock down of McKinley Mitchell, the most prominent merchant of the place, by Joseph Purdon, justice of the peace and railroad agent. The trouble is said to have arisen over the matter of shipping freight, about which a dispute arose, the life was passed and Mr. Mitchell knocked down. Mr. Purdon being the justice of the peace, Mr. Mitchell came to Salem and swore out a warrant for his arrest in Justice Chase's court on a charge of assault and battery.—Salem Statesman.

MORE THAN THAT.—If there is a difference of five cents per bushel of wheat in favor of Hunt's road, there would be a gain on 1,000,000 bushels of $50,000. This is what the road is doing for the farmers of Walla Walla county. It will do for the farmers of this county.—Union Scout. The Oregon Pacific did more than that for Linn county. Three years ago the difference in price between Albany and Portland was 10 cents. Today the quotations show a difference of 8 cents. There is a gain of 9 cents due to this road.

LEFT A WILL.—Mrs Sarah Hutchins, who recently died at this city in destitute circumstances, left property valued at $3800, part of which is in a poor judgment. She left a will leaving the property in four equal parts to Mrs Dr Alex Clingman, Dr; Mary L. Halson, of Missouri; Thomas and John Johnson, of Mich; and Arthur Clingman. The will was dated in 1871 and Judge Powell was appointed executor.

SWORE POSITIVELY.—W F Butcher returned from his trip to Kansas on last evening's train, happy in the knowledge that a jury of his peers awarded him $6000 for being suspected of being a male thief by an all too officious sheriff. Sheriff Hedrick's attorneys have filed a motion for a new trial, but it is not believed that it will be granted. Eight witnesses brought in by the defendant swore point blank that Butcher was really Gordon, the male thief, but on a thorough cross-examination their evidence was totally discredited.—Pendleton E. O.

SAD CASE.—Special Deputy Kennedy brought down from Union to the asylum yesterday Armita Gardner, a poor girl with a pitiful history. She is only sixteen years old, born and raised in Baker county, and has been a cripple all her life, having no strength in her lower limbs. About two years ago a fend by the name of Wiggins accomplished her ruin by force and is now serving a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary for the crime, but even this will be poor recompense to the poor creature, whose reason is dethroned for life.

INCORPORATED.—Articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State Thursday incorporating the Albany Iron Works. E. F. Sox, Jos. Watson and Gus Costel are the incorporators. Business will be done at the J. G. Cherry foundry. The capital stock is placed at $100,000. Members of the Company inform us that they already have a large amount of work on hand, and that the prospect is good for a steady business. The plant is a good one, and there is no reason why there shouldn't be a large and busy business done here in the future as in the past.

COMMON DRUNK.—The town council of Prineville has placed the following named persons on the "common drunk" list. A B Conley, Mark Jones, Tom Payne, Henry Stroud and S. Sullenberger. The saloon men of this town will have to sharpen their well-worn augurs to "stand off" this crowd, but they will try to be equal to the emergency.—Prineville News. Several in Albany who would grace such a list pretty well, and it wouldn't be a bad idea for our Council some day to put a tag on them.

BURGLARY.—Wednesday night Fred Conn, who lives on Third Street left his clothing in the sitting room on a chair. In the night a light-fingered gent opened the front door, went in and extracted a watch from "Doc's" vest pocket, but retired without examining the pants pocket, in which was $25 in coin. It is supposed the burglar became alarmed and left hurriedly without looking into the pants pocket. "Doc" knew nothing about his loss until morning.

QUARTERLY MEETINGS.—Rev. J. W. Craig will hold quarterly meetings as follows: Harrisburg, Feb. 10 and 11; Liberty church, Feb. 10th and 11th; Junction, Feb. 16th and 17th; Center school house, Feb. 16th; Albany, Feb. 23rd and 24th.

AN ALARM.—Some ashes thrown in the rear of the Star Brewery last Thursday caused some wood to catch on fire. An alarm was given, but the fire was easily put out without the aid of the apparatus.

A TRIP TO THE SNOW.

