This mode of united tising has been the best plan adoption in many states, among others California, and if Albany men would see the whole valley grow together they should come to the front liberally. It is a scheme in which Albany is bound to get its share of the results. Only by building up the whole valley can each part receive a permanent benefit. Let the world find out that the Willamette is the finest, most productive, healthiest and best valley in the world for a home, and there will be no question but it will receive a boom.
