LOCAL RECORD

THE ISOM & LANNING FAILURE.—It is difficult to keep track of matters connected with the Isom & Lanning failure. The true situation cannot be given very well. Yesterday the following attachments were made against the property of the firm: John Comer, one for $3087.50, and one for $14,270.50; M. B. Reeves for $2000.40. Attachments were also made against the property of E. J. Lanning, individually by Stewart & Sox for $80; by John Comer for $1235.50. Mr. Comer's claims in all amount to $21,191.50. Mr. Reeves has been an employee of the firm for several years and allowed his account to run, as well as loaned the firm money. After the attachments were made a mortgage was filed by W. H. Gilletts from John Comer for $11,000 covering all the individual property. A peculiar incident happened this morning. In 1890 Mr. Lanning decided a piece of property to Mr. Charles Sutton. The deed was not filed and the property was among the pieces attached. Today Mr. Sutton appeared and filed the deed, and will probably be allowed to hold the property.

A CLAYTON CONTEST.—The Albany Democrat mentioned that a lady had taken 50 stems of four leaved clover in her yard and a Portland paper tells that a metropolitan girl picked 32 stems. Miss Helen Martin, of Ashland, picked from a very small patch 100 stems of four leaved clover. It was a very good day for four leaved clover. If this is a relative of the good luck that is to be had then, it is our opinion that our Ashland Miss will marry the president of the United States, that it is to be in the year 1901. Young men—good looking and brave—have in a pointer, for as a gasser our reputation is immense.—Ashland Record. The Record neglects to mention that some of the Albany clover was five and even six leaved. The Albany girls though are invited to surpass the Ashland girls clover harvest.

A LAYE APPEAL.—Eight deputy sheriffs went to court Monday evening, their mission being to enforce a decree of ejectment issued against V. O. Danforth by a justice of the peace. The case was heard Saturday evening a constable went up to Detroit to induce the occupants of a building owned by W. H. Rider to vacate. In this as was unsuccessful, and being overpowered by superior forces, returned to town, where they were arrested and taken to jail. The result is Mr. Danforth will seek other quarters within two days. We are informed a suitable place can be found for the future or they may find themselves in the clutches of the law.

THE WHEREABOUTS UNKNOWN.—Some two weeks ago W. P. Elmore left this city for Sprague, Wash. to attend to his business. It appears that he completed his affairs there in a day or so and then returned to his home in this city. He was seen as far as Portland, Ore., and place where he was seen was ago last Tuesday by one of our townsmen who says Porter was in a better condition and apparently all right in every way. Nothing more was seen or heard of him until last Monday when he is known to have been at the Gillman house. No trace has been found of him since that time, consequently Henry McFarland left for that city yesterday morning to ascertain, if possible, his whereabouts.—Brownville Times.

SEDDEN DEATH.—A dispatch from Harpersburg this morning announced the death of Mrs. Rhoda Roach, who died at two o'clock this morning. She had been sick a few days. Mrs. Roach was the wife of T. T. Roach, and sister to Mrs. Stites, of this city. She was about 37 years of age, an amiable, devout Christian woman. She leaves a husband and a large family of children, besides relatives and friends who will mourn her untimely death. Her funeral services tomorrow at 10 o'clock A. M.

MANSLAUGHTER.—Champ Payne who has been on trial at the last session and twenty days charged with being an accomplice with Ed Hill in the murder of Langford Summers was found guilty of manslaughter. The judge increased the bail from $5000 to $20,000 pending a motion for a new trial and probable appeal.

Some time ago we made the statement that G. W. Phillips would move back to Seio in the near future. Last week he completed a trade with E. C. Gill which became the owner of the latter's farm near West Seio, and has taken possession of the same, and will move there next month. Says says that after all farming is the business and the safest in the long run.

Corvallis has set a good example in one here. It is according to the Gazette: A man named Charles Smith, had received an insulting remark to a respectable young lady on the street yesterday. For his audacity he was fined $10, in default of which he went to jail.

The following from the Rensselaer Register should be read: The late Melville McFarland, of Independence, arrived on last night's train. He will look for a location in which to engage in business. Come on, you Polk county folks, we will welcome you all.

