

The average width of the path of destruction with tornadoes is said to be a little more than 1000 feet.

The San Juan mines are destined to prove a potent factor in the near future in promoting the financial and business growth of Albany.

Seaweed is now made into a tough paper, which takes the place of window glass. When colored the effect is similar to stained, or painted glass.

Hon. Joseph Lane and Delano Smith were the first United States senators elected in Oregon after its admission to the Union. They were called to sit a cipe.

Celloidin in solution is now being extensively used as a lacquer for all kinds of fine metal works and as a wood varnish, with results that are said to be superior to the old methods.

The United States has a mile of railway for each 400 of population and each twenty-two miles of area, while the balance of the world has a mile for each 7500 of population and 227 miles area.

Notwithstanding the herculean efforts being made by republicans to raise a tariff on the tariff question, the tariff of 1892, the great tariff question, like Banquo's ghost, will not down at any man's bidding.

It has been a long time since a grand jury in Lincoln county has placed on the grand list about four days in the usual length of time devoted to the investigation of crime. The present grand jury put in about twice that length of time.

Neither the submerged chain system nor the endless rope system of canal-dredging has proved satisfactory in Germany, so that experiments are now being made in the use of heavy towing cars drawn by locomotives similar to those used in mines.

Mr. Blaine is pushing his reciprocity right along. He will not place a distinguishing tariff in 1893 as he was a protectionist in 1888. He is depending upon this scheme to make him president in 1892.

One thing is sure; unless the friends of Cleveland and Hill cease their wangling, New York will not have a president at the next presidential election. There is some excellent democratic presidential timber west of the Alleghany mountains.

The cotton of Peru grows on a tree instead of the diminutive shrub which grows in the southern part of the United States. The tree commences bearing when it is two years old, and it continues to bear every year for forty or fifty years. In the warm regions of the north two crops are gathered every year.

Only three persons were killed by electric-light plants in Massachusetts last year. Eleven persons lost their lives by not turning off the gas. Now if we knew how many persons were killed by kerosene explosions, and how many died from sunstroke, we would readily judge what kind of life is the most hazardous.

There are over 800,000 more widows in England. The Westminster Review, in discussing the subject, attributes the disparity chiefly to the growing disposition of men to marry late in life, under which circumstances they generally marry persons younger than themselves, which the Review considers a very serious evil in modern society.

The largest gold coin in circulation in the world is stated to be the gold "fleur de Anne" of the French colony in eastern Asia. It is a flat, round piece, worth $25. The next in size to this unwieldy coin is the Japanese "oban," which weighs more than two ounces and a half, about equal to ten English sovereigns.

The people of Brazil have a suspicion that Blaine is negotiating the treaty of reciprocity was scheming largely to make himself the next president of the United States and they are not very much disposed to adopt the treaty. It may yet fail.

Dr. Dyball, lecturing in London on the superior longevity and health of total abstinence, quoted statistics showing that, while those persons living at the age of twenty had an expectation of forty-four years of life, persons of 50 temperate habits had only an expectation of 51-52 years.

The secretary at the summit of Great Hill, Massachusetts, was built by Mr. A. Lawrence, a private enterprise. It commands an unbroken view of the horizon thirty-three miles distant, of the mountains in New Hampshire seventy miles away, and displays westerly signals for 120 towns and villages.

The Canadian government is wrestling with the question as to what shall be done with Edward Farrier and other sensationalists. It is proposed to banish them as a punishment for treason. Caesar had his Brutus. Charles the First had Cromwell, George the Third his Washington, and Queen Victoria may profit by the example. If it be treason make the most of it.

The Springfield Union (Rep) is worrying because it sees a possibility that the democratic majority in the next congress "will deposit its vote upon construction on the part of the minority." Oh, bless you, the republicans in the next congress can't obstruct anything. There are hardly enough of them, when they are all present, to call for the yeas and nays, and when that is done their obstructive power is exhausted.

In China soapstone is largely used in preserving structures built of sandstone and other stones liable to crumble from the effect of the atmosphere, and the covering with powdered soapstone in the form of paint on some of the obelisks in that country, composed of stone liable to atmospheric deterioration, has been the means of preserving them intact for hundreds of years.

