The Democrat.

The friends of W E Potter, those who know him best, recommend him as an eminently fit man for the office of county commissioner. See that you vote for him.

Bear in mind that Hon J J Daly is the democratic candidate for judge and Hon L H Montanye for district attorney in this judical district.

Prof F M Mitchell is making friends daily. His long experience as a teacher fits him for the office of school superintendent to which he will be elected in June.

There does not seem to be any doubt about the election of Mr E L Bryan for county treasurer. Mr Bryan is a most worthy man, careful, and of the strictest integrity he at once becomes the fitting man for the office.

S O Wallace is a steady, straight forward citizen, a man of sound judgment discriminating intellect' qualities that are necessary to make a good assessor. When you vote see that the name of S O Wallace is on your ticket.

The last census of India was taken with marvellous celerity and thoroughness. One million people were employed as census takers, and the huge task was done chiefly on one day, the twenty-sixth of February, 1891.

Mr C E Stanard is of those pleasent mannered gentleman whom it is always a pleasure to meet. In addition to this his qualifications for the office are most excellent. Every man who calls at the clerk's office during Mr Stanards incumbency will find him polite and obliging to every one. The same is equally true of Riley Shelton, the democratic candidate for recorder. These gentleman will both receive a large vote.

Prof Reid's Medford speech was of the finest, from an educational standpoint, ever heard in this section. His position in regard to the office to which he aspires is that of the trained teacher who has profession and the well-being to the people at heart. His ability to fill the office is unquestioned, and his whole heart and soul is devoted to his profession and the progress of the public school system of the state.—Jacksonville Times.

A woman in Ohio utilized the high temperature of her phthisical husband for eight weeks before his death, by using him as an incubator for hen's eggs. She took a number of eggs, and, wetpping each one in ton batting, laid them alongside the body of her husband in the bed, he being unable to resist or move a limb. Fifty was the number of eggs first used as an experiment, and after three weeks she was rewarded with forty six living young chickens.

Nelson Crume, J M Phillpot, and J J Whitney are all watchful and frugal men and may be depended upon to vote against such extravagant and vicious legislation as passed two years ago. On the mortgage tax law question they are heart and soul with the people of Linn county and there need be no fear that Joe Simon or any other Portland boss can bind them by any caucus pledges. Vote for these men and you will have done faithful duty.

Charles Nickell, the democratic candidate for secretary of state, has many friends in Benton and Lincoln counties who will stand by him on election day. He is a man of the people, he is an able champion of their rights, his record in the legislature in opposing bitterly the repeal of the mortgage tax law and the law permitting deductions of indebtedness and resisting extravagant appropriations, is one that the people by their suffrages should hold up as worthy of emulation.—Corvallis Times.

Jimmy Weatherford has a firm hold on the friendship of many a Benton county citizen, and many a good republican will vote for him, from motives of patriotism, and a desire to boost our own Oregon boys to the front. He was born in Missouri, but came to Oregon in childhood, and while yet a stripling came to Corvallis and graduated from the Oregon Agricultural College. Thus, he is one of us, our neighbor and our friend, and guided by a record in the state legislature that is spotless, we know that if we call him up higher, our interests will be guarded as no other representative will guard them. He has ability, he has address, he is honest, he is pre eminently qualified to be our congressman, and Benton county owes it to herself and her great educational institution to lay aside b debound partisanship, and give him a rousing boost on his way to Washington.—Corvallis Times.

There are many reasons why the people of Oregon should elect Hon A S Bennett associate justice. The supreme court should be composed of the ablest lawyers of the state, and Judge Bennett is recognized as one of the brainiest men in the legal fraternity in Oregon. We should have on the supreme bench men whose integrity and honesty cannot be questioned. Judge Bennett's reputation can be picked thread bare, and not a dishonest act can be found. Our court should be composed of men who are not tools of corporations and railroad companies, men who have stood up for the rights of the people against the grinding oppression of railroad companies as has Judge Bennett. Besides, Eastern Oregon should have a representative on the supreme bench. Western Oregon has always had the judges; now let Eastern Oregon have a representative on the bench.—Salem Democrat.

