WHAT BECAME OF THEM .- In the house of representatives during the secent ses-sion of the legislature there were 384 bills introduced. Of these, 142 passed that body, 121 died in the hands of commit-tees, and 121 died either in failure to pass, by indefinite postponement, by be-ing tabled or being withdrawn. Of the 142 that went to the senate only forty-two passed that hady. The senate nearest ing tabled or being withdrawn. Of the 142 that went to the senate only forty-two passed that body. The senate passed 110 of its own bills, of which forty-nine weae passed by the house, twenty-three died in the hands of the various commit-tees and thirty-eight were disposed of in the various ways of indefinite postpone-ment and want of passage. Thus alto-bouses and eighty-seven become laws, but they are principally charter bills.
