A MONRORITES PHILIPPIC.-The Monroe correspondent of the Corvallis Times gets eloquent as follows: "During the past week there have been more drunken and disorderly men in town than we remember to have seen for many a day. Men have been letting their business go to loiter around the new saloon, while farm ers that we know of bring their wives to town to do some trading and leave thein to sit around the stoves in the store until dark, while they are drinking and carous-ing at the saloon. We have the most accommodeting and liberal mind in the word and believe in free trade and a high protective tariff, free whiskey, a high license, prohibition and that sort of thing and we believe that both democrats and republicans will elect their m:n in '92, In fact, we believe most anything to be accommodating and avoid an argument, but when it comes to trying to make us beteve that a man who leaves the wife he has promised to cherish and protect sitting by a stove in a dry goods store surrounded by a gapping crowd of idlers for four mortal hours while he is filling himself with vile stuff and spending money which his family needs badly, is as intelligent and vile as a hog, we beg to be excused.

Of course there is not the least likelihood that the democrats in congress will for a moment seriously entertain the thought of following this advice. But it is well nevertheless that people should understand the weakness of the governor's position. To repeal the McKinley bill and go back to the law of 1883 means that democrats prefer a tariff law that imposes a heavy duty on sugar rather than one that places no duty on sugar at all. The only real point of merit in the McKinley bill is that provision putting sugar on the free list. Gov Hill would repeal the Mcklnley bill and offer us nothing better to take i's place. H would give us nothing in its place but the tariff law of 1883. Not one democrat in fifty who understands himself would consent to this. Speaker Crisp, Mills and Governor Smiles, Pilna Block, for your j b printing Hill represent three different views as to the course the democrats in this congress should pursue with reference to the tariff question, Crisp would have the democrats pass severa tariff bills putting binding twine, lumber, salt, coal, iron ore, wool etc on the free list without going into general tariff legislation, It is believed that such bills could be put through the senate easily and that the president would not dare to veto them. This much would be a remarkable victory for tariff reform. Mr Mills would go into general tariff legislation, pass a general tariff bill. with the full knowledge that such a bill would never pass the senate and that it would be vetoed by the president if it should. Gov Hill would repeal the McKinley bill and offer It is actually economy to drink Beech's Tea. Crisp's position is the soundest and most ing equired por cup. As there are 7,680 sensible. Mills plan is much preferable to grains to a pound, there will be seen to be between three and four hundred cups to the pound. As it is but 60 cents per pound, cowardly, uncanded and fraught with so much this is at the rate of about one fifth of a cent unfaithfulness to the people that it will be dis cowardly, uncandid and fraught with so much missed from consideration at once. Th governor's position on silver is equally bad and untenable. He would tepeal the Sher-

He would repeal the Sherman law of 1890 under which 4,500,000 ounces of silver is purchased and coined a month, and set us back on the Bland law of 1878 under which $2,000,000 only per month is coined.