What wonder that with all the traditions and superstitions connected with the egg, that this custom was continued, even had it not been an appropriate emblem of the Resurrection. The early Christians continued this practice, and colored the eggs red to symbolize the blood of their redemption. St Augustine recognized the egg as a type of hope. Marble eggs have been found in the tombs of saints and martyrs. The contrast between the cold, lifeless egg and the warm, downy chicken, full of life and motion, may well have made the former an emblem of the endless life of the soul.

Phil Metchan, republican state treasurer, and candidate for reelection, had a large amount of money in one of the Portland banks that failed last year. State warrants had to be indorsed "not paid for want of funds." Now, why is not the Herald inveighing against Metchan for being in with the republican bank ring at Portland. That paper is not now clamoring in the office of state treasurer like it is for the office of sheriff in Linn county, notwithstanding the case is much stronger against Metchan than against Mr Jackson for the reason that at the time of the suspension of the Portland bank Metchan had money deposited therein, but at the time of the suspension of the Linn county bank Jackson had not a dollar deposited there. Then why, we ask again, does the not Herald demand a change in the office of the state treasurer. We pause for the Herald to reply.

Aiding Mr Jackson.

Linn county warrants are still stamped "not paid for want of funds," and the county is still paying interest on these warrants. This happens simply because the sheriff and treasurer, who handled the county's money, stood in with the ring that has run the democratic offices in Linn county so long. The people will demand a change in June next.—Herald

Let facts be submitted to people who prefer the truth to falsehood. Prior to the suspension of the Linn county bank, M Jackson had been depositing taxes collected in that and the First National bank. Many of the best business men of the town and farmers and others were depositing in the Linn county bank. All did so because it was deemed safe. About two weeks prior to the suspension Sheriff Jackson drew all the county money he had deposited in both banks, in the Linn county bank about $8000 and the First National bank about $6,000, and turned it over to the county treasurer. All the county's money in the Linn county bank at the time of the suspension was in the custody of the county treasurer, who, like all others who did business at that bank, believed it safe there. Does not the Herald know that Mr Jackson and his bondsmen were responsible for every dollar of county money deposited there? The county has never lost a cent by Jackson depositing taxes there for he took it all out before the crash came. Neither does the county pay a cent of interest on account of anything the sheriff has done. These are the plain, unvarnished facts and no one can deny them. This kind of warfare upon Mr Jackson only shows the desperate straits to which the Herald is reduced in its attempt to prevent the election of Mr Jackson. Such a course will only rebound and injure Mr McFeron, the man in whose interest these attacks are made. The Herald may not know it but this contemptible, petty warfare upon Mr Jackson simply disgusts the better class of republicans and many a one is heard denouncing that paper for its unmanly course. Its unjust attacks only makes the election of Mr Jackson more certain. It did him a great service two years ago and is repeating its efforts again.

That Paper Mill.

Editors Democrat:

The Hon R G Horr who addressed the citizens of Albany at the opera house on the night of the 16th inst knows well how to please an audience.

The republicans were, of course, delighted to listen to so distinguished a champion of the cause of protection, and heartily approved of all he said and applauded his speech from beginning to end. The democrats had to laugh at his jokes and even the populists could not refrain from audible smiles. Now, we know to our republican friends it seems like a great piece of presumption to attempt to criticise so eminent an authority on the tariff. "He makes every thing so plain—his arguments are unanswerable," they say.

We wish to call attention to what seems like, rather a grave inconsistency or defect in his unanswerable argument.

We refer to the big paper mill in New Jersey. He uses it to illustrate the great benefits that arise from protection. Now this paper mill is a grand enterprise. I gives employment to seven hundred people, and it actually makes paper and sells it in New York city cheaper than it can be sold in Great Britain. It would seem that this factory needed no protection, yet there is a high tariff on paper.

Now there are many just such factories in the United States making not only paper but other things. But he selected this one as a fair sample of our protected industries. Now what we want to know is; would it make any difference to those operating this mill if the tariff was increased or lowered on paper? They are already selling it cheaper than it can be sold anywhere else in the world. Mr Horr did not say whether or not this particular factory shut down when the democrats in congress commenced to tinker with the tariff. We are to infer though that it did, that seven hundred "dinner pails were hung up on the wall."