LABORERS WORK.—Every citizen of Albany should be mindful that the Albany Steam Laundry guarantee first class work at very reasonable prices, and employ laboring but white labor. Shirts and hose as cheaply as the Chinaman. Patronize your own race.

MONEY TO LOAN.—I have money in sums of $500 to $20,000 to loan on improved farm lands in Linn and Benton counties, at lowest current rates. delay in furnishing a check. G. G. BURMAN, Real estate agent, Albany, Oregon.

WEDDING INVITATIONS.—Wooden, Tin, Silver, Golden, Common every day.

OFFICIAL AND PERSONAL

THURSDAY
Mrs. Etta Vassallo is lying quite sick at the residence of her father, in this city.
Mrs. George Knox and Miss Gieseler dined with Portland yesterday.
Miss Mary Condit, Eva Simpson and Miss Hattie Hannes were married in Eugene yesterday, and passed through Albany on their way to Portland.
Fred Theobald, Chas. Kiefer, Peter Anderson, C. W. Sears, W. E. Gillett, W. J. Huston and others went to Salem today to attend a meeting of the encampment of Odd Fellows at that city tonight.

FRIDAY
Hon. T. J. Black is in the city.
A dispatch from John McGraw, the new Albany pitcher, announces that he will be in Albany tomorrow morning.
Go to the sale at Post Office U. H. Hall tonight and see the famed Tingeltangie and his family start for the World's Fair. There is everything to be bought here to do this thing, and here is the place to learn.

THE REMAINS OF THE DEMOCRAT, always intended to be in good humor, and so Salem, are tame compared to the following from the Astoria Budget: "No wonder the motor is making a wild and frantic grab for another state institution, the soldier's home, which, once in sight, is as irrevocably awarded away in the direction of Roseburg. When a town cannot put up money enough to see a man—good looking and brave—have in a pointer, for as a gasser our reputation is immense.—Ashland Record. The Record neglects to mention that some of the Albany clover was five and even six leaved. The Albany girls though are invited to surpass the Ashland girls clover harvest."

IN NEW QUARTERS.—The City Bottling Company are now in their new and commodious quarters just east of the Albany Works, where they have the facilities for putting up the finest summer beverages to be obtained in the valley. This is a first-class bottling establishment and only puts up pure and healthful drinks. The company is doing a big business in Albany and the neighboring towns, which is steadily increasing.

THE CASES OF THE STATE against George Price and John S. Taylor, who were indicted for carrying concealed weapons, a part of the disturbance at a literary meeting at Saterstrom school house, was tried last evening before Justice Newport. At nine o'clock this morning the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and in default of which he will spend 15 days in the county jail. Smith was discharged.

