A GOOD LECTURE.—Eli Perkins, who was once in Albany, tells the following story, which will be of interest to some Albany young men who are in the same situation: "Max O'Kell came into the train after his Portsmouth lecture, a polite young man, always polite to him and said: 'I beg pardon, but are you the gentleman who delivered the lecture last night?' ...

THE TIME of running trains on the Southern Pacific change next week, as has been previously announced. The morning over 7:30 and the evening one about 8:45. The morning express will be the Roseburg express and its running time will be but little changed. This is the program given by a Salem paper. We have been unable to learn any thing definite here. The above, if correct, will make the morning train pass Albany at about 8:15, and the evening train at 10 o'clock.

PART MR HOOP.—Major S L Lovell started last Saturday in response to a railroad line past Mt Hood on the south side, where he discovered a most feasible pass recently at a point where so way of getting through was never known to exist before. The survey is in the interest of the U P, and will shorten the distance to Huntington by some 10 miles. Mr Hoop and his cousin, W G Lovell, has established an engineers office in Portland.

QUICK WORK.—Last Saturday in the circuit court Matilda Young obtained a divorce from Frank N Young, and last evening a license was issued for her to wed E Boyer. Evidently single life has no charms for her, and if "marriage is a failure" in one case, she is willing to try again. They were married evening under matrimony by Justice May.—Astorian.

A GRAND STATE.—Oregon never had a failure of crops and this year when weather was causing many a farmer to feel uneasy about his crops, the welcome rain came in due season, and all nature smiles and blossoms anew, and the harvest of 1930 is again to be a plentiful one. FLOWERY LANGUAGE.—The following said by Bob Ingersoll at an evening held in Washington, may be applied as well to the whole Northwest. It is about as flowery language as one ever reads: "What a treasury vault to the scientist in the wonderful geological strata of Washington, where we can wander along the steeply tilted hills and feel the throbbing pulse of Mother Earth! What a paradise to the tourist, where water falls from crags and cliffs down deep gorges until its body is mottled by the heavy dour, and rices to kiss the clouds under a veil of mist! What a view for landscape painters, where mountains torn apart by ancient floods are standing in columns like sentinels entranced with the knowledge of treasures as precious as the golden apples in the gardens of the Hesperides. No one need seek for mountain scenery in a foreign land, where the eye can feast upon such majestic grandeur as Mount Rainier, that rears its proud head almost over the same blue heavens with its crown covered with perpetual snow."

YACHTING BAY.—It is rumored that E. S. Attorney General Williams and family will occupy their seaside residence in Newport this summer. Twenty people came in on the train which left for the summer season in Newport.

Mr Pullman, government engineer, in charge of the work on the bridge, is preparing his report and making estimates for the resumption of work as soon as the summer season is over. The bridge and the money is now available.

THE MASONIC DEBATE.

The dedication of the new Masonic temple in Albany Tuesday proved the greatest event in the history of the lodge in this city, bringing together an immense number of people from all over the state. It was made a holiday event in the afternoon, when the city was shown the victors, the cats and lack of the ...

At 6 o'clock the procession formed in front of the hall with right resting on Ferry Street, headed by the Albany band during the entire day. One hundred Knights and two or three hundred other Masons were in line, the members of the Grand Lodge in carriages following in the rear. After marching to Lyon Street and back on First Street, the procession filled the already overflowing temple.

The building, recently finished, is an ornamental structure. The first floor is occupied by the best furniture store in the valley, while the second is devoted to the lodge. The building is in height, the lodge rooms consist of the main hall 23x28 feet and several ante rooms elegantly furnished. In addition to the officers' quarters, there is a ball room with the finest acoustical properties of any in the city.

The exercises were opened by a march, conducted by the band, led by Fred H. Palmer, and played by Mrs A B Seal, piano; Charles Mueller, violin, and A B Seal, cello. The music was composed of Roy Mueller, Prof Lee, Mrs Langdon and Mr and Mrs Seal, who furnished some excellent music for the occasion.

Mr David Froman, Master of Corinthian lodge, announced the completion of the four years work of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, which was held at the Masonic temple, Albany, Oregon, June 19, 1930.

Mr Froman made a concise statement about the building of the temple, showing the financial condition of the affair to be good.

A vocal solo by Mrs E W Langdon, beautifully sung, was listened to with marked pleasure.

Mr Mason then announced the presentation to Christopher Taylor, P. W. M., of a watch and chain, an elegantly gotten up certificate of honorary membership, paying him a warm tribute. Sir Knight Morrison responded in a happy manner on behalf of Mr Taylor.

A vocal trio by Rev E R Pritchard, Prof Lee and Geo E Chamberlain, was beautifully sung.

A series of songs of the Grand Lodge closed the dedication ceremony.

At 8 o'clock about four hundred people sat down to a sumptuous repast in the main hall of the temple. The hall was brilliantly lighted by well arranged incandescent lights. After the guests had been seated, a brilliant and startling display of fireworks was set off, causing a brilliant display of light and color, and nearly filled about seven hundred fifty in all sitting down to the repast for the great occasion. The music was furnished by W H Garrett, chairman of the banquet committee.

The festivities of the day closed with a ball at the Opera House, attended by a very large concourse of people. Some fine couples were to be noticed. The Grand Master, Mr H. H. ...

How far the cause.—I have never seen so bright crop prospects in Linn county as now," said a Center precinct man to a Democratian man. "Fall wheat looks like a dropping wheat is just whooping it up. The crop will be a bumper crop. That's my observation too," said a man standing near.

Those men living in a splendid wheat belt, so dapper spoke correctly for their section. Several other men, who were interviewed, however, said it depended where you were, some parts of the county some fields looked bad, the rain, if any, came too late, and the result will be a bumper crop. The result will be a bumper crop. The result will be a bumper crop.

GRASS STAKES are little sticks stuck in the ground to indicate what the actual established grade of the city is in the locality where staked. Theoretically they should be uniform. In practice, the way set in Albany, they are most anything. Stakes were set for a sidewalk on the corner of Perry street, between 6th and 7th. The latter sidewalk is now three or four inches lower than the former. This is a standing block for the public. There is no excuse for it, at least, if the public is getting tired of such staking setting. Let's have some uniformity or else let every man squint for himself.

A FORMER ALBANY BOY.—At a contest in the Y M C A gymnasium of Seattle Monday night Edmund Price, a son of Dr Price, formerly of this city, was one of the contestants. The Journal has an extended account of the contest, mentioning him as follows: Frank Bentley easily took the lead on the parallel bars and came out first, turning Thomas Bowman as he could do and remain alive. Charley Mitchell proved a very close second, but the result is a standing block for the public. There is no excuse for it, at least, if the public is getting tired of such staking setting. Let's have some uniformity or else let every man squint for himself.