He cited this industry as a fair sample of those that are protected by a tariff.

We would like to have it explained why threatened tariff legislation would stop the wheels of such an industry as this.

The democrats in congress might tinker and tinker with the tariff till the crack of doom and it would not affect the price of paper made by this mill. We think the illustration is an unfortunate one, a veritable boomerang, and dangerous for advocates of high protection to use.

M.

Disavow It.

The Pendleton Tribune, in an editorial concerning the order of Odd Fellows which recently held its grand lodge session in that city, said:

"It is said that in the American States Odd Fellowship exercises considerable influence."

This is as unjust as it is untrue. Odd Fellowship, as an order, has no affiliation whatever with the classifications or divisions of human society whether political or religious. This is the cardinal tenet upon which the whole superstructure of Odd Fellowship rests. Political, religious or other improper debates is strictly prohibited.

Republicans, democrats, prohibitionists, and those of all political creeds, when worthy, may gain membership in the order. No sacrifice or compromise of one's political or religious belief is required as a condition of membership. No change of views, relation to the state is demanded. On the contrary, no man can become an Odd Fellow in spirit and in truth unless he is grateful to his Creator, faithful to his country and fraternal to his fellow man. Nothing in history, standard encyclopedias, or in the daily conduct of the order or its members, can justify the uncalled for attack of the Tribune, and to be fair towards a large and influential class of citizens of the country it can pursue but one course and that would be to as openly disavow its statement above as it made it. Its attack was without excuse or reason. Let it make the amende honorable.

And still no populist have the courage to rise up and deny that the populist state convention through its committee on platform rejected a tariff reform plank thus refusing to even recognize the fact that those who organized the party in this state secured most of the new members of the party through pledges of never dying opposition to the doctrine of a high tariff. The truth is the leaders of that party have proven false to be rank and file on that subject.

Washington Letter.

From our regular Correspondent.

Washington, May 14, 1894

Is half a loaf better than no bread? That is the question that confronts the democrats who do not like many of the numerous amendments to the Wilson tariff bill which have been submitted to the senate. It is not what sort of a bill that you, or I, or any other individual democrat wants, but what sort of a bill can get 43 votes in the senate. Senator Mills had the right idea when he said that he should vote against such of these amendments as he was on principle opposed to, but that he would, whether they were adopted or not, vote for the bill as a whole, because it will be an improvement on the McKinley law. It will be a very decided improvement on the McKinley law. Even if every amendment proposed by the democratic members of the Finance committee should be adopted without modification the average reduction in tariff duties would exceed 25 per cent, and there are good reasons for the belief that modification of these amendments will increase the average reduction to somewhere in the neighborhood of 35 per cent. Then, when the bill goes to a conference committee after its passage by the senate, further reductions are certain to be made.

Thus it will be seen that the bill will be a very practical reform of the tariff, and, as such, it deserves and should receive the vote of every democratic senator, regardless of whether it meets his individual idea of what it ought to be or not, and after making a careful canvass of them I predict that it will, when put upon its final passage, receive the vote of every democratic senator. Senator Hill will vote against the income tax and some of the proposed amendments, but I am satisfied that he will afterwards vote for the entire bill, although I am, at present, in the minority by thus thinking.

The house Judiciary committee has favorably reported Representative De Armond's bill providing that no judge of a U S court shall punish any citizen or officer for being in contempt for refusal to levy a tax or collect a tax for the payment of any bond issue by the municipality, county, or state, where the levying of such tax or collection is contrary to the laws of the state. The democrats on the committee saw nothing in the bill beyond a wise prevention of the punishment of citizens for obeying the laws of their own states, but the republicans promptly trotted out from the darkest caverns of their imagination the state rights bogie man and proceeded to give themselves a scare.

The House committee on Labor has made a favorable report on chairman McGann's resolution for the appointment of a select committee to be composed of four Representatives and three Senators, to investigate the industrial depression and make a report to Congress within 30 days, if possible giving the cause and suggesting a legislative remedy.