At the session of the Central Pennsylvania Evangelical Conference held at Berwick in that state the 10th last a report was submitted by the committee on the state of the church on the present crisis in the church which was adopted. The report took the form of a resolution, declaring that the book of discipline is above all other authority and should be obeyed implicitly by all, from the bishop down to the humblest members; that the proceedings of the trial conference that suspended Bishop Bowman and Fisher were in accordance with the discipline and are therefore binding, and finally acted upon by the next general conference, and that the deposed bishops have no right to ignore the verdicts that disqualified them; hence ought to preside at any annual conference or perform any function of their office.

THE MOST PROLIFIC OF AMERICAN HISTORY.

The Fifty-first congress closed at noon yesterday and there was a sigh of relief throughout the land. It was the most prolific congress of American history, and even when commended by the people by unexampled popular majorities, after its first session, it continued its abundant fertility until the moment of its death.

The Fifty-first congress closed at noon yesterday and there was a sigh of relief throughout the land. It was the most prolific congress of American history, and even when commended by the people by unexampled popular majorities, after its first session, it continued its abundant fertility until the moment of its death.

When it closed its blotted record yesterday the surplus was scattered; the revenues largely exceeded by expenditures; a forced loan of $50,000,000 of treasury funds will not save the treasury from bankruptcy within the next year, the expenditures commanded by the Fifty-first congress will change the condition of the treasury from $200,000,000 surplus to fully $300,000,000 deficit before the close of the next fiscal year, and the additional pension, subsidy and other jobbing schemes fastened upon a looted treasury by positive law, saddled the people of the nation with over one thousand millions of new expenditures.

In addition to this bewildering waste of public money, chiefly in the interest of jobbers, largely increased taxes have been imposed upon the necessities of our industries and upon the common necessities of life. While the surplus has been scattered in a treasury deficit of fully $300,000,000, an additional tax levied to be met by increased taxes on the people, the new, cruel additional taxes levied on the necessities of life, reduce the value of the earnings of industry fully ten per cent. by that percentage of increase on articles of universal consumption.

That the people should condemn such a congress with an emphasis never before exhibited in popular elections was only logical, and the close of the Fifty-first congress sends more men into retirement by defeat at the polls than was known or even approached in all the political revolutions of the past. The great north was revolutionized by the mad recklessness of the congress just closed, and for the first time since the successful organization of the republic, the republican party, the northern states sent a clear majority of democrats to congress, and reversed the republican majority of 400,000, in 1888 into an anti-republican majority of 200,000 in 1892.

No party in all the varied political history of American politics ever suffered such a defeat when it held every department of power, and no congress since the issue Democratic Lection Congress of 1877-79 ever so completely defeated the party after its entire policy and leadership had been overwhelmingly condemned by the country.

The Fifty-first congress now belongs to history and considerate men of all parties rejoice to-day that its work is ended. The one silver lining to the impenetrable cloud that shames its record, is the failure of the party of power to consummate its crowning wickedness by the passage of the Force Bill. The few republicans who rescued our politics from chaos and our business from paralysis by defeating the Force legislation, will be crystallized in the grateful memories of the people, but the midsummer madness of the defeated party is exhibited in the effort to exclude the brand and best American from our fellowship for a conspicuous patriotic service.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Except as the silver question affected more important subjects in the recent congress, the House has not given its attention to any subject which people seemed to think deserved. As compared with home rule and federal supervision, with high taxes or low, with restriction of industry and commerce or the reverse, with free trade or free trade, silver appeared to us to present a question of minor consequence, especially after the very liberal increase of coinage provided by the late congress.

It will be seen from the foregoing that the silver question is a very serious one, and it is not surprising that it should have attracted the attention of the public. The silver question is a very serious one, and it is not surprising that it should have attracted the attention of the public.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 9, 1892. Mr. Harrison has never been credited with having an oversupply of backbone, but he has just given indisputable evidence that he can be stubborn when he desires to be. Sometime before congress adjourned he nominated James H. Duff to be United States District Judge for Idaho, but owing to the active opposition of the two Idaho senators and other republicans the senate adjourned without acting on the nomination.