In response to a very courteous invitation from Vice President, Wm. Hoag, of the O. P. Railroad Company, a number of Albany gentlemen consisting of Messrs. Abe Hackleman, John A. Crawford, Jason Wheeler, S. S. Train and the senior editor of the Democrat boarded a special train on Wednesday morning and accompanied Vice President Hoag and Superintendent Bowen to the end of the track on the extension of that road east of Albany. Mr. Hoag was on his way to the tunnel some twelve miles beyond the end of the track to confer with employees of the Company. The trip was without special interest until the special reached the banks of the "classic Santiam." Up to this point, a distance of about 18 or 20 miles, the line of the road is through a thickly settled, rich, farming region. But now the mountains on either side of the Santiam begin to close in upon us and the company turn their attention to the beautiful mountain scenery. But here we are at Lyonsville opposite Mehama. This is a new town just springing into existence and its proprietor Mr. Henry Lyons is justly proud of it. He and others predict a great future for it. But "all aboard" and again we glide up the serpentine banks of the Santiam until we reach Mill City at the crossing of the Santiam. This town is laid out on the Marion county side. It has the usual number of business houses, and that inevitable accompaniment of civilization—a saloon. Here is a large lumbering mill whose proprietor says his power (water in a race from the Santiam) is the best in the State. In a short length of time he will be prepared to furnish every article of wood necessary to the structure of any building at short notice. Here and from this point on the mountains crowd us in more closely to the river and the snow on the mountain slopes near the river until at the end of the track we find two or three inches of snow. Here Mr. Hoag left us and set out on his forty mile tramp. We returned five miles to Galesville, where the company took dinner in the very midst of the crags and mountain peaks of the headwaters of the North Santiam. We arrived at Albany at 3 o'clock, p. m. all highly pleased with the trip and the uniform kindness and courtesy of Messrs. Hoag and Bowen. It is due to the managers, and especially Mr. Bowen to say that all the gentlemen were much surprised to find the road so secure and permanently ballasted and in such good condition generally.

MR. KAY.

Mr. Thos. Kay left Albany last Saturday for England, accompanied by his oldest son. He will visit the principal knitting and worsted factories in the East previous to going to England, in order to obtain a complete knowledge of the latest improvements in the machinery for the business. In England he will buy the machinery for a complete knitting and worsted factory, the cost of which there will be approximately $14,000. This will bring to Oregon and with it start a large knitting and worsted factory. He has given up the idea of starting a woolen mill either at Salem or any other place. Now what place will secure the new mill. We predict it will be at Albany. Mr. Kay is a reliable informant, and has a preference for this city over any other in the Valley and has had right along. This is a very important matter, and when Mr. Kay returns Albany must be the first to offer him those inducements which will induce him to locate here, and we are confident it will do so. The mill will be running somewhere in Oregon within about a year.

ACQUITTED.—Mr. Joe Purdon, formerly of this city, who was tried in Salem for assaulting a prominent Gervais merchant on account of a dispute over a freight bill, was acquitted. Joe and Mitchell were alone when the fight occurred and nothing could be proven. The Court, though, says the Salem Journal, was satisfied that something took place in the depot but as none were present save the combatants, the accused was benefited by the doubt. On the other hand Mitchell thinks, from the sensation of having been struck and himself describing a half circle on the floor, that he must have been knocked down.

THROUGH ALBANY.—Eighteen car loads of soldiers passed through Albany about 10:30 o'clock last Friday. Presidio, Cal., where they will be located under the immediate supervision of General Miles. Battery E, the one thus transferred to the Presidio, consists of eighty men and five officers, who with their families, took the overland train for transportation. There are sixty horses in the battery, which were taken. The officers occupy the private cars, while the soldiers were accommodated by two immigrant sleepers.

EXAMPLES.—Here is an example that is going the rounds of the press: "If it takes a boy half an hour to get up and get a little wool for his mother to get supper, how long would it take next day to go five miles to a circus?" It suggests another of our own: "If a poor man will pay $7 to take his subscription to a circus, how soon will he pay his subscription his family paper that he has not liquidated for in several years."

A FINE BOOK.—Probably no book that has ever been introduced in Albany is of more real value than Crain's Family Atlas of the World. Besides a geography of the world in splendidly gotten up maps, are departments devoted to history, political events, comparative debts, wealth, religious denominations, etc., in well gotten up and once takes Dr. Flint's Runway. Dr. Flint's Runway is a paper giving the latest geographical events of the world. A young gentleman is now canvassing the city for the work, which deserves a good patronage.

Disturbance of the Heart.

Heart disease is like an assassin, which creeps upon you in the dark, and strikes you when unawares. Therefore, do not overlook any uneasiness in the region of the heart or disturbance in its action, but once take Dr. Flint's Runway. Dr. Flint's Runway is a paper giving the latest geographical events of the world. A young gentleman is now canvassing the city for the work, which deserves a good patronage.

Stock Increased.—Supplemental articles of incorporation were filed in the clerk's office Friday, as well as in the secretary of state's office, increasing the capital stock of the Brownsville Woolen Mill Co. from $25,000 to $50,000, divided into 100 shares of $500 each. J. M. Boyer, F. F. Craft and J. P. Galbraith are the incorporators.

Didn't Rise.—The cream didn't rise Thursday in the creamery near and the prospects are that it will not in Albany. Our citizens do not seem inclined to invest in the matter.