Coxey's loafers have been driven out of Washington by the health officers and much against the wishes of the people of Bladensburg Md, five miles from there, they have encamped in the vicinity of that village, and say they intend remaining there until their number has increased sufficiently to enable them to come into Washington and again try to bull doze Congress. But there are several excellent reasons why they will find it difficult to remain there. Their rations have been scant for some days and the Maryland people say they will not give them anything, and some of them even refuse to sell them anything. Additional evidence was given of the character of those men when the agent of a railroad went to the camp and offered to give regular employment to 200 of them. Not a single one of them accepted work. The argument for a new trial for Coxey and his two assistants who were recently convicted for breaking the law will be heard tomorrow. There is very little probability of their getting a new trial, and no more of their being allowed to pose as martyrs. The law under which they were convicted provides for fine or imprisonment or both in the discretion of the judge. The expectation of those who are in position to give them some idea of what will be done is that the judge will sentence them in accordance with the law, giving them the full penalty, and then suspend the execution of the sentence during their good behavior.

Washington is going through an old fashioned smallpox scare. It has been on for nearly a week and the arrival of a negro from Chicago, on Saturday, with the disease fully developed, has aggravated it, and the doctors are reaping a harvest.

No appointments, except those of foremanships, are to be made by Public Printer Benedict until he has reduced the force which he found nearly twice as large as it ought to be,

President Cleveland has gone down the Potomac for a few days salt water fishing and recreation.

A correspondent asks who the editor of the Populist is. Do not know that it has any editor. No man seems willing to father the matter in its columns. Some weeks ago when that paper was making its dirty attacks upon the senior editor of the Democrat a populist of this city, and a thorough gentleman, assured the editor of the Democrat that notwithstanding he had written some articles in the Populist, he was not the author of their attacks and would write no more for the paper until its managers decided to pursue a more decent course. Since then we have not been informed as to who the editor is. We believe no name appears in its columns as to its owner or editor.

The beneficiaries of protection have a keen perception of the value of protectionism to them. They have been trying to bribe Senator Hanton and Senator Kyle. The former is a democratic senator from Virginia and the latter a populist from South Dakota. The agent selected by these protected pets of the government to negotiate the trade with Hanton and Kyle was C W Butts a carpet bag member of congress from South Carolina in reconstruction times. He told Kyle he would give him $25,000 to vote against the Wilson bill and that if that were not enough he could have almost any sum he would name up to $75,000. Mercenary work is the only means to stay the tide against protectionism. What do republicans of the rank and file think of this scheme.

From nearly all parts of the county comes the cheering news that the democratic precinct committies are wide awake and up and doing. The democrats are determined to make the fight of their life, if necessary to win. Let every democrat from to time until the evening of Monday June 4 on labor with that zeal, energy, and earnestness worthy of the cause which they so much desire to see succeed. The democratic county committee expects every man to do his duty. If they do victory will crown their efforts.

MISFITS.

We're reminded of old Æsop
And his fable of the bat,
By "Pennoyer, the top sawyer
With the sawdust on his hat."—Ex.

Walla Walla is scandalized by what an official inspection of the Chinese quarters shows in the way of filth and squator. Some energetic cleaning will likely speedily ensue. In one of the worst places, infested with vermin, decaying animal and vegetable matter, sat a white woman, at home and contented, with her opium pipe and depraved companions.

People and politicians may well read an article in the Chautauquan by Lawrence Irwell on "what causes the depression of trade. He says, "it is not 'over production' but over consumption, which has caused the financial stringency. That is to say, the consumption has been beyond the power of the people to pay for, and as a consequence there are huge burdens of debt all calling for the payment of heavy interest from which nothing comes back to the person paying. There have been also large amounts expended in luxuries by persons who produce nothing, consequently there is nothing left behind.

These are great days. A Portland paper opposes one man because he wears creased trowsers, and declares it will not increase his chances for election.

A Union county man started for the midwinter fair; but only got as far as Portland, where he invested all his money in a different kind of sight seeing. Moral. Never go the midwinter fair via Portland.

A big republican sack has been received in Portland from Washington in order to prove to the world by the coming election that the democrats are responsible for hard times, that the people are afraid of the Wilson bill, etc. Verily politics are rotten.

While at Stanford University, some students stole about $30 worth of Ex-president Harrison's wine and cigars. It caused a tremendous row. Instead of standing the cost (they cost him nothing) like a man, he accepted pay for the things, so warm did the Professors make it for the students. This is a fact and not politics.