NEW YORK LETTER

NEW YORK, May 25th, 1893.
The Princess Infanta Estelle of Spain reached the lower bay from Albany morning and the steamer passage she narrows the U. S. S. Dolphin, the dispatch boat which played a prominent part in the Washington episode. The Infanta, the merchantman and took the Infanta aboard. Captain Davis has been appointed to see the Infanta to the comfort of the prominent foreign corps, and he escorted her to Jersey City where she is waiting for the train to the distinguished party to be taken to the capitol. Great crowds of people thronged the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot and they cheered the gallant little princess with much vigor, and as the train was passing out of the depot the Infanta waved her handkerchief and finally her kisses at the wildly cheering crowd from the rear platform of the train. The Infanta's visit is quite friendly to the cordial welcome accorded to Spain's representative in this democratic country of ours.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
Why should democratic senators and representatives insist on having republicans retained in office? That is a question that has puzzled the president, the members of the cabinet and the heads of the important bureaus of the government, and also at times very much embarrassed them. For instance, a democratic senator or representative goes to the head of a department or bureau and asks that a republican chief of a division be asked to resign and one of his constituents, a democrat is appointed to his place. He is confronted with a letter from a democratic senator or representative, sometimes with letters from several of each, insisting and, sometimes actually demanding that the republican chief be kept in office. You may imagine the embarrassment that follows. If this practice is kept up some sensational disclosures may be made when congress meets, by those democrats who believe that positions as important as chiefs of divisions ought to be held by democrats, if republican ideas of economy and reform are to be thoroughly carried out in the work of the government in all its branches. They claim that democratic senators and representatives have no right to allow personal friendship for republican officials, which is supposed to be the reason for their endorsement, to stand in the way of filling the important offices with democrats, to say nothing of the bad effect the retention of these republicans will have on the working democrats who have applied for these places, believing themselves entitled to them. These men make no complaint when a place they are after is given to another democrat, but they do not like to see republicans retained in the places they think ought to be filled by democrats.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
A man who is able to earn a living as a manual laborer, and who makes from $1000 to $1500 a year, and who is in actual service entitled to a pension from the government? Secretary Hoke Smith has decided by repealing a ruling of the last administration as to the construction that the pension office shall put upon the "disability" test of "service" clause of the pension act of 1890, that he is not, and common sense would seem to be on the secretary's side. In the future no man will be granted a pension under that law unless he establishes the fact that he is unable by reason of his disability to obtain a support by manual labor. This will, of course, be a concerted blow from the pension sharks over this ruling because it will reduce the pension payments something like $200,000 a year, and their loss in a corresponding ratio; but the tax payers will not object to this saving, particularly when it is made without depriving any old soldier who is unable to earn a living because of his disability of a pension.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
Senator Voorhees, who has just returned from his constituents, says there is no complaint among the democrats of Indiana because of the stoniness of President Cleveland in making appointments; that they are perfectly satisfied with the President's full duty in a wise and patriotic manner, recognizing the fact that there are other things requiring his attention besides patronage.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
Secretary Lamont, Attorney General Olney, and P. M. G. Bissell left Washington on a flying visit to the respective homes on Saturday, but they will all be back at their desks early this week.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
The trial of Fred Briggs for bribery, which is now going on before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, in session here is attracting the greatest public interest. It seems to be generally believed that he will be found guilty, but there is much doubt as to the punishment the assembly will decide to inflict upon him.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
Ambassador Bayard has received his last instructions from Secretary Graham and will start from New York next Saturday for London.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
The demand for gold for export has again brought the gold reserve fund several millions below the $100,000,000 line, but Sec. Carlisle is serene and says he has not the slightest indication of any financial breakers ahead, at least not for the immediate future.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
Among the new democratic officials who will assume their duties this week are Solicitor General Maxwell, U. S. Treasurer Morgan, and Commissioner of Customs Pugh.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
James C. Saunders, of Port Townsend, received official notification yesterday of his appointment as collector of customs of the district of Port Townsend. Saunders is the son of the editor of the National Democrat, of Washington, D. C. He was editor of the Fort Smith (Ark.) Daily Herald, in 1883 he became clerk of the house committee on commerce, and the following year he was clerk to Senator Sherman. He is credited shortly after his first inauguration as his confidential clerk, which he held until 1888, when he became special Indian agent. He is cashier of the Commercial bank, Port Townsend, of which Wasson, now collector, is president, Saunders is related to Secretary of War Lamont.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
The Minneapolis Journal prints a sensational article concerning pension frauds in northern Iowa and southern Minnesota. As a result of the work of a special pension examiner, G. V. Vanhook, Jr., a pension attorney at Lime Springs, Iowa, and Dr. George Kessel, mayor of Cresco, Iowa, were arrested and given bonds. The hearing of Vanhook is set for today. It is charged the names of witnesses to pension papers were forged not only in the case in which the arrest was made, but that similar cases have been perpetrated on a large scale for years.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
As apprehended by republicans after the national election last fall the most manly has opened very quiet, and the prices are the lowest that have been offered for many years. This is because the manufacturers expect a repeal of the tariff on the product, and believe they will be able to purchase it at very low prices. Now will our esteemed contemporary try why wool was lower in 1891-2 just after the passage of the McKinley law and prior to the last national election than it had been offered at for many years. Let us have facts.

WASHINGTON LETTER
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1893.
The branches of the legislature of Rhode Island failed to agree, the senate passed a joint resolution for adjournment until January, but the house took no action on it. The senate adjourned, and the republican members are going home, leaving the governor to adjourn the legislature until January. The effect will be the present state officers will hold over till the next election.