"REDUCTION" AND "REFORM."

The Herald says that during the late campaign the democrats accused the republicans of being opposed to tariff reform, and now cites the fact of the passage of the Senate substitute bill to show that republicans are not hostile to tariff reform. The Herald mistakes the fact. There was never any doubt in the minds of democrats that republicans were in favor of "tariff reform," but they did doubt that republicans were in favor of "tariff reduction," and they doubt it yet, and the passage of the Senate substitute bill confirms that doubt. There is a very wide difference between "tariff reform" and "tariff reduction." "Tariff reform" is a meaningless term. The man who favors raising the duty on any one or all the articles now on the dutiable list is a "tariff reformer." The man who favors "tariff reduction" is one who would make duties less instead of more. In the bill which the republican Senate has just passed the duty on wool, lin and nearly all kinds of woolen goods has been largely increased. This proves republicans to be in favor of "tariff reform," and at the same time proves that they are hostile to "tariff reduction." The Herald unwittingly admits this distinction when it says: "To illustrate the difference between tariff reduction and revenue reform," the Finance committee of the Senate framed a substitute for the Mills bill which should tend to reduce the revenue and yet preserve the principle of protection to home industries.

Here is an open confession that the Senate bill is made solely to reduce the revenue but not the tariff. The democrats have contended and yet contend that the interests of the millions of consumers should be considered as well as the hundreds or thousands of manufacturers in the tariff legislation. To illustrate the difference between democratic "tariff reduction" and republican "tariff reform" we would refer to the action of both parties on the sugar question. The democrats in the Mills bill made an absolute reduction of about 25 per cent and gave to the consumer the full benefit of this reduction, while the republicans made a reduction of 50 per cent, and then in the way of a bonus or bounty gave back about 30 per cent to the makers of sugar and this duty is to be paid out of the people's money thus depriving the consumer of the greater part of the reduction made. This is one of the complicated contrivances resorted to to deceive the people. So far as the consumers as well as manufacturers of sugar are concerned, the Mills bill makes a greater reduction on sugar than the Senate bill.

The feelings of the Oregonians is terribly worked up because as it says there are 4000 or 5000 of Astoria pilots at Salem using the money they make out of high pilot charges to prevent the Legislature from reducing pilot charges. The Oregonians should not whine when it has to swallow its own medicine. This work of the pilots at Salem is exactly similar to the work performed by protected monopolies all over to prevent a reduction of the tariff duties.

A Portland exchange speaking of the late trouble about the laborers of Searle & Deane getting their money speaks of the O. P. company always having trouble with their employees. It might add something to the stock of knowledge of that paper to say that the trouble was between Searle & Deane and their laborers and not between the laborers and the O. P. company. We have it from reliable authority that the O. P. company voluntarily procured the means by which the laborers of Searle & Deane were paid for their labor.

That bill of Looney's to create boards of county school commissioners would not insure to the benefit of the people. Under it so two counties in the state would probably have exactly the same kind of text-books and every time a family moved from one county to another a new set of books in part or whole would have to be purchased.

Roberts bill to appropriate $15,000 to enable the counties of Coos and Douglas to construct a wagon road from Myrtle Point to Camas Valley will doubtless receive a black eye. The state cannot now engage in the business of building wagon roads.

The value of the South's agricultural products for 1888 was about $800,000,000 against $771,000,000 in 1879. The value of the South's live stock in 1888 was $391,400,000 while in 1879 it was $391,000,000. The production of grain rose from 431,074,630 bushels in 1879 to 626,305,000 bushels in 1889, an increase of nearly 200,000,000 bushels.

Speaker Smith of the house pursued a very discernible course in making up the standing committees of that body. The democrats have no representative at all on the following committees: Education, Claims, Roads and Highways, Indian Affairs, Corporations, Internal Improvements, Agriculture, and Alcoholic Traffic. Why should democrats be excluded from these committees? It's using power like a tyrant.

A sixteen-year-old boy in Kansas City attempted to steal and carry away a saw mill one day last week. He first stole a horse and wagon and was busily engaged in taking the mill to pieces preparatory to loading it upon the wagon, when the mill owner appeared on the scene and gathered him in.

The New American navy, when completed, will consist of 22 vessels, ranging from the armored cruiser Maine, carrying 444 men, down to a first-class torpedo boat, carrying 4 officers and 18 men. There will be 5,786 men on board the 22 vessels—500 officers and 5,286 sailors and marines.

Bismarck wants $500,000 to enable him to aid in suppressing the slave trade in Eastern Africa. In other words, he proposes to take a hand in circumventing England's encroachments in that quarter. Why old man!