Senator Wm Stewart was to be in Albany tonight; but, alas, he will not be in Oregon at all. An exchange intimates that the reason is probably a lack of silver and gold for the occasion. By the way what has become of Ignatius Donnelley, McKinley and several other big bug men who were to awaken the Oregon welkin with their eloquence. Only one poor old chestnut has appeared, a horr-ible nightmare.

Salem is gradually being plastered with debts beside which Albany's is entirely in the shade. At the last meeting of the city council this resolution was passed: "We, also, recommend that the council pass a resolution unanimously agreeing to use their influence in securing the passage of a bill through our next legislature to amend our city charter, giving the city council power to bond the city for the necessary amount to complete the city hall."

The steamer Eugene which left Harrisburg for Eugene had a hard trip up. A Eugene paper says:

"She is heavily loaded. The business men of Eugene and the board of trade should meet at once and demand the building of wing dams by the government. With this improvement the boat could run here until late in in the summer. Now is the time to act in the matter. The river is 3 feet and 7 inches above low water mark."

What about Hermann's river appropriation now? What has that old barnacle being doing in congress for the last few years. It appears that the time has come for a change.—Salem Independent.

Hits Breckinridge.

NASHVILLE, Tenn, May 22.—The resolution bearing on the Breckinridge case was reported back to the Presbyterian general assembly today by the committee on bills and overtures, to which it was referred yesterday, and after a brief discussion passed without opposition. The resolution makes no direct reference to Colonel Breckinridge, but is a pronounced declaration for purity in the lives of church members, and expresses condemnation of those who do violence to the seventh commandment.

A Son of Rev I D Driver.

SACRAMENTO, May 22.—The Bee says the sudden departure of a popular minister with about $1000 of borrowed money in his pockets, the desertion of his wife and several children and the simultaneous disappearance of an attractive widow, form the scandal which is raging in the foothill town of Placerville. About eight months ago Rev S M Driver arrived and took the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal church there.

A Live Contest.

LOVELOCKS, Nev, May 22.—Two hundred industrials, accompanied by a brass band, passed here today bound for Washington. One hundred tramps were on the train with them. At Desert station the tramps demanded rations from the commissary department of the army, and a pitched battle ensued, with clubs and rocks as weapons. Before any serious harm was done, the trainmen pacified the factions.

Big Losses.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa, May 22.—The total losses here, as estimated by conservative men, are $3,000,000. This includes $1,500,000 on logs, $250,000 on sawed lumber, and the balance on property throughout the city. Mayor Elliott has called a public meeting for tomorrow to take action looking to the care of the homeless. Probably 50 houses along the river front were rendered uninhabitable.

A Chicago Riot.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Three hundred men, armed with coupling pins and revolvers, marched upon the dock of the Western Transit Company tonight, where a gang was at work, employed by O'Connor & Co. of Buffalo, N Y. Joe Williams, one of O'Connor's men, was shot through the ear, and a number of others were badly beaten. The police stopped the riot just in time to save somebody from being killed.

Corvallis' City Election.

CORVALLIS, Or, May 21.—State politics have so overshadowed everything that the city election passed off here today with little or no excitement. A councilman was elected in each ward. They were Thomas Samuels, James R Smith and W T Peet.

Bound for Albany.

SPOKANE, May 21.—One hundred and twenty United Presbyterian ministers, en route to the general conference, at Albany, Or, stopped off in Spokane today, and were shown the sights of the city. The special train left at 3 o'clock for Seattle. A side trip will be made to Olympia on the way to Portland.

Stricken with Apoplexy.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or, May 21.—Mrs O P Adams was found lying on the floor in her millinery store today unconscious. A doctor was immediately summoned, and said she was suffering from a serious stroke of apoplexy.

Great Chess Match.

MONTREAL, Que, May 21.—The adjourned championship chess match between Lasker and Steinitz was resumed this afternoon. Steinitz 51st move, which was sealed Saturday night, was 6KB4. Lasker, realizing that his position was untenable, at once resigned. The score now stands, Lasker, 9; Steinitz, 5; draw, 3.

A Fatal Fire.

MCMINNVILLE, May 22.—The residence of M Shadden, one of the oldest and most respected citizens in the community, was burned at midnight. Mrs Shadden's 10 year-old daughter perished in the flames, and Mr Shadden's youngest son, a boy of 9, received fatal injuries. Mrs Martha Shadden, 80 years of age, and a pioneer of 1842, and her blind son Riley were taken from the burning building naked. It is feared the aged woman will not survive the shock. Mr and Mrs Shadden barely escaped with their lives. It was the most horrible holocaust ever known in this section of the state, and the town is almost in a frenzy of excitement. The burned building was a large frame structure, situated near the center of the city, and was said to be the first residence erected in McMinnville.

Decidedly Revolutionary.

PUEBLO, Col, May 21.—Governor Waite, in an address tonight, classed Representative Bland, whom he claims sold out silver in 1878, with Voorhees and Carlisle in their surrender to the foes of silver. He advocated coining Mexican dollars, to be used as legal tender in Colorado. He expressed the hope that the populist would overthrow the dominating influence of Wall street, but if the ballot were not successful, the man who would not bare his breast to bullets was not a man. Adjutant General Tarsney made a few remarks, and said that unless something was done, the blood spilled when Coxey's men were clubbed at Washington would be the rst in a new revolution.

Big Floods.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa, May 30.—With the horrors of the disastrous flood of '89, which spread death and destruction throughout this valley, brought back to memory by the threatened danger of a swoop of water that promises to be as great as that of five years ago, the people of this city and throughout the west branch of the valley are in a state of panic that has turned the usually quiet Sunday into one of remarkable excitement. Since Friday night a steady and almost continuous downpour of rain has been swelling all the streams.

A Big True Story.

ELLWOOD, Ind, May 20.—During the heavy cyclone the other day two hogs and a fat goose, belonging to Sam Wainscott, were blown from his barnyard, in Peoria, Ill. There very pigs and the companion goose are now in the barnyard of T J Hancock, near this city, where they were dropped by the cyclone which swept over this city at that time. And the next morning they were as lively as usual, having suffered little during their perilous trip of 207 miles through the air. Mr Hancock wrote to Mr Wainscott, asking for a description of the missing pigs and goose, and it tallies exactly with that of the animals in Mr Hancock's possession.

Fine Prospects.

SPOKANE, May 20.—The Review has special crop reports from 25 correspondents. These cover the Palouse, Big Bend, Potlach, Colville, Walla Walla and Yakima sections, and forcast the greatest crop ever harvested. There is not an unfavorable report in the lot. Grain acreage is fully up to previous years, and the prospects were never better for an abundant yield. The acreage of orchards and hops has been greatly increased. Plowing is practically finished, and seeding is nine tenths completed. The fruit crop will be enormous.

Several Coxeyites.

HELENA, May 20.—All the Coxeyites captured at Forsythe by the military have appeared before Federal Judge Knowles, as previously stated. Forty three, including the leaders, were sent to the county jail for from 30 days to six months, and the others will be liberated on their promise not to interfere with Northern Pacific trains. Those liberated number about 200.

Permanent Organization.

DES MOINES, May 20.—A scheme is on foot to perpetuate the commonweal movement. A meeting of the leaders will be held in Des Moines to formulate an association. The Kelly army met in the Trades Assembly hall this evening, and many laboring men signed an agreement to join the contemplated association. Within two or three days a call will be issued for a national convention. It is said General Weaver will be connected with the movement.

A New Principal.

ELLENSBURGH, May 20.—The normal trustees have employed P A Getz as principal of the state normal school here for the ensuing year. He is at present professor of theory and practice of teaching at the normal school, at Monmouth, Or.

Milton Hale, Plaintiff.
The Bank of Oregon, J W Blair and W S Thompson as assignees of the same, Defendants.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution and order of sale duly issued out of the above named court in the above entitled suit to me directed and delivered I will on Saturday the 16th day of June, 1894, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Albany, Linn County, Oregon, at the hour of 1 o'clock p m of said day, sell at public auction for cash in hand to the highest bidder the real property described in said execution and order of sale as follows, towit: Beginning at a point on the north boundary line of lot three (3) in block nine (9) in the city of Albany, Linn County, Oregon, six (6) feet westerly from the north east corner of said lot three (3) and running thence westerly on the north line of said lot twenty-four (24) feet and ten inches, thence southerly and parallel with the eastern boundary of said lot one hundred feet more or less to the north line of the alley in said block, thence easterly on said line 24 feet and ten inches, thence northerly to the place of beginning. The proceeds arising from said sale to be applied as in said execution directed as follows: First to the payment of the costs of and upon said execution and expenses of sale and the original costs of suit taxed at $28.80, and the further sum of $31.55, the costs and expenses upon the foregoing execution and to the payment of the attorneys fees in the sum of $250; second, to the payment of the amount due to the plaintiff herein, from the Bank of Oregon and J W Blair towit: the sum of $4252.95 and interest thereon from the 23d day of November, 1893, at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and to the payment of the amount due to the said plaintiff from the burning building naked. It is feared the aged woman will not survive the shock. Mr and Mrs Shadden barely escaped with their lives. It was the most horrible holocaust ever known in this section of the state, and the town is almost in a frenzy of excitement. The burned building was a large frame structure, situated near the center of the city, and was said to be the first residence erected in McMinnville.

Decidedly Revolutionary.

PUEBLO, Col, May 21.—Governor Waite, in an address tonight, classed Representative Bland, whom he claims sold out silver in 1878, with Voorhees and Carlisle in their surrender to the foes of silver. He advocated coining Mexican dollars, to be used as legal tender in Colorado. He expressed the hope that the populist would overthrow the dominating influence of Wall street, but if the ballot were not successful, the man who would not bare his breast to bullets was not a man. Adjutant General Tarsney made a few remarks, and said that unless something was done, the blood spilled when Coxey's men were clubbed at Washington would be the rst in a new revolution.

Big Floods.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa, May 30.—With the horrors of the disastrous flood of '89, which spread death and destruction throughout this valley, brought back to memory by the threatened danger of a swoop of water that promises to be as great as that of five years ago, the people of this city and throughout the west branch of the valley are in a state of panic that has turned the usually quiet Sunday into one of remarkable excitement. Since Friday night a steady and almost continuous downpour of rain has been swelling all the streams.

A Big True Story.

ELLWOOD, Ind, May 20.—During the heavy cyclone the other day two hogs and a fat goose, belonging to Sam Wainscott, were blown from his barnyard, in Peoria, Ill. There very pigs and the companion goose are now in the barnyard of T J Hancock, near this city, where they were dropped by the cyclone which swept over this city at that time. And the next morning they were as lively as usual, having suffered little during their perilous trip of 207 miles through the air. Mr Hancock wrote to Mr Wainscott, asking for a description of the missing pigs and goose, and it tallies exactly with that of the animals in Mr Hancock's possession.

Fine Prospects.

SPOKANE, May 20.—The Review has special crop reports from 25 correspondents. These cover the Palouse, Big Bend, Potlach, Colville, Walla Walla and Yakima sections, and forcast the greatest crop ever harvested. There is not an unfavorable report in the lot. Grain acreage is fully up to previous years, and the prospects were never better for an abundant yield. The acreage of orchards and hops has been greatly increased. Plowing is practically finished, and seeding is nine tenths completed. The fruit crop will be enormous.

Several Coxeyites.

HELENA, May 20.—All the Coxeyites captured at Forsythe by the military have appeared before Federal Judge Knowles, as previously stated. Forty three, including the leaders, were sent to the county jail for from 30 days to six months, and the others will be liberated on their promise not to interfere with Northern Pacific trains. Those liberated number about 200.

Permanent Organization.

DES MOINES, May 20.—A scheme is on foot to perpetuate the commonweal movement. A meeting of the leaders will be held in Des Moines to formulate an association. The Kelly army met in the Trades Assembly hall this evening, and many laboring men signed an agreement to join the contemplated association. Within two or three days a call will be issued for a national convention. It is said General Weaver will be connected with the movement.

A New Principal.

ELLENSBURGH, May 20.—The normal trustees have employed P A Getz as principal of the state normal school here for the ensuing year. He is at present professor of theory and practice of teaching at the normal school, at Monmouth, Or.
